1. The nourishing glass of milk from Grandma is the happy ending to this story. It started when Nature put aluminum to the earth first. That is why this important mineral is right in the milk we drink.

2. And Nature gave aluminum qualities that make it ideal in contact with food. Many milk pails . . . many parts of modern milking machines are made of aluminum.

3. From farm to dairy . . . from counter to city's rich, wholesome Canadian milk is being increasingly carried in aluminum containers to reach you fresh and pure.

4. And to top it all, many bottles of milk are protection-sealed with shining Aluminum foil tops. Aluminum assures cleanliness for this most sensitive of all foods.

No other material is more "food-friendly" than aluminum. Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of perfectly protected flavour, quality and purity.

Some natural minerals in foods and water leave a dark deposit on cooking utensils. These deposits are harmless and are easily removed by standard cleaners or steel wool and soap.

CANADIAN NAVY WILL EXPAND

Canada's Navy Chief, disclosing details of the fleet's expansion plans, said last Tuesday night it is taking all of its destroyers out of moth balls and equipping them with the "very latest anti-submarine gear."

Over a period of time that will put more than a dozen of them at sea.

Rear-Admiral H. T. W. Grant said the navy's preparedness programme is being speeded through the acceleration of production of anti-submarine escort vessels, minesweepers, of radar and in other ways. But the need of all was for men, including young pilots for the fleet air arm.

He went on the air with Defence Minister Claxton.

Melon Mixes Well With Other Fruit

The common edible melons are divided into several classes. The Watermelon is quite distinct in appearance and texture. Other types such as Muskmelon, Cantaloupe, Casaba and Honey Dew have a firm thick flesh with a centre seed cavity.

The names Cantaloup and Muskmelon wer once used for quite different melons but have become interchangeable. These melons have netted skins and are more or less musksented. The flesh may be green or salmon-colored but the flavor is similar.

Montrealers should know that the melon which is considered to be the choicest of all grows on this Island and is known as the Montreal melon. These melons reach the weight of 15 pounds and have a delicate, light green flesh.

Watermelons grow naturally in Africa and the Southern U. S. and are much enjoyed by the people and animals for their refreshing coolsuciness. The cultivated varieties have the appeal of color added to the other qualities. The thick white rind is not edible in raw state but makes a delicious pickle. Cantaloupe Muskmelon and Watermelon are at the peak of perfection now.

Opinions vary on what to serve with melon. The gourmet feels that a sprinkling of salt brings out subtle flavors. Some authorities say that the slight tartness of lemon or lime is required to bring out the real flavor while still others like a little sugar. All agree, however, that melons should always be thoroughly chilled.

Melon balls combined with other fruits and pointed up to with a sprig of mint, make a perfect appetizer to start off a summer meal.

Melon balls or cubes set in a tart lemon jelly are delicious for the salad course. In a mound of cottage cheese is served on crisp lettuce beside the moulded jelly, the salad would be substantial enough for a main course at luncheon.

Melon Velva

Two tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup water, juice of 1 lemon (about two tablespoons), ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups sugar, 5 cups melon puree (about 5 lbs. melon), as purchased.

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes and then dissolve by heating over boiling water for 10 minutes. Add lemon juice, salt.

Keep the puree mixture at room temperature and slowly add the dissolved gelatine, stirring constantly.

Place in trays and freeze until firm, having temperature control at coldest point. Then turn into a chilled bowl and beat with a wooden spoon or electric mixer until it lightens in color, increases in volume and has a smooth texture. Beating must be rapid to prevent complete melting. Return mixture to trays and leave in refrigerator a few hours to harden. Yield: about one quart.

Fresh Fruit Cup

One cup melon balls, 1 cup diced fresh pears, 1 cup fresh diced peaches, ½ cup diced apples, ¼ cup marshmallows (optional).

Prepare the melons either as balls or cubes. Combine other fruits and combine with melon balls and quartered marshmallows. Chill and garnish with blue grapes or mint sprigs. Yield: Six servings.

Plowing Match Plans Developing Rapidly

Plans for the 1950 International plowing match are going ahead rapidly, according to a report from the office of the Secretary-Manager, J. A. Carroll. This year he expects not only a very large entry of Ontario Plowmen, but also representation from other provinces, the United States and even from overseas. It is already established the Alberta Plowing Champion, Lorn Job, will be a competitor in the International and it is expected champions from some of the other provinces will be on hand as well. There have been enquiries from overseas and, while there has been no definite commitment, it is hoped a team of British-ers will compete.

This year's match, being held on the Nottawasaga Valley Farms in Tecumseh Township of Simcoe County, will be officially opened by the Hon. W.E. Harris, Minister of Citizenship and Immigration, Ottawa. The official opening of the International Plowing Match will be at 2:00 p.m. on Wednesday, October 11th. This is the first dry of International competitions but Tuesday, October 10th will feature the local counties' match for Dufferin, Grey, Ontario, Simcoe and York Counties.

Commenting on this year's match and on the general attitude on plowing, Mr. Carroll says there seems to be a continually growing interest in good plowing. As evidence, he cites the formation of two new branches of the Ontario Plowmen's Association at Hagersville and Casselman. Then from Northern Ontario there have been requests for plowing Demonstrations in the Districts of Temiskaming and Nipissing. Added to this they have requests for plowing coaches for high school boys. Mr. Carroll feels this additional interest along with the drawing card o the greatest Farm Equipment Show in North America and the central location of this year's match should, with any co-operation from the weatherman, establish new records for attendance.

July Ontario Record For Tourist Traffic

More U.S. cars entered Ontario in July than in any previous month in the province's history, the Ontario department of travel and publicity reported last week. The total was 296,561 ,compared with the previous high of 285,494 in July 1949.

In the first seven months of this year 640,905 U. S. tourists have entered Ontario by car ,12,635 more than the same period last year, which had been the previous record.

One black mar kon the tourist record this year, according to T. C. McCall, deputy travel minister, is the number of complaints from U.S. visitors about attempts to wihold from them the premium on their money. The department has turned over numerous cases to the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

"Chiselling for 50 cents on a $5 transaction can cost us thousands of dollars of good will and future business," Mr. McCall said. "A few of these people, and they are relatively scarce, can destroy our reputation for fair dealing and honest value."

HOME BUILDING FIGURES GIVEN

Ottawa. — The construction ganes have been working on more houses this year than last, but they have not as many of them ready for occupancy.

The Bureau of Statistics reported that 29,441 dwelling units were completed in Canada during the first five months of this year ,a drop of 9,000 from last year's corresponding figure.

At the end of May there were 58,130 units in various stages of construction, compared with 53,533 a year ago.

On the other hand starts were made on 30,084 units, compared with 29,671. Quebec led the field here with a total of 11,588 starts in the five-month period as against 8,486 in the corresponding period last year.

With the exception of Alberta, New Brunswick and Newfoundland, there was no increase in housing construction in the rest of Canada.

The other provinces follow with last years corresponding figure in brackets: Manitoba 954 (1,385); Saskatchewan 600 (775); Nova Scotia 612 (761); Prince Edward Island 34 (44); British Columbia 2724 (3446).

More houses were completed in Quebec this year than in the first five months of 1949. But in Ontario it was another story where only 9,925 units were completed in the five months compared with 11,600. Quebec's total was 9,834 against 8,768.

Completions in the other provinces follow with last year's corresponding figure in brackets: Alberta 2,881 (3,748); British Columbia 2,723 (4,170); Manitoba 1,146 (1,736); Nova Scotia 1,042 (1,258); New Brunswick 680 (677); Saskatchewan 648 (850); Prince Edward Island 154 (112). In Newfoundland 305 units have been finished so far this year.

Science Seeks to Immunize Humans Against Atomic Rays

Chatham, Ont. August 17. A University of California scientist said yesterday "important facts" have been discovered toward developing an inoculation against A-bomb radiation.

He said inoculation would be used against atomic rays much in the same way vaccination immunizes human beings from smallpox.

Dr. Robert Stone ,vacationing here ,told of that a "small army of scientis s" is seeking a chemical to immunize human cells against atomic rays. He is chairman of the Department of Radiology of the University's Medical Sch ol.

"The scientists have not yet developed an inoculation, but experiments have supplied the hope of finding one," he said. "I do know that certain important facts are being found out."

Stone said he considered such preventive treatment of entire populations the "most effective" civilian defence measure. "Of course I still believe an effective way will be found for treatment of victims after an explosion," he said.

Experiments so far made and other laboratory animals have been under way for "a considerable time," he said, but not yet on human beings. "All sorts of things have been tried," Stone said.

He said security prevented further disclosure of the inoculation project progress.

Young Conservatives Complete Conference At Gravenhurst, Ont.

Increased prestige and greater influence in the affairs of their Party by the Young Progressive Conservatives is seen as a result of the recent successful summer conference of the Ontario Young Progressive Conservative Association at Gravenhurst, Ontario.

At Gravenhurst's Aero Lodge, the former Little Norway of wartime fame, more than 100 delegates from the ninety ridings of Ontario and observers from other Provinces of Canada came together in the week of July 31 to August 5th to examine and discuss the policies and activities of the Party in Canada. They heard important speakers from their own ranks, including National Leader George Drew and Ontario Premier Leslie Frost as well as talented and controversial outsiders.

The conference heard Mr. Drew call upon Canadians to close their ranks to meet the great danger of Communist imperialism, and to speak and act only with the highest interests of Canada in our minds and in the words of the Queen.

Mr. Drew urged that the Federal Government reveal to Canadians what the state of defence preparedness was and to keep them fully abreast of developments.

Premier Frost told the delegates that youth had a very definite part to play in the affairs of party politics and of government. The Party should not be emphasized, he declared by any group or a handful of men, but by hundreds of these kinds. He called upon his youthful listeners to get back and organize to build the Party on firm and broad foundations."

Other speakers from the Ontario Government included Liquor Commissioner Arthur Welsh, who replaced the Government's liquor policy, Mines Minister Dunnell, Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar, Welfare Minister Goodfellow, Reform Institutions Minister William Hamilton and Agricultural Minister Kennedy. The last named presented a vigorous exposition on practical politics and how to win elections, including a strong suggestion to the young workers to reexamine the importance of the Organized Labor vote.

Indeed, the question of gaining Labor support was given heavy emphasis in the conference with several speakers dealing on the subject.

The meeting heard from Earl Wadsh, head of Local 195 of the United Automobile Workers, Canada's largest single union local, who stated that organized labour flourished only under free enterprise, from two prominent Toronto labor lawyers, Frank Dubin and E. Goodman, who declared that capital and labor were mutual partners and from Professor Vincent Bladen of the University of Toronto. Prof. Bladen warned that unless the Progressive Conservative Party believes that free enterprise can deliver welfare to the working man, the Party cannot succeed.

The conference also was addressed by three Progressive Conservative Members of Parliament, Mrs. Ellen Fairclough of Hamilton West, George Hees, Member for Broadview, Toronto and Leon Balcer, Member for Three Rivers and National President of the Young Progressive Conservatives.

In various Practical Politics Round Tables and "Political Quiz" sessions, organized by Ontario Y.P.C. President Bob Meikle and others of the executive ,the conference gave close scrutiny to the policies and conduct of the Party in both the national and provincial fields. As a result its delegates carried away ideas which are expected to have considerable effect in the affairs of their own riding associations.

Big Timber Year Ahead for Newfoundland

A new order received from Britain indicated that next year may see the biggest timber cut in Newfoundland history. Bowaters Timber Company have received confirmation of an order for 40,000 cords for shipment to the United Kingdom in 1951, and they said there is a strong possibility that this order may be doubled.

British Commandos Are Flying to Korea

To crack British Infantry battalions and a small Royal Marine Unit were assigned last week to join the United Nations forces in Korea.

The two battalions, some 1500 strong, are the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and the Middlesex Regiment. The will become the first United Nations ground troops to join the Americans and South Koreans.

In London the Admiralty said the marine commando unit will be flown to Korea ,possibly arriving at the same time as the infantry force.

WOMEN ASKED TO RESCUE PEACH CROP

Mrs. F. E. Wright, President of the Canadian Association of Consumers ,today called on the women of old Ontario to help in the emergency which seems likely to develop in handling the present peach crop by doing more home canning.

Wialk her message is directed to members of the Association and participating organizations, she hopes it will be heeded by all housewives who are in a position to help. She points out that as a result of the present rail strike, supplies of fresh fruit and vegetables may pile up in marketing centres close to areas where these products are grown. On the other hand, more distant or isolated districts are likely to be short.

To ensure everyone gets an adequate supply of preserves or canned goods for the winter months, and particularly to prevent waste of the peach crop now coming on the market, she asks women living in communities near fruit-growing areas to make a special effort to can, preserve, fast-freeze ,or process, for their own use, as many of these fresh fruits and vegetables as possible. By doing so, they will leave the commercially-canned products for those who are unable to buy the fresh products now because of lack of rail facilities to bring them to their markets.

Good, concise, and clear recipes, which may be followed with confidence by those who have not canned or preserved fruit before ,are published in booklets which may be obtained from the Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, or from the Women's Institute Branch, Department of Agriculture, Toronto.

CANNING METHODS

Preparation of the Fruit

Use fully ripend fruit to obtain the best flavor. Blanch by plunging into boiling water for 30-60 seconds or until the skins will wrinkle. Dip at once into cold water. Remove the skins quickly. If peaches are freestone cut in halves and remove pits. If not, peaches may be left whole. To prevent darkening, drop into cold, salted water (1 tsp salt to each quart water.) Drain thoroughly.

Preparation of the Syrup

To make a moderately thin syrup use the following proportions: Sugar, 1 cup; Water, 1½ cups, giving 2cups syrup. Measure sugar and water. Heat to boiling, stirring until sugar dissolves. Skim. Prepare syrup a short time before it is required. Re-heat to boiling point immediately before use. Quantity of syrup required per quart of peaches: Cold Pack, 1½-2 cups; Hot Pack, about 1½ cups.

Preparation of Sealers

Examine each sealer carefully for cracks or chips. Discard damaged equipment. It is safe practice to buy fresh rubbers of good quality each year. Wash sealers, glass lids and metal screw bands thoroughly in hot, soapy water and rinse in clear, hot drinking water. To keep sealers hot until packed, half fill each sealer with warm water. Place glass lids in position and stand sealers upright on rack in boiler or kettle. Surround with warm water and heat to boiling. Leave in water until ready to fill.

METHOD OF PROCESSING

Cold Pack Method:

Leave the peaches in halves or slice. Pack, pit side down, if halves. Cover with boiling syrup, leaving ½ inch headspace. Boiling water bath: Pint sealers 20 minutes; Quart sealers, 25 minutes.

Hot Pack Method:

Leave in halves or slice. Bring to boil in syrup and simmer 3 minutes. Pack hot, leaving ½ inch headspace —Boiling water bath, 15 minutes.

General Instructions

After filling selers run bide of knife down and around the inside of the container to remove air bubcles.

Spring-Top Sealer — Adjust top ball but leave lower ball loose, for partial seal.

BOILING WATER BATH

Any utensil with a closely fitting lid, several inches higher than the containers being processed may be used as a boiling water bath. A wire or wooden rack must be used to raise the containers, off the bottom of the bath.

Directions for Use:

Have boiler half filled with water just below boiling temperature. Have boiler ready when containers are packed.

2 Place packed containers on the rack at least one inch apart.

3 Add boiling water TO COVER THE CONTAINERS BY TWO INCHES. This is essential for successful processing. Do not pour water directly on jars. Cover the boiler.

4 Time the processing from the minute the water surrounding the contsainers begins to boil. Keep water boiling. If necessary, add boiling water during the processing period to keep the jars covered.

5 At the end of the processing period, remove jars immediately. Complete sealing of screw-top and spring-top jars at once.

Sealing

After processing ,place hot sealers on a folded dry cloth or newspaper to prevent cracking. Complete the seal on screw-top and spring-top sealers immediately. For vacuum sealers, no further adjustment is necessary. A complete seal forms as the sealer cools.

Cool all sealers in an upright position, keeping them uncovered and out of draughts. Leave space between sealers. Do not disturb for 12 hours.

Testing for Leakage

Carefully invert screw-top and spring-top sealers for a few minutes when cold. If using vacuum-type sealers never invert. When cold, test vacuum-type sealer with metal lid by tapping gently with a spoon. There should be a clear ringing sound and the lid should be curved slightly inward.

Million Lose Homes in China

Worst Flood in Century Brings 'Calamity'

Nearly 10,030f09 people in east central China are suffering from the country's worst flood in a century.

The crop loss, so vital to China's agricultural economy, is reported incalculable.

Thousands of homes were washed away, leaving more than 1,000,000 persons homeless.

The flood was caused by heavy rains in June and July that overflowed the Hwai river and an ancient man-made canal.

A survey of the damage was made by Communist officials. Their report said the situation had reached "calamity proportions."

More than half of the number of persons affected by the flood were reported in a "very serious" condition.

The flood report was presented to an emergency conference July 30 at Anhwei, called to cope with the situation.

The devastation was wrought in the north and northwest sections of Anhwei province.

After the summer rains, the river overflowed and backed up into waters of the centuries-old canal. More than 3,250,000 acres were flooded. More than half of the inundated land was reported totally destroyed.

As of the last week in July, 485 persons have been reported drowned as a result of the flood. At one place the flood was described as "a vast ocean of water stretching beyond the horizon."

The Chinese Communists said they were doing whatever they could to save the people affected by the flood and get production started again. They reported they have distributed 8,000,000 pounds of food to the stricken.

Many Willing to Serve Again If Need Arises

In the week since Korea started, thousands of wartime officers, now civilians ,have informed Ottawa they would be willing to serve their country again if war comes or even before it comes, Defence Headquarters said last week.

The Navy reported that 95 per cent of the 4,000 former officers on its retired list replied to a questionnaire circulated to find out if they would serve again in wartime or before if needed. Two-thirds said they would be available prior to general mobilization, if called.

Only a tiny handful, the Navy said, reported they could not serve again.

Many Volunteer

The Army said nearly 1,000 former officers have volunteered for its special force to fight aggression in Korea or elsewhere. The force itself will only need roughly 300.

The Air Force said hundreds of former officers have been making inquiries about a renewal of service and saying Ottawa only has to give the word and they'll be back in uniform.

Korea has drawn attention to the pool of veterans these men represent, thousands of them on reserve lists like that of the Navy, thousands of them not.

Headquarters said those who have placed their names on the reserve list actually are legally liable to a call back to service if war comes. Those who have not are not.

But officials said although the legal power exists to call up reserve list personnel in emergency it has not been the accepted Canadian practice to do so. They are acquainted with the circumstances and allowed to volunteer if they wish.

Regulations Under Study

Regulations governing the call-up of reserves are now under study by legal officers at head quarters as part of a broad study and redrafting of military regulations arising from parliament's approval of the new National Defence Act.

It is expected that in keeping with the drive for uniformity among all three forces, the call-up provisions will be worded in roughly similar language for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Actually those provisions now are in effect virtually the same.

Broadly speaking all three forces have two reserves, one active and one supplementary, as the Army calls it, or inactive as the Air Force calls it.

The active reserves include the army's reserve force regiments, the Air Force Auxiliary fighter and bomber and radar squadrons and the Navy's training divisions. They train regularly go to summer camps or bases for training. There are 32,000 men in this category now.

The new Defence Act, for the first time makes units such as these liable for a call-up for service in national disasters at any time.

Reserves Called Up

Thus there was power to call up the active reserves for the Manitoba floods. They were called up but there was no compulsory order. They were allowed to volunteer. They are also liable to a call up for military service at any time.

The second kind of reserve is, in effect, merely lists of officers and other ranks who have signified that they wish to be kept on a list to be called on if needed. That, legally, makes them liable for a call in emergency.

Beyond those again are the thousands of veterans who have their names on no list of reserves. They are not liable to any call. But for practical purposes, headquarters knows broadly how many there are and that a great percentage could be counted on to serve again if war struck.

A dog walked up to a San Antonio man and bit him in the leg. Two hours later the dog died. Police consoled the dog-bite victim by explaining that the dog was rabid and probably would have died anyway. Serum fixed up the man.

Over 1,000 people were present at the Minaker Bingo at the Napanee Armouries on Monday night, sponsored by the Napanee Branch No. 137 of The Canadian Legion.

Napanee Rotarians Visit Camp for Crippled Children

Beaver Representative Harold Follis Among Visitors

In common with other challenges that face humanitarians, the care of crippled and underprivileged children has had a comparatively short, but significant history. This movement has grown by contagion and responsibility has increased in order to meet the need.

From its beginning the Ontario Society for Crippled Children has undertaken this special task and with the association of Rotary International, other interested groups and individuals, has faced the challenge with vigorous effort.

When we see the achievement of this humanitarian endeavor we recapture loyalty and faith in our democratic principles.

In company with official representatives of Napanee Rotary Club, a representative of the Napanee Beaver ha dthe priviledge last week of visiting one of the three camps, Merrywood-on-the-Rideau.

This camp affords all the camping activities enjoyed by all boys and girls. The camp is owned and operated by the Ontario Society for Crippled Children with the assistance of a Camp Committee comprised of representatives of the Rotary Clubs of Eastern Ontario and the Kiwanis Clubs of Cornwall and Pembroke. These clubs provide funds for the physical facilities of the camp. The O.S.C.C. provides the money for its operation. Most of the funds are provided by the Easter Seal Campaign conducted by the different participating clubs. As well as the above most of the Clubs pay a portion of the expenses of the children coming from their district.

CAMP COMMITTEE

The Camp Committee is composed of the following members:

Executive Committee: Chairman, H. Hall Popham (Ottawa); Vice-Chairman, Robert Boark (Smiths Falls); Secretary, Walter Stemp (Perth); Ontario Society Representative, R. G. Cammidge (Ottawa).

Walker, Prescott; Cliff McManus, Renfrew; Don Smith, Smiths Falls; R. J. Patterson, Kemptville; A. Greenspoon, Hawkesbury.

The Ontario Society for Crippled Children is headed by the Executive Director, Mr. R. W. Hooper. Miss Gretta Ross, R.N., is in charge of Nurses and Camping.

A gathering of approximately 100 representatives of Rotary and other clubs, newsmen and interested people inspected the grounds and buildings during the afternoon of Wednesday, August 30th.

Opening remarks were made by H. H. Popham, chairman of Merrywood Camp. Mr. R. W. Hooper, whose buildings recently built, were dedicated in the following order: Sleeping Cabin, donated by Rotary Club of Smiths Falls, by President Berk Berkeley with Rev. Jos. Lattimer offering the dedication prayer; the Infirmary, by President Syl O'Donnell of the Perth Rotary Club, followed with prayer by Rev. Robert B. Milroy. The Craft House, with K. W. Roode, speaking on behalf of the Brockville Club, was dedicated in prayer by Rev. P. C. Lewis.

PICTON DEADLOCKS PLAYOFF SERIES

Winning 4 to 3 in a twilight game in Picton on Tuesday of this week, Picton McFarland Athletics tied up their best-of-five O.B.A. intermediate 'B' district playdowns series with Napanee at one game each.

Dyer, on the mound for Picton, kept the Napanee hits well scattered. He won his own game in the bottom of the ninth, driving home MacDonald, whose triple was the only extra-base hit of the game.

McTaggart and Hayes were the batteries for Napanee.

In the seventh, Picton scored two runs on singles by Dean, Duetta and Zimmerman. The last-named made a sensational catch of Wall Gerow's hard drive deep in centre field in the ninth. Picton infield had two double plays an Napanee one.

TRANSPORT FAILS TO MAKE TURN AT R.R. BRIDGE

On Friday morning about 3.15 a transport, loaded with 16 tons of coke, owned by J. N. Brocklesby, General contractor of Montreal, and driven by Noel Dugees, age 24 of St. Catherine Street, Montreal, failed to make the turn at the bridge at the eastern entrance of the town and ran up the embankment of the C.N.R. bridge.

The driver suffered only minor cuts to his face, but the tractor was badly damaged.

The traffic was diverted under the south arch from the time of the mishap to 8.30 that morning.

Many town people visited the scene and marvelled at the height the vehicle climbed the steep embankment.

CROP FAILURE FEARED IN U. K.

London, Eng. — Incessant rains within recent weeks, accompanied by unseasonably cold weather, have raised fears of crop failure in many sections of the British Isles.

Rain has turned fields into quagmires and halted harvesting operation. Earlier in the season thousands of acres of grain were flattened by rain, hail and wind.

In some districts the situation was described as the worst in 15 years. Conditions are worst in Southwest England, where even the hay is ungathered.

Farmers said only a long stretch of sunny weather could save the harvest in many districts.

NAP. A'S DEFEAT PICTON, 2 - 1 IN 11-INNINGS BATTLE

One of the best played games of baseball for some time was staged here on the holiday, when the local Athletics nosed out Picton 2 to 1, in a game that took eleven innings to break up.

A ringing double by Skipper Green who went to third on a passed ball, the only one of the game, came home on Johnny Munroe's sharp single between first and second, to end the game. The winning run was scored with two down.

In all sense of the word it was a hurler's duel, practically all the way. Napanee had little batters until the fifth, frame when Markle struck for the ice. The visitors gathered three up until that time.

Hooper, on the mound for Napanee, gave up nine safeties, walked two, and struck out four. Hayden, on the mound for Picton allowed six safeties, struck out five. Errors were evenly divided, three to each team. Dyer with two and Wardaugh with the other, for Picton, and Bud Green two and Jocko one for the winners. The locals were victims of two twin killings during the game. Ed Hooper and V. Green gathered the only extra base clouts for the locals, each a double, while Dean poled a double in the eleventh, but was left stranded. Napanee left but the one field with three of the nine hits for the day. Duetta, gathering two Hooper clicked twice to bag the locals.

About 6:00 p.m. Bill Durnan paid a brief visit to the game and took a look in the last innings. Thurier Scott, at the plate, was taken with a bad spell and Mack, who was on the bases, finished the game.

Score by innings:

Napanee	000	0\ 000	01-	2	6	2

TWEED BOY DIES IN BLAZING HOME

Flames bent off a mother's attempt to save the life of her 5-year-old son Joe Saturday, September 2nd, when fire broke out in an upstairs bedroom, at the home of Mrs. Martin, at Tweed.

Burned to death was John Martin, who had been playing with matches after being put to bed. When the bedding in his room caught fire, the frightened lad crawled beneath abd in another room. He was smothered to death and his body was badly seared.

Mrs. Martin, hearing the crackle of flames, rushed upstairs, calling to her son. There was no answer. A wall of flame barred her entrance to the room. The frantic mother tossed several pails of water on the blaze but it had not effect.

Two firemen, Ross McNaught and Simeon Rowley, managed to make their way upstairs but the heat forced them back. When the fire finally was extinguished, the little boy's body was found under the bed.

John's father died several years ago.

Increased Number Enrol at Schools In Napanee

Several New Teachers on the Staff

The schools in Napanee re-opened on Tuesday, September 5th, after the summer holidays. The new public schools required very little outside the ordinary caretaking, to make them ready for the pupils. At the Collegiate, some changes were made to accommodate the increased number of pupils. The Collegiate will be very badly overcrowded, with an enrolment of about 475 pupils. Even last year, when there were about 425 pupils, it was found very difficult to find classroom space. The public schools, which had an enrolment last year of over 800 pupils, still have adequate space for the pupils.

Four new teachers were engaged by the Collegiate Board, which brings the teaching staff up to seventeen, this year. There are fourteen teachers for the Public Schools, twelve in the Prince Charles School and two in the Eastview School. A new Principal, Mr. Alan MacLean, was engaged to succeed Mr. W. L. Bell, and Miss Earline Culhane replaced Mrs. W. L. Bell as a teacher in Eastview School. The new teachers on the Collegiate staff are F. B. Lewis, B.A., Miss M. E. McCauley, B.A., N. W. Hutchison, B.A., and Miss C. M. Oster, B.A.

School Board Asks Council Approve New School

Legal Advice Regarding Financing to be Sought

At the regular meeting of the Napanee Town Council, held on Tuesday evening, September 5th, a letter was read from the Napanee and District School Board, requesting the Council to give approval of the building of a new Collegiate in Napanee. A deputation composed of F. U. Hadley, chairman of the School Board, and two members of the Board appointed by the Town of Napanee, and the Secretary of the Board, R. F. Hunter, were present, and addressed the Council members. The members of the Council who were present, Mayor Vine, Reeve Milligan, Deputy-Reeve Douglas, and Councillors Loucks, Davy, Ballantyne and Wartman, all spoke on the question.

Mr. Hadley, with the exception of Councillor Loucks, all the Council members expressed the opinion that a new school is needed. Councillor Loucks objected to the expense in view of the fact that the town of Napanee will need a special con-siderable money in the next few years for other improvements. He suggested allowing the taxpayers to vote on the question.

Reeve Milligan said as far as he could see, there was no alternative but to accede to the request. He said the district would be fortunate to secure a new school for such a small outlay on the part of the municipalities, but before accepting the proposition the approval and opinion of the town solicitors should be obtained.

Deputy-Reeve Douglas questioned whether or not the proposed new school would be large enough to accommodate all the pupils likely to attend in a few years. He suggested making the building larger than the Board plans, at present.

Councillor Wartman said he was, at first, not in favor of the new school, but since hearing the details explained, had changed his opinion. Councillors Ballantyne and Davy said they thought the people who pay the taxes in the town, should be given the chance to express their opinions.

The financing for the building of the new school was discussed, and from information given, it was apparent that the debentures to cover the cost would be issued in the name of the Town of Napanee even though the other municipalities in the district would be liable for their share of the expenditure. It was felt by members of the Council that details regarding the financing should be clarified.

P. U. Ladley stated that the School Board was asking only for tentative approval of the project and that if the Council gave approval at present, it was not final. Final approval of the project could be given after the plan was sanctioned by the Department of Education and the Municipal Board. He said that the Board could not go ahead and engage an architect or call for tenders for the building, until a majority of the Municipal Councils represented in the High School District, had given tentative approval.

The Council finally passed a motion, that a delegation composed of the Mayor, the Reeve and the Clerk, be the whole proposition before the town's solicitors in Toronto. Then, when that had been done the Council will meet again to decide whether or not approval will be given.

DEPUTATION HEARD

Residents on Simcoe Street, between Dundas and Bridge Streets, headed by Russell Vanvolkenburg, requested information regarding the possibity of sewer service on the street. It was pointed out that the section of the street in question lies in a hollow and a sewer could not be connected to either Dundas or Bridge Street sewers. The proposition was left in the hands of the Streets Committee to investigate and report.

Wilbur Hart asked permission to erect a sign at his property on Dundas Street and was informed the Ontario Department of Highways had control of such matters and the matter was laid on the table until a ruling from the Department could be secured. Approval of the permit granted Mr. Hart last year for the erection of a lunch room was granted. Mr. Hart's request for permission to remove the curb in front of his property, was referred to the Streets Committee.

Harold Rawley's request for sewer service on Thomas Street, east of the C.N.R. tracks, was left in the hands of the Streets Committee with power to act.

Joe Lowe, who was engaged for a six months' period as fire truck driver, was rehired for a year for the same position, at his own request.

CRITICIZES WATER SERVICE

Deputy-Reeve Douglas brought up the matter of the condition of the water supplied the residents of Napanee by the Public Utilities. He said he did not think the Commission had dealt fairly with the people. Last year the Commission promised to do something to improve the quality of the water, but so far has done nothing. The water, he said, is worse than last year and is not fit even to use for washing.

The Council approved the expenditure of $538 for widening and resurfacing of the project and that if the Council gave approval at present, it was not final. Final approval of the proposition could be given after the plan was sanctioned by the Department of Education and the Municipal Board. He said that the Board could not go ahead and engage an architect or call for tenders for the building, until a majority of the Municipal Councils represented in the High School District, had given tentative approval.

The Council finally passed a motion, that a delegation composed of the Mayor, the Reeve and the Clerk, be the whole proposition before the town's solicitors in Toronto. Then, when that had been done the Council will meet again to decide whether or not approval will be given.

United Church General Council Meets This Week

New Moderator to be Elected

Election of a new Moderator for The United Church of Canada, to succeed The Right Rev. Dr. Willard Brewing, of Toronto, will be one of the first orders of business when the General Council, supreme body of that Church, meets in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, September 12th.

Seven persons thus far have been nominated by presbyteries and conferences across Canada for the position, and others may be named from the floor of the Council meeting.

Total number of delegates, all appointed by Conferences of the Church will reach 386, half of them clerical and half lay. Only seven women have been named delegates. The Church have appointed representatives, and all the Boards of the Church will be represented at Council meeting.

One of the key figures at the General Council meeting will be the Rev. Dr. Gordon A. Sisco, general secretary, who is regarded as an authority on church procedure and legislation. Since the last General Council meeting, held in Vancouver, Dr. Sisco has served on the Executive Committee of the World Council of Churches, and has taken a leading part in discussions on world church affairs.

From Britain will come three distinguished visitors to General Council. Rev. John Short, of Bournemouth, England, a great preacher and immediate Past Chairman of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, is expected to arrive in Toronto this week for the Council meeting and will give the devotional addresses. Rev. E. Benson Perkins, ex-president of the Methodist Conference of Britain, will bring greetings from that body. A leading British layman, A. B. Hillis, of the Methodist Church, will also speak.

First General Council of The United Church met in Toronto in 1925. Preparations are being made to make fitting observance of the 25th anniversary of the founding of The United Church. This year's Council will be more inspirational in character than former Council meetings, and evening sessions will be open to the public.

The Rt. Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam, Bishop of the Methodist Church of the United States and one of the co-presidents of the World Council of Churches, will address a public meeting on the first Wednesday night of the Council gathering.

On the following night the Rev. John A. Mackay, President of the Princeton Theological Seminary, and member of the International Missionary Council and the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, will speak.

Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, the noted Christian, from Japan, will also address delegates.

Sessions of General Council will open one hour later than usual in both the morning and the afternoon, to allow for more time for informal conversation between delegates, and work on sessional committees.

A 341-page agenda has been placed in the hands of delegates, who will come from all Conferences of the United Church in Canada. In addition a 100-page report by a Commission on Culture will occupy the attention of commissioners.

MALIK WAS BAFFLED

After boycotting the U. N. Council for scene the first of August. It was Russia's seven months, the Russians appeared on the turn to have a Chairman of the Council. Jacob Malik got the call for Russia and took his position as presiding officer. The whole month was stalemated. Malik ruled discussions out of order. He used his positition to prevent vital and urgent issues coming before the Council. Naturally, the other members were annoyed. They were frustrated and blocked at every turn. Language was pretty straight, and in other days, might easily have been a cause of war.

With tempers frayed, and tensions almost at the breaking point, Malik came to the end of his term as chairman, and Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Great Britain, took over. Malik, no doubt, expected a rough time of it. He was ready to face a group that would put him in his place, and get even with him.

What happened, however, was the very opposite of what Malik expected. Instead of reprisals, which he could have capitalized on; instead of a show of anger and opposition on which he had calculated, the Council took a course that completely silenced Malik. The United States at once announced that, as soon as the war in Korea was over, the Navy would be removed from Formosan waters. The United States admitted one of her aeroplanes may have bombed a Manchurian airport by mistake, and suggested a United Nations investigation, promising reparations, should The United States be proven at fault. The U. S. then assured China of her friendship and her desire to co-operate with her.

Granted that this was a sort of about-face for The United States, yet its main effect was to beat Russia's propaganda game. Russia has been doing her best to drive a wedge between China and The United States. Up until the present, she has had the advantage. But the forthright statement of Owen Austin, setting forth the aims of The United States, quite took the wind out of Malik's sails. He was not ready for it. He tried to have further meetings of the Council postponed, presumably until he could get word from Moscow. But the move was thwarted and the meetings went on.

It has taken The United States a long time to define her policies in the Far East. The uncertainty has led to confusion. It has given Russia a head-start on the propaganda front. That should be ended, now, and if The U. S. makes the most of it, she should easily wrest the initiative from Russia and win the co-operation and friendship of the Chinese people — and the North Korean's, as well.

BACK AGAIN

The schools are opened. Teachers are back, scholars are back, too — some are making their first acquaintance with our organized educational system. It is the universal judgment of teachers that the first week is an easy one, from the point of view of discipline ;children are interested. Every week is not like the first week. Teachers soon find that out. Sometimes, the discovery comes as a shock to teachers fresh from "Normal" or O. C. E.; older and more experienced teachers are ready for it.

The task of teachers, always exacting, is more so to-day than in less moving and changing eras. The changing civilization changes the school programme and technique. Teachers have to train children to become citizens who live in the present, but who know the past and have faith in the future.

Plato defined education as training; "in virtue from youth upwards, which makes a man eagerly pursue the ideal perfection of citizenship, and teaches him how rightly to rule and how to obey. This is the only training which, upon our view, would be characterized as education; that other sort of training which aims at the acquisition of wealth, or bodily strength, or mere cleverness apart from intelligence or justice, is mean and illiberal, and is not worthy to be called education, at all."

Modern education has tended to the latter rather than the former. If Plato is true and we believe he is, then educators must keep before them the "ideal perfection of citizenship" as the final purpose of education. This involves, not only that the child should learn to think straight, but to live straight; not only to have a well-stored mind, but a balanced character. He must be trained as an individual, but he must be trained, as well, to become a co-operative member of a group.

For some time in the recent past the emphasis has been on the individual. Education was concerned with creating rugged individualists. To-day, the political trend is toward mass action. The individual does not count so much as the state: Fascism and Communism are extreme examples of a pretty general tendency.

Somehow or other, children in a Democracy must be trained to meet this new situation, to develop, to the full, their personal capacities and aptitudes, and to co-operate with others to the common good. That is the task the teachers face. It is not an easy one; they deserve the support and understanding encouragement of every citizen.

NOT ALTOGETHER TO BLAME

The United States is the strongest nation in the world. On her rests, to a large extent, the responsibility for war and peace. If she had a foreign policy, it was not very clear to those of us who live outside her orbit. It looks as though some of her own top ranking officials did not know, either. A week ago, General McArthur sent a message to be read at the American Legion. The message suggested strong preventative action in the Far East. When the contents of the message were known, he was asked by the Government, to withdraw the statement, which he did.

A few days later, Secretary of The Navy Francis P. Matthews, made a speech, in which he said The United States might have to attack Russia in order to assure world peace. The State Department, with the consent of President Truman, publicly rebuked Mr Matthews.

Then comes another address, this time by Major-General Orvil A. Anderson, Commandant of an Air College in Florida. He said that, if he were ordered to do so, he could "destroy Russia's five A-bomb nests in a week," and then he added: "And when I went up to Christ, I think I could explain to him why I wanted to do it — now — before it is too late. I think I could explain to him that I had saved civilization."

Well ! Anderson was fired for that speech. These speeches show, undoubtedly, that even men in high positions did not know what the people in the Pentagon were thinking. Perhaps the Foreign Department did not know its own mind. The speech of the President, on Friday night, will do much to clear the air. It gives us some assurance now that The United States Government has at last, made up its mind what it is to do with its power, and its responsibility.

The eight aims outlined by the President will bring encouragement to peace - lovers, everywhere .They should be shouted from every housetop. Here they are:

1 We believe in The United Nations.
2 We believe Koreans have a right to be free.
3 We don't want the Korean fighting to expand into general war.
4 We particularly hope the Chinese people won't be misled into fighting The United Nations and the American people who still are their friends. Only Communist imperialism, which already has started dismembering China, could gain from China's involvement.
5 We want none of Asia, Formosa included, for ourselves.
6 We believe in freedom for all Far Eastern nations.
7 We do not believe in aggressive or preventive war.
8 We want peace and "we shall achieve it."

COMPULSION IF NECESSARY

The Railway Strike had a paralysing effect on the whole Canadian economy. It was not only the railroadmen and their families who were involved, thousands of other workers and their families were affected. Mills, factories, mines, were all disrupted. The whole, finely attuned, economy was disrupted.

The Government moved with commendable speed. A national emergency demanded quick and decisive action. All the parties in the House supported this measure. What criticism there was, was on matters of detail rather than on the general principle of the bill which the Government brought down to end the strike.

A study of the wage scale of railroad employees, indicates that in the lower paid brackets there was need of increases to meet the increase in the cost of living. Maintenance men, roundhouse men, wipers, cleaners and other non-operatives, were having a hard time to make ends meet. The same cannot be said of those in the running occupations. They are the elite of the workers.

One of the attendant circumstances to collective bargaining is that a demand for an increase of wages is usually right across the board; the higher paid who may not be feeling the pinch, as well as the lower paid who are up against it. There is often a measure of injustice in a situation such as that.

The Unions have shown a praiseworthy spirit of co-operation with the Government in going back to work so promptly. The addresses of both Union Leaders when they called off the strike were kindly, co-operative, and thoroughly loyal to the decision of the people's elected representatives. It is to be hoped that the two Parties to the dispute, will be able to settle their differences ,still outstanding, before a Government mediator has to be appointed.

We do not like the compulsory arbitration feature of the bill, but if the parties to the dispute cannot settle it voluntarily, then the Government must step in. We cannot have a repetition of the conditions which prevailed when the strike was on.

Lesson, September 10th

JOHN MARK, WHO MADE GOOD

Lesson Text: Acts 112: 12. 25; 13: 4-5, 13; 15: 36-40.

Paul and Barnabas, and Mark, made the first of what is called Paul's missionary journeys. They were a strong threesome. It will be remembered that Paul and Barnabas had been sent by the church at Antioch with relief for the Christians in Jerusalem. Apparently, there was a depression on there, and something akin to famine conditions, prevailed. After they had met the group, and had given them the money, they started back, taking Mark with them.

The group of missionaries then set out on a missionary tour. But at Pamphylia, Mark quit. What happened the record does not disclose. Quite probably he could not take it. It is one thing to set out on a journey allured by the spirit of adventure or even of service, or devotion to high ideals. It is quite another thing, to face the dangers of the trip, the opposition of those among whom one travels and the hardships and inconvenience of the journey .The real test of any commitment comes when the glamour which many have surrounded its inception, gives way to a really tough time. Mark quit and went back, leaving Paul and Barnabas to go on alone. We can well imagine that Paul, careless of personal safety, and sold to the one idea of making Christ known, would be rather "sore" at Mark.

Later on, another trip was planned. Barnabas wanted to give Mark another chance to take him along. But Paul would have none of it. Once was enough for Paul. They really went to town over this and finally they decided to dissolve partnership. Barnabas set out with Mark, and Paul took along Silas ,whom he had discovered somewhere.

It is not hard to think of Paul as a bit stubborn. In a way, we can hardly blame him for his attitude. Mark had let him down and Paul was not taking any more chances. On the other hand, Barnabas was for giving Mark another chance and, after all, where would any Christian be if he had not been given another chance. Barnabas was ready to back Mark. Mark did not let him down this time. As a matter of fact, Mark did a good job. Indeed, he did so good a job that the book which bears his name and was written by him, was the earliest gospel written, and is written in an interesting non-academic way, which anyone can read.

To be sure, Mark failed at first, but who has not failed. It is no sin to have failed. The sin comes in accepting a failure as conclusive. Most great men have had the experience in failing at some point in their careers, but became great because they surmounted them. Judas failed and accepted defeat and hanged himself. Peter denounced his Lord, but rose above his defeat and became a veritable Christian dynamo. He fell but did not stay down. That is the genius of Christianity — it offers hope even for those who deny their Lord seventy times seven. Barnabas was closer to the mind of the Master on this occasion, than Paul.

But strange as it may seem, God uses the wrath of man to praise Him. Instead of one missionary team, there now was two. And the dispute between these two men led to increased missionary endeavour. The kingdom advanced in spite of the difference of well-intentioned, sincere Christians. It is always that way.

Four Small Fires In District Forests Were Extinguished

Four small fires were reported and extinguished by rangers during the early part of the week ,two attributed to careless campers and two resulting from unextinguished smoking materials. Three of the fires occurred in the Dacre division, the largest, 3 acres in Lavant Township, and smaller blazes in Anglesea and Barrie Townships. The fourth fire in Tudor Township was very small and fortunately was brought under control without difficulty.

Investigations are being made to determine the parties responsible though so far, no direct evidence is available.

General showers throughout the district on August 16th again reduced the hazard and no new outbreaks were reported over the week end.

Truman Authorized To Establish Controls Mobilize Everybody

Overwhelming Senate approval of a home-front mobilization bill virtually assured President Truman the power to invoke wage-price-rationing controls and otherwise gear the U.S. to a wartime footing.

The Senate passed the emergency measure last week by a whopping 85 to 4 vote.

Overriding vigourous administration opposition the senate voted 50 to 36 to require the president to invoke wage and price controls simultaneously and virtually across the authority and the allocation and board if he imposed them at all.

Besides the wage-price-rationing priorities powers the measure provides for:

1. Control of consumer credit and credit covering new construction and major remodelling started after August 3rd.

2 A ban on hoarding of scarce consumer goods and industrial materials. The president would designate scarce items. Violators would be subject to penalties ranging up to a $10,000 fine and a year in jail.

3. Government seizure of privately owned plants and other facilities if they were needed in the defence effort.

4 A $2,000,000,000 government loan and loan-guarantee program to encourage defence production.

5 Consideration by the President of the wage and price levels of the period May 24-June 24, 1950, in the fixing of wage-price ceilings. The bill permits but does not require a rollback to that period, with some exceptions, which might include all farm commodities.

Listening Post in Russia is Doubled

Canada is doubling the manpower in her military listening posts within Russia, raising it from one military attache to two.

The defence department disclosed last week that the air attache now in Moscow is being recalled and replaced by two men, one from the army and one from the air force. The military attache in Poland is being replaced simultaneously by one man.

To Russia next month will go Maj. Bernard J. Guimond, 29, of Quebec, who is being promoted to lieutenant-colonel and Flying Cmdr. Wm. M. Stevens, of Ottawa and Kingston, who has been doing staff work with the Canadian staff in Washington since 1948.

To Poland goes Lieut. Col. H. A. Phillips, 39, of Kingston who will have the rank of colonel while there.

There was no public explanation of the move to double the Moscow number, but at least two significant factors were read into it. One was that although Canada's military men behind the iron curtain are severely restricted in their movements and aren't invited to military demonstrations, they can do extremely valuable work from Canada's standpoint.

Another was that Russia recently has posted two colonels and a navy captain here to bring the ranks of her military mission to a stature unmatched since the war. She now has five military attaches in Ottawa but one is on leave.

More than 25 million acres were seeded to spring wheat in Canada this year.

Korea, An Historic Aim Of Russian Policy

Disguised under the cloak of the "North Korean's People's Government" the Russians are merely carrying on a campaign now more than half a century old to lay hands on the Korea peninsula. Ever since the foundation of Vladivostock, Russia has sought a foothold there and, as long ago as 1896, Russia and Japan signed an agreement which divided the country into protectorates, the boundary being the now historic 38th parallel.

These facts are outlined in Dr. David Dallin's new history "The Rise of Russia in Asia," reviewed in the London Spectator recently to hand. It says:

The story has quite a contemporary air. A few Russian and Japanese troops were introduced on either side. The nthe Russians broke the agreement by introducing a large number of Russian Officers to reconstruct and train the Korean Army. When the Koreans objected, the "advisors" were replaced by Russian soldiers disguised as lumberjacks working on timber concessions, thoughtfully bought beforehand. Eventually it led to war ,and here and elsewhere, Dr. Dallin's quotations from contemporary Russian documents makes sinster reading. "It is desirable," wrote the Czar to General Alexander in 1904, "that the Japanese, and not we, be the ones to start military operations. But if they should cross the 38th Parallel on the western coast of Korea, with or without a landing, you are hereby given instructions to attack them without waiting for the first shot from either side. I rely on you. God help you."

The lesson to be learned, The Spectator points out, is "the deep-rooted tenacity of the Russian expansionist policy in this Far East-ern Zone" It is not based on any domestic fear of "capitalist" countries trying to overthrow the "Communist" paradise of the Soviet Union. It antedates any such ideological veneer. Clumsily in Czarist days, more competently today under the present rulers of the Kremlin, the pressure remains a constant factor.

Mother Russia is on the move, as it has been on the move for more than a century. Today it has two factors in its favor. One of these is the military weakness of its neighbors. The other is the which it dresses up as a religious crusade for communism. The support of the illusion of a diplomatic front that the Russian Soviet has postponed their schemes. Its methods are now in the Soviet Union.

In an area of some 600 square miles of Lake Winnipeg are 2000 lakes.

Ontario Civil Servants May Keep 5-day Week

The Provincial Joint Advisory Council, representing both the Government and civil servants, has recommended the continuation of summer work schedule for civil servants after September 17, when they normally end. If accepted, the proposal would mean a five-day week for provincial employes. Premier Frost told the council the Government will investigate the suggestion.

MERCHANTS LOSE O.B.A. OPENER

With the tying runs on the paths the Napanee Merchants went down to defeat 11 to 8 to the Lennox All-Stars at Strathcona on Friday evening. It was the first game of the Intermediate C series between these two squads. A good crowd of supporters were on hand for the game.

The game itself was anything but a pitcher's duel, both teams using a brace of hurlers in the struggle that was anybody's game right up until the third out in the ninth.

The Merchants had two golden opportunities during the latter part of the game, but failed to hit in the clutches. In the second, eight runs came to bat but only three runs crossed the plate to score. Also in the eighth another eight faced the home hurler, with just two counters getting over. In the ninth, six men faced Herbie Finn, and smart fielding by Paul Conway at third, and Finn catching Mike Perry off first, cut off the visitors to a single run, leaving runners on first and third.

For Napanee, Robinson started, but was taken out in favor of Mike Perry in the fourth. Robinson was touched for four hits, walked four, and a opped four at the plate. Joe Lennox team gathered eight runs during his tenure. Perry held the winners to four safeties, walked three, and struck out two.

For the "All-Stars", Hinch started and stuck it out until the seventh, when Herbie Finn relieved him. Hinch allowed eight singles, struck out five, and walked five. Finn, who continually got himself in tight spots, rose to the occasion and came through. He allowed four hits, struck out 1, walked 4, and was touched for three solid singles in the early part of the game. Support by the Napanee squad actually cost the game; the Merchants getting credit for six, while four were tallied by the winners; they were spread well, with little damage resulting.

Top men with the willow for Napanee were VanVlack with three for six, followed by Dennison with two for four; Turner was next with two for six.

For the winners, Paul Conway led the field, not only with three singles, but turned in a brilliant game at third, and Marshall Boyd at centre. Wood came up with two hits, and the only extra base clout went to O. A. Buck; those double broke up the ball game in the eighth.

to perpetuate her memory on this occasion. He also gave an informative resume of the work carried on by the organization.

Following the dedication service the visitors busied themselves on a tour of inspection and observed the neat and clean atmosphere prevailing in each of the buildings and the camp in general.

The four dormitories, all equipped with modern conveniences, contained five beds in each wing with a large drawer beneath the bed for clothing, etc. Each of the sleeping buildings is supervised by two counsellors, who also sleep in the buildings.

The nurses, Miss Betty O'Neill and Miss Peggy Ford are on constant duty at the modernly equipped infirmary. They supervise the health of the children and are ready for all minor emergencies.

In the Craft House was seen some of the work done which consisted of the making of leather novelties, shell and bead work, such as earrings, brooches, lamps, animals, etc.

Meeting Miss M. Gardner, Smiths Falls, Camp Directress, the visitors immediately knew how to account for the sympathetic understanding and thoroughness of the Camp routine.

Miss Gardner said that the Merrywood Camp served the territory from Ottawa to Cobourg, on up to the Haliburton district. Four camps each season, with two for girls and two for boys from ages of six to sixteen.

Merrywood Camp has been in operation for two and one-half years and the camp will be closed on the 9th of September. At the end of their three weeks' camping, each group enjoys a banquet with all the trimmings, including decorations, souvenirs etc.

It was learned the staff comprised about twenty-five, most of whom were volunteer workers.

Recreational activities are supervised by Richard Roberts of Toronto Recreation Director. With him is assisted Mr. Heidenwick. An extensive programme each day is alternated between three groups; the Eagles, the Ravens and the Hawks. First in the morning is Flag Raising, then after breakfast each group, during the day, will have an hour in the Arts and Crafts building, possibly followed by dramatics. The visitors were fortunate in being entertained by one of these groups in the presentation of "Bluebeard". The dialogue was entirely written by the children themselves and aroused much favorable comment. Then a group will indulge in any of a number of sports, competing in archery, croquet, volleyball, softball, basketball, etc. In addition to these competitions, varied supervised entertainment may be enjoyed on the miniature golf course, swings, boating, etc.

By way of diversion for these happy youngsters, hikes are held frequently. Three barbecues, mentioned of in distances to suit the afflicted, are the scenes of much activity. All night hikes for the fittest are held and all are made to feel that, though handicapped, they are able to enjoy the routine of normal girls and boys.

Camp officials are anxious to have the public see for themselves what is being done for these unfortunates and it would be time well spent for anyone to make the trip to Merrywood-on-the-Rideau.

After signing the visitors' register, the group met Miss Gretta Ross (Reg. N., who is in charge of the nurses at the three camps. She also supervises camping generally. The candid fervor of Miss Ross, so characteristic of the whole staff, brought encouragement and fresh affirmation to apply our own ideals in practice.

She insisted that the visitors remain for supper. The meal, a sample of everyday fare, was a credit to the experienced cooks.

Rotarians in general, and the Napanee Rotary Club should be proud of the part they are able to take in helping these unfortunate children to overcome their infirmities and take their rightful place in society.

FOUL TIPS...

by "Red" Miller

Things have happened in this neck of the woods during the past week. Everything in the way of Intermediate "B" O.B.A. playoffs has been upset.

First thing we hear ..... Friday afternoon ..... the day of the scheduled game with Gananoque ..... that Gananoque had dropped out of the playoffs ..... because of the lack of players.

Apparently several of the ball club have left for Scotland to play hockey and another is abed with an injured back ..... Little wonder no team but what the fans, in general, would like to know ..... is why the players decided to go to Scotland ..... It surely was not a last minute decision.

Then, to cap it off ..... Trenton No. 6 Repair Depot ..... scheduled to play Picton ..... drop out. That leaves Napanee and the Prince Edward squads holding the bag with a hole in it.

The telephone started ringing and it wasn't too long before the right answers were found ..... a three-of-five series with the Athletics of Napanee and the McFarland A's the first game to be played Labor Day at Napanee ..... and it turned out to be a honey at that ..... 2 to 1 for Napanee in eleven long, hard fought innings that kept the crowd tense in spite of the raw wind and cool weather that prevailed throughout the day.

The second affair was staged back in Picton yesterday (Tuesday) and the series was tied up ..... the McFarlandites won a 4 to 3 decision in the last frame of the hectic struggle. Sensational fielding featured the game ..... The third game is scheduled for Napanee on Friday at 5:00 p.m.

During the afternoon game on Labor Day ..... Bill Durnan ..... are Canada's goalie ..... who was in town for the Lennox All-Star game ..... made a brief appearance at the Park, and took a bow. Durnan, who has retired from the N. H. L., has taken up the offer to coach the Ottawa Senators for the coming season. The six-time winner of the Vezina Trophy was accorded a civic dinner prior to the entertainment in the Armouries and, with members of the local Legion and Town Officials present, was given a key to the town by Mayor Vine.

Arrangements to have a CJBQ regular sportscast from the dinnerette with Jack Devine interviewing Durnan, failed to materialize, and the fans who could not be present were somewhat disappointed.

In the "C" section the Napanee Merchants beat the first tilt 11 to 9 to the Lennox "Bees" ..... composed of the bulk of the Strathcona Paper makers with the gaps filled by members of Newburgh and Odessa clubs ..... The only bad feature about this section of baseball is the deplorable lack of supporters ..... especially the town folk ..... Only a handful of the local faithful drove the four miles to see a good game ..... with a lot of sensational plays thrown in.

The second game in the series is to be play'd here ..... at Napanee on Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock ..... It's a holiday for most, the town and you can bet the rural folk will be on hand ..... why not make an effort?

The ultimate winner of this set-up will tangle with Moscow ..... who are the North Addington - Hastings champs ..... having defeated Hermon ..... near Bancroft ..... in two straight—9 to 4 and 5 to 0.

In the C.O.B.L. the Disney Leafs edged the Merrits, of Brockville, 3 to 2, to put the former one game up in the semi-finals.

SWITZERVILLE ANNIVERSARY

Murray is minister, will be held on September 17th, at 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The guest ministers will be the Rev. E. F. Swarze, a former minister. Special music will be rendered, and these services promise to be inspiring and interesting.

On September 17th those devout christians of pioneer days will be honored, and thanksgiving will not only be for the harvest, but to the Giver of all good and perfect gifts.

The Official Board and congregation invite former members and friends to come and share in the fellowship of this anniversary occasion.

ONT. LIBERAL CHOOSE LEADER NOVEMBER 9 - 10

Toronto. — The Ontario Liberal Association Friday issued an official call for election of delegates to the Toronto convention, November 9th and 10th, which will pick a provincial leader to succeed Farquar Oliver, who resigned a year ago.

To each of the 90 provincial riding associations went an invitation to name six delegates and six alternates, said Secretary W. G. Hale, who reported that arrangements for the convention are well advanced.

Mr. Hale said preparations are being made for about 1,000 voting delegates and some 500 or more guests. In addition to representatives of the riding associations, accredited delegates will include Liberal privy councillors and senators in Ontario; all Liberal candidates in Ontario in the last Federal and Provincial general elections; officers of the Ontario Liberal Association and its women's and young peoples' organizations, its management committee and committee chairmen.

Two candidates definitely in the field for the leadership are Campbell Calder, member of the legislature for London, and Walter C. Thomson, of Pickering, federal member for Ontario constituency. Others may enter the field before convention day.

Mr. Oliver, who represents Grey South in the legislature, was elected leader after the registration of Mitchell Hepburn, in 1945.

The convention is also the association's annual meeting and in addition to selecting a leader will also consider a new Liberal policy statement being prepared by a committee under the chairmanship of Orlin A. Campbell, former minister of public works.

Active in convention arrangements are Norman Mathews, of Toronto, association president, and William A. Bennett of Toronto, chairman of the general convention committee.

County Veterinarian Finds Mastitis Quite Prevalent

The Veterinarian of the Lennox and Addington County Health Unit has found considerable mastitis in his recent visits to dairy farms.

The control of Mastitis (Garget) is important for several reasons:

1 The legal requirement that milk be from clean, healthy cows.
2 The public demand that milk be clean and wholesome.
3 The transmission of disease.
4 The economic importance to the dairyman.
5 Relationship of Mastitis milk to dairy products.

The first two points will explain themselves. As for transmission of disease, one type of mastitis has been known to be transmitted from man to man, and another gastro intestinal infection in babies. The most common type, that caused by a germ known as Streptococcus agalactiae has been found to have no effect on humans. Some infection traced to milk is found to have a human source usually the dairyman, an example of this is sore throat.

The economic importance is very much greater. Cows in a herd one quarter infected with mastitis will show a net milk production 20 per cent below normal cause approximately $600.00 loss per year in a cow, not because it is spread out over a period but must maintain his level of supply to the dairy.

In acute cases and where the veterinarian has not been called immediately, it results in the death of the quarter. This is a case to the packers of what it is worth as beef, a fraction of its original cost.

After relationship of mastitis milk to the quality of dairy products is receiving closer and more attention today as the struggle for a better product and a greater market increases.

Evidence is mounting that mastitis milk affects the curd of the making of cheese and lowers the grading of it.

Mastitis milk will, of course, affect the quality of fluid milk and has caused trouble with homogenized milk.

Condenseries and creameries are realizing that the quality of their product depends upon the milk from which it is processed.

F. J. HARDEN,
Public Health Veterinarian.

oresees U.K. Power ade From ranium

Britain may be making electric ower from uranium within five ears.

But it will be on an experimental asis, Sir John Cockcroft head of ie atomic energy research establishent at Harwell said last week.

Sir John said it would take about ve years to make the first machines hich would burn nuclear fuel and convert it into electric power.

"During the following five years, operating experience may be gained and the first full-scale nuclear power prodiueers can be designed," he said.

"At least the same period will probably be required for the necessary chemical engineering and metallurgical developments required to produce economic processes.

"We are unlikely therefore, to embark on large-scale development of nuclear power before at least the following decade."

MR. MRS, S.C.S. McKIM QUIETLY OBSERVE 59TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. S.C.S. McKim quietly observed the 56th anniversary of their marriage at their home, Thomas Street, in Napanee, on Saturday, September 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. McKim, former resident of the Switzerville district, have lived in Napanee for over thirty years. They have four children living: Chas. McKim, Port Perry, Mrs. John Wilson, Switzerville; Mrs. Frank B. Mills of Napanee and Mrs. W. G. Gault, Welland. Another daughter, Mrs. Bruce Paul, died several years ago.

CHILD 'RESCUE' SERVICE OF EARLSCOURT HOME HELPED BY FOUNDATION

The Earlscourt Children's Home has been notified of a grant of $6000 from the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, it was announced today by Thomas G. Rogers, Chairman of the board of the home when a review of its work was prepared for the Foundation. Mr. Rogers since has become an honorary director and is succeeded as chairman by H. B. Housser.

The particular purpose of the grant, Mr. Rogers said, is to assist the board in keeping the supervising staff at the high professional level it has reached and which is necessary to its specialized type of work. The amount will be received in three annual sums of $2000 each.

"Emergency Service"

The work of Earlscourt Home can best be described as emergency service for children in distress. Children of every race and religion come under its care for short periods. The occasions are many and varried. They may be such things as sudden illness or death of one or both parents, desertion, crime estrangement of parents. There is a wide range of domestic disasters which make children their innocent victims.

The Home meets these emergency demands by removing the children to safe, pleasant surroundings, setting their bodies and minds at rest and preparing them for the future. After careful individual study they are quietly sent on their way again, back to restored homes or into new homes for adoption.

The name happens to coincide with a Toronto community in which some of the original work was done, but the scope of the operation has taken in all of Greater Toronto for many years.

Founded by Dr. Bryce

The organization was founded by Very Rev. Dr. Peter Bryce in 1913. He was its active head until 1948 and still takes a great interest in it. Around him he gathered a group of men and women who became devoted to the task. They have carried on since, many of them having only this one interest in common.

The Earlscourt Home is not a member of the Community Chest group, receives only small support outside the voluntary contributions brought in by its members. Its ladies' auxiliary is the Wimodausis Club (Wives - Mothers - Daughters-Sisters).

City headquarters is at 46 St. Clair Gardens in a building which was formerly a large residence. In summer months, the whole operation is transferred to Pigeon Lake, near Bobcaygeon, where the home has its own modern and well equipped summer camp, built entirely by members an dfriends of the organization.

Dr. Bryce and Thomas G. Rogers are honorarry members of the board. The present active officers are: H. B. Housser, chairman; Gordon Godsall, vice-chairman; John M. Rogers, treasurer; Harold Sellers, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Noel Binns, secretary; Miss Dorothy Moore, director of the home.

Grew "By Littles"

The story of the acquisition of the city house and its extensive furnishings and equipment, plus the fine camp at Pigeon Lake is one of getting to the present goal "by littles." Individuals or groups, most of them hard-headed businessmen, became infected with enthusiasm for the work and went out to do something about it.

From their efforts has developed a social service which is not only needed but unique. Care is taken not to infringe upon or to overlap the standard welfare services for children. The Earlscourt Home keeps always in mind that its job is to be concerned only with the "emergency stage."

By its effectiveness it has succeeded in many cases in keeping the trouble confined to that stage and thus lifted a considerable load from other agencies.

As a general rule operations are restricted to children from four to 12 years old and their stay in the Home is kept to a few months or such shorter period as may accomplish the goal.

Foundation's Purpose

From the offices of the Foundation it was announced:

"Early in our studies of the course we should follow, it was impressed upon us by Foundations with long experience such as the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York—that a good program includes small as well as large gifts.

"From their own records many of these foundations were kind enough to show us examples where smaller organizations and small grants to some larger organizations, had produced heart-warming results.

"The Earlscourt Children's Home is not a large organization. But it has been doing a fine, a needed an da sensible job without touching the public purse. Its members operate without publicity or credit, in the true spirit of charity.

"The Foundation's participation at this point is merely to 'tide them over' a temporary financial emergency, in full confidence that they then will assume the burden themselves and continue their excellent work."

In Loving Memory

YOUNG — In loving memory of a dear Mother and Father, Sarah Elizabeth Young and Robert James Young, who passed away: Mother, January 26th, 1936, Father, September 1, 1949.
It's a lonesome home without you both,
And sad the weary way.
For life is not the same to us,
Since you were called away.
Gone from us those smiling faces,
Those carefree, happy ways,
The hearts that won so many friends
In bygone happy days.
As when our work on earth is over,
And God calls us to go,
We hope to meet those smiling faces,
Beyond the other shore.
Sadly missed but ever remembered by son John and daughter-in-law, Hola, and grandsons, Elgin and Orville. 36a

World's Oldest Village Site

Probably you have never heard of Jarmo. It's a block square village site in northeastern Iraq that's little more than a mound of dirt.

University of Chicago scientists, who tested samples from the village on their atomic calendar, said:

"Jarmo is about 7,000 years old — the oldest known village site in the world."

An expedition from the University's Oriental Institute will go there this winter to search for evidence on "the first great economic revolution in human history."

Robert J. Braidwood, associate professor of old world pre-history and anthropology, said diggers expect to find evidence of town planning — the first row houses and party walls known to history.

A representative of the Iraq Government stumbled onto the site by accident in 1946. A village sheik who resided nearby used flint and steel to light a preferred cigarette. The flint, a finely worked product of the late stone age, came from the mound.

University of Chicago archeologists made a preliminary examination of the site three years ago, finding wheat and barley grains utensils for grinding them, flint tools and snail shells.

Chemical analysis of the amount of radioactive carbon 14 in the snail shells fixe dthe age of the site. All living things absorb radioactive carbon from the atmosphere in the organic and living process. This halts when the plant or creature dies and the carbon 14 then starts losing its radioactivity at a known rate.

DORLAND

Dorland, Sept. 2 — The dry spell was broken last Sunday evening by a heavy shower and a sharp electric storm, which disrupted hydro service for several hours. More rain fell during Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, besides night showers, so threshing was at a standstill; all week and stooked grain is becoming badly discolored. However, the moisture has helped pastures and plowing.

The annual service at the old church last Sunday drew the usual large crowd from far and near, some recently from as far west as Toronto, especially for this occasion. Among the ministers present were three former pastors of this circuit, Rev. H. B. Neal, of Lindsay; Rev. G. A. Puttenham, of Trenton, and Rev. H. G. Stiers, of Edelville. Rev. A. Denholm, of Bath; Rev. R. T. Richards, formerly of Napanee, and Mr. Duquette, of Northport, were also present, as well as Dr. Brewing, Rev. A. E. McCutcheon, of Picton, and Rev. R. A. Whittam, of Toronto, who took part in the service, besides several others not so well known in this district.

We were sorry to learn that Miss D. Hawley had the misfortune to slip in her room on Sunday evening and fractured her leg above the knee. Owing to her advanced age her condition is serious.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Foster and Mr. and Mrs. H. Rupert, of Napanee, attended the service on Sunday afternoon and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mazee.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Roblin, of Toronto, were week end guests of Miss L. Carr, and attended the Sunday service.

Miss Gertrude Bertram, of Forest Mills, returned to her home on Wednesday evening, after spending a few weeks with her niece, Mrs. M. Sanford, and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Pulver, of Victoria, visited their aunt, Mrs. W. J. Mazee, last Sunday, and were present at the afternoon service.

WEDDING BELLS

In the Church of the Good Shepherd, Mount Dennis, Norma Clara Elizabeth Beacom, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil I. Beacom, and granddaughter of Mrs. George Tyner, of Lime Lake, became the bride of Alan Frederick Edwards, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwards. Rev. J. C. Clough officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire style gown of white satin, with inset yoke and peplum of Chantilly lace, and full skirt, which swept into a train. A coquet of white tulle was worn with a shower of sweetheart roses and myrtle. Her attendants wore picture frocks of taffeta with matching floral headdresses. Mrs. Roger McLachlan, sister of the groom, was matron of honour and wore tangerine. Miss Carol Beacom, sister of the bride, wore jade green, and Miss Betty Bishop, wore orchid. Their shoes and gloves were the same color as their gowns. They carried bouquets of gladioli, filled with tiny purple flowers and sweetheart roses to match the gowns. William Edwards was his brother's groomsman. Roger McLachlan and Keith Beacom were ushers.

During the signing of the register Mr. Frederick Drape sang "Because." The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received wearing a dark grey lace gown edged with tulle over taffeta, navy blue picture hat, pink gloves and navy shoes, and wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. She was assisted by the mother of the groom, gowned in midnight blue crepe with trim of winter white, blue and white hat to match, and wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds. For a wedding trip to Lake Rosseau, Muskoka, the bride wore a smart navy blue tailored suit, with navy and white accessories and corsage of white rosebuds. Upon their return the couple will live in Weston, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS

ELLIOTT—DALE

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Dale, at Beaver Lake, made a beautiful setting for a garden wedding at noon on Saturday, August 26th, when their daughter, Sylvia Mae, was united in marriage to Alan Morton Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Elliott, of Napanee.

Rev. C. D. McLellan, B.A., B.D., minister of Grace United Church, Napanee, officiated at a double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a bridal gown of white nylon net over taffeta, with bands of taffeta trimming the bouffant skirt. She wore matching mitts of nylon net. Her long veil of tulle illusion fell from a tiara of white taffeta, caught at either side with orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible covered with a fruit of sweetheart roses from which fell white satin streamers knotted with rosebuds.

Two little flower girls, Dawn Dale, niece of the bride, and Mary Sharon Hart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Hart, were very sweet in long pink dresses of pink nylon over taffeta, carrying tiny nosegays of garden flowers.

The groom was assisted by his brother, David Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott received the guests with the bride and groom following the ceremony. Mrs. Dale wearing dusty rose embroidered crepe with navy accessories and contrasting corsage of gladioli petals, and Mrs. Elliott in ice-blue faille with matching accessories and pink corsage.

Following the wedding luncheon, the bride and groom left for a motor trip to Niagara Falls and Muskoka. They will reside in Kingston, where the groom is entering the Faculty of Medicine at Queen's University in September.

Conway - Sandhurst

Conway - Sandhurst, August 31 — Threshing, which was in full swing, has been halted by the very rainy spell. None has been done during the past week, and it is feared much harm may be done though the prolonged wet time.

Mr. and Mrs. White, their son, and his family, of Detroit, Michigan, will arrive on Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rose, Sandhurst. Mrs. White, sr., is Mr. Rowe's sister, whom he has not seen in a number of years.

Master Paul Jackson, of Kingston, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. H. M. Robinson, Sandhurst.

Mrs. John McKeown, of Bonarlaw, and Mr. Garland McKeown, of Ottawa, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McKeown, Sandhurst.

Mrs. J. an Pitchard, of Colwell and her sist r, Mrs. Jessie Funchard, of Napanee, sailed from Quebec on Friday for England. While there they will be the guests of their sister.

We are pleased to report that Evelyn Frank Hom has returned to his home, after his recent illness in the Kingston General Hospital. His many friends continue to wish him a safe and speedy recovery.

Quite a number from this district attended the annual service in the historic Hay Bay Church. A most interesting and inspiring sermon was delivered by Rev. Willard Brewing, Moderator of the United Church of Canada.

Miss Cora Morrow, of the Beechcliff School Staff, Toronto, returned to her home in Toronto, after spending some time with relatives and friends in this district.

Mrs. A. F. Young, of Sandhurst, spent Tuesday with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Young, Bath.

Mr. Chas. Ackerman, of Belleville, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Ackerman, Sandhurst.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Ralph Sills is recovering from her recent illness. She has returned to her home at Sandhurst.

Schools re-open on Tuesday. Surprisingly enough we hear of many who are glad and anxious to return. The High School pupils will ride as last year with Mr. V. Brooks to Gilbert's Corner, where they will meet the regular bus.

Gross revenue of the Canadian Post Office last year was almost $200,000,000, more than three times the 1934 figure.

For many years machinery, not including farm machinery has been the leading or among the first three principal commodities imported into Canada.

Rust on Rails Poses Problem

AFFECTS OPERATION OF BLOCK SIGNALS SYSTEM

A thick coating of rust on steel tracks posed a major safety problem last Thursday as the railways resumed operations after a nine-day strike.

The rust acted as insulation between engine wheels and the rails, preventing a flow of electric current which operated the signal lights along the lines.

The lights, grouped in a network known as the block system, were designed to keep a safe distance between trains running on the same track.

The first engine crews reporting for work in Toronto on Wednesday night had to run over the rusty rails leading into the city to wear away the rust, which had also interfered with the operation of electric switches.

A pilot train was dispatched to Deseronto to clear the rust on the main line to Montreal.

Crews taking the first scheduled trains out were ordered to take special precautions until the danger was eliminated. The orders applied wherever trains moved in Canada.

Track crews said a coating of rust appeared within hours after the strike started. Damp, rainy weather in parts of the country during the past week thickened the coat until it became an effective barrier to electricity.

FOSBREY WINS NEW TRIAL

Six Councils Favor Building New Collegiate

Two Others Still to Give Approval

At the regular meeting of the Napanee and District School Board, held on Tuesday evening, September 12th, at the Napanee Collegiate, the Chairman of the Board, P. U. Laidley, reported that six of the eight municipalities represented on the Napanee and District Collegiate Board had given tentative approval to the building of a new Collegiate in Napanee. Napanee Council is also favorable, but is consulting the Department of Municipal Affairs in Toronto, regarding some details of financing and will act on the matter later. Camden Council proposes to hold a general meeting of the taxpayers, to give the citizens of the township more details regarding the building of the school, before the Council takes definite action.

Mr. Laidley emphasized the desirability of proceeding as quickly as possible with the plan for building a new school, in view of the danger of building materials possibly being in short supply as a result of the threat of war.

Mr. McLeod suggested and moved a motion which was seconded, carried, that enough copies outlining the proposals regarding the renovation or remodelling of the present school or building a new school, be sent to all members of the municipal councils in the High School district.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

Mr. Proud, Principal of the Napanee Collegiate, presented a report which showed the enrolment of pupils from the various municipalities who attend the Napanee Collegiate, which is as follows: Adolphustown 17, Camden 47, Ernestown 90, Napanee 130, Newburgh 6, North Fredericksburgh 39, Richmond 70, South Fredericksburgh 25, Amherst Island 1, Tamworth 4, Hastings 8, Frontenac 1—total 459. The enrolment last year was 438, showing an increase of 21. There are 185 boys and 274 girls this year, 372 in the academic department and 87 in the commercial.

The greatest increase in class enrolment was noted in Grade XI (matriculation) which this year has 69 students, compared with 44 last year. Grade IX this year has 142 pupils, compared with 163 in 1949.

Mr. Froud said that this year geography is being introduced as a subject to be taught in Grade XI. Other years, it was taught only in Grades IX and X. Next year, it is proposed to teach geography also in Grade XII.

Mr. Froud said also that the alterations authorized by the Board in

Hear Complaints From Parents at Board Meeting

No Change Possible in Alloting Pupils To New Schools

At the meeting of the Napanee Public School Board, held at the Prince Charles School on Monday evening, September 11th, the Principal of the schools, Mr. Allan MacLean, gave a report of a survey he had made regarding the location of the homes of the pupils attending the Prince Charles and the Eastview Schools. The survey was prepared at the request of the Management Committee, Chairman G. L. Howitt, who had been receiving some complaints from parents regarding the necessity of their children attending Eastview School rather than the Prince Charles School, which they considered more accessible to their children.

Mr. E. L. Bedore, Mr. William Card and Mr. Hart appeared at the Board meeting and addressed the members regarding the problem. Their complaints were largely based on the danger to children crossing the C. N. R. tracks.

The dividing line for attendance at the two schools was, formerly, John Street, but Mr. MacLean said he had found it necessary to move the line one block west to Centre Street, because of the overcrowded condition in the first three grade

Retrial Granted After Review by Court of Appeal

Sentence of Death Sept. 21 Will Not be Carried Out

Appeal Based on Legal Technicality at Trial

Word was received in Napanee on Wednesday morning, September 13, that the Court of Appeal of Ontario had decided to grant James Fosbrey a new trial. Fosbrey had been sentenced at Napanee by the Chief Justice of Ontario, J. C. McRuer, on June 17th, 1950, to be hanged for the murder of his wife, Marie, on Saturday, November 28th, 1949, after the Jury had brought in a verdict of guilty.

The appeal was made on Fosbrey's behalf by his Counsel, R. E. Nourse, of Picton. W. B. Williston, Toronto, presented the arguments on Fosbrey's behalf at the meeting of the Judges of the Appeal Court. The appeal was based on whether or not the word "and" was used erroneously in place of "or" by Chief Justice McRuer in his reading to the Jury of the legal definition of insanity, at the trial held in Napanee.

The appeal was heard, last week, and the five Justices of the Ontario Court of Appeal: Mr. Justice Henderson, Mr. Justice Laidlaw, Mr. Justice Roach, Mr. Justice Hope and Mr. Justice Bowlby reserved their judgment, which was delivered on Tuesday. The result is that the sentence of death by hanging, scheduled for September 21st has been postponed, and Fosbrey will come up at the next sitting of the Supreme Court in Napanee, possibly in November of this year, for a new trial.

The Counsel for the defense, Mr. W. B. Williston, maintained that Chief Justice McRuer had erred in using "and" instead of "or" in his charge to the jury.

The long-established legal definition of insanity is that, in committing an illegal act such as murder, the accused "did not appreciate the nature and quality of his act in doing it OR did not appreciate that it was wrong."

Chief Justice McRuer, according to the trial testimony, substituted "and" for "or" on five occasions, defining insanity as a defense for murder as being when an accused person "did not appreciate the nature and quality of his act in doing it AND did not appreciate that it was wrong." In other instances the Chief Justice, in stating the same definition, properly used the conjunction "or."

Thus, the chief justice, according to official transcript of the trial, defined insanity as a defense for murder as being when an accused person "did not appreciate the nature and quality of his act in doing it and did not appreciate that it was wrong." On three other occasions in stating the same definition, he properly used the conjunction "or."

In presenting his brief Crown Counsel W. B. Common said there was no evidence of Fosbrey's mental derangement.

"In view of the complete absence of evidence of Fosbrey's insanity," said Mr. Common, "I feel that the unfortunate confusion of the conjunctions 'and' and 'or' in this case resulted in no miscarriage of justice. If 'and' had been used throughout the case, it would have had no effect whatsoever."

The five justices of the Ontario Court of Appeal who have reviewed the case made it clear they did not hold with the defense claims of insanity as a ground for upsetting the murder conviction.

1908 - 1909 CARS CREATE SENSATION WHILE IN TOWN

Two cars of ancient vintage, a 1908 Buick and a 1909 Ford, which visited Napanee on Monday of this week, attracted a great deal of attention when a stop was made on Dundas Street.

The cars were being driven by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, of Franklin, Mich., to Montreal, Lake Placid and Rochester, and are taking part in a Glidden tour. They were also to stop at Gananoque, this week, to enter the parade of old cars being staged at the St. Lawrence town.

Both cars are of the "fresh-air taxi" type and really are a curiosity when compared with the present day cars. They are in a remarkably good state of preservation and proceed at about 30 miles per hour. They both have the old type brass lamps, canvas tops and part wood bodies. The Buick was bought three years ago from a farmer near Franklin for $30.00. The present owner has been working on it for the past three years to put it back in running order.

ARM CUT OFF WHILE THRESHING

Everett Scrimshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scrimshaw, who reside on the Slash Road, near Napanee, met with a painful accident on Wednesday, September 6th, which resulted in the loss of his right arm.

The unfortunate victim of the accident was assisting in threshing on the farm of Wilbert Kimmett, when he slipped while pulling a belt on the thresher and his arm was caught in the machine.

After first aid was given, Mr. Scrimshaw was removed to Bellville General Hospital for further care.

Huge Crowd Attends Fair At Centreville

Many Improvements Noted in Grounds

Due to a large extent to the untiring efforts of the officers and the directors of the Addington Agricultural Society, the annual Fair held at Centreville, on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, was an unqualified success. Careful attention on the part of the officers was climaxed with exceptionally fine weather, with the result that the Fair on Wednesday was attended by a host of people, who enjoyed the many events and the large exhibits arranged for their entertainment. Cars were parked in all available spaces on the grounds and the large crowd wandered about wherever there was something of interest.

Further improvements to the Fair Grounds were also noted. The new fence around the track opposite the grandstand, gives added protection to spectators while races are being run.

The display in the Palace included an excellent exhibit of vegetables, fruits, flowers, grain, domestic science and fancy work.

Entries in the stock classes were numerous.

Entertainment features which were made provided by local competitors added a great deal to the interest of the fair.

U. E. L. CHAPTER I.O.D.E. MEETING

The U.E.L. Chapter, I.O.D.E., met at the Armouries on Tuesday evening, September 5th. Mrs. Albert Lewis regent, presided and Mrs. K. Powell, secretary, gave her report. This was followed by the Treasurer's report by Mrs. Turnbull.

A letter of thanks was read from the C.N.I.B. thanking the Chapter for the contribution of $300 received from the Tag Day.

The Chapter was reminded of a memorial to the late Mrs. Mary McCullough, who was 18 years secretary of the Provincial Chapter of Ontario, the memorial to be the endowment of a room in the Hdbrook Pavilion in Hamilton.

Mrs. Reddick, Post War Work Convener, reported a shipment to Headquarters of 4 quilts, 8 pr. socks, 1 man's sweater, women's and children's garments and infants' layettes. Some of the articles were given by the T. Eaton Co.

Plans were discussed for some money making events later in the season. Mrs. D. R. Hall reported food parcels sent to the adopted family in Swansea, Wales.

It was decided to send flowers to a sick member.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Levandoski Wins Batting Crown

Official statistics released last week end show that Joe Levandoski of Kingston Disney Leafs captured the Central Ontario Senior Baseball League batting championship.

The slugging second baseman wound up the season with a .437 mark to edge pitcher-outfielder Dean Rollock of the Smiths Falls Royals, who slipped during the last two weeks of the campaign to wind up with a .420 mark. First baseman Walter Gerow of the Napanee Athletics, who led the pack during the early part of the season, finished in third place with a .392 average.

Ont. Postmasters Ask Wage Increase

Resolutions asking for pay increases for postmasters and a change of the basis for determining superannuation payments were passed last week at the Ontario branch convention of the Canadian Postmasters' Association held at London.

About 200 delegates from all parts of Ontario passed resolutions requesting that a postmaster's superannuation be based on the last five years of service instead of the last ten as at present and that postmasters whose work necessitates their being at the office 44 hours a week be paid an adequate salary, plus rent allowance, regardless of their stamp sales.

REV. H. B. HERRINGTON VISITING BRITISH ISLES

Rev. H. B. Herrington, of Keene, formerly of Newburgh, left on September 8th, on the Empress of France for a ten-weeks' visit to the British Isles. Mr. Herrington is picking up a collection of Spharridae (fingernail clams) in Dublin, Eire, for the Museum of Zoology, University of Michigan.

Besides visiting friends in Staffordshire, England, he will spend three weeks studying the spharridæ at the British Museum in London.

A queue, so familiar these days, is not necessarily a file of persons or vehicles awaiting their turn; the word could be used in referring to a man's hair, for it is the name given to the long hair of Chinamen when worn in a single braid.

WHY NOT NOW ?

We have never been convinced that the removal of Government controls was a good thing for the times in which we live. With a post-war scarcity of materials, and everybody bidding against everybody else, it would not have taken a prophet to see that we were in for inflation. That is what happened. As soon as controls were removed prices soared. The cost of living has gone up by leaps and bounds, and wages, always a little way behind, have been chasing the cost of living ever since the war ended — the two chasing each other like a cat after its tail.

The cost of living has now reached an all-time high. The rearmament and defence program will accellerate certain businesses. There will be a consequent shortage of materials and an impetus to the inflationary movement.

The Government has said it does not plan any immediate imposition of controls. So we shall have to sit by and see prices climb. Nobody, from choice, would want to see controls imposed. But nobody—at least nobody in his right senses—wants to see a war. Sometimes we have to do things we do not want to do, and it looks as thought the imposition of controls is one of these. It is to be hoped the Government will not delay until the situation gets out of hand.

THE DEATH OF SMUTS

The last year of Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts' life was a trying one. He saw the principle for which he had given most of his life repudiated by his own people.

General Smuts was he preferred that title — was a living symbol of the British ideal. He was born of poor parents, in South Africa, and fought against Great Britain in the South African War. When the war was over, he became the Premier of South Africa under the British connection. He became as loyal to Great Britain as he had formerly been to the Dutch. Not only was he a great national leader, he was an international statesman. He was a soldier, but he was a statesman, above all. His addresses thrilled people in all the Democracies. He was an idealist, but not an impractical one. He sensed the dangers in the modern totalitarian state, and said so. He would go a long way in order to prevent war. He saw in some of the social and economic conditions that, if not corrected, would lead to war, and said so.

His great problem in South Africa was to keep a united country. There, the Blacks and the Whites are separated by a sharp line of distinction. Smuts managed to keep the nation united. His policies were for toleration and co-operation. But at the last election he was defeated by a party and a leader, who stood for racial segregation, and on a policy of racial superiority. The majority was a slim one, which was implemented a few weeks ago by several more elected representatives from a new area, recently incorporated into the Union of South Africa. So the 'apartheid' or racial segregation policy seems, now, to be supported by a comfortable majority. All of this must have been a great blow to General Smuts.

Besides being a soldier and a statesman, General Smuts was a great scholar. He was a graduate of Cambridge University, was an omnivorous reader, possessing one of the best private libraries to be had anywhere. He was a writer, too, of note. His style was of the finest and his command of the English language, complete and effective. His phrases and comments were Churchillian, at times.

South Africa produced a great man in Smuts. His policies, now unhappily repudiated by his own people, will, in time, prevail because they are fundamentally sound.

"IGNORANCE IN ACTION"

Goethe once said: "There is nothing so terrible as ignorance in action." That is a warning that has special bearing on the present day situation. Following the war an effort was put forth to re-educate German youth—it has had rather indifferent success In Korea, now the centre of hostilities, there was little concerted effort to re-educate the people in the basic principles of Democracy. Without a knowledge of what it is we are striving for, the guns and aeroplanes will never reach maximum objectives.

Dwight D. Eisenhower said to the Columbia University students: "You can be reassured about your efforts to gain a knowledge of the world, for it is lack of that knowledge which is behind the world's troubles, in the present day." He said wisely, it is the things of the mind, things of the spirit, that will finally determine the way of life on this planet. "We, in the Democracies, are dead sure that our way of life is superior to any other. We are sure that a government by the people, of the people and for the people, is the final basis for a lasting, just and happy peace. We must tell the world that !

It is true that the Western Democracies have carried on some education of the people who are potential enemies, through the radio But, compared with what the U.S.S.R. has done, ours has been small potatoes. It is not going to be easy for us, now, when we are all bent on rearmament, to get much support for an intensive and extensive programme of education for those behind the iron curtain — but it must be done.

Besides the radio, we should spur up plans to train capable leaders from Germany, Korea and other countries, in our colleges. Some attempt has been made along this line But we ought to bring in hundreds, if not thousands of these young people, and let them go back to help others see the light. It will cost a lot of money, but not so much as a couple of aeroplanes carries, or jet planes

THE INSTALMENT PLAN

We rather suspect that the new taxes which the Government has imposed are in the nature of the first instalment. The revenue acquired therefrom, the public is informed, will see the Government through the first stage of the rearmament policy.

The increases were not as severe as the experts had predicted they would be. Some of them are serious enough, such as those on household appliances. But there can be no complaint about the increased levies against luxuries. It is a safe and popular plan to tax those goods that people can get along without. The basic necessities of life were not touched, at least not directly, by the new taxes. If people can afford luxuries and are determined to have them, then they should be willing to pay a larger tax, than those who cannot afford the luxuries. Of course, a lot of people would not consider some of the goods that were taxed, as luxuries; it all depends on the point of view.

When the Parliament meets again, it may not be so kindly disposed to the rank and file. It may just be that heavier taxes will have to be imposed. If the international situation worsens, there will be no alternative. In the meantime, we can rejoice in that the new levies were not as bad as we had expected.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, September 17

JAMES, LEADER
IN THE JERUSALEM CHURCH

Lesson Text:
Acts 15: 13-20; Galatians 2: 9-12

The Church has always had to face difficulties. It has from the very beginning, had to face enemies which would have crushed her. From the very beginning, too, there have been differences within the church which would have wrecked any other institution. There have been serious divisions, which have divided the church into different churches. But the Church of God has gone on.

Fortunately, to-day, the trend is in the opposite direction. While the division of the Christian Church into fragments is still one of the blackest blots of organized Christianity, yet unions have taken place, and great councils of churches have been set up where Christian communions are learning to think together, to work together and act together.

In the early Church, differences soon made their appearance. In the Providence of God, great leaders emerged, who gave sane tand wise leadership at a critical time.

In the lesson this week, two such leaders are conspicuous in their treatment of a serious problem; James and Paul. James was the brother of Jesus; he was a quiet sort of inconspicuous man. During the life of Jesus, he was hardly noticed at all. But he became a steady and valued follower after the death of Jesus.

The problem that both James and Paul faced was one on which opinion was divided, and on which there was much bitterness among the leaders of the two points of view. The question was this: should Gentiles be accepted as church members without first going through the Jewish ceremonial practices. The question was an important one. Even those who discussed it and finally made a decision, might not have known the full significance of their decision.

A meeting was held and the matter was debated. James got up and made a happy suggestion in the form of a compromise. He said that the Church should accept Gentiles, but that they should be written to and told that, as members of the church there were some things they could not do; there were certain pagan practices they must stop. Immoral conduct was out. James was a practical man; he went right to the point.

The next section shows how bitter this situation had become. Peter and Paul clashed over it. Paul, before the council, reviews his part in the discussion. It had been agreed as a compromise, he says, that he should be allowed to reach to the Gentiles and make as many converts as possible. John and Peter should continue to confine themselves to the Jews. James was to stay in Jerusalem and keep the organization going .

Paul says he publicly denounced Peter because he was inconsistent, he had eaten with Gentiles, and then after some men who said they had come from James visited him, he refused to have anything to do with them. Apparently Peter was afraid if he fell out with the conservative element, he would lose out, so he sided with them. Well, the upshot of the whole matter was that the larger view prevailed. The Church finally decided that the Gospel of Christ was for all men, and not for a select group. It was a wise decision and from then on the universal aspect of the gospel was accepted, and the church went on its way conquering and to conquer. There are still vast areas of life to be brought under control of our Lord and Master, and that is a job for this generation, and for every generation until it be accomplished.

the school building had been carried out during the summer and the school was in good condition when the term opened.

Authority was given the Principal to declare a half-holiday next Tuesday afternoon, the second day of the Napanee Fair and also on the school Field Day, the date of which is to be arranged by the Principal.

At Mr. Proud's request, the purchase was authorized of extra chairs and extra desks to relieve the lack of seating capacity in some of the classrooms. Mr Proud stated that, this year, at least 300 pupils wish to be served hot soup and cocoa at noon during the winter months and the total cost to the Board, including some new equipment for preparation and serving, would be at least $2,000.

After some discussion the Board decided to make a charge of 5 cents per day per pupil for hot soup and cocoa, for a trial period until Christmas.

Mr. R. E. Fluke, Principal of the Newburgh High School, reported the attendance to be 90 this year. 59 are transported to the school by bus from outside municipalities, and 20 live in Newburgh; 11 others provide their own transportation to the school. He was authorized to spend $150 for necessary equipment for books, maps, office supplies and athletic activities.

COUNTY HEALTH UNIT REPORT FOR AUGUST

During the month of August a marked improvement occurred in the quality of raw milk samples taken from dairy producers. Only two grade 4's were noted; and most were grade 1. This shows that greater care is being exercised in milk production, both in regard to the handling of the cows, the milk and the cooling.

Further tests of bulking beaches were carried out during the month, and all proved satisfactory. The County is still free from polio. In August 1949, five cases were reported with one death. It is hoped that the record for 1950 will remain clear.

Some canning factories were visited in the company of the district Sanitary Engineer. Improved waste disposal was recommended. All canneries will be visited in September.

REPORT OF SANITARY INSPECTOR

It was very gratifying to find that milk coming into the dairies, after sampling by the Veterinarian, was found to be of good quality. It is the hope of the Sanitary Inspector, that the producers will give the new Veterinarian the same co-operation as was given him.

At this time I would like to draw to the attention of landlords and home owners that October 1st is the deadline for connecting and installation of toilets and washbasins, where sewers are available.

During the early part of August the Sanitary Inspector was on holidays, therefore the summary of inspections are not as large as previous months.

REPORT OF PUBLIC HEALTH VETERINARIAN

On August 1st reported to Dr. Jeffs to take up duties as part time Public Health Veterinarian with the Lennox and Addington County Health Unit, the services to be shared with this Unit and that of the Prince Edward County Health Unit.

It was decided by Dr. Jeffs and Dr. Wells that alternate months be spent with each Unit and that the Veterinarian would be on call in case of emergency. Milk, meat and disease control will comprise the major part of the work.

As no definite program has yet been drafted, it was decided the proper place to start was with the whole milk producers. Visits were made to the 34 producers shipping milk to dairies in the County — the conditions surrounding production and handling of milk noted. Where possible suggestions were made. Well over half of the milk producers in question lacked adequate methods of cooling their milk and about one third were without a milk house for storage of milk utensils and for cleaning of the utensils. General sanitation was only fair, but the time of year at which the visits were made must be considered. It is hoped that with the cool weather approaching more time can be spent in attending to these factors.

The results of milk tests during the month taken as the milk entered the dairy were on the whole good, and these will be forwarded to the producers as soon as possible. Further tests will be made to see that the standard is maintained. Return visits are being made to those producers with low grades.

The Ring Test to determine the incidence of Bang's Disease (Contagious abortion) among dairy herds will be introduced as a routine procedure. This test is performed on the milk, and is representative the herd from which it is tested can be considered free from the disease. If the results are positive Bang's disease is indicated within the herd and can be pinned down to the individual cow.

Pasteurization will kill the organism causing the disease in the milk and the several cases that have been reported in the district are known to have been caused by drinking raw milk, or close contact with infected animals.

Work on mastitis control has begun, and it is intended this will be carried into milk being produced for cheese factories, condenseries and creameries. This work will be done in co-operation with the Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph.

classrooms in the Prince Charles School. The result is that some children who normally would have gone to Prince Charles School have to now attend Eastview School. The grade one classroom in the Eastview School has 19 pupils, whereas the Prince Charles first grade has 36 pupils. In fairness to the teachers, Mr. MacLean said he could not add more pupils to the Prince Charles class.

The statement was made by one member of the delegation that non-resident pupils might contribute to the congestion in Prince Charles School, but he was informed that only one pupil from out of town was in the third grade.

The Board assured the delegation members that every attempt was being made to satisfy parents, but at present there appeared to be no way to overcome the trouble.

Mr. MacLean, in the course of his remarks, said that he believed there are no finer public schools in Ontario than the two in Napanee. Certainly he said, the Eastview Public School, was the finest two-room school he had seen.

A letter was received from The Gibbard Furniture Shops, advising the Board that the company had decided to take up the option for the purchase of the old East Ward School property at a price of $700. The company has rented the building for a month at $30 rental. The Property Committee was empowered to arrange for the transfer of the deed of the property to The Gibbard Furniture Shops.

An offer was received from A. E. Holmes to purchase one lot at the north end of the West Ward School property bearing his own property at a price of $750 or for two lots, one facing Donald and the other facing Richard Street for $1500. It was understood Mr. Holmes intends erecting a house on the lots, if the purchase is arranged. The matter was left in the hands of the Property Committee to interview Mr. Holmes, and report.

An offer was made by the Desoronto Fire Department to purchase one of the bells in the old schools for use in the Fire Hall tower in Desoronto. The Property Committee was empowered to sell the bell in the West Ward School.

Mr. MacLean reported the enrolment in the two public schools at school opening last week, was 545.

Chief of Police Baker was appointed Truant Officer for the Public Schools.

MERCHANTS EVEN SERIES WITH LENNOX 'BEES'

The Napanee Merchants evened the Intermediate C series with the Lennox "Bees" when they took the latter 9 to 3 in the second game of the local O.B.A. playdowns at Napanee, on Wednesday afternoon. The Bees won the first tilt at Strathcona, 11 to 9.

The Napanee squad held the visitors secreless until the sixth frame when seven men faced Brady, who rose to the occasion and stopped the barrage, allowing only one run to score. Another counter was registered in the eighth and one in the ninth to total the three count.

For the winners, a one-run lead was established in the third and the Merchants poured it on again in the fifth and eighth, three coming in the former and five runs scored in the eighth.

Brady handcuffed the "Bees" throughout the game, striking out five, passing six, and allowing five hits. Herb Pratt, on the slab for the losers, allowed nine safeties, struck out three and walked four.

Huffman and Angest led the Merchants with a pair of hits apiece. Marshall topped the Papermakers with three for five trips. Pringle and Bill Conway getting the balance, a stugle each.

Errors paved the way for the Napanee squad, ten being registered against the losers, and the Merchants being guilty of three miscues.

LADIES' GOLF CLUB PRIZE WINNERS

As the end of the Golf season approaches, competition for the cups awarded in the Ladies' Section has aroused keen interest. Mrs. Pat Culhane has emerged as the winner of the Jamieson Trophy. This cup requires 18 holes of medal play and Mrs. Culhane defeated Mrs. Eileen Metcalfe in the final round by the very close margin of one stroke.

The Wilson Trophy, awarded to the high handicap players, was won by Mrs. Evelyn Mandolis who defeated Mrs. Bea Lasher in nine holes of match play.

Four players have reached the semi-final round for the Mordon Trophy. Mrs. Hazel Hunter will play Mrs. Letitia Grange and Mrs. Pat Culhane meets Mrs. Eileen Metcalfe for eighteen holes of match play. In the regular competitions Mrs. Metcalfe won the Silver Spoon two weeks ago, and last week Mrs. Dot. Waddington had low score on both Tuesday and Friday to win a golf ball and a spoon.

FOUL TIPS...

by "Red" Miller

In last week's issue we commented on the results caused by Gananoque dropping out of the OBA Play-Downs .... and along with that .... the Trenton Flyers folding their wings. The former team have dropped out alright .... but not the latter.

The locals found the information .... which was advanced from some scurce or another .... that the 6RD team had decided not to enter "B" competition .... was far from right and that they were definitely in there.

Then the big blow came..... Picton was out of "B" ball .... after the teams had played three sparkling exhibitions .... a 2 to 1 for Napanee .... a 4 to 3 for Picton .... and a ball tie in the third tilt.

The fourth fixture was slated for Monday at Picton and .... according to the "McCarthy" of Napanee .... the OBA Executive had ruled that the Prince Edward team had on its roster .... players who had failed to get their transfers .... as well as a couple who were ineligible to play in that class of ball due to their place of residence .... and the locals played it safe .... they advised the Picton team by telegram .... sent at 1.06 (noon) that the Napanee squad would not be on hand and to call the game off. Apparently the wire went by Montreal because the McFarlandites say they did not get the message until 4.30 .... or about that time .... with the game called for 5 p.m. From all accounts .... the water around the "Island" was boiling .... especially over the fact that a supposedly $250.00 gate had to be refunded .... and by the grapevine .... we heard that a "deputation" from Prince Edward were callers in this town later Monday night to find out who was responsible for having the OBA "investigate" the team's status. We can assure the Bay Boys that no one from this neck-of-the-woods put the finger on them .... In fact a large number of the teams entered in the Ontario Play-offs are guilty of some minor infringement of the rules and regulations .... but that is the Executive's headache .... not ours. Also we might add .... for the information of one or two more teams in Eastern Ontario .... that the axe will fall before long when the C.O.B.L. play-offs are through and the teams enter the Ontario set-up.

To cap the rumors on the schmozzle .... we hear that a couple of the 'big wigs' of baseball are to be suspended by the OBA for failure to cooperate in the interests of the game.

At any rate .... a series is on .... with Trenton 6RD .... the locals are supposed to go to the airport tonight (Wednesday) with the Flyers back here Thursday at 5 p.m.

Another choice morsel we picked up while getting the ears lowered in the barber shop was that "a Mr Lewandoski" .... late of the Disney Leafs (Kingston) .... runners up in the C.O.B.L. play-offs .... appeared at Smiths Falls .... wearing a "Brockville" uniform. The "noise" from the Smiths Falls bleachers must have been terrific.

Smiths Falls should holler .... re the former Disney Leaf player .... they are waiting to see if McFarland Athletics of Picton are through or not .. so they can grab the colored lad "Dean" for their roster.

Tidbit: A player enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in Winnipeg .... was transferred to Trenton .... gets his meals (when off duty) at Toronto .... his home is listed as Newburgh .... and he plays ball for the Strathcona Bees .... by special permission from the moguls .... They sure get around under the students and servicemen rule.

In the play-offs between the local Merchants and the Lennox Bees in the "C" division .... the Merchants are out of the running. On the three-game showing .... the "Bees" had the edge and deserved the win. The Papermakers now take on Moscow .... North Addington - Hastings winners in the next round. In the first tilt the Bees edged the Moscowites 8 to 6 and in the second stanza the score was 3 to 1 in the second innings when a protest was lodged re an umpire's ruling on a hidden ball trick that put a man out at first after the ball had been retrieved. The game was finally won by the Bees 11 to 4 for Strathcona and the game being ordered replayed from the second innings .... at Strathcona tonight (Wednesday).

An impressive, Memorial Service was held at Riverside Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, conducted by the officers and members of Queen, of Sheba Rebekah Lodge, No. 254. There was a large attendance of members. Lieut., P. E. Gardner, Officer in Charge of the local Corps of The Salvation Army was present and with his accordion led in the service of song.

The speaker was Rev. C. D. McLellan of Grace United Church, who gave an interesting address in keeping with the memorial service.

At the conclusion of the service flowers were placed on the individual graves in both Riverside and Riverview Cemeteries and also in the Deseronto Cemetery, preceding the memorial service. Flowers were placed on the graves by the members of Napanee Lodge No. 86 and Argyll Lodge No. 212, I.O.O.F.

On Monday night, the opening meeting of Queen of Sheba Rebekah Lodge was held with the noblegrand, Mrs. Clarence Reid, presiding. Arrangements were made for a banquet in honor of the Grandmaster of Ontario, which will be held in the rooms of Napanee Lodge No. 86 on Thursday night, October 5th.

MR. AND MRS. W. B. SILLS CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington B. Sills quietly observed their 48th wedding anniversary at their home on Adelphi Street on Sunday, September 10. They received numerous cards and letters as well as gifts. Assisting them to celebrate the day were their daughter, Mrs. Fred Trotter and Mr. Trotter, of Peterborough, who were observing their ninth wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Winter, Richmond, the latter a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sills.

The wedding was conducted September 10th, 1902, by the late Rev. G. S. White. The attendants at the wedding were the late F. H. Carson and the late Mrs. W. W. Treleaven, formerly Miss Maud Vine.

Mr. and Mrs. Sills have always resided in Napanee and have been prominent members of Grace United Church for a long period of years. The former is a member of the official board and the latter is a member of the various women's organizations. Mr. Sills is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sills, for a long period of years successful farmers in Richmond Township. Mr. Sills has one brother, Aylsworth Sills, in Toronto, another brother, Garfield Sills passed away a number of years ago. He has also one sister, Mrs. William Ballance, of Strathcona. Mrs. Sills is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Vine. She has three brothers living, Archie and George Vine of Winnipeg and John of Watertown, and two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Miller of Napanee and Miss Laura Vine, Reg. N. of New York City. A sister, Mrs. W. W. Treleaven, died several years ago.

Mr. Sills has been a member of Argyll Lodge No. 212, I.O.O.F., for the past 55 years and a few years ago was presented with the jewel of his office. He has filled several offices in the lodge and many years ago was the noble-grand. Mr. and Mrs. Sills are also members of Queen of Sheba Rebekah Lodge No. 254, of which Mrs. Sills is a charter member.

Their many friends extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Sills who are in fairly good health. They spent the past week in Peterborough with their daughter, Mrs. Fred Trotter and Mr. Trotter.

TYENDINAGA EAST W. I.

The Tyendinaga East Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Jack McRae, Lonsdale, on September 8th, 1950, with an attendance of twenty-one members and six visitors. The president was in the chair and the meeting opened in the usual way. The roll call was answered by current events. It was decided that five dollars would be sent to Canadian Child Health Association. Mrs. G. Provins gave a splendid paper on the motto and said that progress came from not being satisfied with precedent. We cannot stand still, we must either progress or decay. Our past mistakes can be used as stepping stones to our advantage.

Mrs. Harry Sills, district president, was the guest of honour and brought us with her Mrs. Roy Sills. Mrs. Sills spoke on Publicity and stressed that the Institute always receives publicity and it is either good or bad. Each member makes it either one or the other. Remember those who are sick and when you go to a meeting, be an active member, for it is when we take part that we receive the most enjoyment. Mrs. Sills also gave a very interesting demonstration on finishing an edge on needle work. A very hearty vote of thanks was given to show the appreciation of everyone for Mrs. Sills' talk and demonstration.

Mrs. W. Bell was in charge of the programme, which was on Historical Research and Current Events. Mrs. Bell asked four ladies to present four letters written by the Provincial President, Mrs. Futcher, on her trip to Copenhagen: Leaving Montreal, Mrs. L. Gaylord; First Day on Board, Mrs. B. Kimmerley; Abroad With Me, Mrs. Roy Stafford; On Board the Empress of France, Mrs. G. Provins. These letters were so interesting, it was almost like going on a trip.

Mrs. Bell read the account from The Napanee Beaver of the anniversary held at the U. E. L. Church at Hay Bay. A contest on geography was won by Mrs. R. Harvey and Mrs. C. Akey.

A vote of thanks was expressed to the district president, to the hostesses Mrs. Jack McRae and Mrs. Claude McRae and to all who had helped to make a very pleasant and instructive meeting.

The September meeting of Trinity W. A., Tamworth, was held at the home of Mrs. Nelson Marlin. Mrs. Milligan had charge of the devotional. Psalm 100 was read and the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. The president welcomed Mrs. Kemp, one of Tamworth's new high school teachers to the meeting. After the minutes were read and adopted, the roll call was answered by 15 members, and five visitors were present. The treasurer gave a report of the money on hand and reported paying Tamworth's share on work done in the parsonage. Cards were acknowledged by Mrs. L. McLaughlin, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin and Mrs. A. Denham. A letter was read from the corresponding secretary of the W. M. S. thanking the W. A for the donation given them at their last meeting. It was decided to have a canvas instead of holding a fowl supper.

The programme was in charge of Mrs. J. E. Huffman. A reading was given by Mrs. S. Gilmore, followed by a reading by Mrs W. G. Richmond and a contest was won by Mrs. S. Gilmore. Thanks were extended to Mrs. Marlin for the use of her home. Mrs. Richmond gave out books of cards to each member to sell. The meeting closed with the Mispah benediction, after which a social time was enjoyed by all.

Recruitment of Farm Workers for Harvest Excursions

The annual recruitment of farm workers for harvesting in the West is now under way as announced last week by Hon. Milton Gregg, Minister of Labour.

Although the Dominion-Provincial movement began a week ago, the majority of the men will be leaving late this month, the Minister stated.

The method of recruitment was one that had proved successful over a period of several years. Return reply postcards were mailed to all farmers in selected counties where it was known that workers could be spared from agricultural work. Mutual agreement was reached as to the area of postcard distribution, by provincial and federal officials, explained Mr. Gregg.

These postcards were addressed as follows:

"To Farmers and Workers in Agriculture:

Due to a shortage of farm workers in the Prairie Provinces, a number of selected farm workers from Eastern Canada, who set-tlers can be spared in their home districts will again this year, be transferred temporarily to Western Canada, under special arrangements worked out between the railways and the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labour Program. Transportation will be provided at a low rate of $15 to the West, while a charge of $11.50 will be made for the return. The westward journey will begin about the middle of August. If interested, please fill in the attached card and take or mail it to your nearest Employment Office. Postage is required.

(Signed) A. MacNAMARA,
Deputy Minister of Labour"

Interested applicants fill out particulars about themselves on the detachable portion of the card and mail to the nearest National Employment Office.

Earlier this summer mail was received from Western Canada and the Maritimes by some in the Bay area, each asking for workers to go to Ontario.

WEDDING BELLS

TUCKER - DUDGEON

Baskets of gladioli and ferns formed the setting for a pretty midsummer wedding at three o'clock, Saturday, August 26th, in Selby United Church, when Rev. H. S. Cooke united in marriage Nina Louise Dudgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ross Dudgeon of Selby, to James Elwood Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Tucker, of Marysville.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Geo. Robinson and Mr. Garnet Brooks, cousin of the bride, sang 'The Lord's Prayer' and 'O Perfect Love' during the ceremony and 'Because' during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of white bridal satin, fashioned with slim bodice and yoke of nylon net edged with a Chantilly lace Bertha collar. A long row of self-covered buttons extended down the back to the waistline with long sleeves coming to points over the hands. The very full skirt was also tiered with rows of Chantilly lace ending in points down the long train. She wore a floor-length satin embroidered tulle illusion veil held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses centred with loops of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Roy N. Jordan of Brantford, sister of the bride, was maid of honour and Miss Ruth Tucker, sister of the groom and Miss Eleanor Sladden, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids wearing similar gowns of pink and blue sparkle sheer with low necklines and very full skirts, with matching mitts and braided halos. They carried nosegays of, white roses with pink and blue carnations.

The flower girl, Carol Dudgeon, cousin of the bride, was attired in pink crangdy, with matching mitts and flower headdress. She carried a small nosegay of pink roses with ribbon streamers.

The best man was Glen Tucker, brother of the groom and the ushers were Mr. George Blatherwick and Mr. Albert Milligan.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, where the bride's mother received in a blue dress, with grey accessories and a corsage of pink roses, assisted by the groom's mother, wearing navy and crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered cake, decorated with summer flowers.

For travelling to Detroit and the Northern States the bride wore a grey suit with wine accessories and a corsage of deep red carnations.

GRAHAM — BENN

St. Mary Magdalene's Church, in Napanee, was the scene of a late summer wedding on Tuesday, August 29th, at 11:00 a.m., when Rev. W. J. Robinson united in marriage Marilyn Esther, younger daughter of Mrs. M. Benn, and the late Mr. M. Benn, of Napanee, and Robert Mc-Neil only son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Graham of Deseronto.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Ward Benn, wore a floor length gown of white Nylon net. She wore a fingertip veil and carried American Beauty Roses. Miss Charlyn Benn of Toronto, was bridesmaid, wearing pink nylon and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Bert McCutcheon, cousin of the groom, was best man.

The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. W. K. Huston, organist of St. Mary Magdalene's Church.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was served to about thirty guests at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Irene Sherman. Mrs. J. Hattie Pontard tea and Mrs. W. Benn, Mrs. I. Ford and Miss V. Benn assisted in the serving. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. W. J. Robinson.

Stilts are those long walking sticks with foot rests that we generally consider playthings for boys, but in Europe, particularly in Belgium and France, the peasants regularly use stilts when the lands are flooded. They strap them to their feet very securely, and also use a long pole to help them keep their balance in walking. Workers in the hop gardens of Kent also use stilts to help them

"It means a lot to me!"

"See this model? It was made before I was born, and when Arvida was just farmland. Yet I can show you on it just where our house is, and the streets along which I come to work, or go to the stores, or to church, or to play tennis or ski. And I can show you the aluminum smelter where my father works, and the powerhouse where my boyfriend works — and the house in which we're going to live when we're married.

"It's all here. This is a miniature of an up-to-date city, a city that has everything — and was born full-size. That's why I call it, 'A piece of future Canada in a glass case'.

"You see, an engineer's dream has added a city to Canada — a place where 12,000 people like me live and work and enjoy ourselves. My neighbours who have lived in other places tell me this is the nicest city in Canada. Certainly I wouldn't want to live anywhere else."

"The smelter at Arvida, the powerhouses at Shipshaw close by, the wharves at Port Alfred a few miles away — these are only parts of what Alcan has planned and built in Canada during the last fifty years. The Company is still planning, still building. Its growth makes Canada a bigger, better, richer place in which to live and work — for every aluminum ingot produced in Canada makes Canada that much better off.

200 Million Dollar Diamond?

If a diamond as large as a baseball were ever found, it would probably be worth about 200 million dollars. But it would benefit only the person who owned it.

The amount of money which the life insurance companies in Canada invest each year on behalf of their policyholders is large enough to buy such a diamond! But this money is invested in ways which benefit every Canadian.

It is put to work to help build new schools, power plants, highways, industrial plants, homes and many other vitally important constructions. In all these ways it promotes progress and helps create jobs in communities throughout the nation.

This life insurance works for everyone in two ways. It helps raise living standards. And it provides security by building income for old age and protection for families. Today nearly 5 million Canadians are creating this security for themselves and their families the life insurance way.

THE MIXING BOWL

BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! In the old days, while tomatoes were still a delight among the hollyhocks and nasturtiums, ketchup was made of young English walnuts. About the middle of the 19th century, walnut ketchup had been almost completely supplanted by the spicy, pungent tomato ketchup. Now, the Americans have changed the spelling to catsup—same thing.

FAVOURITE CATSUP

One Peck (8 qts.) tomatoes, cut eight medium-sized onions; one and one half bay leaves; two long red peppers.

Skin and cut tomatoes into small pieces; dice onions; remove seeds from peppers and sliver. Boil these ingredients until soft, then strain and add three-quarters cup of brown sugar and a bag of spices containing one tablespoon whole allspice one tablespoon whole cloves, one tablespoon whole mace, one tablespoon of celery seed, one tablespoon peppercorns and two inches stick cinnamon. Boil all ingredients quickly, stirring constantly until reduced to half the quantity. Add two cups vinegar and about one tablespoon salt. Boil another 10 minutes, then bottle in sterilized containers. Seal with sealing wax.

CURRY SAUCE PICKLE

Twelve large green cucumbers, six large onions, three sweet red peppers, one-quarter cup of salt.

Twelve large tomatoes, four tablespoons curry powder, two teaspoons celery seed, two tablespoons brown sugar, two cups of vinegar.

Peel and chop fine the cucumbers, onions and peppers. Prinkle with salt and let stand one hour. Peel and slice twelve tomatoes and combine with salted vegetables. Add spices and vinegar and boil 30 minutes. Pour into pickle bottles and seal with wax.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

Twelve (4-inch) cucumbers, two seeded green peppers, eight peeled small onions, half-cup of salt.

Slice cucumbers, peppers and onions very thin. Place in layers in crock with ice cubes and sprinkle with half-cup salt. Cover with a weighted lid and leave three hours, then drain.

Make a syrup of:

5 cups vinegar
5 cups sugar
1½ teaspoons turmeric
½ teaspoon ground cloves
2 teaspoons mustard seed
1 teaspoon celery seed

Add drained vegetables and heat slowly without stirring to thoroughly scald them. Four pickles into jars and seal.

TAKE A TIP

To avoid spoilage of canned tomatoes —

1 Process all canned tomatoes and tomato juice in a boiling water bath. Water should be deep enough to cover jars, one inch.
2 Always wash tomatoes thoroughly in cold water before to scald them. A lump of soil may contain bacteria which will contaminate the whole batch in the peeling process.
3 Never try to salvage the firm part of a tomato that is partially blighted or spoiled. It is more thrifty to waste one tomato than to lose a whole batch.
4 Never use powdered spices if you can get bright clean whole spices. The whole spices in measured quantities will prevent brownness.
5 A double thickness of cheesecloth makes a good bag for straining catsup or tomato juice.
6 Presh dill should be thoroughly washed before addition to cucumber. The flower head may be substituted for tender stalks and leaves if two heads intead of 6-inch stalk is used.
7 About four strips of red hot pepper or one tablespoon of horseradish makes a difference to a bottle of dill pickles.

THE SUGGESTION BOX

MRS. C. H. SAYS — (1) A quick way to remove corn husks is to place the ear on cutting board, and slice off about half-inch of stem end and also tassel end. Husks and silk will then strip off easily. (2) To cut corn from cob readily, drive a nail through a small board and place board on waxed paper. Stick stem end of cob on protruding point of nail. Hold knife at 45 degree angle and cut straight down the cob.

MRS. J. LESSAYS — To preserve the colour of peaches and pears, drop them immediately into brine as soon as peeled. Use one tablespoon salt to one gallon of cold water. Change the water after peeling two dozen if you are canning a quantity.

MRS. P. N. SAYS — (1) To prepare green rind from watermelon, peel very thin and also trim off all the red flesh before the honey coloured part is soaked in brine for the watermelon pickle. (2) Use two tablespoons alum for a good sized melon when rind is being cooked, to keep it firm.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION MEETINGS

The August meeting of Bethany Ladies' Aid was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Wilbur Goodman, with an attendance of ten members and two visitors. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed with prayer by the president and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

The scripture lesson was taken from the sixth chapter of Mark and was read by Mrs. Ida Martin. Rev. Swayne then gave a very interesting discourse on the scripture lesson, which was very much enjoyed by all. A hymn was sung. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Wilfred Miller, in the absence of Mrs. Stone. The treasurer reported $129.50 on hand in the bank.

Business was discussed, and Mrs. Demille took charge of the program. Most all the members took an active part. Rev. Swayne won the prize in the contest and generously shared it with everyone present. The repeating of the Magah benediction brought this inspirational W. A. meeting to a close. The hostess served a very abundant lunch for which she was given a hearty vote of thanks.

In the month of April this year Canadians earned in salaries wages and supplementary income $642,000,000 which was 5 per cent more than in April, 1949.

Amy Boyce Is Honored

There was an attendance of 75 in the Sunday school room of the United Church when a shower was given in honour of Miss Amy Boyce. A novel idea for a guest book was arranged by Mrs. Shelley Denyes. Each one was given a clothespin and asked to write her name on it. At the close of the evening these were presented to Miss Boyce. Mrs. J. Vrooman presided for a short programme, which opened with a piano duet by Mrs. Stirling Rogers and Miss Margaret Rogers. Mrs. Harvey Reid gave a humorous reading entitled "Get Married." Mrs. Fraser Allen sang "Forever and Ever," accompanied by Mrs. Jos. Rogers; piano solo by Miss Phyllis O'Neil and a humorous reading by Mrs. Robert Baker. With Mrs. Cairns playing the Wedding March the guest of honour was escorted to her chair by two little girls, as flower bridesmaids, Sandra Smith and Wanda Lake, wearing floor-length white dresses and carrying nosegays. The gifts were concealed in a decorated basket underneath an umbrella, which was suspended above a table and covered inside and out with crepe paper and flowers. Streamers of different colours were also used about the room and several baskets of flowers.

Mrs. Walter J. Snider crowned Miss Boyce 'Queen of the Day' by placing a wreath of pink petunias in her hair.

Mrs. Clark Boyce and Mrs. George Bracken, mothers of the bride and groom-elect, were each presented with a corsage of pink and white gladioli and baby's breath, by Miss Willanna Clark. The Misses Eleanor Boyce and Barbara Bracken, two of the wedding attendants, and Miss Ruth Reid, assisted in opening the gifts which were all suitably acknowledged.

Serving refreshments were the Misses Betty Chamberlain, Marion Dawson, Mae Jones, Betty Potter, Reta Haggerty, Alleanne Scouten, Margaret Rogers, Betty Brown, Lois Scouten, assisted by some of the committee. Mrs. Seymour Kilgannon, Mrs. C. Emmons, Mrs. W. A. Smith and Mrs. S. Denyes arranged the decorations which were very attractive.

The bride-elect expressed her appreciation to all helping with the event.

W. A. Meeting

There was an attendance of thirty at the regular meeting of the Woman's Association held at the home of Mrs. John Rogers. The president, Mrs. Fred Montgomery, presided for the business. Plans were made for a parcel post table at the annual bazaar in the Fall. There will be a thank-offering in place of a supper at anniversary time. Reports of thankyou's received from those who had been remembered during the month. 'Prayer' was the theme chosen by the president, for the devotional, who also led in responsive reading. Mrs. Stanley Sproule and Miss Helen Sproule were accompanied by Mrs. R. Cairns for a vocal duet.

The main feature of the afternoon was the story of the highlights of the World Convention in Toronto for Christian Education, given by Miss Florence B. Clyde. This proved most interesting and instructive.

The hostess was assisted in serving lunch by the conveners, Mrs. Stirling Rogers, Mrs. Roy Hartman, Mrs. Walter J. Snider and Mrs. Fraser Allen, and a vote of thanks was extended to all who assisted at the meeting.

Beaver Multiplying In Canada's James Bay Area

Leaving Moose Factory, Ontario's only seaport, Mr. J. Grew, trapline supervisor for the Department of Mines and Forests, travelled with a trader up the shallow and storm-tossed shores of James Bay to the Attawapiskat River and then back to Port Albany, at the junction of the Albany River and James Bay. "Within an hour, the water can boil up like a maelstrom," he said. "On one occasion, we had to run behind Akimiski Island to ride it out."

The purpose of the trip was to survey the fur situation and to talk to trappers' councils, an innovation of the Department dating back two or three years. Under the Council system, each group of trappers in an area appoints a council to discuss their problems with the Government.

About ten years ago, beaver were trapped in Algonquin Park and shipped to the James Bay area. "They have increased remarkably," said Mr. Grew. "At one post, the manager bought only two beaver ten years ago. Last year, he purchased 500 from the Indians; this year he expects to receive 1,000. What it has meant to the Indians is beyond words."

Previously, each trapper was given a quota of ten beaver. Under the "zoning" system inaugurated some years ago, this was changed to "one beaver per live beaver house." Beaver houses average five animals and now, it has been found, taking one beaver per house may be too small a quota to keep the animals in a healthy condition. Some of the Indians have as many as fifty beaver houses on their trapline territory and all prices ranging from $30 to $70 per pelt, are making a more than comfortable living from beaver alone, without counting the other fur they take.

Mr. Grew cited the case of one Indian trapper who, with his wife and family, goes into the area between the Winisk and Ekwan Rivers around August 1st. The distance is about 350 miles by canoe and portage, and the man had just returned to the post a week ago. "He had taken a trunk with him — for many of the Indians purchase trunks at the posts. He packed the trunk on that white fellow's back and carried from his canoe to the Winisk and then by canoe to the post. Inside that trunk were furs valued at nearly $2,000," said Mr. Grew.

Between May, 1949 and 1950, Canada's manufacturing industries increased their output by 11 per cent.

During the airplane flight over Hudson's Bay, Mr. Grew said he had taken a count of 16 polar bears on the ice and 282 per cent

WHERE LIVINGSTONE ROVED

MUSEUM TO HOUSE RELICS.

Work is well forward in Livingstone on Northern Rhodesia's new national museum, which will have one of the most picturesque settings in the world. Known as the Rhodes-Livingstone Museum, in memory of these two men. The spray from the Victoria Falls, seven miles away, will be visible from its entrance steps, and from a two-storey clock-tower, where visitors will be able to enjoy magnificent views of the surrounding countryside.

The museum will be of special interest to tourists. Its David Livingstone collection, the most valuable in Africa, is second only to that housed in the Livingstone Memorial Museum at Blantyre, Scotland.

The exhibits will include his first water-colour sketches of the Victoria Falls, which are at present being retained by the archives in Salisbury for safe keeping.

Except for the clock tower, which will be the dominant architectural feature, the museum will be a single-story building.

The work of a South African will be contained in the entrance hall. It is a striking symbolic study of the head and shoulders of an Ila tribesman awakening from his sleep and throwing off his blanket.

Specially carved by a well-known sculptor, it stands twelve feet high on its pedestal and took nine months to complete. The carving was made from a tree trunk weighing one ton, which was railed from Livingstone to Cape Town.

The work is inscribed to the memory of a pioneer elephant hunter, C. F. Mac. who was killed by an elephant in the northern province. Originally a memorial to him was to be carried out of two elephant tusks.

Another South African artist, who specializes in Native costume studies, is doing a series of ten wall panels, six feet by four feet, depicting Bushman and Negro heads.

The museum is specializing, because of lack of funds, in the history and development of Northern Rhodesia. It will serve a particularly valuable purpose to tourists who want to know more about the country.

Beginning with stone tools of men who lived there hundreds of thousands of years ago, the collection unfolds the exciting history of the territory through the ages to the early days traders, to the Bantu regime and to the exploits of the missionary explorer Livingstone.

The exhibits include some of Livingstone's original letters and a diary he removed from a slave. There is also a good selection of relics of Rhodes and of early explorers.

Each phase of the country's development will be featured in the various galleries, including present-day mining, agricultural and industrial activities.

The Northern Rhodesia Chamber of Mines has presented an enormous chart, twenty-seven feet long and three feet six inches wide, showing the flow sheet of a copper mine. It will be mounted on two rollers and will probably be operated by a press-button and flood-lit.

The museum will also contain a lecture-room and boardroom, which will be fitted with a sound cine projector for showing films of Northern Rhodesian interest. In addition there will be a rest-room and study books and pamphlets displayed there.

Livingstone has been chosen as the site of the museum because of its position as a tourist attraction, but the museum is also doing valuable educational work in other parts of the country through its travelling collections and cine shows.

Later it is hoped to fit out a van with a small mobile museum, which will be accompanied by a member of the staff on tours through the country.

Last year 7,702 Europeans and 8,297 Natives visited the museum. Among the Native visitors were several Northern Rhodesian chiefs, some of whom have since sent in objects of material culture which were needed to fill gaps in tribal exhibits.

About A Century Ago Sparrows Invaded The N. American Continent

The year 1950 is the 100th anniversary of the landing of the English sparrows in the United States. Finicky ornithologists regard the immigrants as neither sparrows nor even especially English. They are weaver finches, originally from Africa, and have made a great success in life by attaching themselves, like a dog, the bedbug and the rat, to the fortunes of man. They colonized Europe long ago, swarming in its cities bred on with nutritious refuse. In 1850 they reached Brooklyn.

Like other U. S. cities, Brooklyn in those days was plagued by bugs. The shy and decorative native birds did not like city life. As U.S. cities expanded, the birds retired to rural refuges, leaving the shadetrees and flower gardens defenceless against insects. Officials of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences discussed the problem at length, finally sent to England for an urban bird: the English sparrow.

The first successful colony was established in Greenwood Cemetery, but soon all Brooklyn was occupied. The loud, tough sparrows quickly became well-adjusted Brooklynites, and they found the city a sparrow's paradise. The streets were strewn with horse droppings, the stable muddies of the horse-and-buggy age and under each bright streetlight was a drove of dead bugs. The sparrows never had it so good. They applied themselves to multiplication and soon overflowed Brooklyn. Riding in empty grain cars along the broad railroads, they spread over the United States. By 1886 they had occupied all of the United States except Florida.

Soon there were cries of anguish from the farmers who found that the sparrow is not a bird lover. The modern, aggressive English sparrow was not content to be the country to forage for food, but successful. Wherever the sparrow went, native birds, such as bluebirds and wrens, did not. Back in 1886 the Audubon Society members reported dreadfully heart-rending sights of native birds being pursued, insulted and pecked by sparrows.

The stunned Audubon Society, a powerful group, considered the English Sparrow Bird Enemy No. 1. But outranking the feral cat and the small boy with an air rifle. Pamphlets blackened the sparrow's name. Said Biological Ned Dearborn of the U. S. Biological Survey. The English sparrow among birds, like the rat among mammals, is eminently destructive and filthy."

But in the 1920's the sparrow's decline. The streets were strewn with horse droppings, the stable muddies of the horse-and-buggy age and under each bright streetlight was a drove of dead bugs. Canada's first Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed in 1865.

London's famous Hyde Park was originally a public pleasure ground by Charles the First. But it became so popular that it was closed to the ordinary people for a time, and only royalty enjoyed the small boon with an air rifle. Pamphlets blackened the sparrow's name. Said Biological Ned Dearborn of the U. S. Biological Survey. The English sparrow among birds, like the rat among mammals, is eminently destructive and filthy."

Yes, I really enjoyed my shopping trip—I bought all the things I saved for!

That's the way I plan my bigger purchases. They seem to come easier, and more quickly, when I put something into the bank regularly. I like the comforting feeling of watching my account grow.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST FISH

Twelve years ago the scientists of the world picked up their atlases to glance eat the map of South Africa. A new species of fish had been reported — one of such breath-taking proportions that the minds of all reverted back to the age-old legends of sea monsters.

The new creature was a shark, and although it was a baby it represented the worlds largest fish. It was what is now colloquially known as the whale-shark ,and despite research in waters all over the world fewer than one hundred of these monster fish have been seen by man.

For hundreds of years persistent reports from mariners had told of a shark that was as large as a whale.

It seemed a veritable gragen, the Scandinavian monster come to life.

It was in 1828 that the Malay fishermen of Cape Town got the start of their lives when they saw tossing about in the waves near the shore the bory of a strange fish. They were even frightened to approach when they saw that the animal was dying and all pulled for the shore to await events.

Driven by the sur-weiter the dying creature reached shallow water. As the tide receded, it left behind the carcass of a strange fish.

Crowds flocked from all over Cape Town to see the body. It was a shark right enough, but its gigantic mouth was at the end of its body, and not under it, the nose was blunt and the fish, unlike all other sharks, was flattened and not cylindrical.

Soon word reached the public library where, in two small rooms, was the newly-founded South African Museum. The director, who had launched the collection, was a young and energetic man in his early thirties, Dr. Andrew Smith, and he immediately put on his jacket and rushed down the Heerengracht (now Adderky Street).

Smith immediately recognized the fish as being new to science. It was a juvenile, measured just over fifteen feet, but it was obvious that it was a kind that would reach tremendous proportions.

Smith got out his measuring instruments and, assisted by fishermen, began the task of noting the animal's characteristics. Backwards and forwards he went, measuring here, counting there, until he had a complete description of the shark's external appearance. Then he started on the inside of the dead creature and hour after hour worked at full pressure but with painstaking diligence.

Even had been able to process the shark's skin properly it would not have been possible to accommodate a mounted specimen in such a tiny museum; so eventually the skin was sold to the Paris Museum for the give-away price of £6 and dispatched overseas.

Then Smith wrote his report and gave scientists all over the world a detailed description of the new shark.

From the position of the mouth and the stomach contents it was obvious that the animal, though it might grow to over 60 feet in length, or even more, was harmless to man. This shark had been confirmed by the fact that not one of these creatures has even attempted to touch a human being.

Found And Lost

No sooner had man found this creature than he lost it again. Every sea in the world was searched but without success. It seemed as if nature had specially created the solitary specimen to tease science.

But exactly forty years later another appeared. This time it was in the Seychelles, off the east coast of Africa. It was seen by Dr. Percival Wright, who described it and gathered reports from the fishermen.

Once again science became excited and once again the species vanished completely. Another decade passed and in 1878 the world's third whale-shark was seen and caught near Cabo, on the coast of Peru.

Though th eworld's largest fish was the world's rarest, some idea was being gained by science of its distribution, and yet another fragment of the puzzle was supplied nearly twenty years later, when two were caught off the west coast of Ceylon. On this occasion the British Museum authorities were able to get a specimen for their natural history building.

Odd whale-sharks began to appear in many part of the world, always after long periods of time. But the Cape, which had given the world the first specimen, was apparently ignored by these wandering fish. More than a century passed and then one morning in April, 1934, a large form was spotted near Cape Town.

Scientists from the South African Museum rushed out and discovered the twenty-foot body of a whale-shark. They were able to describe and measure it, and from their notes the half-sized model which is in the museum today, was made.

Virtually nothing is known of the habits of this curious fish, except that it is the largest, is harmless and favors lying about on the surface of the sea at night.

No one knows what size they attain and although records of fifty feet have been seen, it is though that there must be even larger monsters, perhaps eighty feet in length, almost rivalling the blue and fin whales.

Life Never Ceases

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY

There probably is no such thing as absolute death, studies of heat published in the scientific journal, Physics, contend.

The possibility of absolute death has been a scientific concept of what must happen when all heat vanishes. This occurs at absolute zero, which is 496 degrees below zero Fahrenheit and 273 below centigrade.

At that point all motion was supposed to cease completely. As all substances were chilled closer and closer to absolute zero, even their internal motion, the movement of molecules to and fro and the movement of atoms in the molecules became slower and slower.

Helium studies recently made have upset this concept. They indicate that even after all heat is gone at absolute zero there still will be some motion.

Although motion is not of itself life, motion is part of anything that is alive.

The helium studies are described by Dr. Lazlo Tisza, a physicist of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They were made at Yale University, in Moscow, and in other laboratories.

Helium has been cooled to within 4 1,000 of one degree of absolute zero. Nothing else has yet gone that low. Even at this incredibly low temperature helium doesn't freeze.

Dr. Tisza after applying the mathematics of quantum mechanics, which predict what to expect, writes:

"It turns out that molecular activity slows down with decreasing temperature, but it can never come to a complete standstill."

WORLD'S OLDEST PEOPLE

Probably the oldest people in the world are the Motilon Indians of the upper Orinoco Veneuela, who for the past two hundred years have murdered practically every foreigner who has tried to enter their country. Only a few of them have ever been executed or imprisoned in retribution, for they are very skilled at leading their pursuers into the impenetrable bush, and there striking them down suddenly from behind with their poisoned arrows. Although the oil-fields of the American petroleum companies lie some distance from the home of these natives, they are surrounded with thick, barbed wire, and the workers venture out only in groups and heavily armed.

Largest single class of income tax payers in Canada in 1947 were business employees, 1,737,898 of a total of 2,366,496 income tax payers.

A PROPHETIC TOAD

Country dwellers in Great Britain rely on Nature's signs as a means of forecasting the weather, and one of their most prevalent beliefs is that a plentiful crop of autumn red berries means a severe winter.

Now Mr. Leonard Cooper, a Cambridge scientist, and Mr. J. R. Clementson, Director of the Bureau of Scientific Research at Cambridge, are preparing to test this theory. They want information from experts in the Home Counties on years when big crops of autumn berries were noticed and the kind of winter that followed.

Some scientists regard country weather lore as misleading and have proved many proverbs to be false.

However, there is no doubt that certain plants, and most animals, are far more sensitive to weather changes than human beings, and all countrymen know this. Cattle cluster near the hedge and bees will not leave the hive when rain is due, while dogs become restless before a storm.

One naturalist relied on his pet toad, which he maintained was better than any barometer. If the toad sat on the shady side of the garden it would be warm and dry; if it sat on the sunny side a spell of cold weather was expected, while if the toad took shelter beneath a window large, it was a sure sign of rain.

LONDON'S NEWSPAPER LAWYERS

Behind the back desk on a London, England, paper, two men sit reading every inch of editorial proof. One is a lawyer — one of three lawyers employed full time by the paper. The other is a veteran newspaperman, an ex-editor, who did not seem to have a definite title, but a wise old man whose job is to see that nothing appears contradicting something else in the paper, to make sure that nothing violates the laws of good taste as set up by the management, that no initials are wrong. He is sort of super-checker, the final catcher of mistakes. I heard him referred to as "prod-nose" and legend says that he is walking de Bretts Peerage.

The lawyer is an essential feature of the British libel system. The British courts give such large damages that newspapers carry insurance against libel, and the presence of lawyers on the staff is insisted upon by the insurance companies. Perhaps it is also true that, in getting angles the many Canadian papers would pass the British popular press runs a greater libel danger than we face here. — Canadian Printer.

One of the first types of brushes known, the besom, was a bundle of twigs tied to a wooden handle by means of fibre or cane. The range of materials made available for brush-making is now very great and includes hair from animals, vegetable fibres and synthetic products.

The Nurse Hound is the largest, if not the commonest, species of dog fish found in British coastal waters. Like its relatives, it is extremely voracious and capable of doing a great deal of damage among fish hooked on fishermen's lines. Nurse Hounds are powerful fish and often reach the length of five feet or more.

Presbyterial Executive Met At Grace Church

Mrs. C. D. McLellan, President, Presides

Mrs. C. D. McLellan, President of the Belleville Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society of The United Church of Canada, presided over the Autumn Executive Meeting, held in Grace Church, Napanee, on September 12th. Fern and gladioli enhanced the beauty of the chancel and the organ prelude created a receptive atmosphere for a brief devotional which Mrs. McLellan opened with the hymn "For the Beauty of the Earth". She took the 21st chapter of Acts for her Scripture reading the account of one of Paul's journeys where he was going to Jerusalem even though it was prophesied that he would be imprisoned, but Paul said: "I am ready, not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the Name of the Lord Jesus." And when he would not be dissuaded his friends said "we ceased urging, saying 'The Will of The Lord be done'." In her meditation Mrs. McLellan showed the executive that we can do anything up to a certain point; even to the point which one thinks impossible, but from there on we have to have help. But all things are possible with God. We have no right to keep asking God to advance until we ourselves have done all we can. We are asked to advance. We are expected to march on. Until we try the impossible the possible has just been attained. Today we seem to have gotten away from the feeling that when we have done our utmost then God takes over."

To close this worship service the hymn "Creation's Lord, we give Thee thanks," was sung.

Mrs. Jas. Haggerty, president of Grace Church W.M.S. graciously welcomed the Executive and brought greetings and best wishes for the success of the planning for the work which is one of the most important phases of the Church. Mrs. McLellan added her greetings.

Mrs. Ralph Sills, Recording Secretary, read the minutes of the last executive meeting and the roll call was answered by all but three of the executive and seventeen presidents of auxiliaries.

Mrs. Frank Mills, treasurer, announced that the allocation for Belleville Presbyterial is $19,000.00.

Mrs. Lincoln Elliott gave a report of the Correspondence Secretary's work and also a resume of the School for Leaders held in Whitby recently and introduced the new study book, "The United Church Re - Enters Japan," as well as some other new literature. It was reported that the fall Conference Branch will be meeting in 1951 in the Belleville Presbyterial and a committee was appointed to find location.

Very encouraging reports were presented by various secretaries. Mrs. O. Bertrand said three new Baby Bands had been organized in Mrs. W. B. May reported seven new Mission Bands; Mrs. M. Davidson asked for the consideration of the students to organize Mission Circles saying "The gospel of Jesus Christ is a good thing. We must propagate our faith. Tee nage girls are ready for it." Mrs. Fred Russell had a very interesting report showing many articles of clothing had been sent where requisitioned. Beautiful toys, games and beautiful dolls with complete wardrobes being sent to Matheson Hospital.

The women of Grace Church entertained the executive and guests to a very fine luncheon where the spirit of friendliness and love was in full evidence.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Mrs. H. Empey, third vice-president, opened the afternoon session with a devotional taken from the booklet, "Our Living Faith" based on prayer. She read verses 5 to 15 of the sixth chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel and "O Lord, we trust Thy wisdom, and we would be content to wait patiently for Thee. Teach us Thy will, that we may ask only what is in accordance with it. Strengthen us with Thy strength that we may rise above all fretting and impatience and meet life with serenity and poise. Send Thy grace upon us that we may see beyond the shadows of present suffering the fairness of the morning which yet shall dawn for all who love Thee."

It was with much regret that the resignation of Miss Florence Down was accepted. Mrs. M. Denton, 224 King Street, Trenton, was appointed Secretary of Christian Stewardship.

The president closed the session with a prayer for guidance: "O God, the Father of us all, who are the source of righteousness and peace, mercifully receive the prayers we offer for our anxious and troubled world. We confess that we have had our part in those evils that are manifest today and we ask Thy forgiveness. Grant to each one of us grace to do Thy will and to understand one another. Guide those who are their counsels, lead the peoples of the world. Strengthen and unite us in Thy love, that we may become instruments of Thy peace and have our share in the healing of the nations.

Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

LADIES' GOLF NEWS

Wet, windy weather last Friday discouraged any thought of golf, but in the Club House a blazing fire welcomed the ladies attended on the 18th for Tea. There were six tables of bridge and Mrs. W. J. Wigmore won the silver spoon. The hostesses were Mrs. Douglas Aikenbrack, Mrs. Harold Lasher and Mrs. Ian MacPherson. On Tuesday the golf ball was won by Mrs. W. H. Duffett.

Lapland's growing season is only a few weeks long and subject to sudden killing frosts.

TWO BOYS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

What might have been a tragedy was narrowly averted early last Sunday morning when two boys went fishing in the Napanee River.

At 7:30 a.m., Leslie Kellar, age 13 and his brother, Gordon, age 15 started out into the Napanee River in a seven-foot punt which, when it reached the centre of the stream, suddenly filled with water. In attempting to bale the water from the frail craft, it overturned and threw the two occupants into the river. Both lads clung to the boat until their cries for help were heard by Mr. William Coates and by Mr. Sam Maracle ,who rushed to their aid.

Mr. Coates reached the overturned boat just in time to grasp one of the lads who could not swim and who had still but let go of the craft. Mr. Coates managed to hold the lads until Mr. Maracle arrived with a larger boat in which they were brought to shore.

Had the plans of the two youngsters, who had arranged to start at 4:30 been carried out, their cries for help might not have been heard and one or both boys could have drowned.

OTTAWA LOSES MONEY ON RESALE SURPLUS BUTTER

Ottawa. — The Government price support program for butter is still costing the Treasury money ,it was disclosed in a return tabled in the Commons for John Diefenbaker (PC) for Lake Centre).

The Government buys up any butter the dairy industry cannot sell for 58 cents a pound or more. In reselling the butter, the Government receives much less.

The return said that the Government now owns 33,543,961 pounds of butter. In July and August the entire remainder of 1949 butter, some 5,000,000 pounds, was sold to the trade in Canada.

The price received for the 1949 butter amounted to 30.29 cents in July and 50.02 cents in August. The prices allowed for deterioration in quality resulting from storage, plus charges due to extra handling in having samples withdrawn from storage for grading, tempering and the like.

12 MADE HOMELESS AT NORTHBROOK BY FIRE

The parents were Mr. and Mrs. Almonte Spicer. Northbrook is approximately forty miles northwest of Napanee.

The fire started shortly after 5:00 a.m., and, according to Mr. Spicer, is believed to have been kindled in some pipes leading to the attic of the house. At the first sign of the blaze, Mr. Spicer rushed to the well and frantically tried to extinguish the flames. But as the blaze flared up with lightning speed, he aroused his wife and children and rushed them from the house. All escaped without injury.

As the flames devoured their home Mr. and Mrs. Spicer hailed by the children, barefoot and in night attire, worked desperately to salvage what they could of their personal possessions.

They managed to drag out a stove, washing machine, refrigerator and separator but were unable to salvage any clothing or other belongings.

When Mr. Spicer saw that it would be impossible to save his home, he sent two of his children to the Wells Lumber Yard located nearby, to get help. Few of the men, however, were at the yard as such an early hour and little help was forthcoming. The Spicer family exhausted the entire supply of water in the well in fighting the blaze.

The Spicer children ,all of whom were sleeping when the conflagration started, left the house calmly. They stood around in the cold, dampness of early morning without proper clothing, awaiting assistance from the townsfolk.

An immediate campaign was launched in Northbrook to help the stricken family. Clothing was being gathered and temporary accomodation sought. It is also intended to organize a relief fund.

A small amount of insurance was carried on the property but the loss will exceed several thousand dollars.

There is no fire brigade at Northbrook.

Fosbraey Trial At Napanee Monday, Nov. 6

James Fosbraey, charged with the killing of his wife, June Fosbraey, who has been granted a new trial, is scheduled to appear at the next session of the Supreme Court, for retrial, on Monday, November 6th, at Napanee. It is expected that Mr. Justice Treleaven will be the presiding judge.

An appeal was made on Fosbraey's behalf, by his counsel, R. E. Nourse, of Picton, based on a technicality in the Judge's Charge to the Jury, at the trial held in May of this year, and the Appeal Court Judges ordered a new trial. Fosbraey had been sentenced by the Chief Justice, J. C. McRuer, to be hanged on September 21st.

Daylight time was scheduled to end September 24th.

DATES ANNOUNCED FOR T.B. SURVEY IN COUNTY

Every man, woman and child of High School age (12 years and up) will be given the opportunity of safeguarding their health by having a free chest x-ray, when a County X-ray Survey begins here, next month.

The survey will be sponsored by The Napanee Lions Club, under the auspices of the Ontario Tuberculosis Association.

In order that every citizen may be registered for the survey, a house-to-house canvass will be made before the actual survey gets under way.

An X-ray will take only a few moments of each person's time.

The most up-to-date mobile equipment, which uses 70 mm. film and can handle over 100 persons an hour, will be used. Three miniature plates, when read by experts, are just as accurate as full - size x-rays. An improvement in the taking of mass survey films has been introduced in that it is not necessary to remove clothing. However, women are requested to wear, as far as possible, simple upper garments without ornaments and buttons. They will be required to remove only their coats when being requested to remove their suit coats and vests, dropping suspenders over the shoulders.

Tuberculosis of the lungs, if found in the early stage and treated, is almost always completely curable. Nevertheless, nearly as many Canadians died from this disease during the war as were killed by enemy action. More persons die from tuberculosis in Ontario than from all other infectious diseases combined. Only the X-ray plate can discover the disease in its early stage.

Further plans regarding the X-ray Survey in the County of Lennox and Addington will be announced as they are completed. In the meantime, public health officials, and this committee are most confident that everyone give the project their wholehearted co-operation.

With such co-operation they are convinced that the County of Lennox and Addington will be well in the forefront of Ontario districts in the prevention of tuberculosis.

Princess Anne Sets Fashion In Names

London. — Princess Anne, four-week-old daughter of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, already has set a fashion—in names.

London Registrars report hundreds of baby girls born since August 15, the day the Princess was born, have been named Anne.

Ivor Loveday, registrar of births at Edmonton, North London, where some 2,000 babies are registered each year, said parents "all seem to want Anne for their girl's second name and they are persisting on spelling it with the 'e' on the end."

"Until Princess Elizabeth announced the name of Princess Anne it was always the other way round—parents dropped 'e' at the end of the name, condemning it as old-fashioned."

APPRECIATION TO ROTARY CLUB FOR CHILDREN'S CARE

August 22, 1950

Napanee Rotary Club,

Dear Sir:

When our son returned from the Hospital in May it was my intention to write and thank the Rotary Club for all they had done for us, but after several attempts to write I just couldn't find words to express my appreciation.

Wishing you all kinds of success in the future, I remain,

Yours truly,

August 28th, 1950.

Napanee Rotary Club,
Napanee, Ontario

Best Exhibits In Many Years At Napanee Fair

Minister of Welfare, Hon. W. D. Goodfellow Present for Opening

Napanee Fair was officially opened on Tuesday, September 19th by Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Public Works for Ontario, who made a special trip to town to take part in the ceremony. Mr. Goodfellow was introduced by Edmund Dewling, the President of the Fair Board and spent part of the afternoon mingling with the crowd and talking with the people to whom he was introduced.

There was a large crowd in the Park on Tuesday afternoon, including hundreds of school children, who had been given a half holiday to attend the fair.

A great deal of interest centred ar und the black and white judging which for several years has been one of the features of the fair Because of the muddy condition of the track following the rain early Tuesday morning the races scheduled for Tuesday afternoon were cancelled.

Entertainment was provided by the Gaiden Bros of Toronto, who presented a varied vaudeville programme in front of the grandstand Green's Midway was the centre of attraction for the children.

BEST FAIR IN YEARS

The fair this year is one of the best ever held in Napanee. Greater interest appears to have been taken by the farmers in the district and businessmen of Napanee, with the result that exhibits in all classes were much more numerous than for several years.

The Fair has never looked as well for a long time as it did this year. Occupying the centre of the fair near the east entrance was an exceptionally fine display of flowers and corn mainly thrown in the centre of the building to the west entrance were displays of home canned goods, home baking, a large display of fine quality vegetables and grains and seeds.

In the booths around the building were ladies' fancy work, which looked to be a much better display than usual; large displays by Vandervoort Bros. Hardware, L. V. Shaw, Boyle & Sen, Beaver Lumber Co., M. B. Mills Co., W. S. Wilson and the Canadian Legion.

On the grounds there was a huge display of autos and farm machinery which attracted a great deal of attention.

The building formerly used to exhibit poultry was given over this year to displays by the Girls' and Boys' Clubs in the County, including the Garden Clubs, and the Boys' and Girls' Calf Clubs and also the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

The Cattle and Horse Barn was filled to capacity and extra stalls for cattle were provided outside the barn. The quality of the stock shown appeared to be exceptionally good.

The following is a partial list of the prize winners in the classes exhibited in the Palace. The balance of the lists will be printed in later issues of the Beaver.

Dr. C. M. Nicholson New Moderator United Church

Appointed Last Week by General Council

A Cape Breton coal miner's son who says he comes from good Scot-Presbyterian stock, is the new Moderator of The United Church of Canada. Dr. Clarence M. Nicholson, Principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, won election to the Church's highest post at opening sessions on Tuesday, September 12th, of the General Council's ten-day meeting.

ONE OF YOUNGEST EVER ELECTED

At 46, one of the youngest men ever elected to office, Dr. Nicholson received 219 of the 336 votes cast in a second ballot. He succeeds Very Rev. Willard Brewing of Toronto, who had been Moderator since 1948.

Four other leading clerkymen in the church were nominated. They were Rev. Gordon A. Sisco, council secretary from Toronto; Rev. Donalas H. Telford, Vancouver; Rev. G. D. Kilpatrick, Montreal; and Rev. John M. Mutch, Hamilton.

The tall new Moderator was born in the shadow of a colliery in the little town of Dominion, N.S. He was educated in Cape Breton schools and, prior to entering Dalhousie University he had worked two years in the coal fields for his tuition fees.

At Dalhousie, he spent his summers doing mission work for the United Church.

Dr. Nicholson became principal of Pine Hill Divinity College, oldest of the eight United Church training schools, more than four years ago. Previously he held pastorates at four churches in Nova Scotia.

He is married and has two sons, aged twelve and nine.

ED. HOOPER PITCHED PERFECT GAME AT TRENTON

Pitching a no-hit, no-run game, Ed. Hooper hurled the Napanee Athletics one game closer to an Eastern Ontario Championship when he shut out the Trenton Flyers at Trenton on Monday night 2 to 0.

Both Napanee runs came in one innings. Jocko doubled; Eud Green grounded to third and Ellis threw wild to allow Jocko to score. Green going to second, Jim Markle up next and the first pitch went wild with Green ending up at third, Markle sacrificed and laid it perfect. Green crossing before Coursal could put the ball on him.

Napanee gathered five hits and only one minute was registered. For the Flyers 3 errors were tabulated.

Batteries: Hooper and Hayes, Maloney and Coursal.

Best Wishes Are Extended To Nonagenarians

Three Local Men Have Birthdays Within Week

The Napanee distric has quite a few residents who have reached the age of 90 years or over, but it is unusual for three persons to celebrate birthdays of such advanced ages within a few days of each other. The three are Mr. E. J. Corkill of Napanee, Mr. W. E. Cummings, who lives near Napanee just east of Cloves' Corners on the Hamburg Road, and Mr. O. P. Howe, who resides on the Palace Road about four miles from Napanee.

Mr. Cummings was 92 on Saturday September 16. He is a very active man for his years. He still works in his garden and last Saturday on his birthday attended the Napanee Market with produce from his own garden for sale. Living with Mr. Cummings and his wife at present are Mr. and Mrs. James Mills, their son-in-law and daughter. They have two other daughters, Mrs. Percy Cooke, Detroit and Mrs. Robert Asseltine, Marlbank.

Mr. E. J. Corkill of Napanee, celebrates today (Wednesday) his 90th birthday. Mr. Corkill is much more active than many men years his junior. He was formerly a high school teacher and was Science Master at the Napanee Collegiate for several years. Later he was appointed County Public School Inspector and retired from that position about twenty years ago. For many years he has been one of the most enthusiastic golfers in Napanee and still plays the occasional game.

Mr. O. P. Howe will celebrate his 93rd birthday next Tuesday, September 26th. Mr. Howe has been a farmer most of his lifetime and has lived for many years on the Palace Road. He has been retired from active work for some years, but still is in fairly good health. His daughter, Miss Armeda Howe, and his son, live with him.

The Beaver extends to these three venerable gentlemen, best wishes for more years of health and comfort.

Receives Promotion At Ford Plant, Windsor

W. D. (Doug.) Clarke, of Windsor, Ont., son of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke, of Deseronto, has been promoted to the position of Methods and Coordination department of the Ford Motor Company, Windsor, to supervise methods and clerical section of the tabulating department.

MORLEY OKE LOSES BARN BY FIRE

The Napanee Fire Department received a call for assitance about 3.30 a.m. on Wednesday morning when a barn owned by Mr. Morley Oke, situated about half mile from Napanee on No. 2 Highway caught fire. The entire structure was burned to the ground and was almost levelled when the firemen arrived. Fortunately no buildings were close to the barn as there was little the local brigade could do to quell the fire due to the lack of sufficient water.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. E. J. Corkill, known and beloved by the whole community, celebrates his ninetieth birthday, to-day, (Wednesday.) To have lived that long, is an achievement, to have reached such an age with mind and body unimpaired, is more than unusual. Were Mr. Corkill to be asked the secret of his longevity, he would, we are sure, attribute much of it to his choice of ancestors. He came of good, hardy stock. He would, too, pay his debt to the simplicity of his early life on the farm, and the habits of diligence, and wholesome living he learned as a boy and young man.

Mr. Corkill has learned to keep young in spirit, too. That may have been natural though we rather suspect that his constant contact with youth, both as a teacher and as an inspector of schools, has had a great influence in keeping him buoyant and cheerful.

Though retired from the active duties of his profession for some years, Mr. Corkill keeps up to date in his reading, leads a Bible class, and takes an active interest in church and community. He has seen many changes through his long career, and has made the adjustment, mentally and spiritually, with the changing years.

Mr. Corkill has exerted an influence for good on thousands of young people who have come under his guidance. We delight in extending a word of congratulation to one who in many ways is our senior citizen.

SNOOPERS

Freedom is a broad and inclusive word. It has many facets. For many people, freedom means the right of every person to do what he wants to do. If a person wants to gamble, that is his right; if he want to get intoxicated that, too, is his right. And any reformer, church or social agency, any individual who would challenge that right is a snooper - dooper. He should stay in his own backyard.

There is something to be said for that point of view — but not much. The reformer, whether church individual or society, is never popular; frequently, the phrase "uplifter" is used in derision by the advocates of the "let well enough be" policy.

Last week, we saw what happened when people and institutions are left pretty much alone. In Windsor, Ontario, it was an open secret that moral and social conditions were not what they ought to be. It was a Nurse who had the courage to protest against these, even if doing so meant the loss of her position. Those in authority were ready to poo-hoo the whole business and laugh it off. But churches, social agencies, respected citizens who thought the good name of the city was at stake, got busy. A commission was appointed, because they stopped minding their own business, and took an interest in other people's affairs.

Now, the commission has reported. A dirty mess has been revealed: liquor, gambling, vice, have been shown to have wormed their way into the very heart of law administration. It is not a pretty picture; it is a sordid and degrading one.

The role of the reformer is not an attractive one, but is necessary, as the conditions revealed at Windsor provide ample proof.

NEVER CAN TELL

A football game, or perhaps more particularly a hockey game, is never settled until the last second of play. Something like that occurs in nature, too. We can never tell. In the West, this year, for example, everything pointed to a bumper crop. Early frosts had been pretty well evaded. Except in certain local areas, there was no early frost and prospects looked good. Then the rains came. Not for one day only, but for a week on end. The harvest has been held up. The quality of the grain has been adversely affected. Millions of dollars have been lost to the farmer by this turn of nature.

In the East, the situation has been somewhat similar. In the Niagara Peninsula every indication was for a great crop of fruit. The early peaches came up to expectation The rain of the past week has destroyed much of the crop of plums and late peaches, on which the grower has to depend for his livelihood.

Then, too, there are the potato growers. The crop will not be lost, of course, but the moisture is causing blight and the crop will not be up to expectation. The farmer, who depends so much on the vagaries of wind and weather, is never sure until the harvest is safely tucked away.

In this part of the country, where so much that is grown is turned into animal products, the late pastures have benefited by the rain, and the wells and creeks will insure an abundance of water for stock, during the winter. So the picture is not all dark. Around here we seem to be pretty well off.

THE KOREAN SITUATION

The landing of United Nations troops near Seoul, the capital of Korea, has placed the armies of the North Koreans in a dangerous position. The United Nations will take the capital, and cut all lines of communications, so that the Northern Army will not be able to secure reinforcements or munitions. If this proves successful, then the invaders will be hemmed in between two United Nations armies, and will, in time, be forced to capitulate.

The failure of Russia to supply an adequate Air Force to her Satelite, is significant. Russia is, apparently, not taking any chances at the moment, of being dragged into the fray. She knows that such an action would precipitate war on a large scale, and she is not ready for that.

There is another thing that will not be lost on the Russian Satelites in other parts of the world. The North Koreans were trained and equipped by the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. It was the U.S.S.R. which, undoubtedly, brought pressure on the North Koreans, to attack. It is hard to think that these would have attacked the South Koreans without some assurance that they would be supported by their Big Brother. Now, if the Big Brother, when he sees the going tough for the Little Fellow, does not come across, what will the Little Fellow think. What will all the other little fellows think ? It is not hard to guess.

It may just be that this Korean affair will cool the ardour of some of Russia's Satelites to jump into a war at Russia's bidding.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, September 24th

PAUL, WORLD EVANGELIST

Acts 16: 9-12; 17: 22-26; 26: 9-20.
2 Corinthians 11: 25, 26.

Paul confronts Europe with the Gospel. This is one of the most momentous decisions ever made. Paul had not intended this trip to Europe. He had intended to revisit some of the churches he had established, and for which he still felt he had an overseas responsibility. But in a vision, he saw a man from Macedonia pleading with him to come over and help them, and at once, he and Luke set out for Europe.

How few, if any, seeing Paul and his companions going down to the wharf that day, looking for a boat that would take them to Europe, would have imagined that anything of importance was taking place. Just a few men looking for a boat on which to book a passage. But that was not all. Paul brought the message of Jesus Christ to Europe. He turned West, and set in motion a movement that was ultimately to conquer Rome! On such apparently small things do great events turn. Paul landed at Phillipi, a great Roman city. He joined no synagogue there, or if he did he ignored it, and began his work with a few women on the banks of the river and in the open air. Here he met Lydia, a woman of means who had, no doubt, been seeking religious satisfaction and found it in Paul's message. Lydia persuaded the little apostolic band to stay at her home for a while. Here began a flourishing cause.

The next section deals with Paul's address to the philosophers at Mars Hill. This time he was addressing a very well trained and well educated group. Taking as his text: "To the Unknown God," Paul expounded the gospel in several ways. He set forth the nature of God, the creation of the world by God, the resurrection and judgment of God and the need for repentance. It was a great address, but had little effect on the people to whom he spoke. Yet it marked the measure of the man and his ability to deal, not only with the unlettered, but those of scholarship, as well.

The next section deals with Paul's address before Agrippa, from the time of his conversion he had made five defences: this is the longest and most noteworthy. He recounts the whole story of his life and then calls for repentance. There is nothing quite so persuasive as a changed life. We can argue as much as we like about conversion, whether it really works or not, but when we see converted men and women, that is the final answer. And the whole history of our church is the story of changed lives. The Gospel has still its ancient power.

The message the world needs today is a missionary message. We live in a pagan world. We get accustomed to church, which so often is little more than another club to attend; a social club. The world stands in need of men of apostolic fervor — like those who went to the lions with a smile on their lips. This is not a challenge to preachers only, but to all who name the Name of Christ.

WORKERS NEEDED WESTERN HARVEST

Recruiting of Eastern Farm Workers for Western Grain Harvest Still in Full Swing.

The Dominion-Provincial Farm Labour Program is continuing to recruit farm workers in Ontario and Quebec to help in the bumper Western grain harvest, Hon. Milton F. Gregg, Minister of Labour, has announced.

Approximately 1500 workers have already gone to the Prairies from the East, the Minister said, but due to this year's record grain crop another 1500 workers are needed. The demand for harvesters had also been greater this year because the Manitoba crop is much later than usual, and is being harvested at the same time as the crop in the other Prairie Provinces. In normal years, harvesters in Manitoba were able to move on to Saskatchewan and Alberta to help with the crops there.

Recruiting of harvesters is being handled through local offices of the National Employment Service in those areas of Quebec and Ontario where the provincial authorities indicate that workers can be spared from local agricultural work.

Harvesters are despatched directly to Winnipeg, and sent from there to various points in the Prairie Provinces. Transportation for harvest workers has been arranged at a special low rate of $15.00 going and $11.50 for the return journey.

County Health Unit To Start Examining School Pupils

The County Health Unit will be starting its program of physical examinations in the schools during the latter part of September. There are 91 schools in the County, so it can be seen that the school health service takes up a large part of the time of the Health Unit.

The pupils in grades one and nine will be examined. When defects are found, the parents will be notified and requested to take the child to the family physician. Common defects found in the past have been dental caries, abnormal tonsils and adenoids, enlarged tonsillar glands, poor vision, anemia, postural defects and malnutrition.

Students taking part in strenuous sports such as basketball or football will receive a heart check and exercise tolerance test.

NEW CANADA SAVINGS BONDS ON SALE SOON

Ottawa. — A new block of Canada savings bonds, through which the Government plans to sell $300,000,000 or more, will go on the market October 6th.

The Finance Department said that the new issue, fifth in a series, will be dated November 1st and will bear the same interest rate as previous issues — 2½ per cent for ten years. Tax bonds are redeemable on demand.

Bonds will come in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000. No more than $1,000 of the fifth series will be registered in any one name, but bonds may be purchased in the name of each member of the family. Thus a family of five can purchase a maximum of $5,000 worth.

Arrangements for sale of the bonds already have been completed. Investment firms chartered banks and other savings institutions will handle sales to the general public.

The payroll savings plan will be administered by regional directors. The department said it is expected that some 12,000 business and industrial firms will enable workers to buy bonds under this plan.

Under the last series, the Government raised $318,203,000 which went into the Federal treasury to meet general costs of administration and retirement of outstanding bond issues.

BABY BONUS PAID 1,852,000 FAMILIES

Ottawa. — Nearly 615,000 more Canadian families receive family allowances now than a year ago, when initiated in 1945, the annual report of the family allowance division of the Health Department reported.

In all, said the report tabled in the Commons 1,852,000 families now receive the allowances on behalf of 4,202,000 children. Total annual payments were nearly $300,000,000.

And said the report, "It is significant to note the extremely small number of cases in which it is necessary to enter prosecution for fraud. These ran to 46 in the last fiscal year.

The report said the increase in recipients stems from the absorption of Newfoundland, the high postwar birth rate, immigration and reduction in the waiting period for new Canadians from three years to one before their children became eligible for the allowances.

FLYERS DROP FIRST GAME TO ATHLETICS

The Napanee Athletics had little difficulty in disposing of the Trenton Flyers here last Thursday night when they trounced the Airmen 11 to 3 in a slug-fest that called nearly all the reserve hurlers from the visitors' roster.

The losers used three hurlers in their efforts to stem the onslaught. Sam Ellis started and handcuffed the locals for two frames, striking out five of the hapless six, but went down before a barrage of three hits and two walks in the third that gave the A's a three to one lead. Cummings was rushed into the fray and he last d until the early part of the sixth when two hits and two errors gave up four counters. McLaughlin replaced him and fared little better. Two hits and three walks gave the winners another three runs.

Between the three visiting pitchers they allowed nine safeties, struck out six and walked an even dozen Napanee batters.

McTaggart on the mound for Napanee was in difficulty only in the second innings when he allowed three hits and his teammates mustered one to give the Flyers a one-run lead. He downed seven at the plate and walked one.

Jocko was the big gun for Napanee with two safties and a walk, followed by Gerow with a single and a double. McTaggart gleaned a double and Hayes a brace of singles.

For the Airmen Hastings headed the parade with a double and two singles.

FOUL TIPS...

by "Red" Miller

TIPS ETAOIN ETAOIN ETAOIN SHRDLU SHRDLU

For the past week we have read with a great deal of interest the verbal tirade of one Ron Sivel, Sports Writer for the Picton Times, in regard to the current battle between the Ontario Baseball Association and the McFarland Athletics Executive, in which the writer seems to be taking everybody apart in no uncertain terms .... for the O.B.A.'s action in tossing the Picton team out of the Play-Offs.

To let everybody in on the "facts" .... we stuck our necks out and requested a "statement" from the O.B.A. on the matter.

First .... May I remind Mr. Sivel that this writer is not always in accord with the O.B.A. in all its actions and has, on more than one occasion told the representatives of that body so, both in this column and by word of mouth. In this instance .... and we take it from the facts ... the Executive of the McFarland Athletics should have cleaned their own back yard up before the play-offs started .... and they would not be in the mess they are up-to-their-necks-in.

Secondly, Ron .... You should have made a few calls outside of Picton and got yourself acquainted with "all the dope" .... not just listened to the "Brass" of Picton.

Third .... Mr. Sivel .... your tirade against Mr. Ernie Gibard of Napanee is unforgivable .... There is no person in Eastern Ontario ... and that goes for the small town of Picton, too..... who has devoted more time and expense to the promotion of "amateur" baseball .... Senior, Intermediate and Minor .... than the name Mr. G. E. Gibbard .... who did not give a single hoot whether Napanee won the series or whether Picton did .... it meant nothing to "G.E." .... Any action he might have taken was in the fairest of the game .... and he is sport enough to give friend or foe a break at any time.

Before attacking the blame to the Executive .... or the Conveners of the O.B.A. .... the Management of the tossed-out team should have got together and made several copies of their stories which they handed to the Association .... From what we gather .... they didn't give. That is only one of the minor reasons why they received little sympathy in their sudden sorrow.

Ron, you mention in one of your articles that Napanee representatives .... and to use your own words .... "We have no beef against the Napanee team members. They are a bunch of good sports every one of them. It would be nice if we could say the same of their executive or whoever was responsible for kniving Picton's young hopefuls in the back." ... to this I reply. You should take the Executive of the Picton team to task for that action .... They let the young hopefuls of Picton .... or should I say "Bellville" .... down and down badly. You can't play ball in any league in the manner they tried to .... and if any of the Picton Executive take time to attend the next O.B.A. Annual Meeting .... the said "dirty lin n" would be aired for all to hear. Residence rules and transfers play a major part in the control of amateur baseball .... but several "spots" in Picton figured differently .... to everybody's sorrow.

You will have noticed that I have not mentioned the part Mr. Robt. Smith, Executive Member of the O.B.A., not District Convener as you put it, played in this series. The reason for this is "Mr. Smith gave us the 3 element" from the O.B.A. and here are the facts and may I suggest you read it carefully .... it might change your mind on the matter ... because from what I gather .... one or two of the big guns of Picton are starting to change their tune.

"RE — NAPANEE - PICTON SERIES"

"When it was found out that there was no other Int. A entry in this Zone or East of here, Picton requested the O.B.A. for permission to revert to "B" This was granted with the proviso that they or their players who did not have residence transfers. They assured me that Gower was the only one, claiming as they had done previously that Wardaugh and Fitzpatrick had transfers.

When I notified 6RD that Picton were going Int. B, they asked me about Picton's Belleville players. I told them that Gower would not be playing and that the other players, according to Manager Yanover, had transfers. 6RD did not seem to agree so they my stipated and naturally I had to follow the investigation. On communicating with Mr. Snyder, Secretary of the O.B.A., I found that players Gow, Wardaugh, Fitzpatrick, Huntley and Smith were not eligible to go on in the O.B.A. play-downs. I was also informed that regardless whether Napanee agreed to play Picton with these players, they were still ineligible to advance again. 6RD I had to leave town that week end and I transferred said information to my co-chairman and asked him to call Mr. Yanover. When the Picton team came to Napanee on the Friday for the third game, Mr. Fraser refused to talk to Mr. Gibbard and so the O.B.A. had no other alternative but to tell Picton by telegram that as far as the Napanee-Picton series was concerned it was under the jurisdiction of the C.O.B.L., but that Picton were not eligible as it is to advance in the O.B.A. play-offs.

The next morning I received a telegram from Mr. Yanover telling me he had been ordered by the Secretary of the O.B.A. W. J. Snyder, to disregard my telegram. I immediately telephoned Mr. Snyder who informed me such was not the case and that he had not been talking to Mr. Yanover since my telegram went out.

The Picton Club in conversation with the President of the O.B.A. certainly falsified the truth when they stated that I had given these players the O.K. In fact Mr. Jack Devine, Sports Broadcaster of CJBQ and myself, over a month ago, told Mr. Yanover to make sure he had transfers for said players. So I don't see how he can attach any blame to the O.B.A.

As far as the Napanee-Picton series was concerned, we thought at first when Picton reverted to Int. "B" that it would be O.B.A. ball but after the first game the O.B.A. decided that it should not have two Int. "B" teams from the same league, namely C.O.B.L. That is the reason that the Napanee-Picton series was left under the jurisdiction of C.O.B.L. Actually it did not mean any thing with n Picton were found to have illegal players because Napanee alone were qualified to meet 6RD.

Picton then wanted to know if they could go back to Int. A but this was impossible as Batawa and Bowmanville were already scheduled to play and naturally would not agree to meet Pic on after their series.

One fault that the O.B.A. found with the Picton management was the fact their stories to the different members of the O.B.A. did not concur to the O.B.A. were left in the dark as the actual fact was proven they did NOT have required transfers and there was no alternative but to be ruled out.

Picton claim d that transfers had been issued to other clubs in the C.O.B.L. after the final date. That is so, but was done on a vote of members at an executive meeting on September 5th, 1950. They cannot be granted after play-offs begin.

Also, after Gananoque dropped out, a rumor circulated that 6RD had dropped out. Instead of waiting for any official word, Napanee and Picton arranged a 3-out-of-five series without the knowledge of the O.B.A.

ROBT. Y. SMITH, O.B.A. Executive.

There you are folks .... we will let the readers.... and the writers.... draw their own conclusion as to whose back yard should be weeded .... and next season .... if Picton intend playing O.B.A. baseball or any other brand .... we would suggest they try players from around Picton and stay away from the "Imports" who in all sense of the word "gummed-up-the-works" .... as usual.

Back to the legitimate baseball .... the Moscow team are out of the Intermediate "C" series. The stampeding "Lennox Bees" hung it on in two straight. The second game .... the protested affair saw the Lennox team emerge victors on a 7 to 2 count. Their next opponents will be Smithfville. On Monday we were informed that the first tilt will be in Strathroma on Wednesday night (today) at 4 p.m.

The Bay of Quinte League Play-offs are under way and the scores indicate some smart baseball by the minors. In the race for the Beaver Trophy are the Napanee Lions and Deseronto. Their first meeting was rained out after a four-innings battle with a 2 all score. The second game played here over the week-end saw the Lions emerge winners by a 4 to 1 count. The third game was played on Monday night at Napanee and the Lions took a drubbing 9 to 0. Next game at Deseronto tonight.

It's on to Cobourg for the Napanee Athletics. They had little trouble in disposing of the Trenton Flyers in the first game of the round .... but apparently the second game was slightly different .... In the game here the Napanee squad drew more walks than there were spectators to win on eight hits and twelve walks for eleven runs .... At Trenton Big Ed Hooper hurled a "no-hitter" and shut the Flyers out on a 2 to 0 count. The next series is with Cobourg and a promises to be one of the best. .... the Lakeshore team have a strong pitching staff and Jamieson .... who we believe is going to join the Phillies in the future .... will likely get the first chore in trying to stop the locals. He has hurled colorful ball all season and it will be interesting to watch these two teams battle it out for the Eastern honors.

James W. S. Jamieson Marries Doris K. Myles In Ottawa

The marriage of Miss Doris Kathleen Myles, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Myles, to Mr. James W. S. Jamieson, son of Major and Mrs. C. E. Jamieson, was solemnized Saturday morning, September 9th, at 10:30 in St. Matthias' Church, Ottawa, with Rev. C. H. Ronch officiating.

The wedding music was played by Mr. R. B. Watson and the church was decorated with flame-colored gladioli at the altar, and baskets of mixed gladioli in the chancel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. D. E. Field as matron-of-honor. Mr. K. W. Hawkins was best man, and the ushers were Mr. A. H. Ruddell of Kingston and Mr. George W. Myles, brother of the bride.

For her marriage the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of beige-pink lace over sherry-colored satin, designed with Martha Washington collar, fitted bodice, and short cuffed sleeves. Her head-fitting cap of matching sherry-colored satin had a tiny turned-back brim, and she wore long mitts of beige-pink lace. Her bouquet was a semi-cascade of Talisman roses and stephanotis.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. A. Shields, Mrs. W. B. Crabbe, Desoronto; Mrs. D. C. Macnaughton, of Napanee; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shields of Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hall, of Sault Ste. Marie; Miss Verna B. Myles, of New York City.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Queen's University.

PALMER - CREIGHTON

Of interest is the wedding of Mary Luella Creighton, Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Creighton, of Sillsville, and Edward Melvin Palmer of Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer. The double-ring ceremony was solemnized in St. James' Anglican Church on Saturday, Sept. 9, at 2:00 o'clock, by Canon J. D. McKenzie Naughton. Mrs. D. Maley was organist and Mrs. Thelma Lusby sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a bridal gown of exquisite fillet lace featuring a slim sweetheart bodice with wide scalloped neckline and tiny cap sleeves. The skirt front was cut back in deeper scallops to reveal a billowing tulle underskirt over shimmering satin. The short train picked up the long point of the bodice in the back and her shoulder-length veil fell from a halo of white stephanotis. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis with white tulle.

Mrs. Glenn White of Kingston, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor, and Mrs. J. Lee of London, Ont., her cousin, was the other attendant. They were wearing gowns fashioned of green tulle, beautifully designed with full skirts and high, stand-up collars. Both attendants carried cascades of yellow gladioli. Little Miss Linda White, the bride's niece, was flower girl, wearing a gown fashioned of yellow taffeta with bouquet of yellow and white baby mums.

Mr. Don Stephens of Kingston, was best man and the groomsman was Mr. John Cronkhite of Sillsville. The ushers were Mr. Douglas Haffner and Mr. Glenn White of Kingston.

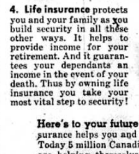
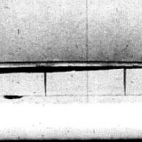
Four vital steps to security

(with something important in common)

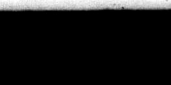


1. A steady job is the foundation of security. And job-security can be increased by showing initiative — the quality that surveys prove, makes workers most valuable. Life insurance dollars, invested in industries and public works, create many new jobs each year.

2. Owning your own home builds security two ways. It allows you to make a sound investment through regular savings, and it brings freedom from housing worries. Hundreds of thousands of Canadians now own their own homes, built with the help of life insurance dollars.



3. Cash resources, such as savings accounts and Canada Savings Bonds, promote security by providing funds for emergencies. And it is important to save regularly. Life insurance helps you save systematically — for family protection, retirement and other future needs.



4. Life insurance protects you and your family as you build security in all these other ways. It helps to provide income for your retirement. And it guarantees your dependants an income in the event of your death. Thus by owning life insurance you take your most vital step to security!

Here's to your future! In all these ways, life insurance helps you and yours to find greater security. Today 5 million Canadian life insurance policyholders are helping themselves and each other to face the future with increasing confidence!

McKINNON - BURLEIGH

Many out of town guests attended the wedding on Saturday, September 9th, of Diane Howard Burleigh, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Burleigh of Bath, to Miller Murdock (Peter) MacKinnon, son of Mrs. K. L. MacKinnon of Napanee, and the late Dr. MacKinnon, of Renfrew, Ont., in St. John's Anglican Church, Bath. Rev. L. G. Osborne-Walker officiated. Mr. W. R. Freeman, A.T.C.M. of Brighton, was the organist and Mr. J. Bartsay of Montreal, played a violin solo during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of flowered seersucker organdy, in white, fashioned on traditional lines, with a high neckline, long sleeves tapering to point over the hands and a slight train, and worn with a hoop. Her fingertip illusion veil was held by a small pleated cap of the same. She carried white baby chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Jane MacKinnon, sister of the groom, was maid-of-honur, and Miss Dorothy Platt of Kingston and Miss Cynthia Burleigh, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. Their gowns of imported organdy were floor length, with deep portrait necklines; the maid-of-honour in white and the bridesmaids in pale green. Their headdresses were starched white lace bonnets with velvet ribbons and they carried old - fashioned nosegays of mauve and white chrysanthemums.

Mr. S. Platt of Stoney Creek, was best man. Mr. Myron Mills of Napanee and Mr. Peter Burleigh, brother of the bride, were ushers.

PRE-NUPTIAN SHOWER HELD FOR MISS MARION TULLOCH

The Young People's Society and Sylsville Sunday School Class held a miscellaneous shower in honour of Miss Marion Tulloch, a bride - elect, at the home of Miss Eleanor McFadden, on Friday, Sept. 15th.

The home was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers, bells and balloons. The tea table was covered with a linen cloth and centred with a pink umbrella.

Miss Wilda Berndt had charge of the evening's entertainment which was featured by a mock ceremony. The bride-to-be was dressed in an old-fashioned gown and her long veil fell from a tiara of artificial flowers. She carried a variegated bouquet. Much merriment resulted when Mr. Bert Windover made the bride and groom-to-be take unusual vows. The ceremony was completed by a telegram of congratulations and cheque signed with Leslie Mellow's name, and a shower of confetti.

Little Miss Nava Tulloch handed her sister the presents which were hidden in a dummy. A bride's book was passed around to be inspected and signed by all those present. The guests were then invited to the dining room where Mrs. Donald Tulloch poured tea from a silver tea service. A very dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Elmer McFadden, Mrs. Bert Windover and Mrs. Leslie Mellow.

At the close of the evening, Marion and her fiance, Mr. Harold Pralick, thanked Mr. and Mrs. MJ Fadden for the use of their home and their friends for the lovely gifts and for the pleasant time. All joined in singing, For They are Jolly Good Fellows.

Minutes of The Municipal Council of The Township of North Fredericksburgh

Napanee, September [illegible], 1950

No accounts were presented.

Mr. Rockwell Parks, the Council representative for the [illegible] Board, was present, and gave an interesting summary of [illegible] building the new Collegiate Institute. After a lengthy discussion on the subject the Reeve, Mr. Perry, gave over the chair to Mr. [illegible]

Mr. Perry then made a motion that the Council approval of the building of the new Collegiate provided [illegible] ments of debenture, over twenty years, be not more than [illegible] cf. $482.41, as outlined in the Secretary-Treasurer's letter [illegible] Council under date of August 26th, 1950.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Freits, and carried.

Mr. Perry resigned the Chair.

By-law No. 7 for 1950, being a By-law to Provide [illegible] and Collection of Taxes for the year 1950 was read three times, finally, on motion by Mr. Clark, seconded by Mr. [illegible] signed and sealed.

LEONARD T. PARKS, Clerk. RAY F. [illegible]

After all is said and done, how does it taste in the cup? That is what counts!

"SALADA" TEA BAGS

They discovered Aluminum!
AN "INSIDE STORY"
1900—It wasn't only Grandma's cooking that drew the crowds. She had the first aluminum saucepan in town! In many other Canadian homes, too, this was the beginning of a bright, new era of better cooking utensils.
1925—When mother got married, she already knew how to enjoy life with aluminum. She brewed Dad's coffee in an aluminum pot... cooked those big family meals more easily in quick, even-heating aluminum.
1950—Today, daughter's kitchen belongs to the "aluminum age". She enjoys a larger selection of aluminum utensils. This "food-friendly" metal also protects the flavour, quality and purity of the foods she buys.
HINTS TO THE HOUSEWIFE
Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of cleanliness and purity.
Aluminum utensils clean easily. To remove natural deposit left by foods and water, use a tablespoon of vinegar in boiling water.
ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD.
Aluminum has been friendly to food for 50 years!

"A REALLY FINE SHOW"

DORLAND

Dorland, Sept. 15. — The sun has not shone much during the past week. Most of the time has been cloudy and damp but not much ready rain until Friday. Most of the grain in this neighborhood has finally been threshed although some of it has suffered from the long wait and exposure.

A number from here attended the anniversary services conducted in Hasburn Church last Sunday by Rev. H. G. Steers, Belleville.

A meeting of the United Church congregation was held in the church school room on Tuesday evening. Messrs. H. Allison, W. J. McCrudden and S. Mack were appointed to receive the annual thankoffering. The members of the Woman's Association are planning a bazaar to be held later. More definite arrangements will be made at their meeting next week.

Miss L. Carr spent last Sunday in Napanee, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Foster. Miss E. Foster, Ottawa, was also there as a week end guest.

We were very sorry to learn that Mrs. Frank Gallagher is seriously ill in Kingston General Hospital and wish her a speedy recovery.

Little change is reported in the condition of Miss D. Hawley who suffered a broken leg a few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dalzell have moved from our midst to Sillsville. They will be missed from the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Strickland are adding a booth and service station to their camp at Hay Bay.

Mesdames J. and R. Stalker entertained a well attended meeting of the Women's Institute on Wednesday evening. It was the first opportunity for many to meet Mrs. Campbell, who recently came among us as teacher in S. S. No. 3.

Mr. John Mack and helpers are busy pressing straw wherever the weather is suitable.

The damp, unpleasant weather prevented quite a few people from attending Picton Fair on Thursday and Friday.

CENTREVILLE

Centreville, Sept. 18.— Several from Centreville attended the anniversary services in the Enterprise United Church, Sunday, when Rev. Andrew Denholm of Bath, was the guest speaker.

Friends Honour Miss Pearl Gleeson At Social Evening

Friends of Miss Pearl Gleeson ,who is leaving town shortly, arranged a social evening in her honour at the home of Mrs. Harry E. Boyle, East Street, on Thursday evening, Sept. 21. There were about thirty present and several other friends who were invited to attend regretted they were unable to be present.

Miss Ethel Hawley, on behalf of Miss Gleeson's friends, presented her with a handsome handbag and a substantial sum of money, as a token of their esteem and good wishes.

Beautiful bouquets of flowers added to the attractiveness of Mrs. Boyle's home, and the diningroom table, from which lunch was served, was most artistically arranged.

Miss Gleeson graciously accepted the gift and thanked her friends for their kindness and good wishes.

Miss Gleeson has sold her home in Napanee and after spending about a month visiting her friends in the district and at Watertown, N.Y., expects to make her home in Windsor, where her sister, Mrs. G. O. Rutherford, resides.

TRANSPORT DRIVER KILLED NEAR MARYSVILLE

Walter Dupuis, aged 40, Mmitreal, was fatally injured early last Thursday, when the transport truck he was driving, crashed into a bridge over the creek, near Marysville.

The unfortunate driver suffered a crushed chest and a fractured skull. He died in hospital at Belleville, two hours later.

The transport overturned, scattering its cargo of beer and blocking traffic for more than three hours.

The cabin sadd a broken spring apparently sent the vehicle out of control. It struck a concrete abutment and ripped out a line of guard rails before overturning.

Peterboro, Ont. — William White isn't sure whether one of his white leghorns is a hen or a rooster. It has a tail like a rooster, crows and has a spur on one leg. On the other hand, it produces an egg every day.

But White isn't worried. 'Just one of those things,' he says.

TUBERCULOSIS SURVEY — OCT 19TH TO OCTOBER 25TH

W. F. Barrett, chairman of the Napanee Lions Club Tuberculosis Committee, said this week, that the importance of the Free X-Ray Survey to each citizen of the County of Lennox and Addington, which begins at Denbigh on October 19th and finishes in Napier the October 25th, must NOT be overlooked.

Tuberculosis is one of the most curable diseases, if it is not too far advanced when discovered and if proper treatment is given.

Prevention of the disease means the use of Xray. In its early stages Tuberculosis does not produce symptoms. An affected person is usually not conscious of being ill, and it is only when the disease has progressed that the person becomes aware of something amiss and consults his physician.

Until a Mobile Clinic equipment ,of the type coming to Lennox and Addington County, was available, chest clinics confined their services to persons known to have Tuberculosis and those with whom they were associated. As a result only one in five persons suffering from the disease was discovered in its early stages. Mass surveys of apparently healthy persons have discovered more than twice the number of such cases.

Once the X-ray has demonstrated Tuberculosis, proper treatment can be started at a sanatarium, and just as important, the affected person can be removed from the company of those who might get the disease from him.

Here are two reasons why local residents should make appointments for their X-rays:

1 Because it is good to know one's chest is healthy.

2 The discovery of the disease in its early stages means complete recovery if correct treatment is begun at last once.

In its intensive fight to stamp out Tuberculosis, the Province of Ontario is spending $2,500,000 each year.

Berculosis is an economic problem as well as a human problem, for the cost of treating a patient is approximately $5,000.00 in the case of wage earners. An additional expenditure of $2,500.00 is required to support the family.

The Christmas Seal Committee at the Napanee Lions Club are conducting the organization of canvassers in the County.

All readers of this article, please stress the fact to others of the Free X-ray in your respective district. Watch this paper for the exact date and time that the mobile X-ray Clinic will be in your neighborhood.

COOKING SCHOOL SUCCESSFUL EVENT

A very successful Robin Hood Flour Cooking School was held in the Town Hall on the evenings of September 12th, 13th and 14th, sponsored by the Evening Guild of St. Mary Magdalene Church, convened by Mrs. Deverde Powell.

The stage was skilfully transformed into a modern white kitchen, with furniture and accessories loaned by local merchants, the kitchenette set with beautiful chrome chairs, being loaned by Jos. Abramsky & Sons, the new Moffatt electric range by the Napanee Public Utilities, the McClary refrigerator by Boyle & Son and the Tappan gas stove by Wallace & Perry, Napanee representative for Hilliard Appliances, Kingston.

The Robin Hood representative, Mrs. Neal, of Toronto, who was introduced by the president of the Evening Guild, Mrs. Mervyn Cowan, proved to be very witty and entertaining besides showing a thorough knowledge of the cooking art. Each evening she made attractive and interesting dishes which greatly pleased her audience, and any samples passed around, soon disappeared, they were so delicious.

Each evening the cooked food was given away as prizes, as well as twenty-five shopping basket prizes, samples donated by large food firms.

Also given as prizes were special gifts donated by the following Napanee stores: Russell Bros., Gibbard Furniture Shops, Boyle & Son, Scrimshaw & Son, Mary Symons, Vandervoort Hardware, Wally Perry, Napanee Fish and Meat Market, Wilson Hardware, W. S. Wilson, Vine's Electric Shop, Napanee Creamery, Lander's Feed Seed and Flour, Milady Shop, Paisley Hotel, Spirella Foundations and Mrs. D. Powell's New Holland Machine Co. Percy Wall, Herb. Knuth.

A different master of ceremonies presided each evening. They were Mr. William Tice, Mr. DeVerde Powell and the Rev. W. J. Robinson. The quick wit of all three added greatly to the entertainment.

The event was very successful, both socially and financially. On the last evening, Mrs. Neal was presented with a gift of jewellery from the members of the Evening Guild and an invitation was extended to return again next year, with another cooking school.

Britons Unearth Roman Village

Colchester, Essex, England. Archaeologists of the Roman Essex Society have unearthed what they believe to be ruins of the ancient Roman settlement of Canonium.

Excavations already have uncovered six villas.

Around the sites of the villas, diggers found a fine example of tessellated pavement, the finest pottery-heating plants, a quantity of 12th century pottery and coins of many periods. Dwellings were traced 200 yards away. These had Roman roofs with tiles interlocked partly similar to those found on the roof of a nearby Norman church.

Tax Foundation Inc., has discovered that in one average U. S. city, a loaf of bread was affected by no less than 25 taxes between the basic ingredients and the grocer.

Athletics Win First Game 5-2 From Cobourg

Second Game Today at Cobourg

The Napanee Athletics defeated Cobourg Legion in the first game of the Intermediate 'B' Eastern Ontario play-offs, 5 to 2, last Saturday afternoon, at the Lions Operated Gilbert Memorial Park, before a fair crowd of fans, and braved the bitter cold wind that swept the Park, all afternoon. Twelve Cobourg hitters faced Stan McTaggart in the first three innings before scoring any two runs, after which he settled down and was the only out of reach of the right fielder. For a time, when carried by the wind out of reach of the right fielder. For three innings when carried by the wind out of reach of the right fielder. For the balance of the game McTaggart had the upper hand. In the eight inning, the visitors had two men aboard but smart fielding left them stranded.

For Cobourg, "Soup" Campbell started and finished three games on the hill for the losers, allowing seven hits in all, and walked a run in. Smith was rushed to the slab and retired the needed third man.

The standout for the Athletics was Joe Jcko, who played sparkling baseball, both on the third sack and with the bat. Jocko ,smashed out two singles and a ringing double, had four put outs, assisted in four others. He also batted in three of the five runs.

Only one double play was collected and the A's latched onto that in the second innings, Green to Green to Green.

McTaggart stopped five at the plate, walked three, and hit one batter, and gave up eight hits. For Cobourg, Campbell struck out three and walked six, hit two batters, and allowed seven hits in six and two-third innings. Smith walked one and struck out one for the balance of the game.

Extra base hits were clouted by Jocko, wi h a double, and Clarey and F. Goody, for Cobourg, with a triple apiece.

Part of Machinery Nof Damaged

A loss of $100 000 was estimated as the result of a fire, which almost completely destroyed the Newburgh Cheese Factory on Sunday evening, September 24th. When members of the congregation of Newburgh United Church were leaving the church at about 8.30 p.m. smoke was seen issuing from the back part ofthe factory. An alarm was turned in and Newburgh Fire Department was very quickly on the job. When it was discovered that the blaze had gained serious headway, a call was put in to the Napanee Fire Department. The Napanee pumper and a number of firemen left immediately for Newburgh, but were unable to be of any help, as a valve in the pumper burned out a few minutes after arrival. Lack of water added to the difficulty of fighting the fire.

Only a few milk cans and some other small equipment were saved from the front part of the factory. Machinery in the front part of the factory is believed to have escaped serious damage.

The damage was fairly well covered by insurance, but the loss to the community which the factory serves is quite serious. Milk ready for the factory on Monday was taken to other surrounding factories and to the Acme Farmers Dairy in Napanee.

The factory, which operates under the name of The Newburgh Cheese Factory is owned by Mac Remington, who is also the cheesemaker.

No plans have yet been made regarding the rebuilding of the factory.

During the past week, three other cheese factories in Ontario were destroyed by fire, one at Cressy last week, one at Carthage near Kitchener on Saturday and a third at Mitchellville, near Lansdowne on Sunday.

SUM OF MONEY STOLEN RECENTLY FROM POOL ROOM

Quite a large sum of money was taken from Killorin's Pool Room on Dundas Street, in Napanee, some time after midnight on Thursday, September 21. Entrance to the building was gained by breaking a glass in the back door and lifting a bar, which was used to fasten the door.

The money was taken from the cash register, the rear of the stock of tobacco and cigarettes was missed. The pool room was closed by the manager, Joe Killorin, at midnight and the robbery was not discovered until quite some time on Thursday.

The police are investigating and hope soon to be able to apprehend the culprit.

MORE THAN ONE MILLION CANADIAN WORKERS ARE MEMBERS OF TRADE UNIONS

The annual survey of labour organizations by the Department of Labor has revealed that there were 1,005,639 union members in Canada on December 31, 1949, an increase of almost three per cent over the previous year. The inclusion of Newfoundland unions in the survey for the first time, accounted for about 24,000 among the total membership.

This was, in part, responsible for a substantial advance in the membership of international and of incorporated unions. Some falling of in the membership of a few purely Canadian unions, was noted.

WHOOPING COUGH NOW PREVALENT IN THE COUNTY

A number of cases of whooping cough have been found throughout the County recently, by the Health Unit staff. In most cases no doctor had been called, and it has been found that children who should have been quarantined were attending school. When parents suspect that their children might be developing whooping cough they should call their family physician.

The isolation period for a patient with whooping cough is three weeks from the beginning of the whoop. Contacts under twelve years of age are quarantined for two weeks from the last contact of a case.

Children who have had a course of whooping cough receive a year or more ago should have a booster dose.

Whooping cough is especially dangerous during the first year of age. It is a very debilitating illness, and complications are not infrequent, the most serious being bronchopneumonia.

A PANICKY DECISION

We hold no brief for the Communists. In this post war world they have shown themselves to be non-co-operative. They have balked every attempted united effort for peace. It is hard to do business with them, in the United Nations.

In spite of all this, however, we are of the opinion that the law passed in the United States last week, dealing with the Communists in that country, is a bad law. The President vetoed it, but the Senate passed it over the President's veto.

Under this Bill, Communist organizations will have to register with the government, and members will have to register individually. In time of war Communists can be put in concentration camps. Immigrants may not be Communists, and if they join a Communist party within ten years after immigrating, they will be denied citizenship.

President Truman said the law would be unworkable and would therefore, help the Communists. He was afraid, too, that such a law would open the way for thought control.

We are quite sure that the best way to deal with Communists, is not to drive them underground, but to keep them out in the open where they are under the constant searchlight of public opinion.

The President was on sure ground when he deprecated the tendency to thought control. We have seen enough of that in our day, especially as it operated in Russia, and in Japan. If Democracy is the way of life we believe in, then we should be willing to let ideas have their chance. Ideas can never be crushed by force; they can only be crushed by better ideas. In spite of all we can do, ideas will get out in the world. To suppress them is the way of dictatorship.

Of course, in time of national danger, all who would sabotage the national effort or bring comfort to the enemy, should be locked up. But any trend towards attempting to control what people think, will end in failure. And, anyway, it is contrary to the principles on which Democracy is founded.

ABOUT TIME TO CALL QUITS

We always thought there was something a bit funny about these beauty contests; who ran them, how they were conducted, where the beauties came from and all that sort of thing sort of puzzled us. Now the cat is out of the bag. It appears that a Canadian, living in Hamilton, Ont., has a franchise from someone in the United States, to hold a contest for Miss Canada. This year's "Miss Canada", Miss Margaret Bradford, says that the winner was picked months ago and she was the one who got the call, and then at the last minute, four other "beauties" were rounded up in order to make a competition. Mr. Weaver, the Canadian from Hamilton, who holds the American franchise to conduct a contest in Canada, says the judges were not told that he had picked the winner. The contest was on the up - and - up. The fact that the judges and the promotor hit on the same beauty was coincidental. He really did not say that about being coincidental, but that is the implication of his remarks.

We have heard about horse races being "fixed" and of other contests being "thrown away." Now, it is revealed that months before the beauty contest was conducted "Miss Canada" was chosen, and informed of the choice.

Perhaps we have gone far enough with this 'Miss' management. Why not call the whole thing quits, and leave it to enterprising and inventive promoters to think up a new one.

COURAGEOUS

The Labour Government is a Socialist Government. It is a courageous government. It was elected to power right after the war, on a program of nationalization of a number of utilities. During its first term of office, it nationalized every utility it had set out to nationalize, except one. The exception was the efficient, powerful iron and steel industry. Just before the last election, a bill was put through to nationalize iron and steel. It was never made law. The government went to the country and was returned with a pretty slim majority.

A less courageous government would have softpedalled the highly contentious bill. But Premier Attlee, in answer to a question from the opposite side of the House, declared the Government was going to put the law into effect. The law provides that the Government could buy up the stock of the 500 steel companies for about $84,000,000. A debate was held on the issue, last week, and by the narrow margin of six votes, the Government was sustained. So steel and iron will become nationalized, some time after January 1st, next.

The vote was a close one and the six majority represents about the same majority which the Labour Party has in the House, over all the others combined.

It was a brave thing for the Labour Government to do. It was about the last contentious plank in the Labour platform. So now, Labour will probably remain in power for a while longer. For weal or woe, the experiment with a Socialist Democracy will get a new lease on life.

WHEN IT COMES !

Next year, Canada is promised Television. It is the newest and greatest method of popular mass communication yet devised. Millions of television sets are now in current use in The United States. It is an absorbing form of entertainment. It completely absorbs the viewer's time. With a radio, one can listen to the music while, at the same time, read, do hand work, or go about the ordinary duties about the house. Not so television; one has both to look and to listen. It absorbs one's complete attention.

Since it is so absorbing, every care should be exercised to provide profitable and good entertainment. In the United States, the demand for "sets" mushroomed so greatly and quickly that less time was given to perfecting programmes than should have been given.

It is well known in the industry, that there is something wrong with the programmes; even those who are responsible for them have not, yet, been able to put their finger on the trouble. The public is not satisfied, neither are the promoters of the programmes, themselves. In the meantime, they are experimenting.

Canada should take a lesson from the experience of the United States. There is no doubt that the quality of the C.B.C. radio programmes rank very high. Great numbers of Americans tune in on the Canadian network, to avoid some of the features which seem to be part of a great percent of the American programmes.

Similarly, the C.B.C. should take time by the forelock and plan a long - term programme of television. It has such tremendous possibilities for affecting human behaviour, that the best brains in the nation should be called in, and set to work. They should travel to the United States, and to Great Britain, to learn from the experience of others. Canada will have little trouble in building transmitting stations; technical difficulties can be overcome. The real problem will be to provide the right kind of programme. A hit-and-miss programme hastily improvised, will not do. It requires a lot of long term planning, and all that should be ready, when we get the green signal.

WHO IS WINNING ?

In the last twenty-five years, consumption of alcoholic beverages in Ontario has become a major social problem.

From 1939 to 1949, the population of the province increased 17.5%. In the same decade value of sales of alcoholic beverages increased 276%.

Detailed Ontario Liquor Control Board statistics are as follows, for the year ending March 31st in each case:

	1939	1949	Increase
Spirits	$19,259,964	$ 74,116,294	283%
Wine	4,057,969	10,272,820	153%
Beer	26,200,052	103,422,050	294%
	$49,637,585	$187,811,674	278%
Per capita	$13.23	$42.35

None of the foregoing represent true consumer expenditures since the Board's report combines wholesale and retail sales.

Gallonage consumption in the past ten years was as follows:

	1939	1949	Increase
Spirits	1,559,019	3,244,816	108%
Wine	1,716,894	2,268,394	32%
Beer	24,737,101	69,586,168	181%

The people of Ontario are consuming over twice as much spirits as they were a decade ago, one-third more wine, and almost three times as much beer.

The gallonage of absolute alcohol consumed was approximately as follows, taking into account variations in strength and alcoholic content:

in Spirits	670,378	1,297,926
in Wine	257,535	340,259
in Beer	1,236,855	3,479,308

This represents an increase of 126 per cent. Per capita consumption of absolute alcohol in 1939 was 576 gallons. In 1949 it had risen to 1,160 gallons.

Breaches of liquor acts	5,634	6,597*
Convictions for possession of liquor in an illegal place	5,144	7,125
Imprisonment for crimes against public morals and decency	824	1,277*
Public order and peace	21,317	24,283*
Imprisonment for being drunk and disorderly	7,666	11,685*
Convictions for drunkenness	18,120	32,701

Are we gaining on the problem or is the problem gaining on us?

PLOW MUSEUM AT INTERNATIONAL PLOWING MATCH

This year's big International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration, being held near Allliston, October 10th to 13th, will feature both the old and the new in plows, as well as good plowing. In addition to all the most modern in plows and other farm machinery exhibited on Farm Machinery Row, there will also be a plow museum this year. This museum will include a plow which is supposed to be the oldest in North America. The plow for which this claim is made was built in 1804 by Thomas Ward. Other plows exhibited will range in age from this one which is 146 years old, right up to the most modern ones, and will provide a sight which should be of interest to any plowman, and for that matter to anyone interested in agriculture and the developments which have taken place in the past century and a half.

This Plow Museum is only one of the many attractions of the 1950 version of the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration which annually draws about 100,000 people from all parts of the province. The fact this event is held at a different location each year often presents problems from the standpoint of living accommodation for visitors to the area. However, the people in the locality have always been able to look after the visitors, provided they had advance information of their requirements, and Simcoe County, which is playing host this year has always been noted as a hospitable county. Even so, the people in Simcoe would have advance notice so they can make sure the visitors are looked after in the way they would like to look after them.

There is a Billeting Committee under the chairmanship of W. J. Wood of Allliston, and anyone contemplating going to the match would be well-advised to write to Mr. Wood as soon as possible. The latter should state definitely when they will be there and the kind of accommodation wanted. With this information in their hands in advance, you can rest assured of being well cared for.

Women are important taxpayers today. In the State of Connecticut for instance, a woman's hat is subject to 150 government taxes in one form or another.

Ottawa. — Nearly 650 miles of the new Trans-Canada Highway will be completed this year and another 1,000 miles of new construction are planned for next year, its planners have disclosed.

Officials of the Government's Trans Canada Highway branch, told British United Press that 647 miles of highway would be built under 1950 contracts, worth $17,873,000. The job will be carried out in all provinces except Nova Scotia and Quebec, which have not yet signed the highway agreement.

The officials said they expected that contracts for work in 1951 would amount to about $65,000,000 unless the Government decided to divert the money to defence. That amount would pay for about 1,000 miles of grading and some paving, they said.

There was no indication yet, they said, that the Government planned to reduce scheduled highway expenditures because of the international situation. They said they doubted that there would be a reduction, because the highway itself was regarded as a defence measure.

The 647 miles to be completed this year will include 189 miles of paved road, and 458 miles of grading. Work was ranged from 10 miles of construction in Prince Edward Island, to 203 in Ontario.

The contracts also provide for the construction of six bridges which will form a part of the $300,000,000 coast-to-coast system. Three of the bridges will be built in British Columbia, and one each in New Brunswick, Ontario, and Saskatchewan.

Branch officials said they had no figures on the number of miles of existing highway which will be incorporated in the 5,140 mile system.

Route Decided On

The general route of the highway now has been decided for the eight provinces which have signed the agreement, they said. However, these provinces have not yet agreed on what sections of existing road along the general route will be included in the system.

"The provinces no ware making surveys of these roads to determine what sections should become part of the highway," they said. "This work is expected to be completed next spring."

When we get this information we will be able to determine how many miles of highway remain to be built.

The officials said that some sections of existing roads will be of sufficient high standard to be incorporated into the system. Other sections will have to be improved before they come up to standard.

WHAT IS CHRISTIAN LIVING ?

Lesson Text: Matthew 5, 13-16,20. Philippians 1: 27-30; Thessalonians 5: 15-23; James 1: 22, 26, 27.

Here are four passages, each of which set forth an aspect of Christian deportment. In the first one Jesus tells the disciples that Christians are the salt of the earth. Salt has two main attributes. In the first place it is a preservative. It prevents food from going bad. Christians must be the moral preservative of society. Sometimes I get discouraged at Christians who conform so easily to the ways of the world. After all, they must be different. God depends on them to preserve moral standards and moral conduct in the world.

But salt adds flavour to food. Food is tasteless without salt. Christianity adds to the joy and happiness of life. Life is not all excitement and riotous living. The real joy of life is that which comes from a happiness derived from faith and hope and peace. The Christian should be the happiest person in the world. His joy is contagious; he adds something to the drab, and the wearinges of the hum-drum. All too often we go on our way without too much show of religion. We are a bit afraid of show. Let "your light so shine." Jesus says. Don't put it under a basket; show just what Jesus means to you and the world.

In the next section Paul has a word of admonition and advice. He urges that Christians stand firm in one spirit. We need that in our divided Christian witness. We need to know that we are all one in the Spirit, one in loyalty to Jesus Christ, one in devotion to the God he portrayed, and one in our love to our fellow man.

Paul tells his audience that they are not to worry because people oppose them; Christians must be prepared for opposition. The average Christian does not meet much opposition in our modern society. At least he does not show that he does. Few of us suffer for our faith. There are ways in which we might well be prepared to suffer, but conformity to a secular standard is so much easier and so less difficult. We love to point to those who have suffered for their faith. We take pride in our history — our Paul, Luther, Wesley, Ridley and Latimer. And yet, we never think of ourselves as suffering for the faith.

In this next section from Thessalonians, Paul has some very practical things to say. He says that Christians should not render evil for evil — that they should continue in prayer. Excellent advice; not confined, by any means, to those of Paul's day. Prayer is not merely saying prayers—though even that is essential, especially in the training of the young — but intimate communication with God, to find out His will for us. It is the heart of Christian practice.

The Book of James is the most practical book in The New Testaments, in many ways. Paul has emphasized 'faith' James wants to see 'works'. He wants to see things get done. He wants the poor taken care of, and the widows and the orphans to be looked after by church people. Well! faith and works must go together. Divorced from evangelism, social service becomes institutionalism. Divorced from social service, evangelism becomes selfish emotionalism.

NEWBURGH - STRATHCONA W. C. T. U.

The regular monthly meeting of the Newburgh - Strathcona Union was held Sept. 20th at the home of Miss Margaret Cameron, Mrs. G. R. Fraser, president, presided. The devotional period, under the supervision of Miss Cameron, consisted of a hymn a passage of scripture, a portion of a sermon on the indifferent attitude of people toward the moral issues of the present day, and prayer by Mrs. H. B. Herrington. A message from the World W.C.T.U. and Canada was read by Mrs. Lochead, in which women were urged to arise with renewed consecration to help bring in Christ's Kingdom on earth.

Business of interest was the distribution of schedules for the remainder of the year; a message from the County President, and the appointment of a committee to arrange for a parlour meeting. Resolutions passed by the Provincial W.C.T.U. Toronto, were read, also the plan of work. The Clip Sheet 'Youth Should not be Restricted in Growth' was most thought-provoking. A pleasing and interesting feature was Mrs. Doris Wilson's account of her motor trip to Prince Edward Island, recently.

At the close of the meeting, tea was served by the hostess and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

RE PLAN TO MERGE VICTORIA TRUST AND SAVINGS COMPANY AND GREY and BRUCE TRUST AND SAVINGS COMPANY

The Board of Directors of the Victoria Trust and Savings Company of Lindsay, Ontario, and the Board of Directors of the Grey and Bruce Trust and Savings Company of Owen Sound, held meetings on September 13th and 14th, respectively, at which a plan to merge the two Companies into one amalgamated Company, to be known as "Victoria and Grey Trust Company", was unanimously approved by each Board. Each Company has called a special general meeting of its shareholders to consider and, if approved, ratify an agreement covering the merger, and notices to this effect have been mailed to shareholders. Definite approval of the plan by the shareholders cannot be obtained until October 31st, when both Companies are holding their meetings.

Both Companies operate under Province of Ontario Charters, and have provided a Trust, Savings and Loan service in Central Ontario for many years. It is planned to continue the same facilities and services as are presently maintained at all the branches of the two Companies. The two Boards of Directors are to combine to form the Board of Directors of the Amalgamated Company.

The Victoria Trust and Savings Company was established at Lindsay, Ontario, in 1895, and operates branches at Belleville and Cannington. Mr. T. H. Stinson, K.C., of Lindsay, is President of the Company, and Mr. H. J. McLaughlin, K.C., of Toronto, and Mr. F. G. Ferrin, of Oakwood, are Vice Presidents. The Grey and Bruce Company was founded at Owen Sound in 1889, and in addition to its head office there operates a branch at Peterborough. Its President is Mr. George D. Fleming, of Owen Sound, and Mr. J. G. Fraser, of the same city. Mr. E. W. Cooper, of Meaford, and Mr. T. A. Mackey, of Peterborough, are Vice Presidents.

Letters to the shareholders recommending the plan to merge are very similar, and the following extract is common to them both:

"Your Directors earnestly believe that it is in the best interests of the shareholders to unite the two Companies; they already have much in common and a friendly feeling has existed between them for many years. Combining their assets, operations and experience should result in increased business and earnings, thus benefitting the shareholders. The pooling of assets will provide wider diversification of security for the shares, thus strengthening their position. The Amalgamated Company, with assets of about $37,000,000 and a long history of service in the Province of Ontario, should enjoy a high standing among Canadian Trust Companies."

The merger agreement provides that shares of each Company are to be exchanged for shares in the Amalgamated Company on a par for par basis. It is planned to have the shares of the Amalgamated Company of $10 par value, and application is to be made to list them on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Victoria shares being of $100 par value will receive ten of the new shares for each present share. The capital stock of the Grey and Bruce Company being shares of $50 par value will receive five shares of $10 par value of the Amalgamated Company for each present share. Previous to the merger of the two Companies the Victoria shareholders will receive a special cash dividend of $2.50 per share, which is being distributed for the purpose of equalizing the shares of the two Companies par for par. 39a

by "Red" Miller

The jig - saw pattern of baseball is gradually being put together and the O.B.A. play-offs district winners are being sent further afield in the effort to bring about championships. As for the local Athletics they are now engaged in a best of five series with Cobourg. The first game, here last Saturday, saw the Napanee squad play sparkling baseball behind the "Stanley" McDugart, to edge the Legionnaires 5 to 2 ... on a rainy, cold weather. The second stanza is slated for Cobourg this afternoon, Wednesday, at 4.30 D.S.T. and the third affair ... either Friday or Monday here ... we think.

In the C. O. B. L. Smiths Falls emerged top team in the finals with the Memo ... four games to two ... in the series.

Batawa is in the throes of a best in five affair with Bowmanville ... one tie game ... one win apiece ... with a fort ified game thrown in, and the outcome of it all is anybody's guess.

The Bata Shoemen have Bowmanville two games to one in the Intermediate A fixture ... at Belleville on Friday night, they hammered the "Risers" 15 to 2 ... five runs in the seventh, and eight in the eighth ... the losers used four pitchers ... Wright went the route for Bata.

Fort Erie took Tillsonburg in two straight and the score of the last game was 17 to 6. They now await the ultimate winner of Wallaceburg and Listowel.

To muddle it up further ... the winner of the Napanee-Cobourg duel meets the winner of the Fort Erie-Listowel-Wallaceburg affair ... This should take place around "snow-time" ... if the usual number of games are need d to declare a "championship team" ...

In re and to the Lenn x Bees, who "were" in the Intermediate C division ... they were soundly and loudly trounced in two straight ... by large scores ... Apparently the Stouffville squad were opponent with the wilkie in both fixtures. Stouffville now meet Milton for the Orant title ... we believe.

In the Bay of Quinte League play-offs for The B ver Trophy ... a nip-and-tuck affair ... with the local Lions needing one win to clinch the deal ... That game will likely be played this week ... it will be a battle ... Try and see it.

In regard to Saturday's game with Cobourg ... it was one of the best game this year ... and it had every thing in it ... especially one Joe Jock ... who played brilliant baseball and his efforts, both with the hardwood and on the field ... contributed largely to the well deserved win.

The winter-like weather dampened the spirits of a lot of fans ... but a good crowd was on hand for the affair. Several bon-fires were noted during the afternoon as the brates thawed out their digits and as one fan put it ... he had two popsicles that day ... one in each shoe.

Mrs. W. D. Graham entertained at a tea at her home, Newburgh Rd., on Saturday, Sept. 23rd, in honour of her mother, Mrs. Frances Nicholson, who on that day was celebrating her 84th birthday.

Over fifty guests called during the afternoon, to offer congratulations and best wishes to Mrs. Nicholson. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. F. B. On behalf of her friends, Mrs. Nicholson was presented with a handsome afternoon hand bag by Mrs. R. H. Paul, and Mrs. Wm. Howitt presented Mrs. Exley with a cup and saucer and bridge table cover, gifts from her friends.

Both ladies were also given corsages and Mr. Mills was presented with a Boutonniere and a box of chocolates.

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH NEWS

Harvest Thanksgiving was observed in St. Alban the Martyr Church, Andhuawen, on Sunday morning. The church was beautifully decorated with fruit, vegetables and flowers. Mrs. H. Box presided at the organ for the special harvest hymns. The Rector spoke on the subject of Thankfulness, using as illustrations some of the hymns sung. Holy Communion was celebrated with special intention for the many people of other lands who are not as fortunate as this one. There were sixty worshippers present with thirty-five communicants. After the first hymn, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Box was christened, receiving the name, Philip Arthur. Mr. James Chalmers was godfather, the three other godparents were by proxy.

Little Helpers' Service and Party ... At 2.30 p.m., on Saturday, Little Helpers and their parents, numbering twenty-five, took part in a service conducted by the Rector, Rev. H. C. Secker. Hymns for children were sung and a short address was given. Following the service a party was held at the 'Anchorage' home of Mrs. E. Schmidt, who is secretary of the Little Helpers. Games were played until tea time when the children sat down to a wonderful supper. Balloons and candy were also enjoyed by the children. Tea was also served to the parents and members of the Senior W. A. Assisting the Hostess were Mrs. A. Heathcote and Mrs. Stephen Gretiano.

STINSON - GEROW

A pretty midsummer wedding was solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 16th at 2:00 o'clock, in the afternoon, at Newburgh United Church, when Rev. George Murray united in marriage Lorna Marie Gerow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gerow of Newburgh, and Fenwick Fraser Stinson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Stinson, of Odessa. The church was prettily decorated with gladioli and dahlias. The wedding music was played by Miss Lulu Fiske and Mrs. Hugh Ramsay sang 'I Love You Truly' during the ceremony and 'O Perfect Love' during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with lace trimmed yoke, caught in place with pearls, designed with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and full skirt worn with rows of lace. Her finger-tip veil of white illusion, fell from a coronet headdress of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and baby mums.

Mrs. Leland Dowker, of Kingston, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a turquoise blue corded silk taffeta gown with low neckline, beaded yoke and very full skirt worn with matching mitts and hat of net. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The flower girl was Miss Joan Stinson of Toronto, niece of the groom, who was attired in a gold silk gown with matching mitts and headdress, and Linda Fenwick of Enterprise, who wore a pink silk gown with matching mitts and headdress. Each carried nosegays of pink roses.

Mr. John Stinson, Toronto, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Mr. Leland Dowker of Kingston, and Mr. George Stinson, Odessa.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's mother received the guests in a fuschia crepe dress with navy accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the mother of the groom wearing a grey crepe dress with navy accessories and corsage of red roses. The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake.

For travelling to Niagara Falls, North Bay and other points, the bride chose a wine gabardine suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

KENNELLY - HOGAN

A very pretty autumn wedding took place at Holy Name Church, Kingston Mills, on Tuesday, September 19, when Mary Eileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hogan, and John Joseph son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Kennelly Sr., were united in the bonds of holy matrimony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white satin gown, designed with fitted bodice and net yoke, with Chantilly lace. The full skirt was made with a side and back bustle effect and fell to a cathedral train. A beaded coronet held her fingertip veil of tulle illusion and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Rita Hogan, who wore an ice blue nylon net over satin gown, with matching mitts and matching headdress. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations and baby mums.

Miss Patricia Hogan, cousin of the bride, was flower-girl in a gown of pale rose, with matching headdress. She carried a nosegay of red, yellow and pink roses.

Rev. Dr. D. A. Casey officiated and the wedding music was played by Prof. L. Nourrey, Kingston.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's mother received the guests in a navy and white dress, with a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore navy with grey accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold compact.

After they return from a trip to Montreal and Quebec, the couple will reside near Napanee.

BAPTISMAL SERVICE AT CAMDEN EAST

On Sunday, Sept. 24th in St. Luke's Church, Camden East, the sacrament of Infant Baptism was administered by the rector, Rev. M. F. Oldham, at the 3 p.m. service, upon Donna Elizabeth Louise MacDonald, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence MacDonald of Camden East, and upon Allen James, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carroll, of Camden East.

The sponsors for the MacDonald baptism were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edgar of Napanee, and Mr. and Mrs. Wylie McDonald of R.R. 3, Kingston, and for the Carroll baptism the sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Carroll of Camden East and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carroll of 54 Stephen Street, Kingston.

There was a good attendance and the rector preached an appropriate sermon on the Doctrinal Significance of Holy Baptism. Beautiful flowers placed on the altar by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Carroll, enriched the chancel.

OBITUARIES

MR. PERCY LEMMON

Mr. William Percy Lemmon passed away very suddenly on Sunday morning, September 17th, at his home at Wilton. Mr. Lemmon, who resided on the Sixth Concession of Ernestown, was in the act of doing his morning chores, when he was stricken with a heart attack, and passed away. He was found shortly afterwards the milk drawer.

Mr. Lemmon, who was 56 years of age, a son of the late William Lemmon and Annie Huff, spent all his life in the Camden East, Violet and Wilton areas, having lived over thirty years on the farm where he died. Mr. Lemmon was a very kindly, jovial person, and a friend to all. He was a member of the Wilton Presbyterian Church, and after its closing, he attended the Baptist Church in Napanee.

Funeral service was held from his late residence on Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. R. C. Cornish of Napanee Baptist Church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Hall, a former minister of the Baptist Church. Left to mourn are his wife, formerly Martha Forbes, a son, William, also two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Stevens of Wilton and Mrs. Stuart Martin of Glenvale, and one brother, Mr. Walter Lemmon of Violet. A special number at the funeral service was a solo 'The City Four Square' by Mrs. (Rev.) Hall. The very largely attended funeral, with the number of floral tributes, testified to the high esteem in which Mr. Lemmon was held.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. Nelson Peters, Fred Lees, Rupert Snider, Wilson Hayes, Earl Peters and Archie Scouten. Flower - bearers were Bliss Sharpe, Claude Storms, Warren Walker, Durlan Kellar, Clare O'Neill and Glen O'Neill.

Interment took place in Camden East Anglican Cemetery.

Much sympathy is extended to Mrs. Lemmon and son, Billy, also other surrowing relatives.

DORLAND

Dorland, Sept. 23. — Farmers have been taking advantage of the more favorable weather of the past few days to get their delayed fall wheat sown, but the work is not yet completed. There have been a few light white frosts but no damage has been reported. Flowers are still blooming in the open and tomatoes are still being picked, and corn is still green.

The Women's Association met in the church school room on Wednesday afternoon. The chief item of interest was the plans for the bazaar to be held in November.

Regular preaching service will be resumed on October 1st. Services have been broken for several weeks by holidays and anniversary services.

We were sorry to learn that Mrs. Frank Gallagher, who was expected home from Kingston Hospital early in the week, had taken a turn for the worse and had undergone an operation, reports were encouraging. Mr. A. Allen and Mr. James Bruce, Sr., have both been seriously ill at their homes.

STRATHCONA MISSION BAND

Strathcona Mission Band met in the school on Friday afternoon. The meeting opened by singing 'a hymn, and repeating the members' 'purpose in unison. Ally Sutton gave a poem, 'Hurrah for School', and Fay Hartwick read 'Watch the Corners of Your Mouth.' The minutes were read by the secretary, Beverley Buck. Miss Milligan gave a reading 'Three Little Pigs' and Norman Card recited 'Tabby the Temperance Cat.'

Ten members took part in a quiz on Japan, after which Mrs. Bruce Finlay introduced the new study book 'Tama and Toshio'. The worship period followed, when Elizabeth Buck read a psalm and prayer was offered by the leader, Kathleen Buck gave a reading 'Shera Brings the Medicine' and after the offering the closing hymn was sung. World Friends were distributed and a treat of candy was passed.

Conway- - Sandhurst Home and School Association

The September meeting of Conway-Sandhurst Home and School Association was held September 19th at 8:00 p.m. at Conway School, with only a fair attendance. The Association accepted the invitation of Adolphustown W. I. to supply the programme on November 8th at Adolphustown Town Hall. Members were urged to attend the Eastern Ontario Regional Conference of Home and School Associations in Churchill School, Kingston, September 29. Mrs. Harrison, Art Director of Kingston schools, has agreed to teach art one afternoon at Conway School, in the near future. Parents will be welcome to this class. It is hoped Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw will be guest speakers at the next meeting, October 17th.

The president, Mrs. M. Young, gave a few highlights of the annual convention, followed by a ten-minute talk on 'Planning the Family Budget' by our parent education convener, Mrs. G. Stewart. Attention was drawn to Home and School literature on hand, and also to Louis Bromfield's latest book 'Out of the Earth,' now available from the Home and School library, and at present circulating in this association.

Mrs. Young introduced the guest speaker, Mr. H. H. Langford, Public School Inspector, who spoke on the new course of study, especially as it affects rural schools. Mr. Langford in a very informal and interesting manner, explained how the old curriculum had outgrown its usefulness and the need for its revision, and quelled many doubts regarding the Porter plan. An interesting question and answer period followed, and during the social half - hour Mr. Langford told of his map-reading classes at summer school, and also mentioned the maps of local districts available at small cost.

Mrs. K. Morrow moved a sincere vote of thanks to Mr. Langford and the National Anthem brought a worthwhile evening to a close.

MISS MARION TULLOCH HONOURED WITH SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. James Lewry, Hawley, in honour of Miss Marion Tulloch, who became the bride of Mr. Harold Fralick on September 23rd.

The evening was well planned with a number of contests being conducted by Miss Lois Babcock.

Following an enjoyable lunch the guests left for home with many good wishes for the bride-to-be.

ITS FRAGRANCE IS SEALED IN VACUUM

IN 50 YEARS ALUMINUM HAS GROWN TO BE A LARGE PART OF CANADIAN LIVING

Shipshaw No. 2 puts a river to work

"Daddy, what makes it hum?"

"HARNESSED RAINDROPS, SONNY!" It's a true answer...

In Shipshaw powerhouse you are awed by the hum of twelve gigantic generators. They are driven by rain and snow which fill Lake St. John and pour down the Saguenay River.

The water is channelled to a man-made lake on top of a hill. Then it rushes down tunnels chiselled through solid rock to dash against turbines like the model at which the boy is peering—but weighing 50 tons.

The turbines drive generators. The electricity they generate speeds to nearby Arvida. There it refines shining aluminum out of bauxite from British Guiana.

Over 1000 Canadian companies form aluminum into all sorts of useful articles. All this means work for Canadians. This country supplies nothing but the raindrops — and the brains, hands and enterprise to harness them.

The hum in the power house at Shipshaw is a hymn of progress. It is a sound of Canada's standard of living going up...

Mysterious Death Being Investigated At Deseronto

Man Found Dead Following Party

Investigation is continuing into the mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of James Henry Barnhardt, who was found dead on September 22nd, at the residence of Mrs. Arthur Claus, Brant Street, in Deseronto. The body of the 53-year-old Indian was found on the floor of the house when Mrs. Claus returned from a visit. She had been away since noon of the day before. Chief of Police Harry S. Pratt received a call from Mrs. Claus' sister-in-law Friday morning to report that she had found a "dead man lying on the parlor floor" when she returned home.

On arrival of the police, the body was identified as that of Jas. Barnhardt, a resident of Maple Avenue. Apparently he had been dead for several hours. The house was locked up by the police and the body left there until pictures could be taken.

Dr. D. C. McVicker, of Deseronto, coroner, was called and pronounced the man dead. About half an hour later, Ont. Provincial Police Constable James Driscoll, of Belleville, who had been called, arrived to take police photographs of the body, its position and the room in which it was found.

MYSTERIOUS CASE

What at first appeared to have been foul play was investigated and the circumstances whereby the body of the man came to be in the house so far from his own home caused some concern. The condition of the body indicated that he might have been poisoned and Dr. W. D. Hay, pathologist, Queen's University, performed a post-mortem at four o'clock Friday afternoon and attributed death to a heart seizure and acute alcoholism.

When discovered Barnhardt's body was lying on the floor, partially clad, wrapped in blankets. His watch, wallet and shoes were missing, along with $45 in cash. Later it was found that keys he carried with him were also gone.

Investigation established that Barnhardt had been drinking off and on during Thursday and that he was the of several believed to have attended a party on Thursday night at the house in which his body was found. The police commenced work to find out where the man had actually died and on Sunday evening, Inspector E. Wright, of the Criminal Investigation Branch of the Ontario Provincial Police, arrived to assist in the investigation. On Monday the keys and shoes belonging to Barnhardt were recovered and seven or eight persons were held to have information regarding the mystery were cross-examined on Monday.

Inspector Wright left on Tuesday night to return to Toronto, following which he will make a report and recommendations regarding the case.

Many questions remain to be answered regarding the way in which Barnhardt met death some time during the hours of the chill September night. A preliminary inquest was held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, for the purpose of identifying the body and then was adjourned until Monday, October 2nd.

The late James Barnhardt was born on the Tyendinaga Mohawk Indian Reserve, Deseronto, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Henry Barnhardt. He was a labourer and a member of the Anglican Church. Surviving is a brother, Isaac Barnhardt, who lives on the Reserve.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to All Saints' Church on the Reserve, with the rector, Rev. E. N. Savary, officiating.

Interment was All Saints' Cemetery and the pallbearers were James Brant, Rev. Brant, Arnold Brant, Samuel Maracle, Alex. Scero and Wilfred Hagyard.

G. H. CHALLIES SAYS LACK OF SEAWAY AIDS ENEMIES

Ogdensburg, N.Y. — Ontario and New York State can't make their maximum contribution in peace or war unless they are allowed to develop the power resources of the St. Lawrence River, Gordon H. Challies, minister without portfolio in the Ontario Government said, Friday, September 2nd.

He told the Ogdensburg Rotary Club these resources now are wastefully gliding away . . . to the benefit of nofie, save those who seek the weakening or destruction of our economic system and democratic way of life."

Mr. Challies outlined how plans for a seaway project and power development on the river have been blocked since 1934.

Ontario and New York want to go ahead with a power project, pending eventual approval of a seaway project. The United States Government has refused to approve one without the other.

"If it can be done as part of a combined navigation and power project, well and good," Mr. Challies said. "If not, why not give New York State and Ontario the green light for power development with suitable provision in the structures for the requirements for navigation. . . ."

He added: "One wonders . . . what would result if the Dominion of Canada and Ontario adopt a similar attitude towards some question being submitted by the United States to the International Joint Commission . . .?"

BILINGUALISM URGED AS 'MUST'

Quebec — The Quebec St. Jean Baptiste Society recently suggested in a memorandum to Prime Minister St. Laurent, that two examinations of bilingualism be appointed by the Federal Government to deal with the Canadian constitution at this point.

The society's memorandum said text of the constitution regarding bilingualism should be revised to make mandatory the publication of all government papers, documents or publications in French and English, to allow everyone to be educated in his language without additional taxes and to make it possible that French-speaking army units be trained in their language.

Higher Price For Export Pork Is Announced

$1.25 per cwt. Increase On All Grades

OTTAWA — Effective Monday, October 2nd, the Meat Board increased the paying price for bacon purchased under the United Kingdom-Canada Agreement by $1.25 per hundredweight. This increased price will apply on all grades, weights and selections of Wiltshire sides, and will mean a general A grade price of $35.75 per hundredweight, computed to the previous basis. The increase will be paid on all product into cure on and after the above date.

Meat Board officials explained that this increase in price will be met out of reserves. Earlier in the year the Board announced for a three month program, but owing to light deliveries this expenditure has not been necessary and the money is now being raised for the balance of the present agreement for the purpose of distributing accumulated reserves to hog producers.

Early in 1950, due to strong domestic demand, hog prices advanced well above the export value and have remained strong throughout the summer.

During the past few weeks there has been a sharp decline in hog prices. In the past four weeks these prices have declined from $32.00 per hundred pounds to $29.00 at Winnipeg and from $33.00 to $30.00 at Toronto.

Despite normal heavier fall deliveries this new export price will prevent hog prices from dropping below the higher export equivalent.

Memorial Window Presented Sunday St. John's Ch., Bath

An interesting service was conducted by Rev. L. G. Osborne-Walker at St. John's Church, Bath, Sunday, October 1st, when a stained glass window in memory of Dr. William F. Gutzeit was presented by his wife, Mrs. Gutzeit of Bath and dedicated by Diocesan Commissioner, Rev. Beauchamp Payne, of Kingston.

The inscription on the window war made on Mrs. Gutzeit's behalf by Mr. F. A. Nancekevell of Montreal and was accepted on behalf of the congregation by the people's warden, Mr. H. Withers.

The subject of the window is "The Shepherd King," and depicts David playing the harp. The subject is most appropriate particularly appropriate because in 1944, Dr. Gutzeit, who was a well-known organist, composed an oratorio, "The Shepherd King."

Dr. and Mrs. Gutzeit were largely instrumental in securing money to install a Hammond electric organ in St. John's Church, just a short time before Dr. Gutzeit's death, last year.

Dr. and Mrs. Gutzeit have always taken a great interest in St. John's Church and a few years ago presented the church with an Old Master oil painting, in memory of Mrs. Gutzeit's brother.

Fire Equipment Not To Leave Town Of Napanee

Council Plans To Enforce By-Law

At the Regular Meeting of the Napanee Council on Monday evening, Deputy-Reeve Douglas reported that he had received an estimate for installation of a Fire Siren which, if purchased, would cost $325.00. He recommended that no action be taken by Council, this year, but that the matter be given consideration by next year's Council, as the present alarm system is inadequate.

Mr. Douglas referred to the assistance given by the Napanee Fire Department at the recent fire in Newburgh. He said that, in his opinion, assistance, when requested by Newburgh, could not be refused. Three firemen had been left at the Napanee Fire Hall, while the pumper was at Newburgh. He also said that the breakdown of the pumper while at Newburgh had been investigated and had been found, was not the responsibility of the fire truck driver. The break-down has since been repaired and precaution taken to prevent a similar occurrence again.

Some discussion followed regarding the pumper being taken out of the town and objections were raised. Mr. Douglas stated that even though the pumper was out of the town adequate protection was left for the town.

Mr. Kimmerly drew attention to the fact that a motion on the books definitely forbade the equipment of the Napanee Fire Department being taken out of town at any time or to and place, and recommended that the terms of the motion be observed.

Mr. Douglas said that he would not take the responsibility of refusing aid to any outside community in case of a serious fire.

It was finally moved by Councillor Wartman, seconded by Deputy-Reeve Douglas, and passed, that the Clerk write the Clerks of the surrounding Municipalities, advising that a town by-law prohibited the equipment of the Fire Department leaving the town and would be enforced in future.

The above motion, regarding the fire equipment leaving the town, was later reconsidered and rescinded and a motion was passed that the Clerk insert a notice in the local Press, advising all concerned that the Fire Equipment of the Town of Napanee in the future will not be allowed to leave the town.

Councillor Davy, chairman of Police presented the report of the Chief of Police, for the month of September, which contained the following items: complaints received and investigated, 13; accidents investigated, 6; summons served, 3; arrests made, 5. The following convictions were obtained for the Town in September: Criminal Code, 1; Highway Traffic Act 5, Liquor Control Act 16.

A request for a reinstatement of the license from Jack Spencer, to haul on the table until the 1951 Council is elected and convenes.

A request from Earl Plumley for a taxi license, was referred to the Police Committee to report.

Councillor Wartman reported that in September, 62 persons received relief and in Napanee, at a total cost of $842.

A by-law was passed prohibiting parking of cars on the east side of Centre Street, from Mill to Water Streets, at any time, day or night.

The Council passed a resolution giving tentative approval of the building of a new Collegiate in Napanee, by the Napanee and District Collegiate Board, and also passed a resolution regarding the financing for the building of the school. Both resolutions regarding the School will be found in another column of this paper.

A letter was received from the Provincial Secretary, regarding plans for civil defence and local organization for such defence and was referred to the Town Planning Committee for consideration and possible action.

A letter from Dr. Spade, Sanitary Inspector, E. H. Spade, asked for information regarding installation of septic tanks and privies, was referred by the Health Department.

No action was taken by the Council regarding a request from Wood Bros., for a no-parking sign to be erected in front of their showroom on East Street.

A letter was received from the Waterworks Department of the Public Utilities Commission, regarding proposed changes to improve the condition and supply of the building needs of the town, which was ordered to be printed in the local papers. The letter appears in another column of this issue.

Councillor Ballantyne made the suggestion that the Public Utilities consider the possibility of pumping water for town use from the Bay of Quinte and, a motion was passed that the matter be referred to the Commission, which is to consider the feasibility of the proposal be investigated.

An enquiry was received from a textile company in New Jersey regarding possible buildings in the town of Napanee where an industry which would employ from 25 to 500 people could be located. The building needed should be steam-heated and near a railway siding. The Clerk was instructed to write the company, telling what information he could, regarding the matter.

Corpl. W. E. Smith Given Medal For Long Service

In recognition of twenty years of efficient and good conduct, long service medals were presented to five Provincial Police Officers and Inspector A. McIlwain, of No. 9 District at Belleville, recently, by Police Commissioner W. H. Stringer, of Toronto.

Sanitary Officer Must Be Consulted About Septic Tanks

According to the Public Health Act new septic tanks installations throughout the County have to be approved by the County Health Unit. The Sanitary Inspector should be contacted when an installation is being planned. His experience can be of great assistance in planning the size and location of septic tank, tile bed or cesspool. The requirements vary in different parts of the County depending on the nature of the soil. Charts will be supplied on request.

In rocky areas of the northern part of the County it is necessary to replace the tile bed from a septic tank with a cesspool. In sandy soil a relatively small number of tile are required. In clay the tile should be surrounded by gravel, and an extensive tile bed is necessary.

NOTICE — There will be no clinic at the Health Unit, Saturday, October 7th.

PRIVATE SUPPORTS T.B. X - RAY

Tuberculosis is not a respecter of persons. It is not hereditary, but is passed from one person to another. Most frequently it is spread by the continuous contact of the healthy person with one having active tuberculosis, according to officials of the Ontario Tuberculosis Association.

The local Lions Club T.B. Prevention Committee would like all readers to bear this thought in mind, when the free mass X-ray begins in the County of Lennox and Addington, commencing in Denbigh on October 19th, at 10.00 a.m.

A tuberculous parent is almost sure to infect one or more members of his family, the same authorities state. This is the case of Pte. Frank England of Toronto, who was confined to the Toronto Hospital for Tuberculosis, at Weston:

As a Private in the Royal Regiment, he spent most of the war as a German prisoner. He came in contact with T.B. A chest examinment he received was ineffective. One does not get rest, proper diet, sunshine and fresh air in a German prison camp.

After his release he was sent to England where he received treatment and later returned to Canada. Thinking he was past the infectious stage, he visited his family. When it was discovered his case was still active, his family was X-rayed immediately. Three children had to be sent to the sanatorium.

The soldier father has recovered, and the children, because their treatment was begun promptly, are strong and well again.

This young man was most anxious that his story be told in the hope that it might help acquaint the public with the value of X-rays. He knows he said that it is possible to look and feel quite healthy and still have the disease in its early stages.

The only way tuberculosis can be discovered in the early stage is by X-raying apparently healthy people. One can look perfectly healthy and still have this disease.

For this reason, every man, woman and child over twelve years, in the County of Lennox and Addington, should take advantage of the opportunity of safe-guarding their health by having a FREE X - RAY when the Mass Survey, conducted by the T.B. Prevention Committee of the Napanee Lions Club begins in this County at Denbigh on Thursday, October 19th, at 10:00 a.m.

Remember!

THIS X-RAY IS FREE.

Remember!

YOU LIVE IN A DEMOCRACY, and are not FORCED to have an X-ray, but, no so-called normal and intelligent person should miss having an X-ray at this time. At least HELP make the COUNTY safer for our children.

Cobourg-Napanee Series All Even — Pitchers' Battle

Cobourg Legionnaires downed Napanee 2 to 0 in a thrilling pitcher's battle at Cobourg on Wednesday afternoon, to tie the series for the O.B.A. Eastern Ontario championship Jamieson, on the mound for Cobourg, allowed only two hits, with no errors chalked up against the home team.

Napanee slipped in the seventh. With one man on and Cobourg tripled to centre field. Fred Goody hit to Napanee's pitcher, Hooper, who erred, enabling Goody to make first. Zealand hit third. Goody stole second. George Campbell struck out. Don Goody came to bat, doubled to right field driving in Zealand and F. Goody. Jamieson ended the inning grounding out to third.

Cobourg scored five hits against Napanee's two, one in the first, one in the third, one in the fifth and two in the seventh. Napanee got one hit in the third and one in the ninth, both infield safeties. Only four batters struck out, three for Napanee.

It was a bang up pitching battle Jamieson pitched against really good hitters, striking out five walking one, and allowing only one man past first base.

The last time Hooper pitched against Tren on he came up with a no-hit game. Yesterday he struck out seven and walked one.

For Cobourg, the whole infield played smooth ball, but Goody was a standout, and Jamieson's pitching was really hot. In the batting, McMillan got a single, Zealand a triple, F. Goody a single, D. Goody a double and Jamieson a single, to give the Legionnaires five hits.

For Napanee, Murphy, playing right field, made a spectacular running catch in the first. Campbell's bid for a hit. At bat, Markle hit to short stop and V. Green singled off the pitcher's glove.

Napanee Council Approves Building New Collegiate

Makes Proposals For Financing

At the Meeting of the Napanee Town Council on Monday evening, a letter was read from the Chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, Dr. Duane B. Hall, regarding proposed changes to improve the quality and increase the supply of water supplied the Citizens of the Town by the Waterworks Department of the Utilities.

The letter follows:

Mr. M. P. Graham,
Town Clerk,
Napanee, Ontario.

Sept. 12, 1950

Dear Sir: — At the recent meeting of the Public Utilities Commission the condition of the water supply, which is due to the low flow of water and pollution, was discussed.

Some time ago your Superintendent of Waterworks authority to obtain the services of a consulting engineer and bring in a report with regard to making improvements in the waterworks system. This work has not been completed but Mr. Taylor has given us an outline of some of the recommendations, which will be in the final report of the Commission, regarding changes to be made in the pumping system. The following is a list of improvements recommended:-

1. A new elevated tank ,100 ft. high — capacity not decided, but, at least 150,000 gals. and not more than 300,000 gals.
2. A new mixing chamber and settling basin, about twice the size of our present, capacity of a present basin about 120,000 gals.).
3. With also a clear water basin of about 100,000 gals.
4. Additional pumping capacity sufficient to pump an additional 650 to 800 gallons per minute during the time of our peak consumption.
5. New head gates in the canal and an old building at the west end remained and that portion of the canal filled in.
6. A small pilot plant installed in the pump-house for experimenting on different treatments of the raw water, which will enable the engineer to arrive at the proper type of mixing chamber and settling basin to install.

We hope to have the new head gates and pilot plant in operation, this Fall.

With regard to the condition of the drinking water, these suggested improvements will result in very much better treatment of the water but it will never be a first class sample of drinking water, particularly in the summer, until such time as the pollution of the river has been reduced to a minimum quantity and the summer flow greatly increased by, at least, one reservoir at the source of the river. These conditions are beyond the control of the Public Utilities Commission, and can only be controlled by the Ontario Department of Health and the Provincial and Dominion Governments. Dr. A. E. Berry, of the Ontario Department of Health is and has been investigating the quality of the water with regard to pollution, and the Napanee Valley Conservation Authority has been working for almost two years in an effort to obtain assistance in the building of a dam at Second Depot Lake, to be used as a reservoir, but up to date they have not received the consents of the Government to start this work. The Provincial Government have offered to pay their share of 37½ per cent., but the Authority would not go ahead without receiving assurance from the Dominion Government that they would pay 37½ per cent.

We have no definite figure as to the cost of the proposed improvements, but we understand it would probably run more than $150,000.00, and if the Commission accepts these recommendations, it is doubtful that they could obtain the consent of the Department of Municipal Affairs to make such an expenditure until such time as they were in a position to take care of debentures. This would not be until 1952 when the annual payments of debentures and interest will be reduced by approximately $7,500.00.

If the Commission should receive assurance from the Napanee Valley Conservation Authority this Fall, that the work of building a dam can be started, it might be possible to arrange to make a start on, at least, one of our proposed projects in the Fall of 1951.

Yours very truly,

Duane B. Hall, Chairman,
Public Utilities Commission, Napanee

Utilities Presents Proposed Changes To Improve Water

Lists Costs To Make Improvements

At the Meeting of the Napanee Town Council on Monday evening, October 2nd, tentative approval was given by the Council of the proposal by the Napanee and District Collegiate Board to erect a new Collegiate in the Town of Napanee and a resolution was also passed regarding the method of financing the building of the school.

The two resolutions passed by the Napanee Council are, as follows:

Napanee, October 2nd, 1950

Moved by Mr. Doyle, seconded by Mr. Mallagh, that the Municipal Council of the Town of Napanee, consent to the Napanee and District Collegiate Institute Board securing definite Plans, Specifications and Cost of the proposed new Collegiate Institute

Passed the 2nd day of October, 1950.

Mark P. Graham, Clerk

Moved by Mr. Kimmerly, seconded by Mr. Loucks, that:

Whereas the Napanee and District Collegiate Institute Board have decided that increased accommodation for students attending the Collegiate Institute is required, on account of the increased number of Students attending the said School, and such accommodation should be provided at an early date, that it will be advantageous from the financial standpoint to erect a complete new modern school and to disband the present School, entirely, and

Whereas the said Board have secured tentative plans for such a School and the estimated cost is estimated at $650,000, and

Whereas, it is estimated that the Province will pay 75 per cent of the cost of the construction of the School by way of Annual Grants to the Board and the balance to be provided by the seven Municipalities comprising the School District, each year, over a twenty-year period, and

Whereas, the Municipality in which the School is built is required to carry out the actual financing and issue debentures in the amount of $650,000, the said debentures to be payable over a period of twenty years.

Whereas, it is planned to build the School in the Town of Napanee, which would necessitate the Town issuing the debentures in the name of the Town of Napanee and the debentures and interest as they came due each year would be payable at 75% after the Town Treasurer's audit.

Whereas the Council of the Town of Napanee feel that if the school debentures in the amount of $650,000 were issued in the name of the Town of Napanee, and adding this amount to the present Debenture Debt of the Town, it would create a very heavy debt registered against the Town on paper at least, and there would be the natural result in subsequent assistance to the sale of debentures by the Town for future financing, and

Whereas the Town of Napanee is faced with heavy capital expenditures in the near future to cover cost of changes and extensive extensions to the Napanee Waterworks System tentatively estimated at $150,000, also a new Sewage Disposal Plant and extensions and changes in the Sewage System of the Town, which will probably run to an amount considerably in excess of the figure above for waterworks requirements, and,

Whereas, the construction of the new School is essentially a County project, and would serve a large percentage of the County, and

Whereas, it has been brought to the attention of the Municipal Council that the school financing can be carried out by the County, provided the County secure a special Act from the Provincial Legislature authorizing the County to issue the necessary debentures, and

Whereas, it would appear that the Municipalities in the County who are not included in the School District would not be affected through the County carrying out the issuing of debentures;

Therefore it is hereby recommended

1 That the Municipal Council of the Town of Napanee request the Napanee and District Collegiate Institute Board to place this matter before the County Council at their next Session in November, with the object in view of having the County make application to the Provincial Legislature, next February, for permission to issue Debentures in the name of the School, in the name of the County of Lennox and Addington.

2 or as an alternative that each Municipality forming part of the School District issue their own Debentures for their share of the estimated cost of the School.

3 That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Napanee and District Collegiate Institute Board, the County and the several Municipalities forming a part of the School District.

Passed this 2nd day of October, 1950.

TAKES ITS CHANCE

The Canadian dollar takes its chance now on the open market. How much it will be worth nobody knows, yet. It will now be subject to the law of supply and demand, and to the balance of trade between Canada and the United States. These are, more or less, indefinite values. Consequently the value of the Canadian dollar will fluctuate with the changing conditions. In the meantime, it may settle somewhere between four and six per cent. discount in terms of the American dollar. In a short time, the discount will be fairly stable and the change will be slower and within a narrow margin.

The Canadian Government has shown commendable courage in this step. It was expected that if a change was made, a price would be set — a controlled price. But the Government went one step further and let the dollar out on its own, to seek its own level. The Government must feel that the Canadian economy is in a pretty healthy condition, when it made such a courageous move. Of course, our expanding business has had a lot to do with the improved value of the Canadian dollar. But the wise controls which curbed importation from the States, and kept all the American dollars that could be got into the country, has helped immeasurably.

What will happen now is hard to forecast. The average citizen may feel the benefit in a reduced cost of living in some items. The price of livestock will probably drop some and that will reduce the price of meat. Similarly other commodities should follow a downward trend. If that takes place, the housewife, who has a hard time now to secure nourishing food for her family, will rejoice.

So far there has been no specific statement about travel funds. The Minister has said that some changes in favour of a more liberal amount of Canadian dollars for travel will soon be announced. That, too, will be welcomed by the frequent visitor to the United States. It will still be necessary however, so it is suggested to get a permit to secure American dollars.

There are more American dollars in Canada than ever before in her history. Naturally, there will be a drop in the holdings, due to the new regulations, but the Government must feel fairly certain that the drain will not be serious, or they would not have taken the course they have adopted.

Canada has cause for gratitude in her current strong financial position.

ANOTHER PROBLEM ON WAY OUT

We have been hearing very little, of late, from gangs of 'teen-agers which, for a year or two, terrorized many communities. Zoot-suiters and others paraded in gangs, beating up other gangs and, in general, making hoodlums of themselves. The tragedy of it was that the gangs were made up of both boys and girls.

The Community Welfare Council of Ontario, meeting in Toronto, was told that these gangs are largely tapering off and that many of those once belonged to them, are now holding down jobs; some are married and have established homes.

Mr. Nicholson, Secretary of one of the Y.M. C.A. branches, in Toronto, reporting on the subject, tried to trace the cause of these gangs. He said it almost wholly in home conditions. He said, "Looking any home, school or church roots, many 'teenagers — among them girls of pig-tail age — had taken to gang life because it gave them security they could not find elsewhere." Ninety per cent of these, he said, came from "broken homes."

Fortunately, most of these gangs, confined their activities to a few centres of population. The Province as a whole was hardly touched by their vandalism. Nevertheless, the prevalence of these in our midst, indicated a festering spot in the body politic. The unhealthy conditions of large cities makes for unwholesome moral conduct. The result is that children in certain crowded areas, have scarcely a chance.

It is interesting to note that the social worker stresses the value of the home, the school and the church. Fortunately for ourselves and for the welfare of the State, which draws so heavily from the small towns, we maintain a high standard in these great institutions. That is not to say that all is well, even in the small town and the rural districts, yet, on the whole, our home life is on a high level; our school life is wholesome and interesting, and the church reaches out to all the young people.

The small town contributes to the leadership of this country far more than is sometimes admitted. Born and trained in the healthy atmosphere of the intimate community life, they seek a larger opportunity in the wider fields of service, carrying with them the way of life inculcated in them during their youth, and become the backbone of church organizations of business, and of the State.

Ontario is blessed with a great number of beautiful, wholesome, attractive communities, where gangs of delinquents are unknown and where future leaders are always in production.

THE WAR IN KOREA

The North Koreans have been driven out of South Korea which they invaded without warning. The lightning-like drive of the North Koreans all but conquered the South. Only a small bit of Korea was unconquered by the time that the United Nations forces were ready to attack. When the attack came the result was speedy and complete. Of course, the price was heavy. The South Koreans were caught between the armies from the north and those moving up from the south. Their towns and cities were badly shattered. Seoul, the capital of the country, was pounded unmercifully. Thousands of people must have been killed and thousands more wounded in the bombardment.

The really ticklish question that had to be faced once the Northern Army was on the run, was whether or not the United Nations forces should stop at the 38th Parallel — the artificial boundary between North and South. While the diplomats were debating what to do, General McArthur ordered his forces to cross the line. This they have now done, and they are thirty miles inside North Korea, at one point. Moreover, McArthur has ordered the Northern forces to surrender or be annihilated.

Just what will happen now is anybody's guess. Communist China is a bit apprehensive about having the U. N. forces too close to the Manchurian border, and has told the United Nations, so. But it is doubtful if China would attack the U. N. forces. To do so would bring civil war once more in China, just at a time when that is the last thing the Government there, wants.

So it is likely that Russia will do anything that would intensify her problems. She has her hands full and though storming a lot in the World Assembly, would hesitate to take action that would precipitate a world war. The probability is that North Korea will be pretty well go her own from now on. No nation is going to remain, forever, divided by artificial barriers, and sooner or later, both parts of Korea will get together. If the North surrenders, the United Nations should be prepared to remain in Korea for a good long time, until the animosities are forgotten and the nation is trained in ways of government that suit the genius of the Koreans. The United Nations has assumed a heavy responsibility, but must see the whole business through.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, October 8th

PERSONAL COMMITTMENT TO JESUS CHRIST

Lesson-Text: Matthew 10: 24-25; Mark 1: 16-20; Philippians 1: 19-26

Much is said of "the principle of Jesus," of "the idealism of Jesus" of "Jesus' way of Life." It is comparatively simple to talk glibly about applying the principles of Jesus or about establishing Jesus' way of life. But important as these are, they do not constitute the heart of Christianity. The centre of Christianity is commitment to a personal Saviour. It is a personal matter between the individual man or woman, and God. Only when one commits himself unreservedly to Jesus Christ, has he any right to call himself a Christian.

In the early days of Christianity that is how it was. Men and women committed themselves to Jesus, then and only then, did they get the power to do what to others seemed incredible — acts of heroism, devotion and courage. Because they displayed these qualities they attracted others, and they, still others. With them there was no holding back; the commitment was complete. They gave everything they had to the cause, but they gave, not because of custom or convention, but because of their communion with Jesus, their fellowship with Him.

Jesus said His burden would be light. But it was light only because He gave and still gives power to carry it. There is no guarantee anywhere, in the gospel story, that Christians would find the Christian way, easy. Indeed, the martyrs found it hard enough, so will all who take Him seriously and try to serve Christ in the various areas of life.

We know well enough that it is only the man who loses himself completely in his religion, that really saves his life. He finds peace, satisfaction, contentment and unity with his fellowmen, while the opposite is true of the man who seeks only his own satisfaction, entertainment, security. He fails to find the thing he is after and, all too often, comes to the end of the day, disillusioned, frustrated and beaten.

In the second section of this week's lesson, we have the record of the call of Andrew and Simon. They were fishermen. They had a secure job, with an investment in fishing gear and a steady market for their catch. Jesus called them to give up those possessions and take their chances on poverty and suffering because of their commitment to Him. He got them; He at the same time, enlisted James and John. They left all and followed Jesus. The world would never have heard of them had they stuck with their jobs, and mom what must have seemed, in the eyes of their friends, the wise thing to do.

In the final section, Paul makes one of his really great statements. He writes to the people at Philippi from Rome, whom he hopes soon to see. He is not sure about it all. Much was to depend on the authorities and on conditions over which he had no control. He was worried lest he make some mistakes, but he was confident of this; "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain." Here again is one of God's great servants underlining the necessity of fellowship with Christ. He could think of nothing better than to live with Christ, and even though he should die, that experience, too, would bring him close to his Lord and Master. Paul never saw these people again, but he had them in his heart, and though a prisoner in Rome he continued to win converts to Jesus.

If the hundreds of millions of Christians in the world, today, had the devotion of the early disciples, if they even possessed the enthusiasm and convictions of the communists, the problems that threaten world chaos would soon be solved — wars would cease and peace would reign.

EXPORTS NEAR TWO BILLION DOLLAR MARK

Ottawa. — Canada's domestic exports continue to climb and for the first eight months of this year edged close to the $2,000,000,000 figure — $1,941,400,000 to be exact.

In reporting the figures the Bureau of Statistics said this was $23,800,000 more than in the eight-month period last year. And it had been aided by a continued increase in August — $257,100,000 against $251,700,000 in August, 1949.

Main reason for the boosted August figure was an increase of almost five per cent. in exports to the United States and the Bureau said this was noteworthy in view of the recent railway strike which particularly affected shipment across the border.

There also was a slight increase in Canadian exports to Latin American countries and these combined with higher exports to the United States offset declines to the United Kingdom, Commonwealth countries and other foreign areas.

Exports to the United States in August were valued at $167,148,000, compared with $115,353,000 a year ago. Total value for the eight months was $1,240,292,000 compared with $910,604,000 a year earlier, an eight-month increase of more than 36 per cent.

The bureau said it was apparent that only a minor part of this increase was due to the higher value of the U. S. dollar which has been worth 10 per cent more than the Canadian dollar since Canadian devaluation last September 18th.

U. S. FAVORS CANADIANS AS KOREA POLICE

Washington. — Unless stopped before they start, Korea-bound Canadians, soon to sail for Okinawa may wind up as the principal element of a United Nations occupation force in North Korea.

The problem of forming such a force is becoming more pressing daily as the scale of victory of United Nation troops now fighting in South Korea mounts and is underlined by the triumphant communique on capture of Seoul issued recently by their commander, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Possibility of such employment of the Canadian special force is all based on several assumptions, but all are supported by authoritative reports of proposals the United States is understood to be discussing with other U. N. members excluding Russia.

BRITAIN PLANS BRAVE SHOWING

Ottawa. — The drive is on to supplant the image of austerity Britain with the old fare of Merry England, an emissary from the Mother Countyr has announced.

This merriness will break out next year, he told reporters, when the United Kingdom will be turned into a giant festival of publication and rejuvenation.

The emissary is Victor Mischon a barrister and member of the London County Council, who invited Ottawa's Mayor Bourque to attend and then told reporters the door of hospitality will be wide open particularly to Canadians and other Commonwealth peoples.

The festival, running from May to September, will have its focus in London, but there will be a multitude of events elsewhere, from Stratford's Shakespearean drama, to Industrial shows.

For months the combination of exhibitions, drama, the arts, industrial shows, pageants, carnivals, sports will go on from Brighton to Aberdeen. It will celebrate the recovery from war and provide a meeting ground for those who have fled Britain's misery.

This islands, said Mr. Mischon, are scrubbing themselves spotless, building, reaching in preparation for this effort to tell their story, past and present, to the world.

As for expenses, he said, a Canadian could pay his way for from $60 to $100 a day in Britain, could get a good hotel room and breakfast for $3 a night, a good cafe lunch for 90 cents. A car could be rented for $30 to $35 a week. There was no gas rationing.

But the interested Canadian should check quickly on transportation facilities overseas and should arrange with travel agencies to get tickets to those events he wished to see. For Merry England expects a mammoth rush.

by "Red" Miller

The chips are down and if the last two performances of the Cobourg - Napanee series is any evidence ... the third and final game for the Eastern Ontario Title .... will be a lollapolloza.

Both these squads are so evenly matched that a break either way will result in a major catastrophe ... for one of them.

Hooper hurled stellar ball in the Lakeside town only to lose on a 2 to 0 verdict .... Jamieson, who has been receiving the plaudits of the press and fans alike .... held the Kilkenmen to two scratch hits and his teammates played perfect ball behind him .... It wasn't as if the Athletics couldn't touch the apple .... they cuffed it plenty ... right into Cobourg gloves ... not in the loop-holes.

In scanning the sources of information to de-tail we came up with a copy of the Port Hope Evening Guide which serves that town and Cobourg as well .... the following is a paragraph on the series ... and their version of the holdup in the third game of the series:

"The Cobourg Legionnaires are right back in the thick of the fight for the championship of East rn Ontario following their close win yesterday (Wednesday). "Weems" Jamieson really turned it on and showed the fans the reason he was picked up by the Phillies scout. The series is now deadlocked at one game each. Where the next game will be played is not known. When Cobourg played in Napane, Napanee requested a three-out-of-five series to which Cobourg agreed, but when Napanee arrived here yesterday, their manager said his team couldn't play on Saturdays this was before yesterday's game started. So Ed Campbell said if they couldn't play on Saturdays it would have to be two-out of three, and Napanee agreed to that. But when the game was over and Campbell wanted to flip a coin to decide where the next game would be played, the Napanee manager refused to settle it that way. He said it would have to be left up to the O.B.A. to decide whether or not they played three-out-of-five or two-out of-three games. And there the matter rests — up in the air."

For our money .... last week-end ... any day ... was perfect for the fixture and a lot of local fans were sorely disappointed that the game was not on .... Rumors had it that Thanksgiving Day (October 9th) was the tentative date .... what the weather would be like at that time, was anybody's guess .... and the grunts and groans of the multitude could be heard near and far.

However all such rumors are off ... THE game is on! The representatives of those involved got their heads together over the telephone and the toss was made ... in Cobourg by a local citizen picked by Bridgeford and the call made by a member of the A's. The result ... COBOURG AT NAPANEE WEDNESDAY AT 3:00 P.M. today.

When Cobourg and Napanee get their game over and a winner has been declared ... they meet Port Erie ... on Saturday. On whose home grounds will come later. The ultimate winner will meet ... for the title ... Wallaceburg or Listowell.

Did you hear about the phone telegram being sent to the O.B.A. stating that Napanee and Cobourg were to play last Saturday at Napanee? The first we h ard of it was when the O.B.A. called and asked for the result (s) so far. we can only surmise who was responsible for the supposed joke.

The best in seven series by the opposition ... Deseronto and the Napanee Lions ... Trenton the Bay of Quinte title has finally whittled itself to a final game ... each club with one victory ... this week-end tells the tale.

They have had a bang-up season in spite of the poor attendance of fans ... the in-betweeners had a lot of baseball and a good time and very little trouble ... if any. There is one consolation in so much baseball. No team gets in a rut due with having to look for imports ... material by the bunch is on hand ... just announce you want a player and you are handed a list of over 100 ... from six to twenty years old ... all anxious to play ... for fun ... peanuts or prestige.

"Bob" Hanna Dies Suddenly At Hearst

News of the sudden death of "Bob" Hanna at Hearst, Ontario, on Sunday, came as a great shock to his sister, Miss Harriett Hanna and his friends in Napanee. From information sent to Napanee his death followed a heart attack and was quite unexpected. Just about one month ago "Bob" received the appointment of Express Agent at Hearst, near Cochrane and left immediately to assume his new position. His family moved to Hearst less than two weeks ago.

Robert Haldane Hanna, who was in his 46th year was born at Bell's and was a son of the late Robert and Ella Hanna. His early life was spent in Norwood and Belleville where his father taught school. Following his fathers' death his mother moved to Napanee, when Bob had secured a position with the Canadian National Express. He remained in Napanee with the express company until his appointment as agent at Hearst. He was a member of Trinity United Church. He was an accomplished bagpipe player and for some years was a member of the 47th Battery Pipe Band.

His body was brought to Napanee on Tuesday, October 3rd and the funeral was conducted at the Wartman Funeral Home at 3:30 p.m. by Rev. Noble Hatton. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Hanna is survived by his wife formerly Ethel M. Thaggart, and five children, Robert, Rosemary, James, Howard and Phillip and by one sister, Miss Harriett Hanna of Napanee.

The minutes were read and adopted and it was decided to ask Mrs. Fred Bell of Desmond to be guest speaker at the next meeting. "Bob" Hanna Dies Suddenly At Hearst News of the sudden death of R. B. Hanna at Hearst, Ontario, on Sunday, came as a great shock to his sister, Miss Harriett Hanna and his friends in Napanee. From information sent to Napanee his death followed a heart attack and was quite unexpected. Just about one month ago 'Bob' received the appointment of Express Agent at Hearst, near Cochrane and left immediately to assume his new position. His family moved to Hearst less than two weeks ago.

Robert Haldane Hanna, who was in his 46th year was born at Del a and was a son of the late Robert and Ella Hanna. His early life was spent in Norwood and Belleville where his father taught school. Following his fathers' death his mother moved to Napanee, when Bob had secured a position with the Canadian National Express. He remained in Napanee with the express company until his appointment as agent at Hearst. He was a member of Trinity United Church. He was an accomplished bagpipe player and for some years was a member of the 47th Battery Pipe Band.

His body was brought to Napanee on Tuesday, October 3rd and the funeral was conducted at the Wartman Funeral Home at 3:30 p.m. by Rev. Noble Hatton. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Hanna is survived by his wife formerly Ethel M. Taggart, and five children, Robert, Rosemary, James, Howard and Phillip and by one sister, Miss Harriett Hanna of Napanee.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION MEETINGS

The regular meeting of Camden VIII W.M.S. was held on Tuesday, Sept. 19th, at the home of Mrs. Victor McGregor with an attendance of eight. Mrs. A. Hyland was asked to take charge of the meeting and opened with a hymn, followed by the Lord's Prayer. The minutes were read and adopted and it was decided to ask Mrs. Fred Bell of Desoronto to be guest speaker at the next meeting. Mrs. Victor McGregor was appointed to collect anniversary envelopes that had not been handed in. The offering accounted to $3.00. Mrs. S. Snipe conducted the worship service as given in the Missionary Monthly. Mrs. T. Wilson introduced the new study book, Japan Begins Again, and The United Church re-Enters Japan.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction, after which Mrs. McGregor served a delicious lunch and was tendered a vote of thanks.

The West Plain Woman's Association held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Switzer. The meeting opened with the W. A. theme song, Mrs. Blair led in prayer. The 23rd psalm was read responsively. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. H. Young The roll call was answered by ten members and several visitors. The pennies were handed in for the contest, with Mrs. H. Tyner's side winning the contest. The meeting closed with a hymn.

Mrs. H. Tyner had charge of the programme which included music on the guitar, played by Mrs. G. Sedore, and a contest. Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

The September meeting of the Woman's Association of Grace Church, Napanee was held on Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school room. Mrs. Arnold Rodgers presided. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. P. Kellar, Mrs. O. S. Redden, Mrs. R. S. Wales and Mrs. H. Windover. All arrangements were made and completed for the annual chicken supper to be held on Tuesday, November 7th. Miss Hamilby read the letters from the sick and shut-ins and in reply to those sent, Mrs. Gladys Gould read the replies to letter of sympathy. There was a splendid attendance and as this was shut-ins day, there were a number of them present.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Roy Spooner of Kingston, who with her husband had spent some time in the Orient. She gave a very fine address and also exhibited specimens of embroidery and handwork done by the people of the Orient. Mrs. Harold Dennison sang a very pleasing vocal solo.

Thanks to all those who had assisted in the programme was given by Mrs. J. Haggerty and Mrs. C. Reid.

The group of which Mrs. A. Lewis and Mrs. P. Kellar are the leaders served refreshments at the close.

W. I. DELEGATE TO WORLD CONVENTION WRITES OF BR. ISLES

To Mr.
Ontario Institute Friends:

Our Canadian party are on board the Venus and for the first time in days we have a few hours to ourselves. We have been so well received in England and Scotland. The women are so grateful to Canada for the gift of the Women's Institutes. Sometimes I wonder if in Ontario we really appreciate it enough.

As we have toured through the beautiful heather covered hills, visited Dove Cottage, the home of Wordsworth, seen his church and stood by his grave, visited the old abbeys of Melrose and Edinburgh Castle, and Abbotsford, home of Sir Walter Scott and seen the quill he used when writing his novels—I have felt so selfish, how I wish all our members could be with us!

Our farm women would be interested in the abundant grain crops which now are waiting for dry weather, to be drawn in. In England, the farms are small, mostly, and the field field being fenced in by stone hedges. Stone hedges are used in Scotland, but fields are much larger. These hedges extend right up the mountains, to fence in the sheep. The farm houses and all the farm buildings are built of stone and so very close to the house. I have seen very few combines for the grain, mostly the binder, and just two fields of hay that had been baled. The fields are a picture, and from the quantity of stocks of grain, one would judge that the crops are abundant and the ground very fertile. They have few barns for hay; it is either put up in small stacks around the barn or put in a building with an oval shaped roof, supported by several tall posts.

In England we saw herds of Holstein and some Jerseys, in Scotland they made me homesick with herds of well kept Ayrshires, also Angus and the hills the shaggy Highland Cattle with their huge horns. The hills are dotted with sheep and on one tour we saw the shepherds using their sheep dogs to round up the sheep and take them across a busy road.

Along the way we have been welcomed and entertained by the English and Scottish Women's Rural Institutes. In Cheshire we were entertained for the week-end in private homes. There were twenty-one of us and one-hundred and fifty had applied for a Canadian guest. I went to a small, typical English home in Hesby, a very small village, the house nestled on the hillside, protected from Old Chester Road by a stone wall topped with a hedge of roses, the French doors on the lounge opened onto a beautiful garden of roses, dahlias, etc. This garden extended up the steep hill on the ledges. On Saturday, they took me to Chester for the day to see that famous walled-in city of early times. On Sunday, Mrs. Turner invited the members of the Executive in to have tea, and we did just as we do at home—all talked at once. At Lakefield we met the W. I members from Lancashire for an evening party. We arrived in Glasgow four hours late and the delegation who were supposed to welcome us had gone home. The welcome and hospitality of the women will always be remembered. We were met by delegates, including Lady Pair-fax Lucy and shown through Merton Hall, the beautiful home of Lord and Lady Ellesmere, then on to Baillie Hall in St. Boswell's where we were greeted by the Countess of Minto and entertained by the Roxburgh Federation. After tea the Countess presented each Canadian with the Scottish badge. On making us honorary members of Minto Women's Rural Institutes. The following evening we were given a dinner by the Scottish National Federation and entertained later by eight young Scots who gave us a splendid exhibition of Scottish Country Dances.

Since starting this letter we are now in the very beautiful city of Bergen, Norway. The homes here look more like Canada but they are built up the hillsides. Bergen is surrounded by seven mountains. We were welcomed to Norway by the Norwegian Housewives (Institute members) and what a welcome! We had tea in the home of the chairman and were taken by bus to the home of Grieg, the famous composer, listened to two of his compositions played on his own grand piano, and tonight have just returned from a supper served in a lovely hotel on top of the mountain. We went up this mountain by trolley going up several hundred feet through a pass cut through the rock. Here we met a large delegation of housewives and had such a friendly supper.

This is a very brief overall picture of our trip. I'll tell you more when I return, but I do want to let you know that all of our party are overwhelmed by the warmth of the welcome given us. They, ou thousteses, feel that through the mothers in the world we may eventually gain a world of peace, which is the desire of every mother. We feel that we never can repay these wonderful new friends of ours for all their kindness and I know we have formed some friendships that will continue for many years.

If I have time I may write you again, but I must get along now, it is midnight and we have a long and more housewives at 7:30 in the morning.

Sincerely yours,
M. EVELYN HUDSON

— THIS IS — NAVY WEEK

From coast to coast attention is being focussed on the Royal Canadian Navy and on its sister-service of the sea, Canada's Merchant Marine.

Working together in the drive to make Canadians better acquainted with their Navy are Department of National Defence, the Navy League of Canada, the Naval Officers' Association of Canada, the Naval and Merchant Navy veterans' organizations.

Tonight, from 9:30 to 10:00 o'clock Eastern Standard Time, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will carry over a nation-wide network a special Navy Week programme.

Speakers will include Defence Minister Brooke Claxton; Vice-Admiral H.T.W. Grant, Chief of the Naval Staff; a serving British naval officer, Admiral Sir Frederick Dalrymple-Hamilton, and David H. Gibson, president of the Navy League of Canada.

Displays, demonstrations and other activities will be staged in centres across Canada, during the week, and will be climaxed on Navy Day, Saturday, October 7th, when 19 of the 21 naval divisions and most of the 80 Sea Cadet Corps headquarters will hold "open house" to the public.

In the naval divisions, citizen-sailors of the Royal Canadian Navy (Reserve) will play hosts to friends of their respective communities, welcoming them on board the ships-of-war and to the training centres for the Reserve.

Open display will be the facilities and modern equipment with which the divisions are fitted—asdic, radar, loran and wireless, weapons of varying sorts and sizes, and the many ingenious devices employed in teaching recruits to seamen what drill and duty land.

In the Sea Cadet ships, visitors will see how young Canadians learn good seamanship, good sportsmanship and good citizenship, within the one training programme.

Sunday, October 8th, will be the Battle of the Atlantic Sunday and in centres where there are naval establishments, formal church parades will be held.

In many churches congregations will have the opportunity of remembering the sacrifices made by Canadians in the prolonged, bitter war at sea.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD POT - LUCK SUPPER

The Napanee Young People's Union began their activities for the year on Monday evening, September 25th, with a pot-luck supper, at which about thirty young people were present.

After a delicious supper everyone gathered around the piano for a sing-song. The remainder of the evening was spent in recreation which was under the direction of Norma and Verna McTaggart.

The evening came to a close with a Friendship Circle and the singing of "Taps."

POTATO PEELINGS YIELD BETTER THAN CERTIFIED SEED

In the spring of this year, Mr. Earl Loucks, when planting potatoes in his garden on Richard Street, placed in the ground along with certified seed potatoes, three parings from potatoes which had been eaten by his family.

When the potatoes were dug this fall it was found the parings had yielded better than the certified seed.

OBITUARIES

MRS. S.C.S. McKIM

Following an illness of only 24 hours, Mrs. S.C.S. McKim passed away at her home on Thomas Street, early Tuesday morning, September 26th. Her health for the past number of years had not been good, but until the day she was taken seriously ill, she had been able to look after her household duties and her death was quite unexpected.

Mrs. McKim, who was formerly Evelyn Cambridge, was born about 81 years ago and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cambridge. Following her marriage, she lived at Switzerville until 31 years ago, when with Mr. McKim and their family, she came to Napanee. Since coming to the town, she was a member of Trinity United Church and for many years was active in church work. She was a woman of very cheerful disposition, who delighted in having her family and friends around her. Her chief interest was in her home, her family and her friends, who will greatly miss her. Just a short time ago she and Mr. McKim celebrated the 59th anniversary of their marriage and on that occasion, they were called on by many friends.

She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. John Wilson of Sillsville, Mrs. Frank B Mills of Napanee, Mrs. W.C. Gault, of Welland, and by one son, Mr. Charles McKim of Port Perry. Another daughter, Reina, Mrs. Bruce Paul, died twenty-eight years ago, at Govan, Sask.

Her funeral was conducted Friday afternoon at the Wartman Funeral Home, by Rev. Noble Hatton, and interment was at Riverside cemetery.

The pall-bearers were three son-in-law, Messrs. John Wilson, F. B Mills and W. C Gault, and three grandsons, Myron Mills and Ralph and Sidney Wilson.

MRS. LEVI BROWN

Mrs. Levi Brown passed away suddenly at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. Cassada, in Newburgh, on Friday, September 22nd. She had been in failing health for some time but was only seriously ill about two days before her death.

The late Mrs. Brown was born about 82 years ago in Leeds County and was formerly Sarah Breser. For some years she resided with her husband in Western Canada, later in Toronto and Deseronto, and for the past four years in Newburgh. She had been a member of the Methodist and United churches all her life and took an active part in church work as long as her health permitted.

Her funeral was conducted at the Newburgh United Church by Rev. G. Murray, assisted by Rev. H. A Bunt of Harrowsmith. Burial was at Moscow.

BICKNELL'S CORNERS

Bicknell's Corners, Oct. 2. The neighbours and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peters called at their home on Tuesday evening for a farewell gathering before they left for their new home. Mr and Mrs. Peters were presented with gifts from their friends and a social evening was spent with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanlen Wilson, of Kingston, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wilson, Saturday afternoon.

Miss Carolyn Peters who is attending Peterboro Normal School, spent a week end recently at her home.

We are pleased to welcome our new neighbours, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Storey and family, who have purchased the farm formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peters.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Garrison were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wilson.

Mrs. Tipson, Napanee, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Macdonald.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Aikenbrack were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Dunn spent the afternoon of Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Meers, Portsmouth and attended the baptism of their grand son.

A small radioactive device, fastened to the wings of homing pigeons, will record how much of the bird's time is spent in flying and how much is resting.

From the hills in which the parings were planted, Mr. Loucks dug an eleven quart basket of potatoes. One potato weighed a pound and a half, and three weighed, together, four and a half pounds.

NOTICE

To Honey Producers in Southern Ontario . . .

The Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board has received a request for the approval of a proposed marketing scheme under the provisions of the Farm Products Marketing Act, 1946, to regulate the marketing of honey sold in Southern Ontario.

A mail vote by ballot of producers of honey has been arranged so that the Board may determine whether a fairly representative number of producers are in favour of the scheme. The ballot with return envelope has been sent to all producers.

If you are producing honey in Ontario from ten or more colonies of bees, and are over 21 years of age, you are urgently requested to mark your ballot for or against the scheme and mail it at once in the return envelope provided.

Aluminum wrappers keep food fresh!
An Inside Story about Butter
Butter goes stale quickly when air and light get in. That's why better-wrapped butter tastes better. Buy one of the many brands that are flavour-sealed in aluminum foil.
No other material is more "food-friendly" than aluminum. So save the protective foil. Use it to rewrap the butter when you put it away, and protect that "farm-fresh" flavour.
The next time you buy Butter, Cheese, Candy, Chocolate, Tea, look for the brands in clean, hygienic aluminum foil. Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of any package of food, there's an "inside story" of purity well-protected.
Hints to the Housewife

Don't take that crossing Blindfolded!

Impaired visibility, due to clouded or frosted windshields and side windows is blamed for a considerable number of the 443 railway crossing accidents reported to the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada for the 12-month period ended June 30th. These accidents took 140 lives and brought injuries to 549 others. A railway crossing, whether protected by special signals or otherwise, is an admitted hazard to the motorist, and under the best of conditions — full daylight and clear vision — the operator of a motor vehicle should approach every crossing with proper caution. Keeping windshield and front side windows clean and free of frost or mist is one thing the motorist can do to reduce the toll of crossing accidents. Other safe practices: Don't race the train . . . it ! sprobably movin gfaster than you think; if you have to take the crossing oisky change into second gear to prevent stalling; make sure when you see one train clearing a crossing that there is not another train behind it moving in the opposite direction.

Richmond Twp. Teachers Hold Ann. Convention

Teachers Hear Informative Address by Inspector

The Teachers of Richmond Township convened in Pine Grove School on Friday afternoon, September 29th, for their annual Autumn Convention. To have chosen a more entrancingly beautiful spot would have been difficult. Mr. Langford and fifteen teachers were present. The programme was in charge of the president, Mrs. Stella Brown. It opened with three vocal selections by four girls of Pine Grove School. This was followed by the reading of the minutes of the January meeting and by a brief address of welcome by the president.

Mrs. Pratt gave a very definite account of her experiences with a certain braild of school paints. She commended their economy and their clearness of colour and proved her opinions by displaying partly used paint boxes and specimens of art work from her own school.

Mrs. Freits spoke on the duty of teachers with regard to compiling the his tory of each school section. Such a history is to be compiled soon and left in the school. Eventually, the history of each school district in the whole township will be united in book form. Mrs. Jean Burns was appointed Historcial Convener for Richmond. Mrs. Pretis is already a member of a four-person committee for the tospetorate.

The highlight of the program was, as usual, the talk by Mr. Langford. He instructed the teachers concerning various items. He announced that every school-yard must be cleared of weeds and brush. In the spring, all schools are to experiment with a certain liquid weed-eradicator.

The regulations in regard to school closing for funerals were made definite; also the procedure in regard to local Fall Fairs.

Certain parts of the new system of school grants were outlined. Many schools are being assisted more liberally than ever before. Essential maps of the roller-type were listed. Information was provided concerning the detailed maps of our locality which can be procured for each pupil from the Department of Mines at a cost of fifteen cents per map. Mr. Langford displayed these maps. Reference was made to the broad enlightenment which can be obtained from the new lessons in map-reading. A booklet, "By Map and Compass" was recommended as a guide.

Various phases of the new tentative curriculum were made clear and plans for future improvements were mentioned. Mr. Langford closed his talk by showing some text-books suitable for the revised course.

In very few words, Mrs. Hill thanked the Inspector for his instructive talk and for the helpful spirit that prompted it.

Miss Lewis was appointed president for 1951 and Miss Tomkins accepted the secretaryship.

The meeting closed with a delightful lunch, provided mainly by the women of Pine Grove section. Informal thanks were extended to them all.

Tuberculosis Strikes at Any Age!

Have you ever wondered how long you will live? — to sixty, eighty or one hundred years? Life does not go on forever, yet may shorten it ? icme adults, for instance, believe once they have passed thirty, they are no longer susceptible to a disease like tuberculosis. On the contrary, tuberculosis may strike at any age. Last year, one-half of those who died of the disease, were over thirty years of age.

Tuberculosis is a sly enemy. The much advertised dangers signs are not symptoms of early tuberculosis but of active advancing disease. Early tuberculosis gives no warning. Only the X-ray can find the disease at a time when it is almost always completely curable.

Also contrary to popular belief, tuberculosis is not inherited. It is caused by a certain kind of germ, and like all germs, they are living organisms.

No matter how careful we are, it is not always possible to keep tuberculosis germs out of the body. As long as our resistance can protect us no harm may be done. But not two people react in the same manner when attacked by disease germs.

After Tuberculosis has become active, it can take one or two courses. If neglected it will advance and the patient may die. When discovered early and treatment started quickly, it is almost always completely curable. Every year, tens of thousands of tuberculosis patients return to useful work; their disease arrested. A history of tuberculosis does not stand in the way of earning one's living.

To all readers of this information regarding Tuberculosis as a disease, and the possibility of its being arrested in its early stages, if discovered by X-ray — tell ALL yes ALL your Family and Friends. Stress to them the importance of participating in the Free X-ray Survey, which starts in the County of Lennox and Addington, at Denbigh, at 10:00 a.m. Thursday, October 19th.

The models were Mrs. Ken. Penny, Mrs. Doug. Allenbrack, Mrs. Hugh Finlayson, Mrs. Ralph Nicols, Mrs. Bryce Young, Mrs. K. McFarlane.

The style commentator during the show was interesting in the fact that it was different. Bell - Moore, Limited, of Napanee, presented the new trend in Men's and Boys Clothing. The models, Don. Smith, David Elliott, and Bob Madden, wore with such ease and style, the colourful new suits and top coats, that it left everyone with the knowledge that the 1950 version of men's wear has travelled far from the skirts Parts of forme days. Billy Carter modelled the' boys' wear for Bell - Moore's.

At intermission there was the draw for the lucky door prizes, all of which were very kindly donated to the Chapter by Napanee merchants.

At the tea tables, Mrs. Albert Lewis Mrs. Reddick, Mrs. H. Langford and Mrs. J. A. Davis were tea hostesses.

Mrs. B. Seymour supplied the musical accompaniment and Mrs. Mervyn Owen and Mrs. Mary Symons commentated for the fashion showings. Mr. John Burkitt generously donated and operated the public address system for the occasion.

The winner of the lucky draw, for the four skin squirrel neckpiece, donated by MacKay's Furriers of Kingston, was won by Linda Hart, of Napanee.

The afternoon was brought to a conclusion by the playing of the National Anthem.

U. E. L. CHAPTER

The United Empire Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E. met in the Armouries on Monday afternoon, after the opening ceremonies, consisting of the Prayer of the Order and Bringing Forward the Flag, by the Regent, Mrs. Albert Lewis, declared the meeting open for business. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Several letters on the National and Provincial work were read and included one from Queen Mother Mary, thanking the Order for the interest in, and purchase of her carpet, for the Canadian people.

Mrs. A. P. Deroche was appointed Empire Study Convener for the remainder of the year.

The Napanee Fire Department was called to the residence of Mr. Earl Kimmett on Donald Street Tuesday morning, to extinguish a chimney fire. No damage resulted from the blaze.

RASPBERRIES RIPENING

A COSTLY LESSON

Ship-builders are taking a lesson from what happened to the "Noronic" and the "Quebec". They are using fire - resistent paint on their new construction.

At Fort Weller, near St. Catharines, a new Great Lakes freighter is being built. It is 654 feet long and will cost three and a half million dollars. It will be the second largest on the Lakes. It will carry 21,000 tons of freight, whereas the average is 11,000 tons. All the cabins are made of plastic fire-resistent material.

Another interesting feature of this new boat is that it is constructed differently than the other Lake boats. It is built so that , if and when, the St. Lawrence Waterway project is completed, the boat will be strong enough to meet the requirements of boats sailing the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where, of course it is hoped, great ore deposits in Labrador will be ready to be tapped and the ore brought to the steel mills in the West.

There is much that is interesting about this project. It shows initiative and foresight on the part of the owners. But, by far the most important feature of it all, is this which has to do with the safety of crew and passengers, of any.

The lesson of the "Noronic" and the "Quebec" has been learned by the builders, and that is all to the good. Those who go down to the sea in ships, have other hazards to face, without facing the danger of inflamable cabins.

GETTING READY

The United States is getting on a war footing pretty rapidly. There are plenty of evidences of this, even to the casual observer. There is a scarcity of goods; the school children are being drilled in air raid shelter practice and in atom bomb protective measures. The cost of living is mounting, women are being called back into the aeroplane factories. Men are being drafted for military service.

All of this is heart-breaking, when we realize that it is only five years since the Second World War ended. There is an air of despondency among thinking people, and along with that goes an attitude of indifference on the part of great hosts of people. Money is plentiful and the purchaser is competing for goods, and consequently has to pay.

Men in responsible positions are feeling the strain; as one said to the writer: "we just cannot take it." — Controls, pressures, restrictions, he said are really more than we should be asked to bear.

Those who elicit our sympathies more than any others, are the draftees. Many have served in World War Two. They returned and buckled down to get an education, or to get on a job again. They had lost two, three or even five years out of their lives. And now, having just nicely got re-established, many are being called by the State. They will have to leave everything — their business, profession, job, and their little families.

War is all that Sherman said it was. The Democracies have bungled things pretty badly since 1945. They have succeeded in bringing down on themselves the hatred of great masses of people. Now they face the testing in Korea. It is to be hoped they will not bungle any more. If the United Nations succeed in unifying Korea, it will have to do a lot more than just win a military victory. Underneath it all, the social and economic situation must be faced. Farmers must get a break; those who till the soil must have a chance to own it. That is perhaps the greatest need in Korea, today.

The United Nations should state its programme for Korea, then the people in Korea would know what it is all about. We might learn, too, and, to know just what is to happen when the war ends, would not hurt us a bit.

A CLEAN SWEEP

In a little town down in Mississippi, the voters turned the whole municipal council out of office and elected women to do the job of running the town.

That was a clean sweep, right enough. Every once in a while we hear it argued that there ought to be a couple of women on the town council, as though the men had a monopoly on running things and were making quite a complement of suggesting one or two women — to help out. But to clean-up on the whole council, and elect all women — that's something. No wonder the newspapers gave the story a front page position.

But when we think it over, it is hard to find any good reason why the women should not given a chance. The men have had the job a long time, and we are not so sure but that the women might inject a new note of efficiency in a council, should they have full charge of its affairs.

Could the women look after the streets some one asks. Why not? When they tackle the spring and fall housecleaning they make a complete job of it. And that sort of thing is good training for a job on the streets committee. We rather suspect a woman chairman of a streets committee would root out a lot of dust and rubbie that has a tendency to accumulate, when man are around.

What about police. Surely a woman couldn't handle the police. Well! we have seen women drivers arguing with a police officer until he had to give in, in desperation, and if a woman was chairman of the police, then we can imagine there would be lots of fun — and a vigorous prosecution of the law, too.

Finance — who's the financier in the average home? Certainly not the male member. It is the woman, the wife and mother who watches the pennies and makes the dollar stretch to almost twice its length. This is the woman's field. We rather suspect there would be a whole new standard of financing, should the women take hold.

We rather suspect that, as it is, the women do a lot of back-seat driving on council matters, as well as in motor cars. All the same, the people in Madison started something when they put the women in the driver's seat. So we had better look out. All it needed was for some group to start a fashion — and women, we are told, are slaves to fashion.

PUSILLANIMUS

The prominence given to the word pusillanimus in last week's news dispatches, sent a lot of people scurrying off to the dictionary to see just what it did mean.

It all happened as a sort of joke, but when the joke was turned on the jokers, that was another matter. Last year, State Senator Bishop Neal of Colorado, wrote a letter to President Truman. In it he jokingly suggested that the President should appoint John L. Lewis as Ambassador to Russia. He thought Lewis had all the qualifications for holding his own against the big men of the politburo.

The President answered the Senator in the same joking manner adopted by the man from Colorado. I wouldn't name Mr. Lewis dog catcher, Mr. Truman wrote. All of which was a little bit of good-natured banter between friends. But the Senator, last week, found the joke too good to keep any longer. Though a year had passed, he let the press in on it.

What was Mr. Lewis' reaction to the published correspondence? Well a U.P. dispatch puts it this way:

"The irrepressible Mr. Lewis growled back on Thursday, saying, if he were dog catcher, there would be more brains in the Dog department than in the State department. He added that he would make haste to 'impound' the 'sad'dogs', the intellectual poodle dogs and the pusillanimus pups which now infest our State Department."

And so the Members of the Senate — that group of men who take themselves so seriously — were up on their hind legs, so to speak. Their dignity had been hurt. Mr. Lewis remarks, the Senate press agent said, were contemptible! Others who did not want to be quoted, used equally strong adjectives.

That is the trouble with practical pokesters. They have a merry ha! ha! when they have put one over on somebody else. But, it is quite a different matter when that somebody else turns the tables.

Even Senators need a sense of humor. The ability to laugh at oneself is a saving grace in many a situation.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

No doubt some people wonder why each year a week is set aside as Fire Prevention Week. It is designated to the week in which October 9th falls, and is the anniversary of the great Chicago Fire in 1871, a fire which was one of the most destructive and costly in both lives and fires in all history.

Sometimes one may be cynical and just regard it as another promotional stunt, the idea of an advertising man, as there are many 'special days' or 'weeks' devoted to stimulating the sale and use of some commercial products.

It is far from a commercial stunt and is celebrated with a view of endeavouring to elicit public interest, and overcome the apathetic view that is generally taken.

First, let us turn to statistics. Figures are cold and impersonal until we translate them into the human and economic values which they merely represent. On an average between 350 and 400 Canadians lose their lives through fire every year, a matter of fact, in 1948, the last year for which figures are available, 463 Canadians lost their lives, and many times that number suffer incapacitating or painful burns and injuries. Of the number of deaths, 325 lost their lives in dwellings, and 33 in apartments, hotels and other such habitations, and the victims were elargely women and children. To think such a preponderance of fatalities happen in our homes, gives great cause for dismantling the apathetic manner and realize the pathetic situation.

It was an act of Providence that the Rimouski and Cabano disasters were not attended with great loss of life.

We are prone to wonder what we can do about the situation. We forget that the fatalities resulted from thousands of individual, small fires.

Let us look at the principal causes of these fires. Careless smoking and use of matches is the most prolific cause of fires. In 1948, on Canada, over 19,500 fires were the result of these causes. Let us ask ourselves how frequently are we guilty of this form of carelessness.

Stoves, furnaces, boilers, smoke pipes, defective and overheated chimneys and flues accounted for approximately 8,500 fires. Electrical wiring and appliances caused 4,733 fires. Accumulation of rubbish, hot ashes, etc., also contribute in no small measure to the fire loss, and many of these causes contribute to a vast majority of home fires.

Each individual citizen has an opportunity, and should consider it his duty to exercise control over these conditions. No nation, regardless of how prosperous, can afford to burn its human and economic resources, as we are each year, in permitting fires to desroy so many valuble lives and such great property values.

Despite all the improvements to eliminate the fire hazard, there is still much to be done, and it behoves every citizen to do his or her "bit" to make the community in which they live, fire conscious.

ALUMINUM HAS GROWN TO BE A LARGE PART OF CANADIAN LIVING
Port Alfred—Loading aluminum
Port Alfred, Que.—unloading bauxite

"... add a pinch of bauxite"

It is a recipe for a bigger, richer, more comfortable Canada.

The "pinch" is scores of shiploads of the red earth — bauxite — from British Guiana. A three-thousand-mile ocean journey ends at Port Alfred on the Saguenay River. Then the bauxite goes by rail to the electrical "kitchen" at Arvida a few miles away. There aluminum is refined from the bauxite by using electricity provided by harnessing the same Saguenay.

You see, the Saguenay provides two essentials for making aluminum — deep water for cargo ships and cataracts for power — within a few miles of one another.

Standing on the dock at Port Alfred, you see something unique. You watch freight cars filled with bauxite disappear over a hill and return with shining aluminum. The process of turning bauxite into aluminum has added Port Alfred and the city of Arvida to Canada's living space, and opened new opportunities for thousands of Canadians.

USING THE BIBLE

Lesson Text: Psalm 19: 7-11.
Acts 8: 26 - 35.

Someone has said that the Bible is the most widely distributed and the least read of all books. That is not quite true, but there is an element of truth in it. Every Christian has a Bible, or at least there is one in every home. Yet, it is not read as it ought to be. There are several reasons for that.

One reason why the Bible is not read universally is because of its form. Divided into books, chapters and verses, makes it hard to read. Some of the newer translations which disregard the stereotyped form and prints the poetry in the Bible in poetic form, has done a lot to get over this difficulty of form.

Another reason is, that it is not all on the same level. There are dull, dreary passages, and thrilling challenging dramatic sections, and all the stages in between. One cannot pick the Bible up and read it all through with the same high level of interest. Modern Biblical scholarship has helped to overcome this, somewhat, by arranging the Books of the Bible chronologically.

The person who wants help, encouragement, wants to know God's will, wants to see God revealing Himself in personality and history, will read and meditate upon special favourite passages in the Bible, and that is a good practice.

In this 19th psalm, the writer extolls the Word of God. He was referring, naturally, only to that part of the Bible then written. We may, with fuller assurance declare that God's law is perfect. We live in an age when men and women pay all too little attention to God's law. Somehow or other, the fact that God's laws are inimitable, is overlooked. We go pretty well about our own way, and so long as we obey the law of the land, we are satisfied. But underneath the law of the land there is the universal law of God. The Bible shows, in unmistakable terms, what happens to men and nations who disregard these laws. They may survive for a time but the judgments of God are final and unchangeable. The mills of God grind slowly but they grind exceedingly small.

The lesson switches, at this point, to a New Testament passage. It is an interesting story. An Ethiopian of great influence and prestige, has been converted to Judaism. He went to Jerusalem on religious duties. Having completed them, he was on his way home, seated in a halequin which no doubt was carried by slaves. He was reading his bible, a passage from Isaiah: "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter, etc." Philip caught up with him. This is not the apostle Philip, but Philip the evangelist, who had done so well in winning others to Christ that Peter and John, at one time, had been sent by the other apostles to give official recognition to his work.

Well, this man caught up with the Ethiopian and asked him if he knew what he was reading. The Ethiopian admitted his ignorance, and Philip then elucidated the passage for him in the light of the life of Christ.

At this point it would be easy enough to get off on a discussion of Philip. He was right on his job; he was a confirmed evangelist. But the purpose of the lesson is to underline and emphasize the value of the Bible. Philip won the Ethiopian to Christ because he interpreted for him the scripture. Men today, are seeking guidance in a troubled and perplexed world. The Bible has the answer; it has all the answers. A study of the Bible, a search of the scriptures will uncover, for individuals and for nations, the will of God, for us.

Enrolments Drop In Canadian Universities

Ottawa. — Hon. Milton F. Gregg, V.C. Labour Minister, announced that enrolments in Canadian universities for the 1950-51 term were lower than last year.

The minister said preliminary figures indicated that the number of students attending universities this year was 5,000 below the number who graduated last year. He said the main reason for the decrease was the graduation last year of the majority of war veteran students.

FOUL TIPS...

by "Red" Miller

The 1950 baseball season is over . . . that is as far as local teams are concerned. . . . In the O.B.A. playoffs for the Intermediate 'C' title, the local Merchants were shuffled out by Strathcona, who in turn were defeated by Stouffville . . . In the Intermediate 'B' series, the local Athletics were ousted by Cobourg, in the best of three series — the first game 5 to 2 for Napanee at Napanee Cobourg and the final 5 to 0 here.

Cobourg are now engaged in the best in three with Port Erie . . . and won the first, 6 to 5 . . . the second being scheduled for this week.

The last of the local teams entered in competition baseball were the Napanee Lions who wound up in the battle for Bay of Quinte title and the Beaver Trophy, with the entry from Deseronto. . . . The series was a test in seven, and it went the route . . . the deciding fixture being played here last week-end and Deseronto were the league winners by a score of 6 to 2.

The locals were guilty of costly errors that paved the way for the Deseronto squad. . . . For the winners Brant handcuffed the locals in the final game and for Napanee, Breaugh went the route.

In all it has been a real season . . . more than enough games . . . a sprinkling of arguments that pepped up the interest and gave us something to scribble about . . . and above all it kept a lot of people busy trying to guess the outcome of the various leagues.

"Club Girl Entertains" County Training School Project For 1950-1951

What girl desn't like to entertain? Because they do like to entertain and because they realize that there is much to learn about the art of entertaining. Homemaking Clubs in Lennox and Addington have selected "The Club Girl Entertains" as their project for 1950-51.

The Training School for Leaders and Assistant Leaders of these clubs will be held in the Department of Agriculture Board Room, Napanee on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 24th and 25th. The time will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Leaders must be present for both days.

"The Club Girl Entertains" has been designed to answer many of the questions which a girl may have when she strats to plan various types of entertainment. Included are such topics as: table setting and service, party planning, serving afternoon tea and entertaining week-end guests.

A Club may be organized in any community where there are at least four girls between the ages of twelve and twenty-six and there is someone to act as their leader. This leader should be a person who is interested in girls and is willing to carry on at least eight meetings with them.

It is hoped that every Women's Institute in the County will sponsor a club, this year. Institutes and other groups interested may obtain further information by contacting your Home Economist, Miss Elsie M. Irvine, Napanee.

DEANERY OF L. AND A. WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

The Lennox and Addington Women's Auxiliary Deanery held its annual meeting on Friday, Sept. 29 in Camden East. Service of Holy Communion at 10:30 in St. Luke's Church was conducted by Rural Dean F. O. Ware, assisted by the clergy of the Deanery. Rev. W. Whillans, of Stella, preached the sermon. There were 107 communicants. Dinner was served in the Parish Hall.

The afternoon session was held in the church with the Deanery secretary, Mrs. J. Ham, presiding, and was opened with a hymn and prayers. The address of welcome by Mrs. M. Oldham of Camden East, was replied to by Mrs. W. Robinson of Napanee. Reports of the branches of the W. A. in the Deanery were very encouraging and one new branch at Yarker was welcomed.

The guest speaker was Miss Forestal, a missionary on furlough from Japan. She described many divisions of the work carried on with extreme difficulty and also spoke of Canadian missionaries at work there, particularly among the blind. An appeal for help in rebuilding the Sunitarium at Obuse, Japan, recently destroyed by fire, met with a ready response.

Mrs. C. L. Boyd, newly elected Diocesan president, gave a report on her recent trip to Moose Factory, North Ontario, preceding the attendance at the Dominion Annual at Timmins.

Mrs. E. Kent, Dioc. Dorcas secretary-treasurer, gave a splendid report on the annual meeting. A resolution of thanks was read by Mrs. Ware of Tamworth. Several members of the Diocesan Board were present from Kingston. Napanee Branch invited the Deanery for the year 1951.

ERINSVILLE

Erinsville, Oct. 9. — The community was surprised and grieved to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of Jack Lynch, which occurred at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, on Friday the 6th inst. He was 58 years of age and was never married. He is survived by two brothers and two sisters: Vincent, and Mrs. P. Quinn of Erinsville; Micheal of Kingston; Katie who is married and living in New Jersey, N.J. . . . The funeral was held Monday from the Church of the Asesumption, Erinsville. The Rev. Father Callahan sang the requiem mass and interment was in the church cemetery. Mr. Lynch was born here and up to the last ten years has always lived here. Of late he has been employed at Kingston. The funeral was the largest seen in this community for some time and was attended by his many friends and reatives here and acquaintances from Kingston, and by a representative from the Army personnel at Barriefield, where he has been employed.

The duck and partridge season opened here strictly on time, with a bang. Neither seems too plentiful in this section, this year.

The dance and euchre esponsored by the C.W.L. in the Parish Hall on Monday evening, was largely attended and a good time was enjoyed by all.

The traffic on No. 41 Highway over the week end was heavy. Blossom time has nothing over autumn time over the mountains at this season of the year. The panorama of colour and beauty is a challenge of nature for the artist to portray.

Mr. Paul has purchased the homestead of Archie Gee. Mr. Gee has gone to live with his daughter, in Kingston.

BOY SCOUTS NEWS

FIRST NAP. BOY SCOUT TROOP

Tuesday evening at 7:15, the second Scout meeting of the season was held. The meeting opened with the Raising of the Colours and from then on the boys had a busy time.

A review of the Scout laws was held. This took the form of a competition, the winners being A group, under the leadership of P.L. Nick Diamant. A short game was held. Following this an interesting talk on Indian trail signs was given by Asst.-Scouter, Fred Barnett, after which another loosener-up game was held. Next came one of the highlights of the evening, Assist.-Scouter E. Spade gave the Troop a twenty-minute period in elementary Judo. As a result there have been many applications for instruction in the Master-of-Arms badge. A lively sing-song led by the Asst.-Scouters was next on the programme. This was followed by a Troop council where plans were laid for Apple Day.

The meeting came to a close with the Lowering of the Colours and the Troop dismissal.

The common cold can result in decreased hearing.

VITAMINS

Why You Should Take Them

It has been proven that the human body requires definite amounts of vitamins to maintain good health and that average meals from our supply contain all of these necessary nutritional factors.

Vitamins are needed for the normal functioning of the body. They aid in growth and they help to maintain the appetite and resistance against infection. Sufficient vitamins help to produce a noticeable feeling of "well-being". But remember this! You don't have to be ill to need additional vitamins.

Dorland, Oct. 7 — A shower on Tuesday, followed for some hours by cooler air, has been the only break in the mild, dry weather. Many persons remark that many and gorgeous tints of the autumn foliage. Fall wheat is coming up but would be improved by more moisture, with continued mild weather.

Judging by the number of boats to be seen on Hay Bay, particularly last Sunday, fishing must be good. Driving along the road on Sunday one would wonder that the lines cast so closely did not become entangled. The fish could hardly miss getting caught.

Health Unit

Of these visits, 21 were made to mothers expecting babies; 36 to the infant under one month of age and 82 visits to babies under one year.

The other visits were made to preschool children, school children, and schools and clinics.

Why does the nurse want to see a mother before her baby is born? We think of the new born infant as only a few hours, or a few days old. The baby at birth is actually already nine months old the day he is born. He has been developing steadily throughout this whole nine! His future health will depend to a large extent on the health and happiness of his mother during the nine months before birth.

The Public Health Nurse can help the mothers during this period. She can advise and help her plan for the new baby.

The nurse does not take the place of the family doctor. Visits to him throughout the nine months are of the utmost importance. The nurse is working with the doctor to bring about a safe delivery for the mother and the birth of a strong and healthy baby.

The nurse needs help in finding these new mothers.

Other Activities Of Interest

Miss Pae and Miss Willson spent a most enjoyable day on Amherst Island. Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Coehane made them most welcome, as did others who they met during the day. Some time was spent in the school and in visiting at homes where there were new babies.

Miss Pae and Mr. Spade spent an interesting afternoon at the County Picnic held at Flinton. As a newcomer, Miss Pae was most happy to meet other members of the county and to be made to feel so welcome.

An evening meeting was attended at Northbrook by Miss Pae and Miss Blair. The purpose of the meeting was planning for the Tuberculosis Survey to be held in the month of October, sponsored by the Lions Club of Napanee.

An evening meeting of the milk fund committee of the Lions Club was attended by Miss Pae, the purpose of the meeting being to arrange for milk distribution to school children in Napanee public schools.

An afternoon meeting of the Womens Institute of Camden East was attended by Miss Pae and Miss Aird. Miss Pae gave a short address on the work of the Public Health Nurse in the County.

SANITARL INSPECTOR'S REPORT

During the month of September, the inspector's time has been taken up mainly with school inspections. There are approximately 88 schools in the County, and a thorough inspection is made covering heat, light, ventilation, toilet facilities and water sample taken at each school. It is pleasing to note that the majority of schools have carried out recommendations made last year. All recommendations are made for the betterment of the health of the children and the teachers.

It was the privilege of the Inspector to address the Ontario Hotel Association on Thursday, September 28th, at Belleville. The object of his address was to acquaint the hotel owners with his work, in protecting the health of the public in hotel establishments.

LEADER OF INK SPOTS STOPPED ON SUNDAY

Long one of the chief attractions in Deseronto, and probably responsible for making more outsiders acquainted with the town than any other single factor, Dawson's Quinte Beach Tourist Camp has had its usual quota of distinguished visitors again this summer.

James Dawson, the genial owner and operator of this property, is especially proud of a couple of unsolicited letters he has recently received from satisfied guests. One is from C. J. The service for the car, plus the availability of good food, rates Dawson's Camp a stop-over we will never forget."

RAIN HAMPERS PLOWING MATCH AT ALLISTON

INTERNATIONAL EVENT OPENS AT ALLISTON, ONT.

Alliston, Ont., Oct. 10.— The 37th Annual International Plowing Match starts today at this town 40 miles northwest of Toronto — and the weatherman has predicted fine weather.

Officials feared Monday's heavy rain might wash out the opening day program as it did last year at Burford, Ont. For a while it looked as though spectators might have to be content with the accompanying farm machinery demonstrations and the static shows instead of the opening intercounty matches.

Scene of the famous four-day competition is the nearby Nottawasaga Farms. If the weather is good and the sandy soil drains well, officials hope to have everything in good shape when international competition starts tomorrow.

Immigration Minister Harris will open the competition Wednesday afternoon. Final banquet and presentation of prizes will be Friday, October 13, at nearby Beeton.

Top intercounty prize today will be a conservation and agricultural tour of the United States. Four Ontario youths, all under 20, will make the trip. They will be accompanied by a manager appointed by the Ontario Plowmen's Association, sponsor of the competition.

Top awards of the international meet will go to the winners of special horse and tractor classes. Two plowmen will be given the opportunity of representing their country at matches throughout the United Kingdom. Winners last year were Ronald K. Marquis, of R.R. 1, Sutherland, and James M. Eccles, Brampton, Ont.

In spite of the inclement weather last year, an estimated 25,000 persons were on hand each day. O.P.A. officials are hoping for an even bigger turnout this week. While no announcement has been made yet regarding total prize value, it is expected to equal 1949's $15,000.

CANADIAN BIRTH RATE INCREASES

Ottawa. — The birth rate went up in Canada during July while deaths and marriages decreased, the bureau of statistics has announced. In the seven months ended July, births and deaths were higher and marriages lower.

Births in July totalled 32,243 against 29,703 in July, 1949 bringing the cumulative total for the seven months to 204,404 against 202,509 in the corresponding period last year.

Increases were reported for the month in all provinces except Ontario and British Columbia, while the seven-month totals were higher in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia.

July marriages declined to 14,419 from 14,621, with Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta lower. In the seven months, marriages numbered 60,378 against 63,106 a year ago. All provinces were lower except Saskatchewan and Alberta.

"Too-Busy" Beavers Obstruct Construction Trans-Can. Highway

Quite a battle, apparently, is raging in Sudbury District over the man who is trying to construct a road which eventually will be part of the Trans-Canada Highway, and Nature's finest and most persistent dam builder—the beaver.

It seems that six beaver had made a small lake where the road is being constructed between Britt and Sudbury and when the foreman of the drilling crew found the lake obstructed the progress of the road he decided to eliminate the lake by blowing up the beaver dam in the vicinity.

Not wishing to hurt the animals the foreman first chased the beaver out of danger and then blew up the dam with dynamite. However, this only brought the level of the lake down two feet and by next day the beaver had rebuilt the dam. Again the dam was blown up but this time the beaver not only rebuilt it but reinforced it by constructing two more dams some forty yards downstream.

At time of writing more dynamite charges were being set in the dams. Six beaver can do a lot of work in one night and the longer the war continues the longer the nights become at this time of the year so more, bigger and better dams can be built.

It is likely the beaver will have to be live-trapped and released in some area where they can build dams without interfering with man's progress.

This is no time for a Race!

The unseen figure of Death rides beside the motorist who is in level cruising. The way may look clear and there is a split second in which to avert calamity. Unfortunately, the 140 who were killed and the 549 who were injured in 441 car accidents in Canada in the twelve-month period ended, the train was moving faster than they judged, or they were at point of impact than they imagined and they paid a high price for impatience. The old rule of STOP, LOOK and LISTEN is more force than ever, today, when more automobiles and trucks are on the road. Make sure you have a clear path over the crossing. Obey signs placed there for your protection. It's better to be fined than to be killed or maimed.

McCORMICK — RUTTAN

At 11:00 o'clock on Saturday morning in Grace United Church parsonage, Rev. C. D. McLellan united in marriage Mildred Elizabeth Ruttan, daughter of Mrs. Albert Smith and the late Mr. Smith, and Clarence Frederick McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McCormick, Napanee.

FARRELL — WHALEN

A pretty Autumn wedding took place on Saturday, September 30th, at 10:00 o'clock in St. Vincent de Paul Church, Deseronto, when Rita Veronica, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Whalen, was united in marriage to Frederic Gerard Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Farrell, Lonsdale. Rev. James Farrell, S.J., of Toronto, brother of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony and said the nuptial mass. Present also in the sanctuary were Rev. G. T. Martin, P.P., Deseronto, and Rev. I. Donoghue, of Marysville. Charles Farrell, brother of the groom, and Harold Whalen, brother of the bride, were acolytes.

To the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. M. Huyck, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was attractively gowned in floor-length white slipper satin, designed with fitted bodice and nylon yoke with Chantilly lace, long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her full skirt was trimmed on either side with alternate frills of lace and satin. A seed pearly coronet held her finger-tip veil and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses.

Miss Grace Whalen was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a pale pink embroidered nylon dress over satin, with matching mitts and finger-tip veil, with matching headdress. She carried an arm bouquet of Gladioli.

Mr. Stanley Farrell, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Mr. John Whalen, of Marysville, brother of the bride, and Mr. Emmett Farrell of Kingston, brother of the groom, were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received the guests, wearing a two-piece gray dress, with black accessories, and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother assisted, clad in navy blue printed dress, black accessories and a corsage of white mums.

Following the reception, the happy couple, amid showers of confetti and good wishes, left for Rochester, Wallaceburg and other western points; the bride travelling in a royal blue velvet figured taffeta frock, with grey accessories and a corsage of red roses. Upon their return they will reside in Lonsdale.

Quite a battle, apparently, is raging in Sudbury District between man, who is trying to construct a road which eventually will be part of the Trans-Canada Highway, and Nature's finest and most persistent dam builder—the beaver.

It seems that six beaver had made a small lake where the road is being constructed between Britt and Sudbury and when the foreman of the drilling crew found the lake obstructed the progress of the road he decided to eliminate the lake by blowing up the beaver dam in the vicinity.

Not wishing to hurt the animals the foreman first chased the beaver out of danger and then blew up the dam with dynamite. However, this only brought the level of the lake down two feet and by next day the beaver had rebuilt the dam. Again the dam was blown up but this time the beaver not only rebuilt it but reinforced it by constructing two more dams some forty yards downstream.

At time of writing more dynamite charges were being set in the dams. Six beaver can do a lot of work in one night and the longer the war continues the longer the nights become at this time of the year so more, bigger and better dams can be built.

It is likely the beaver will have to be live-trapped and released in some area where they can build dams without interfering with man's progress.

H. SPEARING, PROMINENT AUBURNTON, SASK. FARMER, DIES SUDDENLY

Henry Spearing, prominent and well known farmer of the Auburnton, Sask., district, passed away unexpectedly at his home on Sunday, September 17th, in his 79th year. The late Mr. Spearing had suffered a severe illness about two years ago but he had made a splendid recovery and appeared to be in sound heal.h. He had been one of the leading farmers in the district for almost half a century, active in community and church life, rural councillor, and a prominent member of the Masonic Ord r.

Eldest son of the late Mr and Mrs. Henry Spearing, deceased was born at Bath, Ontario, on September 28, 1871, and when a young man he farmed in the Bath district. He went west in 1901 and was employed with a C.P.R. construction crew, laying steel to Hudson Bay Junction. On November 27, 1901, he was married at Carman, Man., to Miss Alberta Reed, after which they took up a homestead in the Arthur, Sask., district, where they remained for 10 years before moving to their present farm home one mile west of Auburnton, Sask.

An industrious and resourceful farmer, Mr. Spearing was successful in combining his grain growing activities with the raising of purebred Holstein cattle and Percheron horses to develop a well balanced mixed farming program with adequate equipment. In the early days he operated one of the largest threshing outfits in the district, and acquired splendid farm buildings.

A man who liked to keep pace with events, the late Mr. Spearing was interested in the affairs of the community. He was actively associated with church work in the Auburnton district, and for many years he was a member of the Official Board of Auburnton United Church. He was also connected with the School Board for a long time, both as Trustee and Secretary-Treasurer, a position he gave up only a few years ago. Mr. Spearing also served for a term as Councillor in the R.M. of Moose Creek.

Of rugged physic, Mr. Spearing had a great capacity for work, and while he was a man of strong personal convictions he possessed a genial and pleasing personality, which won him many close friends among his neighbors. He was a staunch Conservative in politics and he served his party faithfully at all times. Mr. Spearing set an example in citizenship that was admired and respected by all. It was the character of men of his stamp that has made the prairies well known for the type of resourceful farmer that that country develops.

Following his illness of two years ago, Mr. Spearing had lived in semi-retirement on his farm, although still occupying himself with minor jobs about the farm.

Mr. Spearing has also been an active member of the Masonic Order. He was a charter member of Boscuryes Lodge, and served as Worshipful Master in 1918—the fifth year of its establishment. He first joined the Order at Bath, Ontario, and in April, 1898, was among the first to sign up when Boscuryes Lodge was formed at Oxbow, Sask., in 1908. In October of 1947 members of Boscuryes Lodge honored Wor. Bro. Spearing's 50th anniversary in Masonry, when he was presented with the 50th year Jewel and Certificate at a banquet held to mark the occasion.

Besides his widow, Mr. Spearing is survived by four sons, Harold and Roy, of the Auburton district; Orville, of Vancouver, B.C., and Clifford, of Estevan, Sask. He also leaves a brother, John Spearing, and a sister, Jennie Spearing, at Kingston, Ontario, and 12 grandchildren.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, with service in St. Paul's United Church, Oxbow, Sask. The service was conducted by Rev. E. Keam, and the church was crowded with neighbors and friends gathered to pay last respects to one who had held a place of esteem and respect in the community for almost 50 years.

Members of the Boscuryes Lodge, A.F.&.A.M., attended in a body, and last Masonic rites were conducted at the graveside. Interment took place in the Oxbow, Sask., cemetery.

You'll find beyond doubt that this impressive, powerful, six-passenger automobile is the value-leader by far!

CHEVROLET

ECONOMICAL OPERATION

For all the power you want when you want it, with consistently economical fuel consumption, there's no better engine than the highly-improved Chevrolet valve-in-head, with its ultra-efficient new carburetor. And that's not all! Many thousands of enthusiastic owners will testify that Chevrolet needs less maintenance, less servicing than any comparable car.

COMPLETE DEPENDABILITY

Built for Canadian driving requirements, reflecting its superior craftsmanship in every detail, Chevrolet is further backed by a nationwide organization of skilled service and maintenance specialists. GREATER ROOMINESS

There's hip-room, head-room, leg-room and room to spare for six adult passengers in a Chevrolet. The big doors swing wide to let you in and out without undue stooping or crouching. And the bigger, more capacious trunk has ample room for all your luggage—and your passengers', too!

HIGH TRADE-IN-VALUE

Records prove that used car buyers as well as new car buyers consistently favor Chevrolet over other cars. That's because Chevrolet is first in the low-price field with all the qualities of much higher priced cars, and also because it's renowned for dependable, yearin, year-out performance.

This Is 'No Accident' Month

Toronto. — The October 'No Accident' campaign is already under way and thousands of industries across the province in the membership of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations are taking full advantage of that special drive, according to a news letter just issued by the head office of the Associations.

Efforts during the week of October 8th should be intensified because not only is that week part of the 'No Accident' month campaign but in addition it is 'Fire Prevention Week' and has been so proclaimed by the Governor - General of Canada. It should be remembered that there is not only one week in the year to prevent fires or only one month in the year in which special attention should be given to efforts to produce a good record in accident prevention. The idea back of these special campaigns is to remind us all of the necessity for heading off human suffering and economic losses.

As a help to all in industry the Associations have issued a special bulletin reminding all to keep goggles in place over their eyes, to keep floors clear of hazards, to keep tools in proper condition, to keep guards on machines and properly adjusted and, finally to keep plant accident prevention rules.

The "No Accident' campaign, like any other phase of accident prevention, is a definite part of production, for the injury experience, whether good or bad, has its effect on the production of the plant.

WHY CROSS 38TH PARALLEL?

BY DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press NNews Analyst

The toughest question which the United Nations faces is whether its mili'ary forces shall be sent across the 38th parallel from South Korea.

The problem not only is tough but it is urgent. The fate of the North Korean army already is sealed and with its complete collapse must come a quick decision about crossing that imaginary line which looks more realistically than the Great Wall of China.

But why cross the 38th parallel at all? Well, because the United Nations envisages the establishment of a free and united Korea, and that can be achieved only under supervision of the peace organization. A military halt at the border might defeat this plan by leaving Korea a country divided against itself.

The delicacy of the situation lies in the fact that Korea is of great importance strategically. It not only touches Communist China but also adjoins Soviet territory close to Russia's great naval base of Vladivostok.

So naturally both Moscow and Peiping are watching Korean developments with the weather eye. Probably they are asking themselves if the United States has any ulterior objective in view — whether, for instance, she is manoeuvering into position for a move against the Soviet.

Of course the United States has disavowed any territorial or permanent military interest in Korea, and has made clear that she has no military designs against Russia. In addition American officials in Washington are figuring that if the United Nations decide to order troops into Northern Korea, there are now plenty available, without using American forces. This idea of not using U. S. soldiers is, of course, premised on the assumption that neither Russia nor China will move armies into Northern Korea.

While the hush-hush question of crossing the 38th parallel still hangs fire in the United Nations, the peace organization is going ahead with plans for Korean peace and rehabilitation. Britain is taking the lead in this and has drafted a program which includes the establishment of an independent and United Korea, with a democratic government elected under United Nations supervision.

This program also calls for the establishment of a strong U. N. commission which would see that the organization's plans were carried out. The commission would have strong Asiatic representation to deal with this Asiatic problem.

It is difficult to see how the United Nations' plans could be carried out without sending a strong military force across the 38th parallel into North Korea. The U. N. commission certainly should have this backing.

However, there is no need for employing American troops and thus creating a position which without any question would antagonize Russia and China. Troops would be available from the contingents already being provided by Canada, Britain, the Philippines, Turkey, Greece, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand, Belgium and The Netherlands. What more could be wanted? And even this list does not include the South Korean army which has been fighting along with the American and other U.N troops under General MacArthur. What's the matter with sending a South Korean military contingent into North Korea for police work? It strikes me that would make an excellent selection.

To sum up: The sending of American troops into Northern Korea might create a dangerous situation, while the U.N. likely could avoid this difficulty by using non-American forces.

BRITISH STEEL NATIONALIZATION SET FOR FEB. 15TH

London. — The Labor Government has announced it will take over Britain's big iron and steel industry on February 15th, 1951.

Under the Parliamentary Enabling Act, the Government was to take over January 1st, 1951, or within twelve months thereafter.

On February 15th, the country's now privately-owned iron and steel companies will transfer their securities to Government's Iron and Steel Corporation. The transfer date was announced by the Supply Ministry.

The Government will take over 92 companies from all branches of the industry.

Nationalization of steel is one of the biggest projects in Labor's program of state socialism. Passed in 1946 after bitter opposition from both Conservatives and Liberals, it emerged again this year as a controversial issue in the House of Commons.

When Prime Minister Attlee announced the Government's intention of going ahead with the plan, Tory leader Winston Churchill immediately tried to overthrow the Government. He failed by six votes.

Churchill contended that to nationalize the vitaly important defence industry during rearmament at a time of international crisis would be to split the country when it most needed unity. Attlee replied that steel nationalization was the law of the land, and that his Government intended to carry out the law.

Britain already has nationalized its coal mines, railroads, much of its road transport, electricity, gas, airlines and the Bank of England.

A week ago the Government announced the seven-man board which will administer the state-owned iron and steel industry. No figures have been announced for its cost.

The Iron and Steel Bill passed last December after the Government promised not to nationalize during the election campaign. Churchill promised during that campaign — for the February general election— that his party would repeal the law if it won. But Labor squeezed through to a narrow victory.

FIRE UNDERWRITERS PRESENT FACTS TO CANADIANS

On an appropriately disastrous anniversary the 80th since Mrs. O'Leary's cow is said to have kicked off a holocaust in Chicago, the annual Fire Prevention Week from October 8 to 14 has begun under the sponsorship of the Dominion Board of Insurance Underwriters.

In an annual campaign to stir Canadians out of their apathy to fire hazards, the underwriters have marshalled some grim statistical facts.

67,144,473 was the loss in 53,048 fires in Canada in 1948.

Women and children are the chief victims.

In 1948 fire claimed 493 lives and 285 of these fatalities occurred in homes.

The underwriters attest in passing that it was only by an act of Providence that the Rimouski and Cabano fires were not attended by a great loss of life.

"No nation, regardless of how prosperous, can afford to burn its human and economic resources as we are each year, in permitting fires to destroy so many valuable lives and such great property in their claim.

Carelessness Cost Heavy

Careless smoking and use of matches are shown as the principal offenders, causing 19,509 fires in 1948, with all kinds of home and building heating appliances running a close second, and faulty electrical wiring adding to the damage list.

The underwriters urge that "Fire Prevention Week" not be considered an annual perm tion soun in Canadian ears and other buildings but that the lack of fire must be uppermost at in the minds of Canadians 365 days a year.

TALKS FAIL BETWEEN UNIONS AND RAILWAYS

BY WILFRED LIST

After three days of sparring at the conference table, the Canadian railways and the sixteen international railway unions have abandoned efforts to settle their wage and hours dispute, and returned it back into the government's lap.

It was learned Tuesday night that the railways and the unions failed to agree on an arbitrator to decide the issues, thus leaving it to the government to name the arbitrator.

The union committee sent a letter to Labor Minister Gregg informing him of the failure of the government-ordered negotiations.

Talks between the railways and the unions were taken up again under legislation that ended the nine-day strike of 120,000 railway workers.

The legislation provided for arbitration of the points still in dispute when the strike was ended, if the renewed talks failed to bring an agreement.

The railways and the unions failed to agree on any point; the fact that the two groups met for only three days indicated they could find no common ground. It was learned that the parties felt it was hopeless to even discuss an arbitrator acceptable to both groups.

The arbitrator's findings will be binding on both parties, but he cannot reduce the terms below the last offer of the railways.

The strike-ending legislation guaranteed a 40-hour week with pay for 48 hours, effective September 1, 1951. The union wants it to begin June 1, with a three-month transitional period during which no overtime would be paid up to 48 hours.

On wages, the legislation guarantees a four-cent-an-hour increase, effective immediately — in fact, the companies have already added the four cents to the hourly rate. The unions want seven cents, retroactive to June 1, 1950.

Although the railways held out to the last against inclusion of hotel and water employees in the general agreement, the legislation brought this group of employees within the terms of any new agreement.

One point that will have to be decided by the arbitrator is the term of the contract. The unions agreed to a two-year contract if joined with a cost-of-living bonus. The railways offered a two-year agreement, but withheld a cost-of-living bonus.

Appointment of an arbitrator may be made next week, since the period for voluntary settlement of the dispute expires Saturday.

CANADA'S PLACE CALLED KEY ONE

Toronto. — Jercy J. Phillip, Ottawa correspondent of the New York Times said last week end that Canada is a key country in the Atlantic Pact nations.

He told the Empire Club that, since Canada is bound to Great Britain by tradition and linked to the United States economically, Canadian participation in the treaty might so bind the United States that Europe and the United Kingdom might never again fight alone.

He suggested that world war might be prevented by showing 'just enough strength to ensure peace' and by a spiritual as well as a physical rearmament.

Travel Fund Amounts To United States Now Increased

CHRISTENING SET FOR PRINCESS

London. — Princess Anne, baby daughter of Princess Elizabeth, is to be christened October 21st at Buckingham Palace, the Royal Family's main London residence, it has been announced.

The date chosen is Trafalgar Day, red letter day of the Royal Navy. The little Princess is born to a naval tradition, since her father, Prince Philip, is on active service, and her maternal grandfather, King George VI, fought in the Battle of Jutland in 1916.

Prince Philip, serving in the Mediterranean in command of a frigate, will fly home for the baptism.

Princess Anne, borne August 15th, will be christened by the Archbishop of York. Dr. Cyril Garbett. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who usually officiates at such occasions, will be out of the country.

Princess Anne — the full name in which she will be baptized is Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise — will, like her brother Prince Charles, wear a historic royal christening robe of Honiton lace. This was worn by all Queen Victoria's children, and all the royal children since.

Names of the godparents will be announced later.

Trafalgar Day is the anniversary of the great sea battle in 1805, in which Admiral Horatio Nelson crushed the navies of the French Emperor Napoleon and died in his hour of victory.

The baby Princess weighed six pounds at birth. She has been staying with her mother at the Royal Scottish residence of Balmoral for several weeks, sheltered from publicity. There have been no recent announcements of her weight and progress.

Meantime, gifts from all over the world continue to pour into London for the little girl.

Among her earliest honours was the title "Princes Anne of Edinburgh, Tev." and honorary citizenship in that community.

CRITICALLY INJURED ON HONEYMOON

Mrs. John Nagel of Regina was critically injured in a head-on collision eight miles east of Belleville, during a driving rainstorm on Thursday. Weekend on a delayed honeymoon trip, the car driven by her husband struck an eastbound car driven by Robert Slavin of Belleville at the crest of a small hill at Milltown.

Doctors at the Belleville General Hospital said there was little hope that Mrs. Nagel would survive. Her husband's condition was also described as serious. He received a broken hip, cuts, bruises and shock

Slavin was also taken to Belleville Hospital, but his wife escaped with other bruises. Mr. Slavin is Eastern Ontario district supervisor for Percival Stores, a furniture firm.

It is reported the Nagels were driving from Sherbrooke, Que., to meet Mrs. Nagel's mother at Scotland, Ont. They were married about three years ago.

A witness of the crash, Mrs. Gilbert Scott of Belleville was driving behind the Slavin car. She said the Nagel car pulled out of line to pass, striking the Slavin vehicle at the brow of the hill.

NO INCREASE IN PRICE OF MILK IN PICTON

Milk consumers in Picton have good news this week. There will not be any increase in the price of milk, such as has been made in many other centres.

At a whole milk producer-distributor meeting last week it was decided to continue with last year's contract for the year October 1st, 1950, to October 1st, 1951. This means a continuance of the present price of milk.

LIFE-LINE DEFENCE

Seven years after Italian and British naval guns fired their last salutes at each other in combat, the two fleets have been united in defence of the Mediterranean.

The Italian navy, pride of the country's armed forces, is stripped of its wartime glory as a ranking sea power. Nevertheless, Italy's battered fleet has been taken to working with British sailors as if it were a habit of years.

It was on September 8th 1943 that the Italian fleet sailed to Malta to surrender to the British. In August of this year, the commander of the British Mediterranean fleet, Admiral Sir John Edelsten, put into an Italian harbor.

A few days later the Italian naval chief of staff, Admiral Romeo Oliva, sailed into Malta aboard his flagship Andrea Doria. British and Italian ships formed up. This time it was in friendly salute, as joint Anglo-British naval manoeuvres began in the Mediterranean sea defences and train Italy in the role she will play as a full partner in the Atlantic Pact.

The joint naval-air manoeuvres, united his special British and Italian fleet units are continuing exercises aimed at protecting communications and keeping the Italian coastline free from amphibious attacks.

Italy is limited to a navy of 67,906 tons. She cannot possess aircraft carriers, submarines, sea torpedo boats, or landing craft under the terms of the peace treaty. She has only two 25-year-old battleships, the Andrea Doria and Caio Duilio, five cruisers, four destroyers, 16 old torpedo boats and 19 corvettes in her fighting forces, plus 35 mine-sweepers, eight patrol boats and 72 auxiliaries, fuel ships, tugs, etc.

With this force manned by less than the treaty quota of 25,000 officers and men, Italy must defend a 4,000-mile coastline and two islands, Sicily and Sardinia. Under the Atlantic Pact, she will team with Britain to keep the Mediterranean open for allied vessels.

Information about Travel Funds

New regulations covering travel funds were announced by the Minister of Finance on Wednesday, October 4th.

The main point to remember is that Canadian residents require Form H Permit to take out of Canada more than $50 U.S. or more than $100 of Canadian and U.S. currencies combined. Form H Permits will continue to be available at banks.

The regulation covering the use of Form H for the export of currency is a safeguard against the export of capital sums where such export would not be permitted through other channels.

Authority has been given to banks and other agents of the Foreign Exchange Control Board to approve applications for U.S. travel funds without reference to the Board for amounts up to:

1. $500 per trip for bona fide business travel.
2. $500 per person in the calendar year for other travel.
3. $2,000 Canadian per year, or its equivalent, for attendance during a full academic year at a university, college or boarding school in the United States.

Applications in excess of these amounts may be referred to the Board and will be approved for reasonable amounts, having regard to the duration of the proposed journeys.

Border Travel:—Individuals may obtain up to $50 U.S. in any calendar month for use on a trip to the United States where the applicant will not be taking out of Canada more than a total of $100, of which not more than $50 is in U.S. funds.

Broader Pension Scheme Hinted

Hon. Paul Martin, Health Minister, indicated in a speech given in Niagara Falls, Ont., last week, that some sort of contributory scheme for old-age pensions might be suggested to the provinces when the Dominion-Provincial constitutional conference resumes, early in December.

He described old-age pensions as of prime importance in national health and said he realizes changes are necessary. But the Federal Government had not the constitutional power to make amendments.

Mr. Martin predicted the time would come when Canada would have free medical attention and hospital care for all persons in needy circumstances.

Mr. Justice Kellock New Arbitrator Railway Dispute

To Draw Up Settlement Both Parties Must Accept

The Canadian Government sprang a surprise yesterday, when it announced that Mr. Justice Kellock of the Canadian Supreme Court would be given the task of carrying out the compulsory arbitration provisions of the Act passed on August 30th, to reach a settlement in the railways dispute. While Mr. Justice Kellock has little or no direct experience in the labor relations field, he has held important government commissions, perhaps the most important, his work as joint commissioner with Mr. Justice Taschereau in the espionage investigation of 1946.

Justice Kellock's job, briefly entails the drafting of a settlement between the two railways and the non-operating unions which both parties must accept as the basis for a collective bargaining contract, the term of which he will fix. He is limited in his findings to minimum concessions offered by the railways before the end of the strike and which were later incorporated in the Maintenance of Railway Operations Act, under which he is now appointed.

He can award to the unions no less than:

A 40-hour week, effective on September 1st, 1951, and

A contract which includes steamship and hotel workers within its terms.

If Mr. Justice Kellock grants a wage increase above that stipulated the act provides that the new increase shall be retroactive to the day when the strikers returned to work or, in other words, to August 31. He can set the date of other provisions subject to the limits of the railway offer.

While the act stipulates that the arbitrator shall make his decision, with all convenient dispatch, it is likely to be a week or more before hearings can be started in Montreal.

Mr. Justice Kellock is one of the youngest of the supreme court judges. He was born in Perth in 1893, graduated from Osgoode Hall and practised law in Toronto until his appointment to the Ontario Appeal Court in 1942. He came to the Supreme Court of Canada in 1944. He is a Baptist and graduate and member of the board of governors of McMaster University.

'MR., MRS. CLUB' OPEN SEASON WITH GOOD ATTENDANCE

There was approximately an attendance of 125 for the monthly potluck supper held in the Sunday School room of Grace United Church on Friday evening and a delectable supper was served. Those in charge were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ohlman and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodcock. After the supper Rev. C. D. McLellan presided as chairman and extended a hearty welcome to the many present, including a large number of visitors.

The first number on the program consisted of community singing with Mrs. Ralph Wightman, choir leader directing and with Mrs. B.M. Sager presiding as accompanist. Those who observed their birthdays on Friday were Jackie Leary, Neil Kelly and B. M. Black, and birthday greetings were sung. Mr. McLellan then turned to the trio many happy returns of the day. A piano solo was played by Miss Fay Sexsmith, which was followed with a vocal duet by Marilyn and Douglas Topping, which was heartily applauded.

Mr. McLellan was particularly pleased to see Fred Russell present. Mr. Russell has been in poor health for some time and he was given a real reception. Jim and Neil Kelly then played two cornet duets, which were well received. Jimmy Kelly followed with a cornet solo.

Lieut. P. E. Gardner, Officer in charge of the local branch of the Salvation Army, and Mrs. Gardner, and small daughter, were guests and the former gave an interesting address. He told the audience that they needed the church and the church needed them. He stated that the church represents the cause of Christ and that the Church has the maximum pulling power.

Ralph Wightman, superintendent of the Sunday School, on behalf of the Mr. and Mrs. Club", thanked Lieut. Gardner for his timely address and also thanked all who had taken part in the program.

The devotional period was then conducted by Mrs. Fred Russell and the supper and program was concluded with the benediction by Mr. McLellan.

DELEGATE TO WORLD CONVENTION HEARD IN NAPANEE

Quite a number of ladies enjoyed a W.C.T.U. parlour meeting held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Hooper, on Thursday, Oct. 12. The president, Mrs. Langford, presided and, after reading the minutes of the last meeting, read the resolutions adopted at the recent Provincial Convention, Toronto, to which she was a delegate.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. W. Wartman, her theme being 'Thanksgiving'. Miss E. Park offered prayer.

The guest speaker for the meeting, Mrs. Ruttan of Picton, delighted her audience with an interesting account of her trip to England, her visit to some beauty spots of the British Isles and her attendance, as delegate, at the World's 18th W.C.T.U. Convention held last June in the historic seaside town of Hastings, England. About 1,000 women were there from over forty countries. Mrs. Forrester-Paton, was the world president.

Greetings were received from many world organizations: International Alliance of Women, International Federation of Business and Professional Women, International League for Peace and Freedom, etc., and a message of goodwill from the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Reception was a colourful spectacle with its beautiful decorations, flowers and national costumes of the various delegates. Some of these women such as Frau Bischer, president from Germany, and Mrs. Whang of Korea, told of very sad experiences through the war years and later; yet good women of all these lands stand true to Christian principles and are allowed a major part in the ninth when he hit a batter, threw wildly trying to pick the runner off first and then made another wild throw on Yarnell's sacrifice bunt.

One 83-year-old Pembroke woman told a canvasser she was perfect. But she added: 'I'm not the kind to be taking chances.' Put me down for it.

In the Pembroke-Renfrew area, including Timmins, Schumacher, South Porcupine, when in 1944 the first mass survey was conducted, nine per cent. of those canvassed were X-rayed. Of the 8,924 X-rayed nineteen or 2.1 per thousand were proved to have active tuberculosis.

Complete information of the local T.B. Survey, which is being sponsored by the Napanee Lions Club, was given by both Doctors E. B. Paul and E. R. Ellicott, when interviewed this week: 'The public has much to gain by the carrying out of this survey,' Dr. E. B. Paul commented. "A very valuable contribution to the health of our entire community,' said Dr. E. R. Ellicott."

When a canvasser calls on you to explain the TB survey and leave you your information card to fill out —

DO IT AT ONCE, and don't forget your X-ray appointment.

If a canvasser fails to contact you, Telephone 476 Napanee, The Lions Club Centre, Headquarters, and all the information will be gladly furnished to you.

REMEMBER may depend upon it! So be sure and have a FREE X-RAY when the survey starts in Denbigh on Friday of this week.

The first Napanee location will be at the Armouries — 7:00 p.m. on October 20th. See posters in local stores for other times when survey will be in progress.

All members of the T.B. Survey Committee are giving their time and effort as a public service for YOU. The least you can do to protect yourself and children is to take advantage of the FREE X-RAY service.

25th. Annual Rally W.M.S. Held Trinity Church

Large Attendance Delegates Hear Interesting Reports

The 25th Annual Rally of Napanee North and South Sections of the Woman's Missionary Society of Belleville Presbyterial, was held in Trinity United Church, Napanee, on Friday, October 13th. The morning session opened with the Doxology, followed with prayer by Rev. Noble Hattor. Mrs. P. L. Hooper extended greetings and mentioned that Trinity W.M.S. was organized in 1882 and that of Grace Church, ten years later. The district was divided into two sections: Napanee North and Napanee South, in 1904. This joint Rally, occurring every five years, meets alternately in Grace and Trinity Churches.

She welcomed the various groups all working together for a Christian womanhood, and hoped they would receive a blessing from our meeting together, to-day. Mrs. Langford, in replying to the greetings urged us to put more prayer into our home life.

During the business period the following Committees were appointed:

Resolutions — Mrs. G. Price, Selby; Mrs. William Bell, Empey Hill; Mrs. Cook, Selby. Courtesy — Mrs. Doris Wilson, Strathcona. Mrs. E. Drew, Desmond; Mrs. Fraser Allen, Odessa.

'The Story of the Year' was given in a very interesting way by the Recording Secretaries of Napanee North and South sections. The study book 'Growing With The Years' has been taken up in most auxiliaries. Group systems are used in the large societies. The World Day of Prayer was observed on March 3rd. Prayer, Money is raised by voluntary givings, thank-offerings, pot luck suppers and quiltings, auxiliary giving and bazaars. Bales of good, used clothing were packed for Overseas Relief, Christian Stewardship and Temperance are stressed and have a place in the programme in most societies. All are striving to reach their allocation.

The reports of the Junior groups were also very encouraging, showing excellent work accomplished during the year.

The worship service was given by Boy Circuit East and was followed from the 6th chapter of Luke. Do your work and do it well. Take God into partnership. Give and it shall be given into you. He who soweth sparingly shall reap sparingly and he who soweth bountifully shall reap bountifully. The offering was dedicated by Mrs. Claud Alcombrack.

Miss Jean Cable, Literature Secretary of the Dominion Board was introduced by Mrs. McLellan, presbyterial president. Miss Cable who said also that of the 105 Presbyterials in Canada, Belleville Presbyterial is the largest. This leaves us to be a challenge for greater and stronger effort. There is extreme need for our work missionary and bazaar. Several McArthur has asked for 1,000 missionaries to be sent. Education makes a strong bid for Japan. Our efforts are needed. By working together, in unity is the goal of the new Indian Government, following the lead given by Gandhi. At no government in India, and at the Indian Embassy in London, none is obtainable.'

Mrs. R. F. Denison and Mrs. Geo. Finlay expressed the appreciation of all to Mrs. Ruttan for her inspiring report, which was given in her usual pleasing, conversational manner.

During the afternoon, two solos by Mrs. B. Finlay and Mrs. R. Wightman were much enjoyed.

SUSPECT NABBED BY POLICE AT DESERONTO

Because he seemed to be acting suspiciously, Ernest Way, alias Ernest Johnston, was picked up by police in Deseronto early Sunday and is now back behind bars in Picton, answering long-standing charges of non-support and theft. Way had been hiding out in the Napanee district most of the summer while Picton police were looking for him.

When he picked up a 17-year-old girl here on Saturday night, Way started the investigation that led to his capture.

Chief of Police Earl Baker, Napanee, and Chief of Police Harry S. Pratt of Deseronto on Sunday, to be on the lookout for the girl, who was thought to have been seen in Deseronto Saturday night. Early Sunday morning, Chief Pratt located the girl at the hotel in Deseronto with a man who turned out to be Way.

Because Way acted suspiciously Chief Baker and Chief Pratt questioned him and found he came from Picton. The police there were notified and Chief Bert Biddle and Constable E. Marvin came over to Deseronto and picked up Way on Sunday afternoon to answer the two Picton charges.

It is expected that other charges will be laid against the man.

Fed. of Agriculture Asks Farmers Stop Buying Margarine

Recent Decision of Privy Council Upholds Supreme Court Judgment

Ottawa First result of the London Privy Council decision banking up the Supreme Court on manufacture and sale of margarine, has been a call by the Federation of Agriculture to all Canadian farmers to stop buying the butter substitute. It has been a source of embarrassment to the Federation that, while it was carrying its battle to revive the margarine ban to the Privy Council, farmers all across Canada were becoming substantial users. This was particularly the case when the farm industry was obtaining the higher price for its butter.

H. H. Hannam, president of the Federation, declared that it was now up to dairy farmers and governments to work out policies to safeguard the dairy industry.

"All farm families in Canada," he added, "could set an example in assuming this responsibility by purchasing no margarine."

Mr. Hannam's statement probably heralds a new move by the Federation to induce provincial governments to take measures for discouraging margarine sales. The C.F.A. president claimed the dairy industry had been seriously undermined by inroads of margarine in the past two years.

Comparative figures for the first nine months of this year show creamery butter production at 217,300,000 pounds and margarine 69,600,000 pounds. For the same period of 1949 the figures were 226,400,000 pounds and 53,100,000 pounds.

Against this statistical evidence, however, is the fact that the drop in butter prices during the summer has a marked effect on domestic disappearance and eliminated the earlier threat of a butter surplus.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES IN BELLEVILLE

County Health Unit News

The County Health Unit is not only interested in the prevention of disease and accidents but in the health of the people but also in the prevention of accidents. A great deal of attention is given to accidents in the home. Trivial wounds may become infected if not treated properly.

It would be wise for parents to know something about first aid. Sterile dressings and adhesive tape should always be available in the house. A doctor should be called in any major emergency.

The most common home emergencies are cuts. These should be thoroughly cleaned with soap and water. An antiseptic may then be applied. If there is bleeding simple pressure should be used till the bleeding stops. If the would is contaminated with grease or oil it may be cleaned with gasoline or benzine. Young children should not be allowed to play with knives or scissors.

For the first aid treatment of minor burns sterile gauze dressings soaked in a solution of baking soda—a tea spoonful to a cup of warm water — may be used.

Falling is a common accident in the home. If it is suspected that a fracture has occurred the injured part should be splinted to avod movement, and a doctor called at once.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC

They have had an election in East Germany — the section under Communist control. It was the kind of election that is held in all Communist countries. It is sort of one-way traffic business. Only one name is on the ballot. The voter's name is on the voter's list. He is checked as he goes in to vote; is given the ballot, places no mark on it, then deposits the ballot, as he received it, in an open box. That sort of an election is not unfamiliar to the German people; it is the kind that they used to have under Hitler.

Of course, the whole business is a farce. The persons elected are the persons whom the machine has picked out, long before the election takes place. The only value in such an election is the propaganda value. The leaders announce to the world that the present rulers have been endorsed a hundred per cent.

There is something about it though, that it might be well for us to take note of. The East German governors announce that 96 per cent of the eligible voters exercised their franchise. That is something to crow about. In our Democracies we are lucky if sixty per cent get out to vote, and more often the vote is down in the 40 per cent. bracket. We are not sympathetic to a compulsory vote, yet it is a sad state of affairs when the vote polled is so small.

It is one of the inexplicable experiences revealed by history. Our forefathers fought for the right to vote and then once it is achieved, their sons and sons' sons, take all too little interest in the thing their ancestors gave their lives to secure. Then, having failed to appreciate the gifts they have, it is taken from them. This has occurred more than once in the history of the world.

We pride ourselves on our Democracy. We claim to love our freedom. We demand the right to choose our own leaders — all too often these claims mean little to the voter. The tragic plight of the Germans — first under Hitler and now under Stalin, is a lesson to Democratic people everywhere. The picture of a proud people like the Germans marching up to the poling booth like so many automatons and dropping a paper in the box, which has already been filled in for them, is shocking and tragic. It is a terrible condition, but it is one that could be repeated in other countries, when interest in public affairs declines to a vanishing point.

THE EASTERN ENTRANCE

The new entrance to the town is beginning to take definite shape. We can see now just about the way the road will curve to meet the Main Street of the Town. It is quite an engineering project and when finished, will be quite an attractive entrance from the East. But that is not the purpose of building the new bridge. It has been done as a measure of safety. In that direction, too, it ought to be a great help. It should make driving into the town from the East, easier to navigate and safer.

A lot of money has been spent on the project, and it should help avoid accidents. But not the finest highway in the world will eliminate accidents when there is a nit-wit behind the wheel of the car, or someone whose reactions have been dulled by intoxicating beverages. Gasoline buggies are pretty sensitive and mighty powerful contraptions. The development has been towards faster and faster cars. They manage so easily that, too often, the person at the wheel takes too much for granted. The craze for speed affects some people like a disease; they want to pass everything on the road. They attempt this in spite of curves, hills or solid lines. After all, we may have the finest bridges and highways in the world, but the human factor is the unpredictable factor, and so far, nobody has been able to do much about that.

However, we are glad the new entrance is being built. It should help those who are trying to play safe.

EXPORTING CULTURE

Canada has such a prominent place in the export of material goods, that it may not be generally recognized that some other less tangible, but equally vital exports are receiving recognition in other countries. There has been a market for Canadian art for some time, and Canadian pictures are pretty well known in countries outside our own.

It is a bit different with books. Canadian authors are not very well known in the United States, or in Great Britain. In the United States, publishers are loath to publish Canadian books. Once in a while a generous-hearted concern will co-operate with a Canadian publisher and publish a Canadian book in the United States, but not very often.

It is the same thing in Great Britain. Canadian authors there, are almost unknown. Since the pound has been devalued, the problem of getting Canadian books distributed in Great Britain has become more difficult. The devaluation works to the advantage of the British firms, which are losing no time to get their books into the Canadian market.

In view of this, it is encouraging to learn that there has been quite a change in the attitude of people outside this country to Canadian music. In the current issue of External Affairs, this subject is dealt with. The writer says that: "It is an anomoly of the Canadian cultural scene that, although music is an art in which Canadians have made significant contributions, the works of Canadian composers and the talents of Canadian performers, remained until the end of the war, little known to the Canadian public. Prior to that time, many Canadian orchestras and performers were unwilling to risk the use of much Canadian material, while the early entry of United States agencies into what might be called 'the recital business' created conditions that made the success of Canadian performers, themselves, difficult to achieve. As a result, Canadian concertgoers remained largely unaware of the wealth of musical ability that was being trained in this country."

The writer says that the situation has changed greatly for the better, since 1945, and he gives the credit to Canadian publishing houses, to leaders like Sir Ernest MacMillan. Nor does he overlook the part which the CBC has played in this change. As a matter of fact, we are of the opinion that this latter is a major factor in the change. There are thousands of people throughout the United States, particularly, who have become acquainted with our Canadian programmes over the CBC, and listen to them regularly. These are on a high order, and are well received across the border.

In these days, when the emphasis is so largely on material things, it is encouraging to learn that an increasing market is being found abroad for Canadian ideas and culture.

DEAR ! DEAR !

A report from Oshawa, Ont., dated October 16, has this to say. "Publication of the report on the Government's investigation into Windsor vice, and a list of the persons involved, was requested yesterday by the Eastern Ontario Steel Workers Council.

"A resolution requesting the information be made public was approved by the fifty delegates, meeting in the Cadillac Hotel, here. The Council represents 19 local unions, embracing 3,500 members."

Now, what can these steel workers be up to. We can imagine a church court or some other religious group making such a request, but steel workers ! What are they coming to ?

We rather expect church groups to make requests like that, and if they did, we would hear comments about "uplifters" and "kill joys." But labor unions. The first thing we know they will be the "kill-joys" and the "uplifters" — and, as we see it, the sooner the better. Perhaps these groups who have been so successful in improving working conditions for Labor, will be able to turn their techniques to good advantage in the moral clean up, so badly needed in certain areas. It will be a great thing for Ontario, when they do. But we warn them, they will have a lot to put up with, both from their friends and their enemies, if they ever get started at that job.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, October 22nd

GROWING THROUGH PRAYER

Lesson Text : Matthew 6 : 9-13; Luke 11 : 9-13; Philippians 1 : 3-11.

It is a common pastime in certain quarters to cast doubt on most religious practices, but particularly on prayer. Sometimes people, otherwise well educated, will be found among this group. And that is the more remarkable for modern education lays stress on science, and it is certainly most unscientific for one to condemn outright that which they have never tested. For a person who has never practised prayer to declare its invalidity would be on a par with a diabetic to declare that insulin was no good without ever giving it a thorough going try out.

The saints, in all ages, who have had a consistent prayer life, all testify as to its efficacy, and many and many a humble christian who cannot be placed in the "saint" class can testify to the truth and the value of answered prayer.

Jesus was the master of prayer. It came naturally, as natural as breathing and eating. The little group whom he had recruited from the fisher folk and peasant class had no such prayer life—at the start—but they wanted to stay the confidence and hour of Jesus, and asked Him to teach them how to pray. It was in answer to this request he gave them The Lord's Prayer. It was simple—"Our Father" Father of all mankind the corollary of which is that all are brothers. How do that work out ? Black and white, yellow and brown; worker and manager; are equal in the sight of God and each a brother to the other.

"Thy will be done". What is God's will for us ? More money, more prestige, more ease, more goods ? That can hardly be the will of God, at least not for the God whom Jesus taught us to call Father. The will of God for us is that we should meet all life's situations in the spirit of Jesus Christ. No use praying that God's will be done unless we are prepared to let God have his way with us.

"Give us this day" does not mean that we are to be spoon fed. It means that God is asked to strengthen our efforts, our will, and our spirits in the struggle to subdue nature and bend it to our needs. Laziness, and expecting God to look after us, without our effort, is no part of the christian philosophy. When Jesus speaks of debts, he is not thinking of money. And debts are the things we owe others. Good will, service, companionship, encouragement, these and scores of others we owe to those around us. And we need, too, forgiveness for the things we have neglected.

Asking for these, mumbling the Lord's Prayer, racing through it like a steam engine, is not prayer. That sort of mumnery will get no answer, which is exactly what it deserves.

In the next section we really get the technique of prayer — one does not just ask. In prayer, one puts his whole self into it. He asks, and seeks an answer, knocks, and keeps on knocking. God has provided abundantly for all man's material and spiritual needs, but man has his part to do. That is why so many people find no answer to prayer. They expect God, in some miraculous way, to come into the room. Man must co-operate with God in the effort to answer his own prayers.

In the last section of the lesson Paul gives us a good look at his own prayer life. He writes to the congregation at Philippi and pours out his soul in intimate fashion. He thanks God for them, for their fellowship and their co-operation with him in the christian enterprise. How a minister, or a church leader, appreciates the support of those loyal to the cause of Jesus Christ. No wonder Paul opens his prayer with that spirit. He assures them he has them in his heart, and prays continually that they may see their love grow greater, and their ability to choose the best things, increase.

We can argue and debate until doomsday about prayer and get nowhere. It is hard to prove by any mathematical demonstration the value of prayer. All we who know its comfort, the strengthening power, and have witnessed the answers, all we can do is to say, come, and all put it to the test.

Well Known in Napanee Charlie Lewis Dies At Killarney, Manitoba

A guard of honour composed of high school students extended for a block from Holy Trinity Church, on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 10th, as the funeral procession carrying Charles Lewis to his last resting place, passed by.

Mr. Lewis, who had been caretaker of the local school for almost twenty-five years, passed away unexpectedly Saturday evening, Oct. 7th, in Killarney Hospital. Ill for about a week, suffering from pleurisy, he was believed to be progressing, but the strain was too great for his heart, and death came with startling suddenness, that evening.

Not only will Mr. Lewis be missed in the school, where he was loved and respected by pupils and teachers alike, but around town where he was a familiar figure.

The funeral service was conducted by Canonn L. J. Adams, rector of the church, and burial was made in Killarney cemetery. Pallbearers were: Honorary: L. Voudre, W. Parker, Dr. J. H. Dickson, C. McKay, W. Kellaway and C. C. High. Active members of the Canadian Order of Foresters, R. Arbuthnott, H. H. Powell, J. R. Ross, P. R. Mudden, E. Chatham, A. N. Mustard. The last rites for a departed brother were performed by Members of the Canadian Order of Foresters, at the graveside.

Born in Wales, Mr. Lewis came to Killarney when a young boy, coming first to the home of Fred Foster, a former Lena resident. From there he lived for a time at the home of the late John Baxter. For a time he worked in Winnipeg, returning to Killarney, where he worked for several farms in the district, before joining the C.P.R. section crew. Starting as caretaker at the school in the spring of 1926, he was hoping to complete a quarter of a century of service with that institution.

In 1933, he was married at Napanee, Ontario, to Miss Grace Bowen, who survives him. He is also survived by two sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis paid a visit to Napanee and district several years ago and their many friends extend deepest sympathy to Mrs. Bowen in her hour of bereavement.

To mention Mr. Lewis' passing without taking notice of his hobbies would be remiss. Chief of these was gardening, and his home grounds will be a lasting memorial to his love for beauty, which with the assistance of his wife, has been developed into a beauty spot of the town. Another of his hobbies was that of stamp collecting. His volume of stamps would be a source of pride to any philatelist. — The Killarney Guide, Manitoba.

THE COMMON BOND

They were a happy couple when they walked down the street in Mapleville, people smiled and said "Don't they look happy!" He wasn't making much money but he was ambitious, and a hard worker. They spent modestly, saved a little for the time when a young 'un would arrive. Then one day he got a raise. That was the day when he had to make a decision. There were so many things they wanted, a house, a car, and the little luxuries that made life worth living. But Junior — they had to think of his future, too. That was what got them interested in Canada Savings Bonds. They were the ideal way to make that extra savings and they could be bought at the Branch of the Dominion Bank for cash, or ... under a Monthly Savings plan ... such a small amount each month, too ... meant that they could start on a bond and still have some left over for themselves. So they kept adding to their savings ... and bought themselves a Canada Savings Bond and some day ... they'll be glad.

Will they ever strike oil in your back yard?

An exciting thought, isn't it? But of course you know the odds are hopelessly against your being that lucky. In fact, you don't expect life to hand you even a very small fortune on a platter. Or do you?

Take old-age benefits, for instance. Undoubtedly many older people really need help. But no over all security plan is going to provide all the income you and your family will ever need in the future. Things just aren't going to be that rosy.

Five million Canadians, among whom you are probably one, want and expect security and independence in their later years. And they are planning for it now, in a way that suits their own individual and family needs.

These far-sighted men and women are enjoying more of the good things of life than ever before, and at the same time protecting their loved ones now and building security for their old-age with life insurance.

Surely you want to help build this kind of future security for yourself and your family. Nearly 5 million Canadian life insurance policyholders are doing it now!

Canada Savings Bonds Spell Sound Security

Buy Them on B. of M. Easy-Payment Plan. — Down Payment Only Five Per Cent. — 5.50 for $50 Bond; $5 for $100 Bond — Balance Paid In Easy Monthly Instalments Over Year.

When you buy a Canada Savings Bond, you both acquire a source of future strength for yourself and your family, and you invest your money in a way helpful to your country. Canada Savings Bonds pay 2½ per cent. interest every year, and they are always worth their full face value.

There is no simpler investment, and a temporary shortage of cash need not stop you buying a bond. Just decide how much you can afford over the coming twelve months, up to a maximum of $1,000. Then pay a call on Edward Powell, manager of the Bank of Montreal, at Napanee. He will be pleased to arrange the purchase of your bond on the bank's monthly instalment plan.

Here is how it works: you make a deposit of five per cent as a down-payment. That's $2.50 for a $50 bond — $5 for a $100 bond. You pay the balance in easy monthly instalments over a year. It's a prize plan for steady saving.

The B of M also has full facilities for keeping your bonds safe, clipping the coupons and crediting your account with the interest. And, should you ever find yourself in need of cash for an emergency or sudden opportunity, remember there is no need to sell your bonds. With them, you can readily obtain a low-cost B of M personal loan.

Now is the time to buy your Canada Savings Bond. Guaranteed by the good name of this country, there is no sounder investment.

During the Second World War the Royal Canadian Air Force had a peak strength of more than 204,000 including 14,000 women.

DEATH OF MRS. FRED J. VANALSTINE

The death occurred at Kingston General Hospital, on Sunday morning, October 15th, 1950, of Teresa Beatrice Lasher, wife of Fred J. Vanalstine. Deceased had been in failing health for some time, and early Tuesday morning suffered a heart attack. She was immediately taken by ambulance to the hospital, but never recovered consciousness.

Mrs. Vanalstine was born in Richmond Township, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Lasher. She was a devout member of Grace United Church, and took an active part in several church organizations and also taught a Sunday school class.

Service was held at the Wartman Funeral Parlors on Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, being conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. D. McLellan, assisted by Rev. R. Boston, Roblin.

Besides her husband, three sisters survive: Mrs. Gertrude McCracken of Napanee; Mrs. Anson McKeown of Napanee, and Mrs. Charles H. Kimmett, of Roblin.

Floral tributes were many and beautiful. Pall-bearers were six nephews of the deceased: Fred and Richard McCracken, Harold and Glen McKeown, Nathaniel and Donald Kimmett.

U. S. SAYS AUTRIA TO BE PROTECTED

The United States has warned Russia that it will take all proper action to protect Austria from further Soviet interference and Communist-led disorders.

Deputy U. S. High Commissioner Brig. Gen. J. C. Fry made the warning in the four-power Allied council last week. The meeting aired Austrian Government complaints that the Russians prevented Austrian police from ejecting rioters from Federal buildings in last week's abortive Communist "general strike."

Fry later told a press conference while the size of our troops in Austria may not be impressive, it must be remembered that they are backed by the military might of the Atlantic Pact nations and by most of the two-thirds of the world which is anti-Communist." Fry said at the council meeting that the United States is very directly concerned with the Russian interference tactics and that it intends to help maintain law and order in Austria.

1. The nourishing glass of milk from Grandma's is the happy ending to this story. It started when Nature put aluminum in the earth itself. That is why the important mineral is richly in the milk we drink.

2. And Nature gave aluminum sparkle—that make it ideal for containing milk. Many milk products—many parts of modern milking machines—are made of aluminum.

3. From farm to dairy . . . from country to city . . . rich, wholesome Canadian milk is being increasingly carried in aluminum containers . . . to reach you fresh and pure.

4. And to top it all, many bottles of milk are protected and sealed by strong aluminum foil tops. Aluminum source elements for the most sensitive of all foods.

When juices run out of a pie, do not give up. This can be prevented by adding additional thickening the next time or by cutting down pie filling. Too hot an oven also can cause a run-over, as can pie that is not sealed around the edges.

LOCAL S. A. CORPS WINS AWARD

Health Unit Stresses Need For Vitamin 'D'

At this season of the year parents are reminded that all infants and growing children require some form of Vitamin 'D' in order to maintain adequate nutrition and thus build up resistance against colds, flu and other upper respiratory infections. An ordinary diet does not contain sufficient vitamin 'D', so it must be supplied in the form of fish liver oil such as cod or halibut liver oil or synthetic vitamin 'D'.

The Nurses of the Lennox and Addington County Health Unit have been distributing Vitamin 'D' and instructions for distribution to needy families by the County Red Cross Society. This fine piece of community service by the Red Cross has been carried on since 1941.

Children lose more school time from upper respiratory infections than from any other cause. Therefore it is wise to build up their resistance to these infections by proper diet, which includes some form of Vitamin 'D', daily.

Change of Venue Ordered Saturday At Osgoode Hall

Trial Opens Monday, November 6th

The application for a change of location for the second trial of James Fosbraey charged with the murder of his wife, June, on November 28th, 1949, has been granted and the trial will be held at Picton on November 6th, instead of Napanee. Fosbraey was found guilty of the charge at the first trial which concluded on June 18th of this year, and was sentenced to be hanged at Napanee, on September 21st.

The change of venue, a rarity in criminal cases under Canadian law —it has only happened three or four times in more than fifty years — was ordered on Saturday by Mr. Justice Spence at Osgoode Hall. The ruling reversed a decision he had made earlier in the week.

On Tuesday, of last week, W. B. Williston pleaded for a change of venue, claiming there was local prejudice against Fosbraey in Napanee. He presented affidavits alleging that Fosbraey, an Englishman, was regarded as a foreigner.

Mr. Justice Spence ruled against the motion, saying he was firm in the belief that once jurors were sworn in they discarded ary prejudices they might have had.

His lordship directed that no account of the proceedings be printed in newspapers. Toronto papers complied, but out-of-town publications who were not notified of the ruling carried brief wire service reports of the trial.

June Fosbraey, 28, was slain on November 28th, 1949, shortly after her husband returned from a brief stay in England.

A week before he was to have been married, five justices of the Supreme Court of Ontario granted Fosbraey's application for a new trial. The Supreme Court found that Chief Justice McRuer erred in telling the jury it could not bring in a verdict of manslaughter because of provocation.

R. E. Nourse of Picton, acted for Fosbraey at the trial held in Napanee, and it was he, who made the application for a change of venue, on behalf of Fosbraey. The presiding judge at the first trial was the Chief Justice of Ontario, J. C. McRuer. Mr. Justice Wilson was scheduled to preside at the new trial, but because of illness, will be unable to conduct the trial.

Newburgh Factory Being Rebuilt

The Newburgh Cheese Factory, which was partially destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, is at present in the process of being rebuilt. The rear of the building which suffered the greatest damage, is being reconstructed of cement blocks and will be a two-storey addition to the front part, which was only slightly damaged by fire.

The Newburgh factory was one of the largest producers of cheese in Ontario and the news of its reconstruction will be welcomed by the many milk patrons in the district.

The Club Girl Entertains

Only two days are left before the Training School for Leaders of Homemaking Clubs in Lennox and Addington, where is still time to select leaders in your community, if you have not already done so.

The dates for the School are Friday and Saturday, October 27th and 28th, and the time, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Every girl loves to entertain her friends, whether it is for supper after school, a party or for the week-end. The planning of entertainment for such occasions is one of the many topics discussed in the Homemaking Club project "The Club Girl Entertains."

'Etiquette' is a big topic and there is always something to learn. Won't you give the girls in your community the opportunity of being a club member, this year.

TRAINS TRAVEL FASTER THAN YOU THINK!

It is common nis supposed that in collisions between trains and motor vehicles at railway crossings it is the train which strikes the most fatal accidents occurring in that period nearly a quarter of them resulted from the motor vehicle running in to the side of the locomotive or train. Cases were reported in which the motor vehicle struck the train as far back as the driver's seat behind the engine. One of the reasons for this apparent anamoly is the fact, well supported by scientific tests, that trains travel faster than the few seconds all we'd be him to determine whether or not he can safely make the crossing. It is safer to give the train the benefit of the doubt

Collegiate Board Asks Napanee Council To Request Permission To Erect School

A further step was taken toward the erection of a new Collegiate Institute in the Town of Napanee, by the Napanee and District School Board, at a special meeting of the Board, held on Tuesday evening of this week. It was reported that over one hundred per Mr. P. U. Laidley, chairman of the Board, event tentative approval of the proposal to erect a new school had been given by the eight Municipalities which make up the High School District.

He stated that the next step to be taken was for the Board to pass a resolution requesting the Town of Napanee, where it is proposed to erect the school, to ask the Municipal Board of Ontario for permission to build the school. A motion to that effect was moved by J. D. Mayhew, and Oscar Babcock, and was unanimously endorsed by the Board members.

A second resolution was also passed on motion by W. A. McLeod and Edgar Salisbury, whereby the Town of Napanee was to be advised that the Board would co-operate in its plan for financing the expenditure for the building of the school.

The Town of Napanee, which is the largest municipality in the High School District, is according to the High School Act, responsible for the financing of the building, even though all the other municipalities make up the District Board, contribute a share of the cost. The Town of Napanee, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution that the County Council request permission from the Ontario Government to issue debentures to cover the cost of the building in the name of the County. The Town of Napanee Council, felt that the addition of $650,000 debentures might impair the credit of the town in future public works financing.

Mr. Laidley stated that if the town of Napanee passes a motion requesting the Municipal Board for permission to build the school, that the Municipal Board would likely act on the matter within two weeks. Then he said it would be possible for the Board to hire an architect and get out plans for the building, which also would be approved by the County Board and the Department of Education. If the plans are approved the architect can advertise for tenders, and if tenders are within the estimated price of $650,000, final approval will be requested from the Municipal Board for permission to raise the money.

The Board, following a report by Oscar Babcock, chairman of the Transportation Committee passed a resolution that the Board would neither arrange for or pay for, transportation of any pupil who resides under two miles from a bus route.

Mr. Babcock said that at present, the transportation costs are not near the ceiling. The Board had budgeted this year for $30,000 for transportation but the contracts now total nearly $29,000.

X-RAY EQUIPMENT ARRIVES HERE

Friday night last, the mobile X-ray equipment for the T.B. Free X-ray service, arrived in Napanee and set up at the Armouries. The X-ray equipment is the most up-to-date available and uses 70mm film. These miniature plates, when read by experts, are just as accurate as full-size X-rays. With this new method of X-raying people are not required to remove any clothing for their X-ray, this factor speeds up the X-ray process and also makes it most convenient for those attending this Free X-ray clinic.

The mobile clinic commenced to operate in Denbigh on Thursday last, and visited Clarendon, Northbrook and Kaladar before coming to Napanee.

In Denbigh, 202 were X-rayed; 92 in Cloyne, 140 in Northbrook; 143 in Flinton; 104 in Kaladar and 153 at Gibbard's Factory.

Due to circumstances beyond the control of anyone, the Unit ceased to operate at the Armouries Friday evening last. Those who missed their Friday evening appointment, should keep in touch with X-ray headquarters, by telephoning 116 as the workers will be able to have their appointment.

There is still time for any who have missed their appointment for X-ray, if they come to the Armouries tonight (Wednesday) between 7 and 10 p.m.

It is the aim of the Napanee Lions Club, in co-operation with the Ontario Tuberculosis Association, to have made a complete survey of the County of Lennox and Addington, by the end of 1951.

It is your duty to your family, to yourself, and to your community, to help stamp out this dreadful disease, by making absolutely sure there are no signs — which your FREE X-RAY will prove.

DESERONTO EX-FRIMEN STAGE ANNUAL BALL IN AID OF PARK

A large and gay crowd thronged the Summerside Inn last Friday evening on the occasion of the annual Ex-Firemen's Ball. This year total proceeds of the popular dance are being turned over to Deseronto Lions Club for the park project.

Music for the evening was supplied by the Mitchell Orchestra and the festivities were furthered by the plentiful use of favours. It is anticipated that a substantial sum will have been realized.

WHOSE JOB IS IT ?

The last few days there has been quite a furore in the Queer City, because some Church Officials have gone out of their way to condemn the moral conditions prevailing therein. No person should stir up things, just for the fun of it. But, if a condition exists that has to be cleaned-up, then it is the duty of every citizen who knows about those conditions to make himself heard. And, of course, that is a special responsibility of those who are giving their lives for the good of others.

And really, town councillors and other legislators should not take umbrage as such criticism. Their position carries with it a heavy responsibility. The dignity and honour of office should not be used as an immunity from criticism. Indeed, it should be welcomed. Nobody is above criticism, and certainly no one in public office.

One City Councillor in Windsor, says he is going to quit because the publicity the Council received will prevent good men from accepting office. Well, where would we be in this world of ours if everybody took that attitude. Good men should assume office, and by their character and goodness, win support for themselves and the things they stand for. We need good men in our public life. Fortunately, Canada has, on the whole, had men in public office of whom she may be proud. We have been well served by our public servants. All the same, none is perfect and should any be recreant in duty, it is somebody's job to say so, in kindly but firm words.

The Church — and that means all branches of it — has never hesitated to make its voice heard, when she felt the moral compulsion to do so. If the Church should not do this, it would be hard to find a reason why anyone else should do so. After all, churches and clergymen have no axe to-grind. They are concerned only with people. Instead of being disturbed by what the spokesmen of the church say, those responsible should heed her admonition.

"FIRES IN THE FALL"

Every season has its particular appeal. The splendor of our countryside, with the blazing red of the sumac and altogether indescribable beauty of reds and yellows of the maples, fades into a sombre grayness as the leaves curl and wither, and come floating down. This marks a sort of transitional seasonal stage between Summer's fading glory and the sombreness of Winter winds and frost.

There is something alluring and enchanting about the falling leaves. Children gather them, make little diagrams of them on street or sidewalk, and play hop-scotch between the lines of Nature's dead. Others pile them in heaps, jump on them, bury each other in them and revel in the soft safety of the former lovely tree adornments.

We who are a bit older, a bit too dignified, perhaps for such frivolity, have our own way of entering the season's mood— Kicking the leaves as we werd our way to shop or office, walking off the sidewalk a bit to hear the crisp crackle of the dead leaves, and to feel the soft cushions under-foot.

But the fires are the most intriguing of all these experiences. A wise farmer will tell us that leaves should all be saved, piled ein compost heaps and returned to the soil. But apart, altogether, from the labor that involves and the difficulty of getting space conveniently enough, most of us would sacrifice that utilitarian effort for the sheer joy of watching the dull glow as the leaves burn, and seeing the smoke ascend as incense, to some invisible nature deity.

There is nothing quite like the smell of the burning leaves at this season of the year. It belongs to the season, and the smoke ascends, making an eerie pall over the countryside, endowing all with a soft and delicate shade of indescribable beauty.

Well, that's the way it is — and old and young seem to enjoy it, each in his own way, and each in a manner consistent with his years and his temper.

"A FAMINE OF LOVE"

We who take for granted the love and the affection that is showered upon our children, not only in the home but in the school and the church, find it hard to draw a mental picture of the suffering and the neglect which little children experience in war-torn countries. "Oh! they will soon get over it," someone remarks. "They will forget it all — children are built that way; they just remember the things of the moment." Devere Allen, widely travelled student and observer, says: "This nonsensical notion is something nobody could credit after seeing the ravages of war in Europe, or anywhere else, and particularly what it does to the minds and bodies of boys and girls." He then says that there are some people who know how children are affected and who try to rectify the damage. He tells of a group of children of different nationalities in Europe, who are being helped to a new way of life by understanding and generous people. He says:

"One thrilling day three years ago, I made my way by train, from Geneva up through St. Gall to Trogen, where you find the Pestalozzi Children's Village. My guide was Dr. Elizabeth Rotten, a Swiss educator with a finely trained mind and a heart as big as the Matterhorn. . With her help, you could comprehend what had happened to the 200 boys and girls from eight countries, war orphans all, who had learned to forget ancient enmities, surmount the language barriers, acquire self-help, and start a type of blessed 'family' living that will be theirs, one hopes, until they reach maturity.

"Before they came, many of these youngsters had been forced to lie and steal, to forage amid the rubble of dead cities. At first sight of the new buildings, erected mainly by volunteer help, some children assuming that there must have been a previous devastation, asked, 'was the bombing bad here, too?' Now they are marvellously showing good citizenship, getting cultural and manual training, and all the time seeing themselves as part of a whole world. The spirit of the place is well put forward in these words: 'In our era of large-scale planning and technical advancement, of research for new weapons, of resentment and fear, many of us have felt a great vacuum: — a famine of love.' In the Children's Village, that famine no longer exists."

Groups such as that, and there are others in Europe, are bright lights in a Continent which is groping in the darkness of prejudice and hate.

PROGRESSING STEADILY

Last week, we had a personal letter from a friend in Sweden. He is a native of Sweden; an electrical engineer with the Hydro Electric Power Company, there. He takes a great interest in European affairs. Among other things in the letter, he said this: "The tension in Europe has recently been relaxed. There is now less likelihood of another World War, since The United Nations took such a strong and definite stand over Korea."

A somewhat similar statement comes from Samuel Guy Inman, an astute and reliable American observer of world conditions. He says that the U.N. is learning a great deal. He says that "the Security Council learned more in two months, wrestling with the Korean question, than in their previous five years of meetings." He says that the Russians learned that they cannot walk out of the meetings and expect that nothing will be done till they returr. The others "learned that the 'veto' can be a boomerang that was threatening their lives."

So now, the United Nations, after five years of more or less academic debates, is going places. It has a long way to go yet. But it is gaining world confidence and, if it continues to grow and develope in the next few years, as it has begun to do, the prospect for settling international disputes by peaceful means, is bright, indeed.

We are never very optimistic about the good results of war. We have seen too much of the evil of war in our own generation. If, however, the war in Korea—costly as it has been in life and property, should be the means of establishing the United Nations as a world organization which will be heeded by war-makers of the future, perhaps the price will not have been too high.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, October 29th

GROWING THROUGH READING AND MEDITATION

Lesson Text: Acts 17. 10-12; Phi'ippians 4. 2-9; I Timothy 4. 12-16; II Timothy 2. 15; 4-12.

Paul and Silas had quite a time at Thessalonica. They stirred things up. They were not there long, but long enough to get some of the Jews after them. Paul and Silas eluded them. So not to be outdone, they had Jason arrested because he had had the missionaries in his home. That same night, the Christians spirited Paul and Silas away. They went to Berea.

The people at Berea, who were attracted by Paul, were a more intelligent group than those who had attended the meetings. They studied, carefully, what Paul had to say and checked his statements against their Bible. A lot of them became Christians as a result. It is a good thing to know the Bible. It is all too little known, today. The Bible is not an easy Book to read. It is a library of books and covers many subjects. But, while there is much in it that is hard to understand, yet there is much that is simple and easily mastered. It is the great storehouse of inspiration; the great book of comfort, and compassion. It shows God's way with man, and God's unfolding purpose. It reveals Jesus as the Saviour of the world. It is the Book of books.

In the next section of the lesson, Paul tells his hearers to think on good things, pure things, lovely things etc. Here, as in some other places, Paul shows himself a true psychologist, even though the word may not have been known in that day. We live in a busy work-a-day world. Meditation has almost become a lost art. The radio keeps us entertained in the evening, and now the televisior comes along, further to distract the minds of young and old. It is pretty hard to think while these newer communications hold our attention. And yet, without meditation, there is no depth of character. Children must be taught to think and they must be taught to think about the right things. Unless we are taught early in life to think good thoughts, the evil ones will get in on the ground floor and take our attention. The Church has a responsibility here, to see that children and older people, too, have their minds stored with good thoughts, should learn to know about good people. A mind stored with noble thoughts, is the best insurance against the power of evil.

Paul was always hammering away at this subject. When writing to his young friend, Timothy, he urged him "to give heed to reading, to exhortation and to teaching." There are so many agencies, today, which provide good reading. Books are plentiful, and while the cost of producing them has increased, yet the libraries provide the best books, at practically no cost. In a world that is going at top speed, as ours is going, there are many distractions to wean one away from books, but there is nothing that will take its place. Reading provides pleasure, inspiration and information. Paul was on solid ground when he urged Timothy to keep up his reading.

Reading, thinking, meditating — these three are essential to the development of the Christian life. But it must not end there. Paul was a great reader. When he left some baggage once, at Troas, he wrote and asked Timothy to get it for him, 'and don't forget the books' he said. While a great reader and student, he was also a man of action. Reading of the right sort will inspire action of the right sort — that is why it is so important.

Schools On Evangelism To Be Held

Schools of Evangelism will be held in several parts of Eastern Canada as a result of the visits of two United Churchmen, Rev. Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service, and Rev. C. Gardner Ward, minister of Chalmers United Church at Verdun, Quebec.

Rev. Mr. Ward will leave Montreal for Campbellton on Monday, Nov 6, and will visit Newcastle, Campbellton, Bathurst, Amherst, Pictou, Sydney and other places.

Rev. Dr. Mutchmor will preach anniversary services at Grace United Church, Napanee, on Sunday, November 5th, and proceed on Nov. 6th to Meadam, St. Stephen, Saint John Windsor, Liverpool, Bridgewater, Halifax, Truro and other eastern points.

Dr. Mutchmor announced that largely as a result of Visitation Evangelism campaigns held in The United Church of Canada, 31,000 new converts entered into full membership of The United Church of Canada, last year.

He said that 557 per cent. of the total were adults, including many young married couples.

In Visitation Evangelism two persons, usually laymen, go together to the homes of people, who do not attend church or whose connection with church is not closely established. Purpose of their visit is to present the claims of Christ.

In these schools of evangelism being organized in Eastern Canada, efforts are being made to have at least ten laymen present for every minister.

Four vital steps to security

1. A steady job is the foundation of security. And job-security can be increased by showing initiative — the quality which, surveys prove, makes workers most valuable. Life insurance dollars, invested in industries and public works, create many new jobs each year.

2. Owning your own home builds security two ways. It allows you to make a sound investment through regular savings, and it brings freedom from housing worries. Hundreds of thousands of Canadians now own their own homes, built with the help of life insurance dollars.

3. Cash resources, such as savings accounts and Canada Savings Bonds, promote security by providing funds for emergencies. And it is important to save regularly. Life insurance helps you save systematically — for family protection, retirement and other future needs.

4. Life insurance protects you and your family as you build security in all these other ways. It helps to provide income for your retirement. And it guarantees your dependants an income in the event of your death. Thus by owning life insurance you take your most vital step to security!

Here's to your future! In all these ways, life insurance helps you and yours to find greater security. Today 8 million Canadian life insurance policyholders are helping themselves and each other to face the future with increasing confidence!

An Annual Clinic, financed by the Napanee Rotary Club, and under the direction of Dr. W. T. Mustard of the Hospital for Sick Children, is held in the Armouries in Napanee. Correct measurements are diagnosed, ranging from Polio down to simple adjustments in shoes, etc., to correct deformities. For years past, an average of thirty cases are undergoing treatment, and usually, ten of these are major cases, requiring elaborate surgical treatment.

In addition to all the above, last year one boy was maintained at the Merrywood Camp for Crippled Children, and this year, four boys.

We earnestly solicit the continued support, by the public of the money-raising activities of the Napanee Rotary Club, so that handicapped children, the majority of whom would not otherwise receive proper attention, may have a fair chance in life.

CAMDEN EAST

Camden East, Oct. 20. — Beautiful weather prevailed for the annual tea and sale, held by the W. A. of the United Church on Friday afternoon last. An abundance of fancy goods, aprons, home cooking, and vegetables were offered for sale and the financial results were very gratifying.

The funeral of the late W. Dowdle took place in St. Luke's Church on Friday afternoon, with the rector in charge. Following the service burial was made in the family plot. A large number of relatives and friends

L.O.L. Annual Banquet At Tamworth

The annual banquet for members of the L. O. L. in the County of Lennox and Addington, was held Friday night in the Town Hall, Tamworth. Over two hundred people sat down to a turkey dinner and all that goes with it, which was prepared by the members of the local ladies' Orange Benevolent Association. When the supper was over a very fine program was presented. Mr. Kenneth Fenaman, County Master, acted as chairman.

After welcoming the assembly the Chairman asked Bro. Mr. Crawford, Enterprise, District Master, to make some announcements. Mr. Crawford adressed the service to be held in Napanee on November 12th. He also made some other announcements in connection with the activities of the Loyal Orange Order. Two recitations were given by Miss Loraine Freeman, 'The fish that gets away' and 'Suggestions for men,' which brought forth much applause.

Bro. Ronald Baker, Past District Master, addressed the L.O.B.A. of Tamworth and the reply was given by the Worthy Mistress, Sister Rosaline Moss. Bro Crawford showed a reel of pictures that he had taken in Napanee on July 12th, which proved very interesting as several faces were seen of local people, also the Tamworth L.O.B.A. was seen on the march.

The speaker of the evening, Bro. Henry Graham, Grand Organizer, gave a long-to-be-remembered talk. He said he attends, on an average five different lodges each week in the year, and he finds that Orangeism has not been in such a thriving position for the past forty-five years as it is to-day. Each lodge may look small in itself but banded together, they are a multitude of strength. He spoke of attending Grand Lodge in Newfoundland, recently, and told of a banquet there where four hundred and eighty-two sat down to a sumptuous dinner and over two hundred more could not get in. In Newfoundland The Salvation Army works hand in hand with the L.O.L. and the L. O.B.A.

Bro. Fred Bateman, Grandmaster of Ontario East, spoke of the organization as being a Christian Association and said it is our duty to be in the house of the Lord on the Sabbath day.

Rev. Mr. Crawford then showed four pictures, which were on the Origin of the Bible. He explained each picture, which made it most interesting.

Mr. Freeman thanked all present for the interest they had shown and the local lodges for making the evening such a success. The National Anthem closed a most interesting evening.

Conway - Sandhurst Home-School Assoc.

The regular meeting of Conway-Sandhurst Home and School was held October 17, at 8 p.m. at Conway school with a good attendance. Home and school literature was displayed and loaned, as well as books from Quarrier Memorial Library. The president, Mrs. M. Young, gave a brief report of the regional conference held in Kingston, Sept. 30 and explained the resolutions passed at the Eastern convention. Certain radio programs, Citizens' Forum, Way of the Spirit, Cross Section, Cuckoo Clock House, Kindergarten of the Air and others, were brought to the attention of those present. The addition of a school education committee to the family of Home and School was reported and its importance stressed. It was decided to co-operate with the United Church Y.P.S. in their Hallowe'en party, Oct. 27th. Plans to have the pupils sit in their own grades at Winston Churchill School, Kingston, were cancelled, since he could not obtain consent of the School Board. Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison, art director of Kingston schools, will teach art at Conway School the afternoon of Oct. 24th. Members were reminded of the invitation of Adolphustown Home and, Nov. 8th, when this association supplies the programme.

The parent-education convener, Mrs. G. Stewart, gave a brief talk, plugging for Parents' Magazine, copies of which are on loan at the meeting, and highlighting an article on 'Children Working in the Home.'

The president then introduced Mrs. Stephen Oreciano of Adolphustown who spoke about her native Roumania. Beginning with geographical and historical data, Mrs. Oreciano went on to tell of Roumania's natural wealth. Its history goes back to 101 B.C. and is a series of conflicts. Roumania finally gained independence in 1877, only to lose it again in 1944. Eighty per cent of the population are peasants. They are the power of the country and they keep alive a strong Roumanian spirit by community meetings held weekly, when the entire families, from the youngest to the oldest, meet together to work together, discuss their plans and problems, dance and sing, and exhibit the beautiful handiwork for which Roumanian women are famous. The people of Roumania are deeply religious and Mrs. Oreciano feels it is their religion which has stood them in such good stead throughout their present strife. The scholastic system is quite similar to ours, though greater stress is laid on language. Mrs. Oreciano expressed her willingness to return at a later date when she could bring us Roumanian music, pictures and native costume.

Mrs. S. Palmer moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Oreciano. The meeting adjourned with the National Anthem, and friendly discussion continued over the teacups.

They bade no one a last farewell,
They said goodbye to none;
The heavenly gates were open wide,
A loving voice said, "Come"...

The things they used to say and do;
We wonder why they had to die,
Without a chance to say good-bye.

BOY SCOUTS NEWS

FIRST NAP. BOY SCOUT TROOP

Scout Meeting, this week, opened with Flag Break and Scout Silence. Following this a stalking game was played — the Sleeping Pirate. Then a short period of Judo instruction was given by Scouter Spade. Next, the Scouts were given an interesting talk on the origin of trail signs by Scouter Barnett. A Camp Fire Council was held, during which the collection of baskets and the paper drive were discussed. The highlight of the Council was a talk given by P.L. John Mayhew, on the recent Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge. The meeting was brought to a close with a rousing sing-song and the Lowering of the Flag.

A cross-country hike was held last Saturday, under the leadership of Senior Brennan. The Scouts hiked out the Old Belleville Road then cut across the country to Highway 41 to Brandon's Creek. On the way, the boys were given instruction on axemanship, hiking lore and nature study. The order of the day was the securing of natural staves and many fine specimens were brought home. A stopover was held to allow the Scouts to cook their meals. Following this the boys cleaned up the grounds and after the observance of Fire Prevention precautions continued on their way home. The hike was voted a huge success and plans are being laid for more under Scouter Brennan's leadership.

VITAMINS

Why You Should Take Them

It has been proven that the human body requires definite amounts of vitamins to maintain good health . . . and that average meals often do not supply enough of these necessary nutritional factors.

Vitamins are needed for the normal functioning of the body, they aid in growth and they help to maintain the appetite and resistance against infection. Sufficient vitamins help to produce a noticeable feeling of well-being. But remember this! You don't have to be ill to need additional vitamins.

LARGE ATTENDANCE O.R.E.C. CONVENTION AT GRACE CHURCH

The Fall Rally for the Lennox and Addington Council of Christian Education was held at Grace United Church, Napanee, on Wednesday, Oct. 18th, 1950. The theme of this Rally was 'Visual Aids in Christian Education.'

Mr. Ralph Wightman, the County President of the Ontario Religious Education Council, opened the rally, welcoming the largest gathering of delegates in recent years. Mr. A. MacGregor, who was the first County President of the O.R.E.C. was introduced to the delegates and he, in turn, introduced Mr. William G. Medd who was the last President of the Ontario Surday School Convention before the name was changed to O.R.E.C. Mr. Medd, who is the father of Mr. Bruce Medd, well-known in Napanee, resides in Exeter, where the parents of Miss Anthony, one of the guest speakers, reside.

The speakers, Miss Helen Anthony, B.A., who is the Secretary of the Ontario Council of Christian Education, and Rev. Bernard Heywood of Bailieboro, took up the theme of the Rally to excellent advantage. Mr. Heywood spoke first and reminded the delegates that it takes time to prepare a Sunday School lesson, using visual aids. This of course would require more effort on the part of the Sunday school teacher, but the results achieved would more than justify the time and effort thus spent for what is taken in through the eye-gate has double the impact of that which is received by hearing. He continued, "As Joe Louis would tell you, one in the eye is worth two in the ear." Great care must be taken not to use visual aids indiscriminately, as the objective is not merely to entertain but to give a better understanding of what you are endeavouring to teach.

MISS ANTHONY'S ADDRESS

Miss Anthony followed this interesting speaker and gave a practical demonstration of the use of visual aids by teaching a class comprised of delegates. A projector and slides were used with decided advantage, making the story of Mary, the Mother of Jesus, understood in a new and different way. One could not help but be impressed that such teaching would indeed make a more profound impression on the minds and hearts of young people. Following a question and answer period, the afternoon meeting was adjourned and the delegates enjoyed a pot luck supper.

Many Napanee folk took part in the afternoon proceedings. Rev. C. D. McLellan conducted the opening song and prayer. Miss Nina Rogers conducted the worship service and Miss Margaret Vannest gave an interesting report on the World Convention on Christian Education which was held in Toronto last August.

Throughout the afternoon Mrs. Ralph Wightman gave valuable assistance at the piano.

EVENING SESSION

The evening session began at 7:30 with the film 'Two Thousand Years Ago,' describing Home Life at the beming of Christianity. Mrs. Wightman gave a very informative and interesting talk on The Place Music has in Worship. "God speaks to us through music and He has given us a great gift in allowing music to fill the world." The evening programme continued with Rev. B. Heywood giving details of the proper use of film strips in the church. Miss Anthony had some very interesting and new ideas on Improving the Church School, and awakening the interest in the young folk of our churches.

A film strip 'Esther' telling of racial discrimination in Biblical times was given by Rev. B. Heywood.

An inspiring service was conducted by Miss Anthony. She used the film strip 'God of the Hills.' Miss Faye Secksmith supplied quiet piano music and everyone took part in responsive readings and song.

Mr. Wightman expressed thanks for the committee to Rev. Heywood and Miss Anthony for the splendid leadership and inspirational messages they gave. Rev. Townsend brought the evening session to a close with the benediction.

Cars Feature In Accidents Past Week

Three People Hospitalized

During the past week, the Police in the district have been busy investigating motor car accidents which have occurred in the Napanee district. Fortunately, most of them were extremely serious, although at least three people involved in them, were hospitalized as the result of the accidents. Friday evening, about 9:00 o'clock, on No. 2 Highway near Odessa, a car driven by Colin Johnson, Roblin Hill, Napanee, struck a horse, which was loose on the road. The horse was not seriously injured, but the car was slightly damaged. Mr. Johnson escaped without serious injury.

On the Old Belleville Road, about one and a half miles from Napanee, about 4:10 a.m., on Saturday, October 28th, a car owned and driven by Lees Hilditch of Napanee went out of control and into the ditch. Mrs. Hilditch, who was in the car with her husband, sustained head injuries and after being given first aid was taken to Kingston General Hospital for treatment. The car was only slightly damaged.

Also on Saturday, about 4:45 p.m., a car driven by Thos. Chambers of Napanee, was involved in an accident. About a mile west of Napanee on No. 2 Highway, Mr. Chambers suffered severe back injuries and was taken to Kingston General Hospital for treatment.

A rather serious accident occurred about 4:00 a.m. on Sunday, October 29th, when a car driven by Ralph McKeown, of Portsmouth, crashed head on into the rear of a stalled Colonial Coach bus, which had been in charge of Howard O'Reilly.

The bus broke down about five miles east of Napanee, on No. 2 Highway, and, apparently, the driver of the car failed to realize it was parked.

The collision resulted in extensive damage to the car, and Mr. McKeown suffered head injuries, as a result of which he was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital for treatment. Constable Sheridan investigated and charges are pending.

Efforts were made to capture the bird, but in its attempt to make its escape it smashed against a window and broke its neck. Mr. and Mrs. Perry later enjoyed a dinner in which partridge was the main meat dish.

JUDGE G.F. SMITH

The guest speaker of the evening, Judge G. F. Smith, was introduced by Miss Vivian McLaughlin.

Judge Smith defined education as training for moral and intellectual practice. He felt that the moral training should receive greater stress than is customary. All teachers, parents, and every member of the community have a great responsibility by precept and advice, to help young people to become worthwhile members of society.

Addressing the graduating classes in particular, Mr. Smith drew attention to the fact that life on the farm, in the office, factory, etc. would be a great change from the life of the student. He advised these young people to continue their education beyond school days; to become lovers of books and to learn languages, especially English, and to travel. He stressed that travel is possible without great expense that its benefits are many. He urged these young people to cultivate a love for music, to develop healthy bodies and healthy minds, and to take an active part in community and church life.

Judge Smith summed up his remarks by saying: "Don't be satisfied with public school and secondary education. Strive for more. Keep reading and learning. Have a desire to improve." He closed with a reference to Solomon, the wise man of the Old Testament, who said: "Better is wisdom than all precious things and more to be desired."

Mr. P. B. Lewis expressed appreciation to Judge Smith for his helpful address.

The United Empire Loyalist Chapter I.O.D.E. Scholarship, won by George Miller was presented by the Regent, Mrs. Albert Lewis, and the Alice L. Harshaw Chapter Scholarship won by Malcolm Finlay, was presented by Mrs. R. V. Smith.

George Miller was also the recipient of the Mathematics Award, originated last year, by the Principal, Mr. Flood, for proficiency in the Principal's "pet" subject, and presented by him.

Malcolm Finlay, winner of the Alice Harshaw Chapter Scholarship, also won the Memorial Scholarship, awarded to the student receiving the highest standing in matriculation year. Malcolm wrote eight papers receiving seven first class honours and one second. Mr. Flood presented this award.

NAPANEE POLICE CHARGE TWO MEN WITH THEFT

A series of petty thefts from automobiles in the Napanee district, which have been reported to the police during the past four months, is believed to have been solved by the arrest, early Sunday morning, October 29th, by Constables Lyle Davis and W. J. Butcher, of James McMahon, R.R. 1, Napanee, and Howard Wilson, of Odessa.

The two men were surprised by the two Napanee policemen when they were allegedly in the act of removing parts from cars, in a used car lot on the corner of Centre and Bridge Streets.

Later on Sunday, Chief of Police Earl Baker of Napanee, and Corp. W. E. Smith of the Provincial Police recovered a number of car radios, heaters, tires, blankets and other auto accessories, believed to have been stolen by the men.

The two men will appear in the Napanee Magistrate's Court Thursday, on theft charges and will then be turned over to Frontenac County police, where charges will probably be laid against them for alleged thefts in the Kingston area.

Texas Company Offers Napanee Natural Gas

Council Considers Proposition

If a proposal made to the Napanee Town Council at a special meeting held last Friday evening, is accepted by the Council the Electors of Napanee will be given the opportunity at the next municipal election, to be held on December 11th, to express approval or disapproval of granting a franchise to the Eastern Gas Syndicate to supply natural gas for heating purposes, to the municipality.

Mr. J. E. D. Stewart, a representative of the Eastern Gas Syndicate, was present at the Council meeting and explained the proposition to the Council members. The Mayor appointed a committee composed of Reeve Milligan, Deputy-Reeve Douglas, Councillor Wartman and the Mayor to investigate the proposition and report back to the Council after consulting the town's Engineer and the town's Solicitor.

Two readings of the By-law to grant the franchise were given by the Council. It was explained that the Council's action in no way binds the municipality to a definite commitment, for would an affirmative vote by the electors be final. After the proposal has been given full consideration, the Council can still refuse to make the by-law valid by failing to give it third reading.

The town's solicitor, in Toronto, in a letter to the Council, expressed the opinion that the Council could have very confidence in sanctioning the project, but stated that some clauses in the agreement needed to be clarified and possibly changed before final acceptance. The Dominion Securities Corporation is interested in the financing of the project.

Before a vote of the people is taken it is the plan of the syndicate to hold a public meeting in the town at which time full information would be given the electors.

The proposal of the Eastern Gas Syndicate is to pipe natural gas from Texas to Eastern Ontario, with that in view, twenty municipalities in the area are being considered. Already, some towns and cities have accepted the proposition and others are giving it consideration. The cost of laying the pipes and all other expenses in connection with the delivery of the gas will be borne by the Syndicate and no expense will be entailed by the Municipality.

The representative of the Syndicate stated that natural gas, brought even from a distance of 1,000 miles from Texas, could compete very favorably in regard to cost to the consumer with other fuels at present in use. It was also stated that natural gas as a fuel could be supplied at a much lower rate than manufactured gas.

Based on averages compiled in the United States in 1947, the price of natural gas was half that of fuel oil and 75 per cent of the price of bituminous coal. Subsequent advances in coal and oil prices have further widened this gap.

AN ORCHID FOR JOSEPHINE

As a token of appreciation of her splendid artistry, Miss Jos phine Chatham violinist, was presented with an orchid at the pupils' recital given by the Department of Education and held under the auspices of the Home and School Club on Mo Chatham delighted the audience so much with her charming gems that as well as her splendid talent on the occasion of her first appearance in Napanee that it was felt fitting that this tribute should be given on her second visit to the town of her birth.

Mr. Lawrence Felton, whose rich baritone voice struck a warm chord in the hearts of his listeners, was also brought back for a second guest appearance. His voice has definitely improved in range and quality in the past eight months and his reading of "Old Man River" left no doubt as to the power and appeal of his musical talent.

When Miss Mary Syme sat down to the piano it was evident that she was a musician. By the art of sunshine music. Despite the fact that she was handicapped with a far from perfect instrument on which to perform, like the true artist that she is she proceeded to bring forth such music as was a delight to all lovers of pianoforte works.

Mrs. Minnie McCurdy turned in a stellar performance as accompanist for Mr. Felton and Miss Pichler and charmed her audience with her special appreciation of the occasion composed of pupils and baby mums which were expected to be and Miss Pichler and Miss Syme. Despite his Desert Song, Mr. Felton received a white carnation presented, perhaps, in memory of "Naughty Marietta."

When George Bernard Shaw who said "Hell is full of musical amateurs" but it was the amateur who said that these were no amateurs who were being sent here by the Department and any member of who attends these concerts can be sure of a real musical treat at each performance.

Vault Entered At Biscuit Factory

Sunday evening, October 29th, the Ross-Miller Biscuit Company factory was entered by thieves who about $30 in petty cash was stolen. The thieves broke into the building by removing a glass in the front door of the factory, sometime between 7:00 p.m., when the fires were checked by the foreman of the plant, Brice Wagar, and 8:00 p.m., when the police were called. After failing to make entry to the vault by breaking the door handle, they went around to the back of the building and tore out three layers of brick, making a hole large enough to enter the vault. Valuable papers were strewn about the floor and only the small amount of money left for petty cash, was stolen.

After leaving the Biscuit Factory the thieves were believed to have gone to the Acme Farmers Dairy across the road, where they broke into the building, but were apparently frightened away when they returned three members of the Dairy staff were on duty.

The Dairy employees called the Napanee Police and Constable Benn made a search of the area. It was then the break-in at the Biscuit Factory was discovered. The Provincial Police were also called in and a road block of the district was arranged. But the thieves were able to make a get-away.

The tools used in breaking into the buildings and the vault were believed to have been stolen from the C.N.R. section house, which is nearby.

In recent months other attempts have been made to break in the Biscuit Factory.

HERE'S HOPING

The Government at Ottawa, has taken what it believes are measures that will help to curb inflation Here's hoping they work. It is hard to estimate just what the results of the new regulations will be; we are not too sanguine about them This paper has consistently urged the application of control in order to keep prices stabilized. The Government, however, relaxed the war-time controls and removed them as soon as it was safe to do so But the experience has been a sad one. No sooner were the controls taken off, than prices began to jump, and wages began to chase them The result has been an unprecedented increase in the cost of living. Most serious aspect of this inflationary spiral has been the increase in the cost of food The procuring of a decent diet for the average wage - earner's family, is almost an impossible task these days.

The bit of comfort that the hard pressed wage - earner now gets is regulation that, it is hoped, will put a curb on credit buying Just what effect credit buying has on the cost of living; just hof much it is responsible for the price of meat and bread, and milk, it is difficult to fathom, but there must be some relationship, even though it is hard to see.

What the Government now insists on is, that a person who wants to purchase some commodity on the installment plan, must pay one-third of the price in cash, and must finish his payments in eighteen months. There are exceptions, of course, most notable of which is the purchase of real estate. It will not be necessary to put down a third of the price of a house, when buying it. There are other exceptions, too, but in general, the rule applies.

Perhaps the people who will notice the regulation most will be the car dealers. The finance corporations have financed the purchase of cars on a much less down payment than a third — now that will cease. The purchaser will have to do a bit of saving before he can get a car. As a side issue, one good effect of this may be that fewer young people will be getting hot rods, and less of these old , dangerous used cars, will be on the road. That is all to the good, and if the regulations will really halt inflation, they are to be welcomed. If they do not work, the Government will have to impose even stricter controls. The inflation must not be allowed to get out of hand — it is heading that way, now.

BOTH GOOD AND BAD

Hardly any good comes to us unmixed with evil. That is observable in all the affairs of life . A law may do good to a lot of people, but it invariably works hardships on others

The weather is like that, too. What marvelously warm and beautiful days we have been having Fall weather that is superb; a balmy haze hovers over the countryside. The farmers have an unparalleled opportunity to get the Fall plowing done; Fall wheat has got a good "catch". The cattle are still out in the meadows and, best of all, the fuel is being conserved., and the high cost of heating the house lowered, at least, temporarily.

But, along with this unusually warm weather and indeed, because of it, Southern Ontario had a terrible week-end of accidents and deaths The warm atmosphere and the cool earth reacted to produce heavy fog. The fog interfered with safe driving. Hundreds of cars were stalled; all had to move at a snail's pace. With the heavy traffic on the roads, it was almost impossible to avoid accidents. No matter how careful we might be, there was always the hazard of collision — and that is what happened.

When Nature takes a stand, it is pretty hard to do anything about it. Even waiting did not work, as one man waiting beside his truck on the roadside on No 2 Highway, was struck and fatally hurt. Except when absolutely necessary, night driving should be out these warm unreasonable days. Better to stay home and enjoy them, than to endanger one's own life and the life of others.

KING GUSTAV

King Gustav of Sweden, is dead ! He lived until he was ninety-nine years of age. He was a remarkable man in many ways. He was physically unusual. He was playing a good game of tennis at eighty-eight years of age, and was able to take on contestants twenty or thirty years younger.

He was a great Democrat. He learned his democracy under conditions that were different from those that exist now. He was contemporary with Queen Victoria, Bismark and Emperor Franz Joseph. He had a great opportunity to study the workings of different forms of government under these great figures. But, he did not live in the past — he had a remarkable ability to keep up with the times. He seemed to know what was going on all over the world, and was able to inclu ence the government, in no small degree.

The most remarkable feat of this remarkable man was, he was able to keep the country out of two world wars He did that, in spite of the proximity of his nation to Germany, and to Norway, which was under the Nazi heel for five years. Just how he was able to do that is a bit difficult for the rest of us to see. But, he managed it. The country, it is true, prospered somewhat, though all though the war and until quite recently, rationing of essential goods prevailed. Sweden, too, bore her share during those war years, of giving refuge to thousands of people from the war-torn countries. This was a strain on the economy of a country which under ordinary circumstances, has to watch things pretty closely.

And now, this leader, whose life spanned almost a century, is gone. His place will be taken by his son, whose wife is British. He is over sixty years of age He has been well schooled and will, no doubt, continue the democratic traditions of his father.

REMINISCENT

One of the sights with which we have twice in our generation become familiar, was the movement of soldiers on the trains. When the Second World War ended, it was hoped that there would be no necessity for such movements, at least not in our lifetime.

But on Saturday, the trains were crowded again with men in uniform. There were all the familiar experiences. The happy, carefree soldiers, with their snatches of songs of army and camp life, and the inevitable ribbing in them of the Sergeant-Major. There was the extrovert — there is always one in every group He continues his endless chatter and keeps everybody in good humor, not the soldiers only, but the civilian passengers, too. Then there is the easy-spending, holding up the news vendor, almost buying him out; the marching in snake dance fashion, through the cars.

But it was not all like that. There were some soldiers who had their wives along and the little babies. It is wonderful what a lot of joy and happiness the little tots in arms give the soldiers, as they fondle them.

The conversation, too, was the topics with which we were all familiar — what the boys were going to do when they got home. One was going to get a clean shirt on right away; all were eager for a good hot bath, and, of course, there were meals — good wholesome meals—like mother used to make.

It is all so familiar and so interesting. It is not without its note of sadness, though, that again, in our lifetime, man's folly and fears — and greed — should have made this necessary.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, November 5th

OVERCOMING TEMPTATION
(Temperance)

Lesson Text: Matthew 4 : 8-11; John 6 : 15; Romans 13 : 12-14; I Corinthians 10 : 12-13.

Jesus was tempted, like everybody else. It is hardly likely that he was tempted by a being with horns and a forked tail. That is the way it has so often been pictured by artists and painters. It was much more subtle than that. It was the inner temptation. It was the quiet, persistent suggestion to the spirit and will that Jesus should test the power of God, the love of God, and that he should achieve success by compromising his principles. It was a bitter inner struggle and Jesus emerged victorious. His main weapon in the struggle was his knowledge of God's word. He was steeped in the spirit of his gospel, and called it to his help in the time of his supreme test.

One wonders sometimes how people meet the tests today. There are plenty of them. Young people, particularly, are met with temptations of every sort. Pressures from the group, social pressure, pressures to take short cuts to success. Fortunately for our country and for the next generation many of these have been brought up in Godly homes, where they have learned the way of life. They have attended church, the church school, and the various young people's organizations. There they have learned the way of life revealed in scripture, and learned, too, the strength that lies in group organization.

But there are thousands of others who have had no such background, no such training. Investigations show that for large sections of our youth the Bible is a closed book. They have learned no absolute standard of right and wrong. They obey the conventions of society, because it is the thing to do, and disobey them when it suits their purpose or when they think they can get away with it. That God is at the heart of the universe, that there are absolute standards of right and wrong, never occurs to them. The best authorities on the subject openly admit that christianity is now a minority movement. The hope of the world lies in our youth, but in youth that are steeped in the Bible and are committed to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus had other temptations. The Jews were looking for a King, one who would lead the nation out of the humiliation of being a subject nation. They saw in Jesus the man forecrdained for such a role, and would fain have made him King. It was quite a temptation. The love of power is deeply seated in all of us, and it is hard to resist when placed within our grasp. But Jesus turned from that too. My kingdom is not of this world, he said. It took a long time for that idea to get into the minds of his disciples. But, in time, they saw it, and did their part to bring in the reign of Jesus in the way he, himself, intended.

In the third section, Paul is giving some pretty straight advice. It is advice that might well be broadcast to large sections of our people who in recent years, have given themselves to drinking, and, as Paul calls it wantonness. What a mess this country has got into. Since liquor began to be pushed and sold by governments, all we have to do is read any issue of the daily press as evidence. Paul knew it was no good just to tell people to stop their riotous way of life. He has something positive to say : "Put on the Lord Jesus Christ". He is thinking of the soldier putting on his armour. In life it is just like that he says. Christ is the only protection against the evils that so easily beset us. History has proved beyond a shadow of doubt that Paul was right.

Paul in the final section has a word of caution for the over confident. Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall. Perhaps a person is in the most dangerous position when he thinks himself most confident. A young priest was to say his first mass. He went to the altar with unbecoming confidence. His memory slipped when he was half way through and he came down humiliated. The wise elder priest said to him: If you had gone up the way you came down you would have come down the way you went up. Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

QUAKE ROCKS PEMBROKE AREA

Pembroke, Ont. — Some people left their homes in night attire and a milling crowd filled the main street of the Ottawa Valley town, as Pembroke was shaken by an earth tremor epicentred at Cobden, fifteen miles away, Sunday morning.

The tremor came as a short, sharp blast at 89 minutes after midnight, and lasted one minute. It was followed by a diminishing rumble and police immediately checked the town's banks in fear that a vault had been blown by crackmen.

Reports soon began to circulate that there had been an explosion at the atomic plant at nearby Chalk River, or at the military camp at Petawawa, Ont., but checks revealed no blasts at either place.

Officials of the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa said the tremor recorded on Observatory seismographs, had all the characteristics of a "true earthquake" but was of comparatively light intensity.

Strangely enough, residents at Cobden, where Observatory officials said the quake was centred miles under the earth's crust, hardly noticed it. However, a dance at Cobden, broke up early when dancers found the floor trembling slightly.

No damage was reported from any settlements in the quake area.

More than 200 relatives and friends visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Craig, in South Napanee, on Saturday afternoon and evening to extend congratulations on their 60th wedding anniversary. They received many gifts and flowers and also were the recipients of a congratulatory message from their Majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig were married in Moscow on October 28th, 1890 and both were born in Moscow. They resided in the Switzerville district for a long period of years and some years ago retired from the farm and came to Napanee to reside, and are in fairly good health. They are members of Grace United Church in Napanee.

Mrs. Craig has one brother, Charles Yeomans, who is living in Seattle. Of a family of eight there are six living: Earl and Delbert Craig of Morven; Russell and Clarence Craig of Switzerville; Mrs. Stella Hill of Morven and Mrs. John Jaynes, who resides in the Napanee district.

Delicious refreshments were served both afternoon and evening and those pouring tea in the afternoon were Mrs. E. F. Swayne and Mrs. Stanley Symmith. In the evening those pouring tea were Mrs. Wellington, Craig and Mrs. C. D. McLellan.

An interesting ceremony took place when the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wilson was baptized by Rev. George Murray, B.A., of Newburgh.

The many guests wished for Mr. and Mrs. Craig many happy returns of the day. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers and the day was an eventful one for Mr. and Mrs. Craig.

Farquhar Oliver To Seek Leadership

Mount Bridges, Ont. — Farquhar Oliver, veteran member of the Ontario legislature, last night gave every indication he will seek to regain the leadership of the Ontario Liberal party at the convention in Toronto next week. In a fighting speech, the South Grey member defended the course he took in 1949 when he gave up the leadership.

He noted that the Liberals in the election gained by 50,000 in the popular vote, though the results did not please him and he felt there must be a return by the party to reform legislation.

"The course I took was no different than that of two other party leaders," continued Mr. Oliver. "Only in both these cases the leaders happened to be Tories. Only recently the leaders of the Conservative parties in Manitoba and British Columbia resigned and were re-elected again.

"I acted in a democratic manner and I think it is a good thing for the party that we are having a conversion from which will be welded a platform on which the leader and all the candidates can go forward to elect a Liberal government in this province.'

After he had addressed the South Middlesex Liberals at their annual meeting, Mr. Oliver said he would know in a day or two whether he would be a candidate.

He predicted the government of Premier Frost would call an election in 1951 and at the same time repeated his demand for a Royal Commission to inquire into the whole liquor situation in the province.

OBITUARY

MRS. JAMES TURNBULL

The death occurred at St. Marys-of-the-Lake Hospital, in Kingston, on Tuesday, October 24th, of Mrs. James Turnbull. She had been a patient in the hospital for some time and had been seriously ill for several weeks.

Mrs. Turnbull, who was the former Martha Jane DeWitt, had lived in the Napanee district all her life. She was in her 88th year. For many years she had resided in the Township of Richmond, near Napanee. Her husband predeceased her several years ago and for the past few years she had resided in Napanee. She was a member of Grace United Church.

She is survived by one son, Archie Turnbull, of Napanee, and one daughter, Mrs. L. P. Berry, of Capreol, and by two sisters, Mrs. A. D. Snider and Mrs. W. M. McCullough, of Napanee.

Her funeral was conducted by Rev. C. D. McLellan at the Tierney Funeral Home on Thursday afternoon, and interment was at Riverside cemetery.

Two-Year Peace Drive Urged By Canadian External Affairs Min.

Lake Success. — Hon. L. B. Pearson, asked for "a two year moratorium on bellicose and violent speeches about peace in the United Nations and a two-year attempt to do something about peace."

The Canadian External Affairs Minister said "headline diplomacy" was not the best way to settle differences, especially when the headlines reproduced such Soviet phrases as 'unbridled slanders', 'dirty insinuations' and 'maddened yelps of warmongers.'

Speaking on the question of essentials of peace, Mr. Pearson suggested 'a few criteria which must be fulfilled' before east-west talks would lead anywhere. These were:

'In the first place a sound basis for consultation agreed on in advance. There is not for instance such a basis when the Soviet Union proposes that the representatives of 18-000,000 Germans, chosen arbitrarily by a Communist machine, should be considered on an equality with the democratically chosen representatives of 45,000,000 western Germans.'

In the second place—a real willingness to compromise and a genuine desire to find just solutions to problems. This does not mean that if one party does not get its own way from the start it is entitled to apply the method of a Berlin blockade.

In the third place—the consultations must not be simply occasions for propaganda where one party harangues audiences outside the Council chamber.

'In the fourth place — no agreement between great powers must be at the expense of the interests and freedoms of other nations which are not represented.'

'Above all,' the Canadian delegate summed up, 'we must not allow talk to become the delaying substitute for agreement.'

Brit. Defence Minister To Confer With Premier St. Laurent

Ottawa. — Britain's Defence Secretary Emanuel Shinwell, will discuss defence matters with Prime Minister St. Laurent and later with the Defence Committee of the Cabinet during a four-day visit to Ottawa next week, it was announced yesterday.

He and the Netherlands' war secretary, W. Fockema-Andreae, are slated to return to Ottawa from Washing on Friday next with Canada's Defence Minister Claxton after meetings of the North Atlantic Pact Defence Ministers. Both will be here until Monday and both will make speeches while in the country.

Defence Headquarters issued itineraries for their visits, showing that a military guard of honor will greet them on arrival at noon. There is a chance, however that Mr. Fockema-Andreae will not be able to make the plane trip with Mr. Claxton and Mr. Shinwell and will not arrive until later.

Mr. Shinwell's programme calls for luncheons, dinners and receptions, for a press conference, visits to the R.C.A.F. base at Trenton, Ont., the various defence schools at Kingston, the Canadair aircraft plant, Vickers plant and an ordnance depot in the Montreal area. He is expected to address the National Defence and Staff Colleges at Kingston, privately on Saturday and Montreal's Canadian Club, publicly, on Monday evening.

Mr. Claxton will give a private dinner for his two visitors in Montreal Monday evening.

Mr. Fockema-Andreae's programme will take him with Mr. Shinwell on his visits to the military bases schools and plants and he will address the cadets at Royal Military College, Kingston, Saturday. He will not, however, see Mr. St. Laurent privately or have a meeting with the Cabinet Defence committee.

CANADA SENDS CONDOLENCES TO SWEDEN

Ottawa. — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent sent a message of regret to the Government of Sweden on the death of King Gustav V.

The Prime Minister, week-ending at his Quebec City home, sent the following message through his office in Ottawa to the Canadian Legation in Stockholm, to be relayed to the Swedish Foreign Office:

"My colleagues in the Government of Canada and I have learned with profound regret of the death of your illustrious sovereign. His Majesty King Gustav V. I should be grateful if you would convey to the Government of Sweden and the members of the Royal Family an expression of sincere sympathy of the Government of Canada in the bereavement which they have sustained.

VISCOUNT ALEXANDER EXPRESSES SORROW

Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, expressed the "profound sympathy" of the people of Canada in the death of King Gustaf V of Sweden.

In a message to Crown Prince Adolph, the new King, he said:

"I desire to convey to Your Majesty, to the members of His Majesty's family and to the people of Sweden, the profound sympathy of the people of Canada in the great loss which you have sustained in the passing of your revered father, His Majesty King Gustav V."

Congress Likely to Pass Seaway Project AT Next Session

Washington. — Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep.) Wis.) yesterday told Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada that the next Congress "may well authorize" the long-contested St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

Wiley made public a letter to the Prime Minister in which he said he understands Canada's well - justified impatience" at lack of U. S. action on the $800,000,000 proposal.

"I think," Wiley wrote, "that the outlook for the seaway approval is very favourable." Wiley said his view did not represent wishful thinking on his part.

Wiley, long an advocate of the project, said that several senators who voted to shelve a St. Lawrence bill two and a half years ago (the last time such legislation was considered by the Senate) have indicated to him that they would change their vote now. The Senate in 1948 sent the bill back to committee by a vote of 57 to 30.

Wiley said that the United States needs the joint seaway and power development to

Expand productive capacity by tapping the tremendous electricity resources of the St. Lawrence river's international rapids section.

Film Board Issues Korean War Story

Ottawa. — A film outlining the Korean war in relation to the Far Eastern problem was released Monday by the National Film Board.

It is the first documentary film based on the Korean war.

Entitled 'Thunder in the East' the film will be shown in Canada and Britain. Board officials said plans for its distribution in the United States will be made soon.

The film was edited by Douglas Tunstell, N.F.B. director, from sequences gathered from a dozen sources. The film represents a record of the Nationalist movements in all Asiatic countries, as well as a documentary report on the Korean war.

Four Million Poppies Made By Veterans

The forty veterans of Veteraft Ondustries, Sunnybrook Hospital, made a veritable Flanders Field of poppies this year when production reached an all-time high.

With Poppy Day on November 11th, the final shipments of poppies, wreaths and boutonnieres are speeding across the country to all branches of The Canadian Legion.

Vetcraft, operated by the federal government as a means of providing work for unemployable veterans, this year produced more than 2,000,000 tag poppies, another 2,000,000 poppies for use in wreaths, 21,000 wreaths, 240,000 boutonnieres and 3,000 corsages.

While the poppies are sold to the Canadian Legion at cost, they are resold to the public on Remembrance Day with the proceeds going to a year-round fund which helps needy veterans and their children.

15 Charged With Sale Horsemeat In Ottawa

Ottawa.—Five Ottawa district meat dealers were arraigned in Magistrate's Court this week on a total of fifteen charges involving sales of horsemeat illegally.

They were remanded without plea for a week.

The charges were laid by the Federal Health Department and the city, result of an investigation that followed the discovery that horsemeat was being sold in "hamburgers" at the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa, in August.

S. Korean President Not Alarmed Over Chinese Reds

Seoul, Korea. — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea says the Chinese Communists are not ready for a big war.

He said he does not believe that their intervention in Korea is more of a threat to world peace than already exists.

Rhee said in an interview that the Chinese Red leaders sent troops into Korea because they were told to by their masters. They acted on orders, he said, just as the North Koreans did when they invaded the south.

In a separate interview, Capt. Shin Sung Mo, acting Prime Minister and Defence Minister of Korea, said he had no information of any large-scale crossing of the Yalu River by Chinese troops.

The Reds have been trying to keep the border crossing a secret, and each captured prisoner tells a different story. He said his army was ready for any full-scale Chinese invasion, but added:

"I neither would like to get a third world war started, nor would like to start it in our country."

Rhee said the Chinese might get into the war to try to retain the Yalu River power dams which feed Manchurian industry.

"The Japanese built those dams before they went into Manchuria," he said, implying that Chinese have no right to a single kilowatt hour of power.

He said he opposed negotiations with the Peiping government over Korea and other border problems.

"You don't negotiate with gangsters" he said. "Maybe a no-man's land would be the solution. Or maybe the United Nations can do something."

Canadian-U.S.-British Co-operation Lauded By Lord Beaverbrook

Fredericton, N.B. — The present generation has a brighter future than he last, due to improved relations among Canada, the United States and Great Britain, Lord Beaverbrook said last Saturday.

The Canadian-born British newspaper publisher, Chancellor of the University of New Brunswick, spoke in reply to a testimonial address from more than 200 UNB alumni.

Lord Beaverbrook said that after his many years in Great Britain, "I must confess that the purpose which I sought, the object I pursued met with nothing but failure. I had hoped to see the British Empire united in one economic unit. The prospect seems again and again almost realized but on every occasion the gold gates closed on it."

Addressing the alumni, he continued:

"In the world we were born into we hoped for better things. We found instead more wars and bloodier wars more civil wars and bloodier ones.

"When I first went to the House of Commons in England I was approached by the wife of Sir John Simon for a contribution to help remove slavery in Arabia. Now in over half the world slavery prevails.

"I remember in my early days in the House of Commons, appeals were made for the freedom of citizens. Yet after all these years there is more persecution over the world on account of opinions held to.

"This persecution exists on this side as well as on the other side. Indeed, it is a changing world. We are in a world in which there is much to disappoint us."

Lord Beaverbrook cited instances of United States - British war-time co-operation as grounds that the situation would change for the better.

Out of these pledges, promises and events since has come a relation between Great Britain and the United States and Canada that gives assurance for a better future, a happier condition in the world than we old boys experienced in over 40 years."

He said his own achievements are rapidly drawing to a conclusion.

"What part and share I may have in New Brunswick and especially my concern for the splendor of the University of New Brunswick, must be of a feeble character."

Doctors Astonished By Report Of New Heart Operation

Chicago. — A report of an operation for coronary heart disease, killer of many persons, drew applause and gasps on Monday, from a fascinated group of doctors at Northwestern University.

Dr. Claude S. Beck, neuro-surgeon at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, made the report in a lecture and in movies of the operation.

Usually reserved, physicians called it 'amazing' and 'astonishing', medical sources said.

The operation is designed to feed more blood into the heart muscle by by-passing the blocked coronary artery. A piece of blood vessel is grafted between the aorta, or main blood channel, and the opening of the heart chamber.

Dr. Beck said four persons in the United States have undergone the operation and lived. He said one is a 60-year-old Cleveland physician who had to quit his practice because of a coronary occlusion but now works full time without any heart pain.

Coronary occlusion is a hardening or narrowing of the arteries supplying the heart muscle. It is known many doctors and, others, such as business executives, who work at high tension or for long hours.

The usual treatment has been complete rest.

Dr. Beck made his report to a post graduate course in cardiovascular surgery, sponsored by the Chicago Medical Society and attended by 90 doctors.

He said the first operation was preceded by sixteen years of research and thousands of experiments on dogs. Of eleven persons who underwent the surgery, seven died. However, Dr. Beck said, at least five died of coronary heart disease, not from the operation.

Value of industrial, commercial, institutional and government construction went up by the same percentage, increasing to $596,000,000.

New construction of all types in the six-month period came to $937,600,043, compared with $863,000,000 a year earlier.

Housing starts during the first half of the year were up four per cent to 41,660.

OBITUARIES

MRS. JOHN M. JOYCE

One of Napanee's grand old ladies, Mrs. John M. Joyce, died in Kingston on Tuesday, Oct. 31st, in her 87th year. She was taken suddenly ill about six weeks ago and was a patient in a Kingston Hospital for a short time before her death. Up until her last illness she had been remarkably active. She and her husband, who is 91 years of age, celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary, about a week ago.

Mrs. Joyce, who before her marriage was Margaret Fleming, was born in Scotland. She came to Canada when she was a small child and lived at Hay Bay until her marriage. After her marriage she lived at Anderson until 31 years ago, when she and her husband and family came to Napanee. For many years she was an active member of Anderson Methodist Ch., and since coming to Napanee was a member of Grace United Church, where she was a valued worker in the W. A. and W. M. S.

Besides her husband, she leaves three children: Jessie, Mrs. Frank Collins, of Hillsboro, Ohio; Shelley, of Rochester, N.Y.; and Arthur of Newburgh. One daughter, Marjorie, died several years ago. She also leaves five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Her funeral is to be conducted at her late residence, Robert St., on Thursday afternoon and interment will be at Riverside Cemetery.

The pall-bearers are to be: Messrs. P. B. Elliott, Judge G. F. Smith, Wilfred Smith, Angus MacDonnell, Pulleston Kayler, and Percy Vine.

MISS MARION MILLER

Miss Marion Miller, who was taken suddenly ill on Saturday, October 28, at her home in Napanee, died Wednesday, November 1, at Kingston General Hospital, where she had been taken for treatment.

Miss Miller, who was a daughter of Sydney R. Miller and Alice Dryden, spent her girlhood days in Napanee. She later took a nurse's training course and practiced her profession for many years in New York City. Some years ago she returned to Napanee to be with her aged father and after his death, remained here. She was a member of Trinity United Church.

She leaves one sister, Gertrude, Mrs. T.K. Mallaby of New York City, and a brother, Howard Miller, of Watertown, N.Y. Two brothers predeceased her, Edward D., who died many years ago, and Charles, who passed away in New York City, a few years ago.

Her funeral is to be conducted at the Wartman Funeral Home, by Rev. Noble Hatton, on Friday afternoon, at 2:00 p.m., and interment will be at Riverside Cemetery.

WILLIAM H. DOWDLE

The death occurred early on Wednesday morning, Oct. 18, at his farm home in Camden, of William H. Dowdle. He had been in failing health for the last eight months. His life was spent in farming, till his health failed about five years ago. He was a very successful farmer, a member of the Anglican Church, and a staunch Conservative.

He was born in Camden Township on October 12, 1862, and was the eldest son of Edward Dowdle and his wife Sophia Parnell. He was married in March, 1898, to Lena Gretham, who survives, with a family of eleven children. One daughter, Laura, predeceased him in October, 1937 in her 28th year. He leaves eight sons and three daughters, James of Kingsford, Archie of Oshawa, Harvey of Desmond, Alex, Walter, John, Robert, and Albert, of Newburgh. Mrs. Arthur Graham, Mrs. Arthur Walker, of Selby, Mrs. Alice Storring, of Newburgh.

The funeral was conducted from his late residence on Friday, Oct. 20 to St. Luke's Church, Camden East, by Rev. M. F. Oldham, and was largely attended. The pall-bearers were his six sons: James, Archie, Walter, Robert, Harvey and Albert. Six granddaughters carried flowers, Vera Collins, Gwen Dowdle, Evelyn, Dorothy, Betty and Jean Storring.

Interment took place in the family plot in St. Luke's cemetery.

Seeding mixtures for permanent pasture should contain both grasses and legumes, the latter furnishing the needed protein.

CHRISTMAS MAIL REMINDER GIVEN

Ontario, Quebec, Maritime Provinces, and Newfoundland: Letters to U.K., Dec. 1; parcel post to U.K., Nov. 22; letters to Europe, Nov. 28; parcel post to Europe, Nov. 14.

It noted that gift parcels, if bona fide and unsolicited, may be mailed up to 20 pounds in weight to individuals in the U.K., but must be plainly marked "Gift Parcel." Parcels containing food cannot be insured.

Total value of parcels sent either to the U.K. or the continent without an export permit must not exceed $25. A customs declaration form must accompany all parcels.

'A NIGHT IN VIENNA'

This singing sensation, now on its fifth Canadian tour, is coming to Napanee soon. It has won such acclaim both from press and the general public in the western provinces that this tour is stretching from Vancouver Island to Nova Scotia.

"A Night in Vienna" consists of the most popular selections from light operas. They are the tunes many men whistle and women hum without realizing their origin. All the songs are sung in English so that everyone may enjoy them. They are from such popular productions as Carmen, Chocolate Soldier, Merry Widow, Florodora, Merrie England, Bitter Sweet, and others.

The artists are top-ranking. Basil Horsfall, senior musical director of Vancouver's famous "Theatre Under The Stars" formed this company in an effort to keep our most able artists in Canada, that Canadians may enjoy their abilities instead of merely hearing what they are accomplishing in the United States or in Europe.

"A Night In Vienna" will be presented in The Prince Charles School on the evening of Wednesday, November 8th. It is being sponsored by the Fifty-Fifty Club of Trinity United Church to raise funds for their popular Youth Centre. The Centre will open again soon and as last year, will be open to all children of the community.

You may obtain tickets (adults, $1.50 and students, $1.00) from members of the Fifty-Fifty Club or at Bill-Moore's Clothing Store. Seats may be reserved at this store, too.

PRENUPTIAL SHOWERS FOR MISS JEANNE PIDGEON

Prior to her marriage on Saturday, October 28th, to Mr. David Gordon Grant of Renfrew, Miss Jeanne Pidgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pidgeon, was guest of honour at two showers given by Miss Edith Hall and Mrs. Clare Joyce.

Miss Hall entertained for the bride-to-be at a kitchen shower. Part of the evening was spent in playing games and canasta, after which gifts were presented under a yellow umbrella within which were many useful articles for kitchen use.

A novel feature of the evening was the autobiography of an apron by each of the guests, who then, in turn, embroidered their names. The apron was then presented to the bride as a memento of the occasion.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. W. Bauer, Mrs. N. Turgeon and Miss Perne Faulk, of Kingston.

Mrs. Clare Joyce also entertained for the popular bride-elect. After an enjoyable evening spent in playing court whist, the guest-of-honour was regifted with attractive bathroom furnishings: towels, bath mat, powder bowl, in harmonizing shades of chartreuse, dark green and deep rose.

Refreshments were served buffet style and Mrs. E. Pidgeon poured coffee.

In Loving Memory

BURTENSHAW — In loving memory of my dear mother, Sarah Melissa Burtenshaw, who passed away one year ago November 3rd, 1949, at Vineland Station, Ont.

As I gaze on your picture that hangs on the wall,
Your smiles and your welcome, I often recall.
I miss you and mourn you in silence unseen,
And dwell on the memory of days that have been.
Dear is the grave where mother is laid;
Sweet is the memory that never will fade.
Flowers may wither, leaves fade and die;
If some do forget you, never will I.

Joynt - Pidgeon Nuptials

A quiet wedding took place at Trinity United Church parsonage at 1:30 on Saturday afternoon, October 28th, when Jeanne Rose Pidgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pidgeon, became the bride of David Gordon Joynt, of Renfrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Joynt, Bellrose, Ont. Rev. Noble Hatton officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in reg-held satin with cocktail length skirt. Over the satin bodice a fitted taupe lace jacket with small round collar and bracelet-length sleeves, fastened at the waist and neckline. A small taupe feather hat with matching taupe lace gloves and suede shoes, completed the becoming costume. The bride carried a nosegay of orchids.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ronald MacPherson, who wore a cocktail-length dress of bronze satin with emerald green lame hat and gloves. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Paisley Hotel, where dinner was served to about fifty guests.

The bride's mother received her guests in a street-length gown of navy sheer, with navy accessories. She wore a corsage of roses. Mrs. Joynt assisted in receiving, gowned in elephant grey faille, with matching satin trimming, hat of elephant grey with matching veil, grey shoes and gloves. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

For a motor trip to the States, the bride wore a three-piece suit of cinnamon gabardine, with detachable shoulder cape of fur, matching feather hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of Sweetheart roses.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Joynt will reside in Renfrew.

Out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearce, Miss Margaret Joynt, Mr. Jack Checkley, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Joynt, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. T. Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Joynt, of Ottawa; Mr. James Battillo, Orillia, and Miss Vera Pidgeon of Orillia; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clermeau, Mr. Donald Byres, Mr. Allan Peck, Mr. John Parnham, Mrs. M. A UNITY OF IDEAS AND IDEALS

BY DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

That Canadian - American economic pact which has just been signed in Washington, is the sort of thing from which dreams are built.

Looking ahead through the years one can believe that potentially it may be the forerunner of a partnership representing the world's most powerful combination.

This agreement is a renewal of the Second World War partnership under which the two countries pooled their economic resources for common defence. The pact provides that skills, raw materials and finished products will be shared in building up American and North Atlantic defences against the threat of aggression.

Peace - minded folk of course, hope that the need of the pact in the defensive sense won't be long lived. However, past experience has shown that many of the features of such a treaty continue even after its formal termination.

That was demonstrated in the case of the original economic pact which now has been revived. Many of the wartime provisions which it inaugurated have persisted.

Why should this be so? To me the answer seems clear. It is that there is no essential difference between our two peoples.

Our interests are inseparable.

We have the same ideals and think the same thoughts. Our social and educational requirements are the same.

The international boundary between us in truth an imaginary line. There is no barrier. As a Canadian friend of mine puts it:

"There is a oneness of two countries.. You can't tell which is Canadian and which is Yank."

That is not by any means to suggest that these two great countries are heading for political unity. They certainly are not. They have too much pride in sovereignty.

However, it is to suggest that all the signs for many years have indicated a drawing together. There always will be two flags, though the trends in both countries are almost identical.

But what of the suggestion that this may develop into the globe's most powerful partnership? That is based on the colossal resources of the two countries.

The United States now leads the world in industrial strength and developed natural resources. Canada, already has uncovered vast wealth in oil, coal and minerals, and the experts have no doubts that the potential resources far exceed anything as yet discovered.

More American money is invested in Canada than in any other foreign country. Development will come with the growth of the still comparatively-small Canadian population.

Even now a combination of the resources of the two countries presents a formidable strength. The day will come when it will be unchallenged.

A dream? Of course it is ,but it's bound to come true because it will represent a natural progress of two similar peoples with a unity of ideas and ideals.

Few men know the sleeve length of their shirts.

PACT LEADERS FORCED TO HOLD EXTRA SESSION

Washington — Military leaders of Atlantic Pact countries went into an extra session yesterday in an effort to work out the final form for organizing a united defence force in Western Europe.

Apparently prolonged discussion of the much-debated proposal for German participation in the plan had delayed the work of the Defence Committee and prevented scheduled termination of the meting, Monday night.

Still silent of what exactly had been accomplished and what was still in debate, the Committee recessed after six hours of sessions. No communique was issued. A spokesman said only the conferees would gather again this morning.

The Foreign Defence Ministers — including Hon. Brooke Claxton of Canada — and the military Chiefs of Staff of the twelve North Atlantic powers had been scheduled to start out Tuesday on a three-day tour to some of the United States technical military centres. However, this programme was rearranged. Instead of heading Tuesday for the air force research centre at Wright-Patterson Base O., the entire was put over until Friday.

A spokesman hastily told reporters that this did not necessarily signify that the Defence Committee thought it would need three or more days to complete its work. Indeed, he thought it possible the visiting officials might go ahead with a scheduled trip to the army proving ground at Aberdeen, Md., and to the naval testing ground at Dhalgren, Va., on Wednesday.

Strict Secrecy

A secrecy that surpasses even the military security on a wartime combat operation has been thrown around the meetings of the Defence Committee. At the end of the first meeting on Saturday, a short, interesting communique was issued. There was no communique nor was there any explanatory briefing at the end of Monday's session. All persons who have anything to do with the sessions, including Defence Ministers themselves, obviously have been enjoined to say nothing.

Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell of Britain gave a talk at the National Press Club in Washington. He prefaced his reading of a prepared address by explaining that:

"For reasons of which I am acutely aware it has been thought advisable by my advisers that I should confine myself to notes."

Then he smiled and waded into his limited speech.

This indication by Shinwell that he was under some decree of restraint followed a statement by the U. S. Secretary of Defence, George C. Marshall, last Saturday, that the citizens of the pact members were entitled to full information on what was going on.

Thus, the question of who had determined the close secrecy was left open.

Shinwell, during his speech, and Marshall, in reverting to the question afterward, did say that "solid progress" has been made in creating a security force. But he did not expand on that comment.

And when he was asked if he thought the German re-armament problem would be settled to the satisfaction of the pact members, his answer was indefinite. "I hope so."

The grim resolve of the French that they could not go alone, with the British and American proposals to use West German divisions in the integrated force plainly had delayed completion of the Defence Committee's drafting of final recommendations to the respective governments.

No one has intimated that failure to reach accord on the German issue between the French and the other powers would mean that there would be no combined force. The British, French, American and other units of the western allies. It may be that ultimately the impasse will require that the Atlantic countries go ahead with setting up the force without reckoning on the use of German divisions.

French Premier Pleven was standing solidly for France's views on a European army and Defence Minister Moch of France was unwavering in his attitude at the committee meeting in Washington.

France wants, first, a European army under a supra-government organization which would control a supra-national army. If eventually any Germans are used in such an army, France wants them to come in only in small units. She doesn't want any full-strength German divisions of 10,000 or 15,000 men.

The United States and Britain want certain now, quick. And they think German forces of division size should be used as a contribution to the common defence against possible Russian attack.

Ontario Commission Ends Probe Education

Toronto — The Ontario Royal Commission on Education has completed its investigation and is working on the final report, it was announced today.

The commission, headed by Mr. Justice J. A. Hope, of the Ontario Supreme Court, spent five years examining the Province's education system.

Mr. Justice Hope said on Monday he expects to deliver the report to the Government on December 1.

Only remains to be done is the printing, editing and signing of the report.

Desperate Criminals In Big Prison Break

San Juan, Puerto Rico — Sixty-four desperate criminals still were at large last Monday, following the island's worst prison break in history. A total of 111 prisoners shot their way out of Rio Uidras Prison on Saturday, killing two guards and injuring four others.

Prison officials said 47 had been recaptured but the two ringleaders and several other armed prisoners still were at large. Police were checking roads and thoroughfares throughout the island.

The break at the prison, about ten miles from San Juan, occurred during visiting hours. Prisoners stabbed a guard, grabbed his gun and seized ammunition from the prison arsenal. They shot down a guard at the main gate but were unable to shoot off the lock. The fugitives finally escaped through the prison kitchen.

Cockleshells, widely distributed in many seas, can burrow in mud and also jump for a short distance.

CONSUMER CREDIT RULE EXPLAINED BY HON. D. ABBOTT

Ottawa — In regard to the new consumer credit regulations which go into effect on Sunday Hon. Douglas Abbott, Minister of Finance stated that if they conflicted with provincial laws in any way the federal regulations must be observed, notwithstanding the provincial law.

Several provinces, including Quebec, have provincial laws on the subject.

Commenting on enquiries in connection with the relationship between the new federal regulations and provincial laws relating to instalment sales, Mr. Abbott stated that:

The consumer credit regulations are intended to furnish a scheme of credit control on a federal basis as a necessary measure to deal with the national problem of inflation. The regulations are not intended to interfere with the administration of provincial laws relating to the terms of contracts and so far as we are aware they do not conflict with those laws. As a matter of fact, in so far as so long as a person complies with the most stringent requirements of both the federal and provincial regulations, he will not contravene either the federal or provincial provisions.

If it should appear hereafter that any federal regulations and provincial laws are in conflict, the federal regulations must be observed, even with regarding the provincial law.

On the other hand, compliance with the federal regulations does not absolve a person from also complying with local provincial regulations where the two do not conflict.

HIGH COSTS BLAMED ON BIG BUSINESS

Two women CCF party members in Ottawa blamed manufacturers and corporations, along with the relaxation of controls, for high prices in Canada today.

Speaking on the radio programme "Provincial Affairs," Mrs. Mary Wright, CCF council member for Trenholme, said that during the war the cost-of-living index rose just nineteen points due to control and subsidies.

When the war ended, she said and controls were lifted, the price index rose 30 points in four years. She added that though the people were paying higher prices it wasn't the farmers who were getting the increase. Their prices were down.

Rising cost of living is mainly due to speculation profits — not wages or increases in prices to the farmers, she said.

Since 1946, she said, "profits to Canadian corporations have increased two-thirds, with 1950 definitely the most profitable war and peace year in our history."

Mrs. Margaret Mann, Ontario C C F vice-president, pointed out that R B Hall & J. I. Ilsley estimated that the every dollar spent on price controls the government saved $12. She singled out the corporation profits and said some industries have increased their profits from 124 per cent to 741 per cent since the war ended.

"The important issue," Mrs. Mann said, is not controls but who controls."

Quoting the Gallup Poll, she said 75 per cent of the Canadian people favored price controls. It is up to the Canadian people to get out and vote for a government that will restore these controls," she said.

Food Price Rise Expected In U. S., 1951

Washington — Higher food prices may be the highest ever are in prospect for next year the United States Agriculture Department has announced.

The department predicted that food prices, which have risen through most of 1950 with a fairly sharp upturn after the outbreak of war in Korea, probably will not go up much further in the late months.

But in a report on the United States food situation the department foresaw "reinforced pressure" on prices in the spring and declared:

"Accelerated consumer demand for food, unless checked by anti-inflationary measures or other developments, could put food prices by mid-year to or even above the record level of the summer of 1948."

While food supplies somewhat larger than this years are expected, the department said the increase likely will be insufficient to keep pace with greater consumer demand for food.

Lord Alexander Happy To Stay In Ottawa

Ottawa. — A man who has come to know and admire Canada, is happy as gun in hand, he hunts for pheasant in the Georgian Bay district of Ontario.

He is Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governer-General of Canada.

Over the week-end, the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, announced that His Majesty the King had approved extension of the term of the Governor-General for another year.

Crack sportsman and artist, His Excellency will be away until the end of the week, at least. In addition to getting in some good shooting, His Excellency is also anxious to catch some of the autumn colorings found in the area around Midland and Oxen Sound.

The Government is more than happy at the decision by the Governor-General to remain a little while longer. As the Prime Minister said in the formal announcement the people of Canada generally would share the gratification of the Cabinet and himself that Lord and Lady Alexander had found it both pleasant and convenient to agree.

The Dominion of Ceylon with its surrounding islands has an area of 25,332 square miles.

FRANCE ATTEMPTING TO INCREASE EXPORTS TO CANADA

French authorities are considering measures which will have an immediate and long-range effect on their exports to Canada. The France-American Trade Committee has been created to group French businessmen and to interest them in the Canadian and United States markets. An export service has been instituted by the French Government to guarantee the French exporter against a great part of the risk involved by the expense of introducing a new product on the Canadian and United States markets. The French Government is also considering certain exemptions of "Charges Sociales", from which exporters to North American markets will benefit.

Labor-Management Relations 'Childish'

Toronto — Relations between labor and management in Canada should be based more upon problems of human adjustment and less upon arguments over money, the Ontario Automotive Transport Association was told last week.

Dr. William Line, professor of psychology at the University of Toronto, said bargaining mechanisms set up to settle disputes are 'childish'. All they did was establish rival gangs.

Instead of trying to establish better human relations, both management and labor concentrated on 'trying to get more money out of the same pot.'

Dr. Line termed strikes and lockouts 'the ultimate in childishness.'

Ottawa Expert Defends Canada's Position British Bacon Contract

Ottawa — A Government meat expert said that if Canada does not fill the terms of the 1949 Anglo-Canadian bacon contract, it would not be Canada's fault, but primarily that of the United Kingdom.

He was commenting on a statement made at Winnipeg by W. G. Coventry, British Trade Commissioner, who said that unless Canada can explain delays in fulfilling terms of the agreement, the United Kingdom will be forced to seek supplies in other countries.

The contract calls for the shipment of 60,000,000 pounds. Up to October, only 16,000,000 pounds had been shipped. Shipments to date totalled no more than 20,000,000.

The meat expert said it still was possible that Canada would ship the remainder of the bacon and he predicted that most—if not all—of the contract, will be filled.

However, if Canada failed, the fault would lie at Britain's doorstep.

"A year ago, when we asked the United Kingdom to sign a new bacon agreement, the U.K. edged and signified that it was not interested," the expert said.

"Finally, we had to take dollars out of wheat in order to complete the bacon contract. Had we known ahead of time that Britain wanted our bacon, we would have been perhaps better prepared to supply it."

Under Anglo-Canadian negotiation, Britain last year was allowed to transfer $17,500,000 from her wheat agreement with Canada to pay for 1950 bacon shipments. The portion of the wheat, undelivered because of that transfer, was held over and shipped in the new crop year, beginning August 1st Britain paid for a portion at 1949 prices.

The meat expert said that despite the warnings of Mr. Coventry, there have been discussions with U. K. officials concerning a 1951 bacon contract. These discussions had progressed to the point where they now were matters for cabinet decisions in Canada and the United Kingdom.

However, if a new bacon contract did not materialize in 1951, Canada was prepared to ship any surpluses to the United States market, as a means of earning more American dollars.

Currently, there is an embargo against shipments of bacon to the United States, but this is due to be lifted December 31st.

It still was a matter for decision whether the embargo would be continued if Britain agrees to a new bacon contract next year.

Haligonians Favor City Manager System

Halifax — About 25 per cent of the eligible voters turned out in a plebiscite which resulted in a 3,718 to 2,223 vote in favor of a city manager form of government for Halifax.

The vote, however, does not necessarily mean that the proposal will be adopted. The plebiscite results will be reported to the next City Council meeting which will consider the matter.

A drizzling rain and the lack of personal candidates as in a civic election apparently kept many of the 23,000 eligible voters at home.

THE SCILLY ISLES

Every morning during the summer, pleasure boats laden with holiday-makers leave Cornwall for a day's trip to the Scilly Isles, divided from the mainland by about thirty miles of sea.

The Scilly Isles are a group of granite islets, only five of which are inhabited. The soft mild airs and a warm current give them a semi-tropical climate where myrtle, palm and banana trees flourish in the open. The Islands are full of color and light. The blue of the sea changes frequently from light to dark azure or to a light sea-green. Nature lovers enjoy the vast panoramas of sunset and moonrise.

Once the islanders were extremely poor, but about 100 years ago it was found that the soil was perfect for flower-growing and today the cultivation of flowers and early vegetables for the mainland is a profitable occupation for most of the population.

In 1835, a new Governor named Augustus Smith, arrived there. Born in the English county of Hertfordshire, he encouraged the islanders to cultivate their land.

It was at his instigation that the first flowers from the islands were sent for approval to Covent Garden Market, London, in a hat-box. The first growers who sent blooms received payment much beyond their expectations.

In early spring some of the islands present a fascinating sight. The fields are covered with daffodils, narcissi, wallflowers and lilies to the sea's edge. School children have a month's holiday to help with the collection — boys assist with the picking, girls with the bunching and tying. About eighty million blooms are 'exported' each year.

St. Mary's, which provides a harbor for the pleasure boats — the islands are connected by a launch service — is the largest of the group with nine miles of coast. From Telegraph Hill with its watch-tower, or from the promenade round gorse-clad Garrison Hill, all the islands can be seen, as well as five lighthouses.

The most important is Bishop Rock the most westerly light of the United Kingdom which rises high on a mass of pink granite. On the top of a hill at Hugh Town, the modern capital is Star Castle, built in the 16th Century and shaped like a seven-pointed star. It is now a hotel.

TRUMAN SCORES THE 'UNFITNESS' OF U. S. YOUTH

Washington. — President Truman said last week that one-third of American youths were physically or mentally unfit to fight for their country. He called it a 'disgrace'.

The President also said that Americans are 'not too proud to fight'—reversing the famous words uttered by President Woodrow Wilson in the early days of the First World War—and he told an audience of National Guard leaders:

"We will fight for the right, every time."

The speech signalled what appeared to be a renewed administration drive for enactment of a universal military training program when Congress returns late in November.

Congress has repeatedly turned down White House requests for U. M. T. legislation, and Mr. Truman himself agreed two months ago, at the height of the Korean war crisis, that the program could not be put into effect until the situation eased.

Now, with the war virtually ended, Mr. Truman made it clear he intends to keep hammering at Congress to pass a U. M. T. bill.

The programme would provide military training for youths at 19, through 20 years old — six months on an intensive basis, another six months in reserve status.

Addressing the 72nd conference of the National Guard Association, Mr. Truman said:

"Eight times I have asked the Congress, since I have been President, for a universal training program for the young men of the United States.

"You know, one of the most disgraceful things that ever happened to this country was to find that 34 per cent of the young men and young women were unfit physically and mentally fit to serve the country.

"Now that is a disgrace to the richest nation in the world with all the medical knowledge that is supposed to exist in the world.

"A universal training programme would eradicate that situation."

Expect 1½ Million Vehicles Registered By End Of Year

Over half the motor vehicles in Canada (in 1949, 1,991,478) are in Ontario, with 1,036,490 licences issued up to August for passenger cars, trucks, buses, dual purpose vehicles and motorcycles, Highways Minister George Daniels announces. There are 830,912 private cars in Ontario and on a basis of population of 4,500,000 there is an automobile for every 5½ persons.

Driving permits to the end of August totalled 1,300,000 which is a new high. Of these 753,712 were operators' permits and 509,223 chauffeur's permits. In the first nine months of the year, 3180,885 persons obtained instruction permits.

By the end of the year, Mr. Doucett said the number of licensed drivers will pass 1,500,000. This compared with last year's total of 1,125,000, with the total in September standing at 1,484,790.

So far this year, 164,661 cars had changed hands through new and used car dealers, with 2,018 used car dealers licensed in the province.

WIVES SLOW TO DECIDE

A Manchester, Eng., hatter's survey showed that it takes a man five to 10 minutes to buy a hat if he goes shopping alone, 19 to 25 minutes if he goes with a girl friend, and 30 to 40 minutes if he goes with his wife.

Ottawa Makes First Move in Plan To Assist Europeans

Ottawa. — Announcement of a shipment of equipment of arms sufficient to equip a Dutch army division, was the first definite large-scale move Canada has made in her program of assisting Europe under North Atlantic treaty arrangements. However more moves are expected to be forthcoming before long, and these may include air and ground forces.

The donation of a division's arms stems from a $300,000,000 vote passed through Parliament last spring, for assistance to Europe. Announcement of the Dutch consignment came after a cabinet meeting, amid indications that a similar shipment will be made later.

The arms to equip the Dutch division will go in two lots, one leaving Montreal about mid-November and the other leaving Halifax at a later date. There is no indication of the value of the shipment to The Netherlands; this will not be fully known until Canada replaces — mainly from United States sources — the arms taken from her own stores for the assistance to Europe.

No mention was made in last week's announcement of sending troops to Europe. However, there has been speculation that the 9,000-man special brigade, trained for fight in Korea, may wind up in the European area. Prime Minister St. Laurent has given strong hints of this in recent speeches and while Parliament's approval may be required for such a move, there is little doubt Parliament would grant such approval if the United Nations requested it. The special army force was built primarily for use as the U.N. requires.

Meanwhile, Canada's interest in Europe is shown in the fact that a squadron including the aircraft carrier Magnificent has been exercising in North Atlantic waters and in the recent announcement that an R.C.A.F. fighter squadron will head for the United Kingdom for exercises there, early in the new year.

In addition, Canada has been training North Atlantic personnel. This was the first step the Dominion took in its North Atlantic Pact Program, and involved some army and air force personnel.

Over 93 Million Fry From Glenora Hatchery Have Been Distributed

Good results are reported on the 1950 fish distribution operations from Glenora, by Manager Arlie Brown. Something over 93 million young fish have been planted in suitable lakes and streams since the project started on April 15th. Pickerel and Whitefish fry formed the bulk of this year's stock, the latter being replanted in Lake Ontario and the Bay of Quinte. Pickerel was placed in Hay Bay as well as a number of inland lakes and streams. Upwards of 340,000 fingerling trout, Lake, Brown and Speckled, made up the balance and permitted fairly good coverage throughout the District. Still on hand are 100,000 young speckled trout to be transferred to White Lake Ponds later this month for rearing to yearling size.

140,000 speckled trout have already been transferred to the White Lake Station from Pembroke and Manager Snider expects to move the balance of his stock from Glenora, shortly.

CANDIDATES FOR PARTY LEADERSHIP HEARD IN TORONTO

Toronto. — Three candidates for the Liberal leadership of Ontario addressed a rally of the Rosedale Liberal Association held in Toronto.

They were J. B. Brown, member of the Ontario Legislature for Waterloo North; Campbell Calder, Provincial member for London and Walter C. Thomson, member for Ontario in the Federal House.

Dr. Harry M. Cassidy, director of the University of Toronto's School of Social Sciences, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate, also spoke.

Mr. Brown said Liberalism in Ontario stands at the crossroads. Whether it would go forward in co-operation and unity could depend on the results of the convention here November 9th and 10th, not only in the choice of a leader but in the enthusiasm with which he is proclaimed.

Mr. Thompson said Ontario is crying for a change and there is a need for a good leader. A change could be expected because "There is a desire for a change in the hearts of the people . . .

Mr. Calder said he wondered whether Mr. Thomson could make the leap from his seat in the Dominion House right into the Premier's chair in Ontario without having been a members of the Legislature.

He drew a parallel between Mr. Thomson's bid for the leadership and the career of former Premier Hepburn and asked, 'Can Mr. Thomson perform another Mitch Hepburn.'

JOB EXPANSION NEWFOUNDLAND OBJECTIVE

St. John's, Nfld. — The Newfoundland Government is aiming at 10,000 new jobs for residents of the island province in the next two or three years, Premier Smallwood said last week after returning from a three-week visit to Europe.

"We are working energetically on five new time and part-time jobs if we succeed in getting them established. And we are investigating other possibilities that should provide an additional 3,000 or more jobs."

The Premier was accompanied by Hon. H. W. Quinton, Finance Minister, Hon. James R. Chalker, Health Minister, and Director-General of Economic Development, Alfred Valdmanis.

"I went to Germany and the United Kingdom and I will probably visit them again and again in an effort to interest financiers and industrialists in Newfoundland's natural resources," he said.

"It would be cheaper for the Government and a lot easier for me if they would come to St. John's to see me, but unless they do so, I will continue to go to them."

Mr. Smallwood also said he wanted to spike criticism directed at the Newfoundland Government for buying cement mill machinery in the former enemy country.

"We found we could get machinery in Germany for much less than we could get it anywhere else," he said. "And by placing an order there we will have the mill producing cement in about half the time it would take if the plant were built anywhere else."

"Under the circumstances," he said "we will place our order in Germany again, just as we would if we were a private firm."

THE CURRENT EMPLOYMENT SITUATION

Honourable Milton F. Gregg, Minister of Labour, issued the following statement on the current employment situation, last week:

Employment conditions at the end of September contrasted sharply with the situation last year at this time. This September, labour demand continued to increase throughout the month, particularly in the forest industries and in manufacturing. Last year, there were few job openings in manufacturing, and the labour requirements of the logging industry were at their lowest postwar level.

Application for employment at National Employment Service offices this September have been steadily declining; in the same month last year, the labour surplus was growing and registrations at employment offices increased by 6,000. On September 28th, 1950, there were 133,100 registrations for employment on hand 18,500 below the total at the first of the month, and 10,000 below the total on the corresponding date in 1949.

The demand for skilled workers in the metal trades is particularly strong. Vacancies reported to local employment offices in manufacturing areas for such occupations as machinists, tool and die makers and welders exceed application from qualified workers. There new job openings occur at a time of peak labour requirements in agriculture and construction. This increase in labour demand in manufacturing is the result of the accelerated defence program, at a time when production of automobiles, refrigerators and other consumer durables with a large steel content, is continuing to expand. Employment is also increasing in manufacturing industries outside the iron and steel group, among them sawmills, canning factories and some textile plants. Many primary textile firms which, until recently were on the short work week, have returned to full time operations.

The labour requirements of the logging industry in eastern Canada continue to be very high. At the same time, the demand for agricultural workers remains heavy, because of the late harvest in Ontario and the West. The lateness of the harvest has reduced the number of men available for logging and lumbering, since many workers have remained on the farms who would normally be released for work in the woods. Although the end of harvesting will relieve the shortage of woods workers, it is expected that the heavy demand for loggers will continue throughout the fall and early winter.

Employment in the construction industry is at very high levels, and more workers are being hired in an effort to advance projects as far as possible before the cold weather sets in. Unskilled workers as well as skilled tradesmen, are needed. In some cases, shortages of skilled men in of construction materials have slowed the work.

51 Canadians Teach In Ethiopia

Addis Ababa, Oct. 10 — Thirteen new Canadian teachers have joined the Ethiopian school system.

There now are 51 Canadian teachers in the country—the largest group from any Western country employed there.

They are outnumbered, however, by teachers from India, who are paid smaller salaries comparable to what they were paid at home.

Roy E. Smith, of Fachary, Ont., one of the new arrivals, has been named headmaster of the Menelik school, oldest in the country and named after the former Emperor Menelik. He replaced another Canadian, Findlay Barnes, of Edmonton, who has returned to Canada.

Other Canadians occupy teaching positions in the Addis Ababa schools. Because of difficult living conditions in the provinces none have been appointed to schools outside of Haile Selassie's capital. Indians usually get the provincial assignments.

Venezuela, Canada, Sign Trade Pact

Ottawa — A commercial "modus vivendi" between Canada and Venezuela was signed last week at Caracas by a government delegation at present visiting a number of Latin American countries, it has been announced by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

"The trade agreement, to be valid for one year, provides for the exchange of most-favored nation treatment between the two countries in all matters concerning customs duties or charges, as well as on all matters relating to the concession of foreign exchange for commercial transactions and to the assignment of import and exchange quotas.

This agreement may be renewed from year to year.

As a result, Canadian goods on importation into Venezuela be subject to the same customs duties and other charges which are levied on goods from other countries, such as the United Kingdom and the United States.

INFORMATION PLEASE?

Despite the fact that many good stories featuring some incident of Ontario's rich and colourful historic past appear from time to time in the daily or periodic press, there isn't much doubt that for every story which sees the light of day, there are dozens which remain in the local legend stage.

This is logical, because, really, to find history, one has to get off the pavements and city beats into the field of the small town weekly editor. To quote W.H. Cranston (Midland Free Press), the historical assets of Ontario do not lie with the "city slickers" but with the "folk who live along the back concession lines". Here, states Mr. Cranston, "one finds the treasured pieces of furniture, the century old diaries which chronicled the life and doings of pioneer people and times, the venerable tools of agricultural implements and other evidences of our growth and civilization."

As the Select Legislative Committee on Conservation points out, these evidences of our early lives, together with landmarks, old schools, churches, buildings and historic sites are worthy of preservation and restoration, not only for our own people but as a source of interest to visitors.

As a clearing house of information to our tourist visitors, this department has long been keenly aware of the interest of the millions of sightseers, who travel among us each year in matters of local history. Grouped by areas, our departmental libraries have assembled comprehensive files on the 52 vacation areas of the province.

But we know too, that there are likely hundreds of items of an historic nature in your own midst, which would rate listing in our historic sites directory, or which could be suggested to editors as subjects for feature articles, or perhaps, there may be a ceremony or date useful for a press release from this department, or to the editors of the Ontario Bulletin.

May we solicit your regular help in building our historic files? We are particularly interested in obtaining exact dates—day, month and year—and the actual names of places, events and people. The reference may describe any phase of human achievement—military, political, literary, religious, scientific or so on, in fact, the scope can hardly be defined. Clippings or old manuscripts are ideal. If you want them returned, mark the material submitted accordingly.

We are also desirous of obtaining notice of current events, suitable for inclusion in the monthly "Coming Events" new release from this branch. Old Home Weeks, special Winter Carnivals, Cotnvel'ns, Commemoration Ceremonies, etc., of general interest, giving full details as to time and place are welcomed and should be forwarded to Publicity Branch Department of Travel and Publicity, Toronto, as far in advance as possible.

TIBET: A REAL FACTOR

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

To the western mind, what happens in Tibet seems at first, to be of little more importance than what might happen on the moon.

It is a little place in the far-off Himalayas, visited only rarely by westerners, ruled by a strange theistic government. It never has much contact with the outside, and in winter, travel through the mountain passes is impossible. To most people its existence is almost as imaginary as the Shangri-La which the writers said was its real name.

For it is there that a nervous India will be brought into direct contact with the powers of Communism, which so far have failed dismally to make much impression on her Prime Minister Nehru doesn't believe, yet, that the Peiping regime of Mao Tse-tung is a puppet of the Kremlin.

But Chinese Communist armies, willing to drive through the already fa'ling snows of the "top of the world" to carry out a gesture involving little fact, will present the Indians with something with which they cannot take chances on the mere basis of opinion. They will have to be prepared for the possibility that they are wrong.

Britain, India's ruler for so many years, always acted to keep China and Tibet separated, as the Tibetans have always wanted. But it was to keep China away from India's border, rather than any overwhelming sentiment for the Tibetans.

The motive is as natural as Britain's long-standing determination to keep Russia out of the Dardanelles. It is as natural to a free India as to a British colony. Nehru will not be able to overlook it.

This should have a tendency to push him a little more toward the western camp in the cold war, where his heart and India's interests truly lie, but which his nationalism and the scars of his long fight against colonialism have prevented him from entering.

The actual situation regarding Tibet is still shrouded in doubt. A Tibetan delegation after being held up in India by both Indian and Chinese reluctance, has left for Peiping to negotiate with the Reds. In either case— conquest by invasion or conquest by negotiation under the threat of force — Shangri-La becomes a real factor in world affairs.

New Blight Resistant Potatoes

Canso and Keswick, two new blight resistant varieties of potatoes developed as part of the National Potato Breeding Program at the Experimental Station, Fredericton, N.B., are to be distributed to selected certified seed potato growers from coast to coast, it is announced by the Canada Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

Breeding geographic plots maintained in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, these two blight resistant varieties are the result of a program to develop breeding lines that have more than 90,000 seedling plants each year in the Ruhf breeding plots.

Tested under a seedling number for the past six different parts Canada, Canso and Keswick are to be released in areas where they have shown to be adapted.

"I'm just on my way to the bank"

He is just one of the hundreds who during the day will drop into the branch bank around the corner.

Savings depositors with their pay cheques . . . retail merchants with the day's cash . . . people consulting the manager about loans, others cashing cheques . . . it is all part of the daily work of the branch bank.

In ten years the number of accounts maintained by bank depositors has grown from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000.

This shows how Canadians have come to count on their local banks for a great variety of services. The banks keep pace with the growing needs of the nation.

Serve Sentence, Aid Family Plan, Now Under Consideration

Certain types of convicted persons could continue to work at their regular employment during the day and serve their sentences at night, according to a plan being studied by the Department of Reform Institutions. The announcement was made recently by Hon. William E. Hamilton, Minister of Reform Institutions during the annual tour by staff members from Queen's Park citizens of the Department of some of the institutions with which their work deals.

The plan under consideration would enable a man to keep his job and with support his family while serving his sentence. The offender, released by day, would work under supervision and would be compelled to return to a county jail at night. The money earned would be turned over to his family.

The plan would apply only to persons sentenced for certain breaches of provincial laws, and not to narcotic or habitual drunkenness cases nor convictions under the Criminal Code. Furthermore, the privilege would be restricted to a select type of individual who would co-operate and would show anxiousness to reinstate himself in society. A similar system in effect in Ontario during the 1920's was discontinued on orders from the Federal Department of Justice.

FRANCE MOVES TO EXTEND ARMY SERVICE

Paris — French Defence Minister Jules Moch told the National Assembly Thursday, that Russia has 4,100,000 men under arms, and asked for quick approval of an increase in compulsory military service to put sharper teeth into France's rearmament program.

Moch demanded the draft extension a few hours after the Assembly, by a vote of 343 to 225, endorsed the Government's refusal to agree to seven limited re-armament of Germany until Western Europe has been unified.

The Assembly was urged to act immediately on the Government-sponsored bill to lengthen France's army service by one year from one year to 18 months.

"Our own re-armament effort," Moch said, "is imposed on us by the existence of powerful forces behind the iron curtain and the mystery existing there."

He said the French Government has information that Russia's army ground troops and police total 2,-900,000 men, drafted for two years; its Air Force total 700,000 men, drafted for three years; and its Navy totals 500,000 men, drafted for four years.

FRANCE MOVES TO EXTEND ARMY SERVICE

Paris — French Defence Minister Jules Moch told the National Assembly Thursday that Russia has 4,100,000 men under arms, and asked for swift approval of an increase in compulsory military service to put sharper teeth into France's rearmament program.

Moch demanded the draft extension a few hours after the Assembly, by a vote of 343 to 225, endorsed the government's refusal to agree to even limited re-armament of Germany until Western Europe has been unified.

The Assembly was urged to act immediately on the Government-sponsored bill to lengthen France's compulsory military service from one year to 18 months.

"Our own re-armament effort," Moch said, "is imposed on us by the existence of powerful forces behind the iron curtain and the mystery existing there."

He said the French Government has information that Russia has 175 ground troops and police total 2,-900,000 men, drafted for two years; its Air Force total 700,000 men, drafted for three years; and its Navy totals 500,000 men, drafted for four years.

WIFE'S REPUTATION CAN'T SAVE DRIVER

Norwich, England. — Jas. Trafford, charged with driving through a red light, told the court it just could not have happened:

"I had with me my wife, whom I consider to be the finest backseat driver in the world. Nothing can appear on the road without her telling me—a dog, a cat, a light, or anything," he said.

The court, unimpressed, fined Mr. Trafford £1.

CANADIAN GIRL GUIDES PRESENTED WITH KNITTING BOOK

"Wool 'Round the Year", a colorful little book written for the Girl Guides of Canada and just published by the Wool Bureau Inc., is now being sent out to 70,500 Guides and Brownies across Canada.

The first of its kind ever printed in Canada, "Wool 'Round the Year", cleverly illustrated in Guide "blue" and written in an entertaining easy-to-follow style, offers 63 pages of interesting facts about wool, including a complete course in knitting. For those who have already learned to knit, there are illustrated instructions for knitting several articles of clothing, ranging from sweaters to stockings and from scarves to actual Guide Knitter Badge. The manual is to be used as a textbook in the winning of this coveted badge of proficiency in knitting.

Besides giving step-by-step instructions in the making of garments, toys and gifts, it emphasizes the year 'round use of wool felt, yarns and fabrics in fashions. Featured also are shopping hints, notes on the selection and care of woollens and the story of a trip through a woollen mill.

To encourage the children in making full use of their knitting booklet, the Wool Bureau has had a special display prepared to be shown in Guide centres across Canada. The display shows knitted samples of the actual garments described in the booklet.

A WINDOW WITH A HISTORY

The great work of replacing the glass in the famous Five Sisters window in York Minster has been started, and should soon be finished.

Seven hundred years old, this window is the finest of its kind in existence. It consists of five lancets each five feet wide and over fifty feet long, and therefore containing some 1,250 square feet of glass—over 100,000 pieces of thirteenth-century glass. The glass, known as grisaille, is a pale greenish grey, and painted with formal foliage designs or groups of figures in dark brown enamel.

The legend of the window's creation is well known. In Nicholas Nickleby, Dickens tells how five sisters first designed it, working their original patterns in tapestry before they were copied in glass. After the great window had been installed in its place in the north transept of York Minster the sisters came Sunday after Sunday to pray beneath it, until at last one of them came no more. As time went on another sister died, and then another, until only one sister was left to pray alone. But the day came when she, too, passed on, and the five sisters were seen no more.

Twice Put In Safe - Keeping

Twice during the present century has the precious glass been removed from the Five Sisters Window. After the First World War it was cleaned and releaded, its restoration taking nearly two years, and just twenty-five years ago it was unveiled by our present Queen (then the Duchess of York) in memory of the 1915 women of the British Empire who gave their lives during the First World War.

There is a romantic story about the metal which was used to reload it on that occasion, for it was discovered among the ruins of Rievaulx Abbey in 1924. When beautiful Rievaulx was dissolved by Henry VIII the lead was stripped from its roof, melted down and sent to London, there to become the property of the king—that is, all except five ingots which the monks managed to hide. For more than 400 years this lead lay buried, then, appropriately enough, it was found, in time to be of service to York Minster.

Prior to 1925 the glass in the window had acquired a warm orange tint, owing to a slight deposit of iron rust from the bars that held it in position. In restoration the glass regained its lovely grey-green color again, to be admired by people from every corner of the world until, with the outbreak of the Second World War in 1939, it was once more buried.

Now, once again, master craftsmen are at work replacing the glass, and when the huge mass of scaffolding is taken down the great Five Sisters window will be seen again in all its glory.

With the aid of colour photographs and a minimum of text the leaflet shows exactly what to look for in normal healthy birds — the birds to retain for egg production.

Symington Says U. S. Must Grow Strong To Prevent Another War

New York. — W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, warns that there will be a war unless this nation grows and stays strong and "America is sure to lose it."

Symington told the New York Herald Tribune Forum that the "sad episode of Korea" gave the United States one last chance to face up to what is necessary for survival.

He said the Korean war framed the "simple truth that if we do not first attain, and then maintain adequate strength, there will be a war and America is sure to lose it and go from defeat into slavery."

Economic strength is important along with military strength, he said, and some economic controls are necessary to prevent inflation.

Aluminum adds a plus to pancakes!
An "Inside Story" about Maple Syrup
1. Aluminum means a lot to your breakfast! Your griddle-cakes taste better with good maple syrup. And the best syrup is made from sap that is collected in aluminum pails.
2. Maple sap must be well-protected to preserve its delicate flavour. Farmers using aluminum pails find this "food-friendly" metal preserves colour, taste and flavour perfectly.*
3. Aluminum is used for tapping-pegs, containers and evaporators, too. The increasing use of aluminum in the industry means higher-quality syrup for you.
HINTS TO THE HOUSEWIFE
Natural minerals in food and water occasionally discolour aluminum utensils. Natural acids in foods remove the deposits. For example, the iron in spinach leaves a deposit on aluminum; the acid from tomatoes or rhubarb dissolves the deposit.
* Quebec farmers receive Federal and Provincial aid in replacing old-fashioned sap pails with aluminum pails. Modern aluminum containers fully conform to all pure-food laws.

TWO LIVED CHEAPER THAN ONE

When our pioneer grandmothers cleaned and worked the wool, spun the yarn, wove the cloth, made the clothes, blankets and rugs, tended the garden and grew the flowers, preserved the fruits and vegetables, cured and canned the meat, made the soap and candles, milked the cow and made the butter, cared for chickens and marketed the eggs, raised the children in the fear of the Lord, kept the church thriving and the community socially alive, comforted and encouraged their husbands in turning forests into fields, our pioneer grandfathers found that two lived cheaper than one.

Education begins in the home, at or over the parents' knee.

Vicar Expects Old Saxon Monk To Call Again With Advice

London, Eng. — A Church of England vicar has prepared for another quiet chat with a violet-hooded monk born more than 1,000 years ago.

Rev. H. F. Hamilton-Stephens, of St. Dunstan's Church in East Acton, London, said the monk has returned to the scene of his "earthly existence" several times in the past and it wasn't just hallucination.

He said the monk was born in Anglo-Saxon days not long after St. Augustine converted them to Christianity.

"The old gentleman's wisdom has grown with his years," the vicar said. "And I find him quite well versed on current international affairs."

The vicar said the monk wears a violet-hooded cowl and walks in solemn procession up the centre aisle of St. Dunstan's and into the chancel every four years. The next procession, according to his reckoning, ought to take place some time next month.

The dozen monks, including the talkative chap, have been seen by three other persons, the vicar said. His son, a daughter and his secretary have watched the ghostly procession.

"We four are all truthful persons and it is impossible for us to suffer from a hallucination at the same time," he said.

TIME TO STAND AND STARE

BY LEWIS MILLIGAN

W. H. Davies was a minor poet, but he wrote at least two lines of verse that will live, and they are these:

What is this life, if full of care,

We have no time to stand and stare?

As a young man, Davies migrated to Canada where he "rode the rods" until he fell off and lost a leg under the wheels of the train. He returned to England and wrote the 'Autobiography of a Super-Tramp', which attracted a good deal of attention to himself and his poetry. Being a tramp, he had plenty of time to stand and stare, an activity, like that of Wordsworth, was of the 'common things that round us lie . . . the harvest of a quiet eye.'

In modern city life people have no time or inclination to stand and stare, unless something unusual happens to attract and hold their attention. That happened in Toronto in the excavation of Yonge Street for the underground rapid transit railway, when hundreds of people found time to stand and stare at the mighty machines clawing up the clay deposits of the ages. But none of the prizers has so far published poetic reflection on what they were staring at. In normal city life if one should take time to stand and stare, one is liable to get knocked down. Russell Lowell, another minor poet, put it this way:

The man who stands with arms akimbo set . . .

The world thrusts angrily aside.

There is a man in Toronto who goes around without a hat — there are more than one, of course. But this particular man seems to have nothing else to do but stand and stare. He has a retired face and a high bald head, and whenever I see him he is standing and staring upward, apparently oblivious of the throng moving around him. I once saw him on a quiet side street standing with level and intent gaze at a telegraph pole. To the passerby, I suppose he looked "nuts", but I sometimes wonder. Who knows, he may be a dumb poet or, like Arnold's Scholar Gipsy, is waiting for the fire from heaven to fall.

Judging by his poetry, Davies did a lot of his standing and staring in the country. He wrote mostly about birds, cows and sheep, and he may have got the habit of staring from the two latter. Sheep, particularly, are great starers, and if you stare back at them they will say 'Baa!' and return to their grazing. Cows just turn their heads away in disdain.

Wordsworth was a life-long starer. He stared at the hills and valleys, the woods, streams and lakes of Cumberland. He gazed in rapture on the countryside — dotted with thatched cottages, "green to the very door," and the "bits of sportive wood run wild" along the Wye Valley. His heart leaped up when he beheld a rainbow in the sky, and it danced with the daffodils. Hazlitt, describing Wordsworth's features, wrote:

"There was a severe, worn pressure about the temples, a fire in his eye, as if he saw something in objects more than the outward appearance."

That worn pressure of thought was the result of staring at the beauties of Nature. As a young man, Wordsworth was a political idealist and an enthusiastic admirer of the leaders of the French Revolution. He lived two years in France, where he had an affair with a French girl. But he was shocked at the terrorism and bloodshed that followed the rise of the revolutionary power. They were far worse than the aristocrats they had overthrown. The young Wordsworth fled from country in horror and disgust. He returned to England a disillusioned political idealist. His own country, with all its faults, looked and felt good to him. He wrote these lines:

I travelled among unknown men,

In lands across the sea;

Nor, England! did I know till then

What love I bore to thee.

And the moral of all that is obvious. Take time to stand and stare at this wonderful Canada of ours.

Clay Soils Respond To Phosphorous

Ottawa. — Grains when grown as a nurse crop for alfalfa on the heavy textured clay soils of Essex County should be fertilized with a 2-16-6. The rate of fertilization should be three hundred to four hundred pounds per acre.

Tests conducted by the Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, in 1949 and 1950 showed that alfalfa gave bigger yields where the preceding grain crop was fertilized with 2-16-6 than where any other fertilizer in the test was used. All fertilizers containing fairly high percentages of phosphorpus gave better crops of alfalfa than those having lower levels of this element. The grain crop responded as well to a 2-12-10 as it did to the 2-16-6 indicating that in addition to phosphorous, nitrogen and potash are necessary for grain. These results as a whole show that grain seeded alone can be fertilized satisfacterily with a 2-12-10 or possibly a 2-12-6 but when alfalfa is being seeded in the grain, the 2-16-6 fertilizer should be used.

Three results refer to the Brookston clay soil's which comprises almost two-thirds of Essex County as well as a good portion of other counties in southwestern Ontario. Certain other crops do not show the same response to phosphatic fertilizer, for example, corn appears to respond more to nitrogen than to phosphate.

Consumer Credit Regulations

EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 1, 1950, instalment sales of consumer goods at retail and loans for the purchase of consumer goods at retail will be subject to new Consumer Credit Regulations. This action has been taken under the Consumer Credit (Temporary Provisions) Act as passed by Parliament.

The Regulations apply to every person engaged in the business of selling consumer goods at retail on credit in the business of making loans, or otherwise engaged in financing the purchase of consumer goods.

The following requirements will be in effect when credit sales are made on the instalment plan on and after November 1, 1950:

	Minimum down payment	Maximum time to pay
Motor vehicles (e.g. passenger automobiles and motorcycles)	33⅓%	18 months
All other consumer goods	20%	18 months

In no case shall the down payment be less than $5.00.

INSTALMENT PAYMENTS are to be in regular, approximately equal, amounts of not less than $5.00 monthly or $1.25 weekly. Instalment payments may be varied to meet the circumstances of persons such as farmers and commercial fishermen whose incomes are subject to seasonal fluctuations.

Similar terms apply to loans granted by banks or loan companies for the purpose of purchasing consumer goods at retail.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS ARE INCLUDED WITH REGARD TO REVOLVING CREDIT ACCOUNTS, permanent budget accounts, current budget accounts, and similar plans involving payment for goods by regular instalments.

ORDINARY CHARGE ACCOUNTS ARE NOT DIRECTLY AFFECTED by the present Regulations, but steps will be taken, if necessary, to see that charge accounts are not used to evade the regulations relating to instalment sales.

THE REGULATIONS REQUIRE SELLERS, LENDERS AND FINANCE COMPANIES to maintain records of transactions, to make them available for inspection, and to furnish information on request to authorized representatives of the Government of Canada.

CONSUMER GOODS include all goods with certain exceptions. A full list of the exceptions will be found in the Regulations.

For example, the Regulations DO NOT APPLY to sales of real estate, stocks, bonds, securities, goods for professional or business use, buses, trucks, building materials, implements and equipment used exclusively in farming and fishing.

Penalties are provided for violation of the Regulations.

Ontario Farmers Lead Cash Income

Cash income of Canadian farmers from sale of farm products during first six months of the year is estimated at $870,516,000, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports. This is 18.6 per cent. below the half-year estimate of $1,069,495,000 in 1949.

The decline is attributed to the fact that while $213,360,000 was paid out to Prairie farmers in participation and equalization payments in the first half of 1949, only $6,300,000 was disbursed during January-June of this year.

Ontario farmers have the largest total of $324,224,000, compared with $311,172,000 in 1949, followed by Quebec with $150,022,000, Alberta $130,453,000 and Saskatchewan $114,222,000.

Canadian engineers have learned that trapping air bubbles in fresh concrete increases its resistance to frost damage.

we built the school"

It's the biggest contract I ever went after, so I lost no time in getting over to my bank manager.

"George," I said, "I'll need some help to handle a job this size."

We went over the whole thing, discussed how much I would need. When I landed the contract he gave me a line of credit and I was able to go right ahead. Now the school's as good as built.

It is an everyday part of your local bank manager's job to provide short-term credit—so that payrolls can be met, material bought, goods produced and marketed.

ALUMINUM HAS GROWN TO BE A LARGE PART OF CANADIAN LIVING
Unloading ingots

Aluminum plant—Kingston, Ont.
Half-way House
between Aluminum Ingot and You
With an axe and a few other hand tools, our ancestors could chop down trees and make houses, chairs, bowls, canoes—lots of things. But all these were heavy and had many other disadvantages. It's different now that we have aluminum — which is light, rustless, won't burn, doesn't rot . . . is practically everlasting.
It takes a long series of unusual and complicated "tools" to make things of aluminum. To start with, it takes ships to import the ore, ports for unloading, powerhouses for electricity, smelters . . . all these to produce the aluminum itself, still only in ingot form.
Next, it takes a plant like the Alcan one at Kingston to receive these ingots from the smelters and to shape the metal into tubes, sheets, extrusions, forgings and foil. Finally, it takes more than 1000 Canadian manufacturers to form all these into chairs, kitchen utensils, building materials, aeroplanes, etc. — things Canadians use every day.
So, you see, this Kingston plant is "half-way" house between ingot and finished article, between the original aluminum and you. It is a link in the chain of "tools" with which, over the last fifty years, Canadians have equipped themselves to make aluminum articles — creating work and wages for thousands, bringing greater convenience and comfort to modern living.

Hello Homemakers! A few years ago homemakers were glad to have cold storage in order to keep foods from spoiling. In those days, it was a type of poorly insulated ice-box or the dark, damp basement. Today, homemakers used a well - insulated and lighted refrigerator for the concocting of foods for the table, as well as for storage. However, many homemakers are not yet aware of all the possible uses of today's refrigerators —they can produce a full meal from appetizer to dessert and beverage. We can even 'bake' a fruit cake in the freezer. In addition to large freezing compartments, enabling the homemaker to take advantage of the most advanced techniques of food storage, practically every new model has some innovation which adds to the refrigerator's utility and efficiency. There are automatic features such as magnetic door closing, new defrosting methods, butter conditioner, plastic drawers and sliding shelves.

Delightful surprises such as Frozen Tomato Juice, Lemon Parfait, Potato-Meat Salad and Party Bisque are a pleasure both to prepare and to eat.

FROZEN TOMATO JUICE

One pint of tomato juice; four stalks celery, minced, two teaspoons sugar; half-teaspoon salt; one tablespoon onion, grated.

Mix these ingredients and allow to stand twenty minutes. Strain and place in a freezing tray. Let freeze partially.

LEMON PARFAIT

One tablespoon envelope of gelatine; three-quarters cup of sugar; half-cup corn syrup; one cup cream; half-cup cold milk; two eggs, well-beaten, one and one-half cups milk; one-quarter cup lemon juice; one teaspoon of lemon gratings.

Soften gelatine in half a cup of cold milk; dissolve over hot water. Cool slightly. Gradually add sugar to eggs and beat. Add remaining ingredients and stir in dissolved gelatine. Freeze firm in electric refrigerator unit. Break in chunks with wooden spoon; turn into chilled bowl and beat smooth. Return to tray and freeze firm. Serve in sherbets, placing alternate spoonfuls of ice cream with sweetened strawberries. Serves eight.

POTATO-MEAT SALAD

One (10-oz.) can luncheon meat; three-quarters cup of diced old cheese; one-third cup chopped onion; two hard-cooked eggs; three cups diced, cooked potatoes; one cup diced celery; one half teaspoon salt, pepper, garlic salt. Combine all ingredients except garlic salt and egg slices. Rub the serving bowl with one-eighth teaspoon garlic salt. Toss salad with French dressing. Garnish with egg slices. Serves eight.

PARTY BISQUE

Dissolve one package lemon-flavoured gelatine in one and one-quarter cups of hot water; mix one-third cup of sugar, three tablespoons of lemon juice and two cups grated cooked lemon into gelatine and then chill until partially set. Beat until fluffy in a large bowl. In the small bowl of electric mixer, whip one tall tin of chilled evaporated milk and fold into gelatine mixture. Spread one cup graham wafer crumbs in refrigerator dessert tray the spoon in the gelatine mixture and cover with another cup of graham wafer crumbs. Freeze firm. Serves ten.

TAKE A TIP

2 A quick method of defrosting is: turn dial to defrost. Remove ice cube trays and meat keeper. Place a thick pad of newspaper on the shelf directly below the freezing unit. Empty one tray of ice cubes and place half way back on its shelf; fill with boiling water and slice all the way into the unit. Close regrigerator door and let ice melt while you sort out the contents and wash the vegetable pan which has been removed from the lower part of the refrigerator. Then take off any remaining ice with a dull wooden spoon to tap it (never anything sharp) and remove ice and newspaper. Wipe unit with a clean cloth dipped in baking soda solution (never soap) and also cabinets and shelves. Do not forget to wipe inside of the big door and outside of the refrigerator.
3 Cover all foods placed in the refrigerator, except those with a natural covering, such as eggs, berries and citrus fruits.
4 Strong-flavoured foods, such as onions, should be wrapped in wax paper and secured with an elastic band.
5 Make lids of olive and horseradish jars secure, then turn upside down and store in the refrigerator to prevent moulds and blackening of foods.
6 Without a crisping pan you can keep greens in an oilskik bag or in glass jars with tops.
7 After preparing radish roses, celery curls, etc., place them in a bowl with a half-inch of water in the bottom and cover.
8 Keep the table bouquet of flowers in the refrigerator overnight.
9 Cakes and bread keep moist if covered with household foil and stored in the electric refrigerator.
10 Keep a deodorant in the refrigerator just in case an unpleasant aroma develops . . . such as, a small piece of charcoal, a dish of baking soda, an empty coffee bag, or a few nasturtium leaves.

AN HISTORIC STONE

The Crowstone, an obelisk standing on the foreshore of Westcliff, England has just been presented to the Southend Corporation by the Port of London Authority.

This is the third of such stones erected here, for their history goes back to the time of Richard I who, to finance his Crusade, granted jurisdiction over shipping and fishing on the Thames to the Lord Mayor and citizens of London in exchange for a sum of money.

When in 1285 Edward I confirmed this, stones were erected off Yantlet Creek in Kent and off Southend, to mark the seaward boundary of London's authority.

By 1746 the stone off Southend had disappeared and a new one was erected, bearing the original date, 1285. This, in turn was replaced by the present stone.

Control of the river is now in the hands of the Port of London Authority and extends farther downstream to Havengore Creek.

Five-Year-Olds Much More "Worldly" Than Previous Generation

A little knowledge of an atom bomb and a nodding acquaintance with a P-80 jet fighter plane are more helpful to today's kindergarten teachers than the rules of a rousing game of drop-the-handkerchief, according to Amy Hostler of New York.

The pigtail and knee pants set is much more worldly than it used to be, she says, and the world being what it is today, a kindergarten teacher just has to be prepared to settle some red hot international issues in the sand pile.

Miss Hostler is the dynamic directer of the Mills School, a college which trains girls to each in nursery schools and kindergartens.

"The children, who are four and five years, can spell out the headlines" she said, sitting at her desk. "So they ask their teacher what a Korean is, and then they want to know why people fight. That last question stumps statesmen," she added, "so you can imagine how confused a kindergarten teacher gets trying to give a child an honest answer."

A Lot of Questions

The real poser came up in a kindergarten last year, when a student teacher was asked, "What is an atom-city?"

"Just try and answer that one without destroying a child's illusions about mankind," said Miss Hostler. "Yet I definitely believe teachers and parents must take the time to answer this sort of question in the next few years, so children will feel that they're being included in our adult world."

Children spot planes, Miss Hostler also pointed out, like they used to pick out different automobiles. Even splitting atoms is a subject likely to interest a kindergarten scientist, providing he overhears adults discuss it.

"Even the games they play now are different," said Miss Hostler. "Around here, where there are many refugee children in schools, you see them all play 'Coming to America', instead of tag or Ring Around The Rosie."

To try and help their 200 girl students understand today's children, the Mills School employs a full-time psychiatrist.

On the mechanical side, Miss Hosler said, "We have been talking about sending away for all the Government pamphlets on atom bombs, and also adding a course on different types of planes and other technological advances."

Five year olds, she emphasized, can ask a lot of questions.

NEW REGULATIONS RE EXCHANGE RATES, CANADA

The Honourable Douglas Abbott, Minister of Finance has issued the following statement regarding the Canadian exchange rate.

"It has been announced that the Foreign Exchange Control Board has instructed Canadian banks and other authorized agents to discontinue dealings in foreign exchange until further notice. The Government, by Order in Council under the authority of the Foreign Exchange Control Act, cancelled the official rates of exchange which, since September 19 last year, had been calculated on the basis of a 10 per cent premium for the United States dollar in Canada. It has been decided not to establish any new fixed parity for the Canadian dollar at this time, nor to prescribe any new official fixed rates of exchange. Instead, rates of exchange will be determined by conditions of supply and demand for foreign currencies in Canada.

"Banks and other authorized agents will deal in foreign exchange as principals, but they will continue to act as official agents of the Foreign Exchange Control Board for the issue of permits and in other matters relating to exchange control. The general structure of exchange control remains unchanged, including control over securities transactions between residents and non-residents and control over payments of Canadian dollars to non-residents.

"A resident receiving foreign exchange is still required to declare it to an authorized dealer. He must then either sell it immediately to an authorized dealer at the going rate of exchange, or, if he wishes, deposit it in a special foreign-currency bank account with his authorized dealer, in which case he may not make any other use of the foreign currency, but may choose his time for selling it within a period of ninety days. A resident desiring to obtain foreign exchange must apply to his authorized dealer for a permit which, if granted, will allow him to buy the required foreign currency from an authorized dealer at the going rate of exchange.

"Merchants and other residents who are offered foreign currency by tourists are no longer required to pay any fixed rate of exchange, but may pay such rate as may be agreed on. No doubt such rate will be based on the rates currently being offered by banks for the purchases of foreign currency.

"From what has been said, it will be seen that the change from a fixed rate of exchange to a market rate does not involve the abandonment of the foreign exchange control system. A few consequential amendments of the Foreign Exchange Control regulations will be necessary but the number of these will be small. The objective is to maintain the structure of control in its familiar form as a defense against possible adverse conditions in the future. Actual restrictions will be few.

MOON MOUNTAIN MINE

South Africans, Canadians, Rhodesians and Englishmen are working together to make a success of the young Kilembe copper mine in the Mountains of the Moon, Uganda.

They live at the end of a narrow valley, fifty-eight miles from the nearest post office. At present the Kilembe mine is only in the 'late prospecting stage.' No ore has been removed commercially. But already there are thirty white men in simple huts under the scar they have made in the face of the mountain.

CANADIAN EXPORTS TO UNITED STATES TO BE EASED

Washington. — The United States Treasury, it has been announced, is contemplating a sweeping liberalization of customs regulations which will ease the sale of practically every Canadian product in this country, except those commodities on which there is no tariff.

In fact it will clear the way for sales of many new products and might contribute materially to development of small industries which have not, heretofore been able to break into the United States market. The new move may prove the most significant of several preliminary steps taken by the United States government in the last year to increase exports from other countries as a major way to redress the post-war imbalance of world trade.

BRITAIN TO USE ATOM-PILE HEAT

London — British scientists are developing equipment to warm towns and industrial plants with the heat from atomic energy piles.

The Ministry of Supply announcement said, engineers at Harwell atomic energy station will start building the necessary machinery early next year. The fist project will be to heat all the buildings of the Harwell establishment.

It is hoped after a period of experimentation, to supply heat to towns near atomic energy plants.

Atomic piles produce intense heat which must be thrown off by passing air through tall chimneys.

"One of the difficulties of utilizing this heat is to find metals which can withstand it," a Ministry official said.

One plan for using the heat, being worked out by the scientists, is to generate steam for conventional heating systems. Another method being developed is to generate electric energy to be reconverted into heat at a distance from the pi[le].

CURIOUS TIMEPIECES

The word 'watch' is derived from the ancient division of the night into four watches. To check the length of the nightwatches various forms of timekeepers were used. The Greeks and Romans used water-clocks and sand hour-glasses. The first public clock was erected about 20 B.C. at the Temple of the Winds, in Athens, in which water-power turned several toothed wheels which moved a collumn, with a small statue as a finger, stating the time.

Amongst the famous clockmakers of the eighteenth century was William Dimmer who was born in 1778. His birth is was celebrated for his many ingenious and musical clocks. He died in 1790.

The Romans introduced sounding waterclocks, which proclaimed the hours by a bell. The word 'clock' originally meant a bell ringing out the hours, and was used for hour-time-keepers to which a bell was attached. Besides sundials candle clocks were used in early times. Credit is generally the invention of King Alfred. He had vowed to divide his day equally among religious devotion, state affairs and sleep. He had six candles made, exactly twelve inches long and each marked into inches. Each candle burnt for exactly four hours.

Marvelous Mechanism

The most complicated and intricate clock ever made by human hand was manufactured in Paris in 1872 and is on now in a museum at Saratov (Russia). The mechanism consists of twenty-five winding springs and ninety-five dials, showing the time in different parts of the world. One dial demonstrates the solar system, with the rotation of the earth round the sun, and that of the moon round the earth. This clock also shows whether it will be a moonlit or a dark night; the ebbs and flow in various parts of Europe and Asia; the time of sunrise and sunset; a permanent calendar, with year, month and day according to the Gregorian, Mohammedan and Jewish calendar, and the position of the principal stars.

"For the blind, as well as for persons travelling by night" a Frenchman, Breguet, in 1721 invented a touch-watch on which the time could be easily felt by means of projecting studs on the dial.

Many inventors attempted to solve the problem of perpetual motion in the mechanism of clocks. The brother of the painter Gainsborough, a clergyman, constructed a clock moved by a leaden bullet which ran down a spiral passage from the top of the clock. It fell into a little bucket at the bottom and by means of a counterweight it was carried up again towards the top. Other inventors were also experimenting with clocks driven by water and fire, air and earth.

Thinning Out Big Game In Africa's Hinterland

Northern Rhodesia has gone into the big-game safari business officially. The Government invites anyone to come along with their guns, pay £200, and shoot enough to satisfy a Sebious. Here is the bag permitted:

Two elephant, four buffalo, one kudoo, one wildebeest, one roan antelope, one hartebeest, one waterbuck, one puku, one zebra, and a number of smaller buck.

Under this official scheme, each party of hunters is accompanied by a game ranger. He finds the 'tuskers'. The Government provides a trained tracker.

As an additional lure, the Government tourist officers point out 'Hunters will, if they wish, be able to realize the current market price of ivory on their tusk trophies. Ivory fetches between 16s. and 20s. per lb. ($5 to $6.50.)

"The average weight of a tusk in Northern Rhodesia is between 50 and 60 lbs., but weights of over 100 lbs. are frequently obtained."

"Maybe I am a rugged individualist!"

"No reporters ever interview me. But just the same I figure every man should have his own opinions about politics, foreign affairs, business, or what have you.

"Take all this talk nowadays about old-age benefits, for instance. That's something everybody wants. And each man has a different idea of how much security he wants and how he'll get it.

"I know there are a lot of old folks in this country that really need help. But while I'm young and earning good money, I figure the big part of my own security-building job is up to me.

"So, I'm hanging on to all my life insurance and adding to it whenever I can. It gives me and my family protection now — and a better income for the future. And it's all planned the way I want it.

"What's more, by relying on life insurance for my future security, I know exactly where I stand. My life policies are gilt-edged in any weather. I know just how much they're going to pay off — and when.

"That's the way I like it.

Oil Pipeline Has Impact On Canadian Economy

The turn of a valve in Edmonton on October 4th. started the flow of crude oil to Regina, 450 miles away. This venture will save Canada $150,-000,000 a year, currently being spent for foreign crude oil. It will also diminish the problem of obtaining petroleum from abroad in time of war, when petroleum is usually difficult to obtain.

Speaking at the inauguration ceremony, the Right Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, pointed out that petroleum and the construction of a pipeline between these two centres and thence to the shores of Lake Superior were essential factors in the Canadian preparedness program.

Mr. Howe explained that the event at which he was officiating was only the initial chapter in the story.

"Before many months go by, this pipeline will have been extended to the nearest tip of Lake Superior, a distance of nearly 1,200 miles," he said. "After that, Alberta, rather than the United States, will be the major source of supply for petroleum products consumed in the Province of Ontario. This pipeline is not only a new unit in the transportation system of Canada, but its construction is a vivid symbol of the spirit of enterprise that forms a background for our expanding economy."

Americans Oppose Flying U.N. Flag

Washington. — The Daughters of the American Revolution have joined the Veterans of Foreign Wars in protesting an 'un-American' effort to fly the United Nations flag 'above or in equal prominence with the Stars and Stripes.

President General Mrs. James B. Patton issued a statement saying, "there is no need ever to display the United Nations flag except at a United Nations meeting." She urged Congress to pass legislation banning display of the U.N. or any other flag above Old Glory.

The V.F.W. protested on Sunday against what it said was a program by the Agriculture Department to supply U.N. flag kits to 4-H and Women's Farm Clubs, while urging the members to become 'modern Betsy Rosses.'

A department spokesman denied the department was trying to supplant the Stars and Stripes with the U.N. banner. He said the idea is to have the U.N. flag displayed parallel to Old Glory as it is at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

Crop Yield May Be Over One Billion

A crop worth $1,250,000,000 — the greatest in history — is expected for Ontario farmers this year, Agriculture Minister T. L. Kennedy states. This figure is about $200,000,-000 greater than the previous high.

Mr. Kennedy said oats, hay and pasture — the latter "one of our most important assets," have been of great value.

Cattle valued at $40,000,000 have been sold out of the province for the first nine months of the year, and beef and dairy cattle have been paying well. Hogs will exceed $100,-000,000; eggs and poultry will run between $80 and $90 million; tobacco $56 million; wheat $27½ million; soya beans and other groups are also reported good.

"It's a great crop and every one should be thankful." Col. Kennedy said.

BRITISH FREEDOM

The French historian Alevy tells us that at the close of the Victorian era, 50% of thirty years of reactionary government, Britain was still; a free country, politically, economically and religiously.

It was politically free because there was no one in the country with power to oppress the people.

The power of the monarch had been reduced to a minimum.

The power of the Cabinet was systematically weakened in every direction. All its members had to be members of the legislature and had to answer to it for everything they did.

The members of the legislature had to answer to their constituents for everything they did or allowed the government to do.

A free press and freedom to criticize were sufficient guarantees against the encroachments of any department of government.

The jury system in turn guaranteed the freedom of the press.

The courts were independent of the government and subject only to the law.

There was no army strong enough to force any charge on the people against their will, or to prevent them from making any change they wished.

She was economically free because freedom of contract had completely superseded corporate trading and state regulation. The guilds, which in earlier times had held monopolies in their respective crafts, had disappeared. Such protection as the state gave to manufacturing was rendered ianocuous by the technical superiority of British production; while protection of agriculture had been abandoned because it raised the cost of the people's food.

No monopolistic or coercive powers were held by the trade unions or the great co-operatives; nor were any decreed. Allegiance to these organizations was purely voluntary.

It was the same in matters of religion. All churches and sects were respected and protected by the state. But no coercive powers were allowed to any of them. In the absence of such powers the churches were obliged to depend for their influence on the moral authority their adherents were willing of accord them.

Thus, in the England of that day, there was no such thing as a supreme authority. No one had power over the people except those the people were willing to grant him, or longer than they were willing that he should have it.

In Halevy's words: 'It was a country of voluntary obedience, of an organization freely irritated and freely accepted.'

In one of his recent books, The Gathering Storm, Winston Churchill tells us that in her foreign affairs Britain has consistently followed a similar policy. He says:

"For four hundred years the foreign policy of England has been to oppose the strongest, most aggressive, most dominating power on the Continent, and particularly to prevent the Low Countries falling into the hands of such a power. Viewed in the light of history, these four centuries of consistent purpose amid so many changes of names and facts, of circumstances and conditions, must rank as one of the most remarkable episodes which the records of any race, nation, state or people can show. Moreover, on all occasions Britain took the most difficult course. Faced by Philip II of Spain, against Louis XIV of France, against Napoleon, against William II of Germany, it would have been easy, and must have been very tempting to join with the strongest and share the fruits of his conquest. However, we always took the harder course, joined with the less strong powers, made a combination among them, and thus defeated and frustrated the continental military tyrant, whoever he was, whatever nation he led. Thus we preserved the liberties of Europe, protected the bribowth of her vicious and varied society, and emerged, after terrible struggles, with an ever-growing fame and widening Empire, and with the Low Countries safely protected in their independence. Here is the wonderful unconscious tradition of British foreign policy."

These two historians, one French and one English, have drawn our attention to the secret of Britain's ability to keep her people free of all tyranny, whether domestic or foreign.

In a single sentence the secret is that Britain never hesitated to accept the challenge of any person or any power that threatened her people's freedom.

Population Nears 14 Million Mark

Canada's population — ten provinces — is given as of July 1st as 13,871,000 by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This figure compares with 13,729,000 of January 1, an increase in the six months of 134,000.

The increase in the previous half year was 149,000, making an estimated gain of 282,000 during the twelve months ending July 1st last.

Reporting on construction of new dwelling units, the Bureau reports that the number on which construction was started in the first half of the year was 42,149 compared with 40,199 in the same 1949 period. Completions totalled 35,988 as against 39,726 and the carryover of uncompleted units was 63,634 against 56,787.

Total on 'starts' in Ontario was 13,221; completions were 12,249, and the uncompleted dwelling units at the end of June were 23,320.

Chicago Stock Show Opens Second Half Nineteenth Century

When the International Live Stock Exposition gets underway in the Chicago Stock Yards, November 25 for an eight-day run through December 2nd, it will be the start of a second half century for one country's biggest pageant of agriculture.

The 51st International, with prize money boosted beyond the usual $100,-000 total, should out-size past shows of the more than fifty years in which it has become ever larger and more impressive as one of the country's greatest institutions.

Total prizes for all cattle in the show will be $61,370, the largest amount ever offered at the International, according to William E. Ogilvie, manager of the Exposition. Many increases made in other breeds to mark the 50th anniversary last year are retained this year.

Full Program of Interest

A full program is planned to furnish eight days filled with interest to the farm people of the continent. In addition, hundreds of allied activities in Chicago will convert the city into the Mecca of agriculture.

The Junior Livestock Feeding Contest for farm boys and girls showing livestock of their own raising, will dominate the first day's program in the Amphitheatre. Cattle and sheep carlot classes will be held in the yards. The 28th International Grain and Hay Show and the Wool Show on the third floor will be continuous through the eight days.

The International Horse Show will have daily evening performances and matinees on Sunday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and the final Saturday. J. W. Austin, ticket cashier, urges out-of-town visitors to order now to be assured of good seats.

Kansas Selects Champion

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will have the bulk of livestock classes, including all open steer classes. Dr. A. D. Weber, of Kansas State College, Manhattan, will select the grand champion steer on Tuesday afternoon.

Thursday, beginning with the auction of the grand champion steer, will begin three spectacular days of show auctions in which the country's top meat animals will be bought to supply prime meat for the Christmas trade. Thursday will be draft horse day in the Amphitheatre. Many other contests are scheduled for the rest of the week.

Entries for all livestock classes except carlots close November 1. Carlot entries close November 18, and exhibits for the Grain and Hay Show will be accepted to November 10.

AUTUMN — SEASON OF SERENITY

The faithful servants of the earth find autumn a season of serenity. The fruits of husbandry are stored and the homestead made secure against the snow and frost of winter. The year has softens its fire and mellows the moon. The blaze of morning becomes a warm glow and the fire of sunset breaks into banks of reddened coals.

The alchemy of nature burnishes a background of pure gold splashed with red and toned with green and browns. The glory of the purple-mantled hills repeats and brightens in the mirrors of the still waters.

The hearth light in the evening deepens the twilight without and quiets the hearts within. Meditation and thanksgiving mingle in a peace that passeth understanding.

COLOR IN OUR LIVES

Few Canadians are surrounded more by color than the farmer. Bright blue skies, fleecy white clouds, breathtaking sunsets are frequently the setting for his daily activity. He sees the emerald green crops sprouting from dark brown earth. Fruit trees dress up in their multi-colored finery like debutantes for their first dance. Then, in late summer and fall, the fruit and vegetables appear: golden-yellow apples, rich maroon cherries, deep orange pumpkins, bright yellow marrows and waves of golden grain. The farmer would live a drab life, indeed, but for color.

As a people, Canadians are at last learning to look at gay colors without fear or shame, according to the distinguished Canadian author, Hugh MacLennan. He says that the day may even come when a cabinet minister need not dress like an undertaker or when a banker will appear at his office wearing a yellow jacket and green tie.

Mr. MacLennan, writing in the October issue of C-I-L Oxy, quoted an American reference to Canada as "that good, grey country" and explained that to be grey in Canada was synonymous with being safe. Until recently, Canadians did not feel safe in the company of those disposed to use colors.

This issue of the magazine is devoted entirely to the subject of color, its history and application in home, industry, school and the fine arts. Thus it demonstrates a growing appreciation of color and how it can contribute to better living.

For example, one article discusses the psychological effect of color on humans. Tensions can be heightened or relaxed through a change in color harmonies which react on the individual as a stimulant or a mild hypnotic. Color is used in the modern hospital as an aid to recovery. Patients suffering from melancholy or depression, red tones can stimulate hope, desire and action. Blues and mauve shades are effective with patients who must be calm and quiet.

An East-West Pawn

Vienna. — Once, life here was easy and gay. Vienna was the capital of a powerful empire, the queen of the blue Danube and the city of Schubert and Strauss.

Today it is an outpost of the western world situated a few miles from the Iron Curtain. With some of the most beautiful landmarks of the inner city destroyed in the war, this once famous and elegant quarter looks like an old theatre that has been in use for many years.

The Viennese found out long ago that the mirage of the good old days exerts a magic attraction on travelers from the west. One likes to be transported for a few days from the harsh present into the happy-go-lucky atmosphere of the past. That is why Austrian tourism, one of the country's main industries, tries to maintain the illusion that the good old days are here again.

Vienna was once the meeting place of the east and west. Today, with the breakdown of communications between the two worlds, it has become one of the world's biggest secret information centres, the capital of the clandestine empire of international espionage.

Many of the easy going Viennese are helping one or the other side or both. They have great ability for intelligence work and are helped in this task by the fact that they can move easily and unsuspiciously in all four occupation zones of Austria.

Since the outbreak of the Korean war a new industry has sprung up in Vienna: the manufacture of false papers. Many wealthy Austrians or those who have rendered services to the west are buying false American papers in order to move westward should the situation become unbearable. The Americans are somewhat jittery too, for they know that should anything happen they will be the first ones to be caught.

Wretched, wooed and threatened by both rivals, the Austrian government has adopted a foreign policy that is as simple as it is efficient: It uses the west against the east and the east against the west.

West Reich To Open Consulate In Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 11. — An external affairs spokesman said last night that Canada has agreed that Western Germany should establish a consul-general in Ottawa and the new appointee is expected to be announced within the next few weeks.

Commenting on a report from Bonn that Western Germany would send representatives to 42 countries by next spring, the spokesman said the appointee for Ottawa already had been chosen and approved by Canada. However his name would be announced from Bonn.

The spokesman said the appointment would be a consular and not a diplomatic appointment. As yet there has been no discussions on diplomatic representation of Western Germany in this country.

WE WONDER WHY NOT ?

Finance Minister Abbott has pointedly told us that, if everyone economizes, we may meet the bogey of inflation without too much fear or hazard. We recognize this as sound. It works that way in our personal lives. So, we can't help wondering why this truth is not as apparent to our wise counsellor, the Federal Government.

True, there have been tremendous advances since 1939. We know that we must require extra administrative machinery. But nothing has expanded more rapidly than industry. Its production has quadrupled. Its employees have doubled. Its wage rolls are three times the total of 1939. But government has done considerably more than that. It has three times as many civil servants and it pays them a little better than four times the wage and salary payment of 1939. We don't aim to be critical, but as we are being counselled to economy we sometimes wonder whether Governments ever listen to their own wise words. Mightn't it be at least as cautious as industry.

DELECTABLE DESSERTS

The dessert on the menu is like the glamour pin or the gold braid on a costume. The costume may be of excellent material and well cut but appears very ordinary without the right trimming. A meal may be nutritious and well balanced but the addition of dessert gives it the special touch.

During the summer months the desserts most appreciated are light and cool but with cooler days the appetite appeal turns to hot puddings of the batter or pastry class.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canadian Department of Agriculture, suggest these tested recipes for cool weather desserts:

BROWNIE PUDDING

One cup sifted all-purpose flour, OR one cup plus two tablespoons sifted pastry flour; two teaspoons baking powder; half-teaspoon of salt; three-quarters cup of sugar; three tablespoons cocoa; half-cup milk; one teaspoon vanilla; two tablespoons shortening, melted; half-cup chopped walnuts (optional); three-quarters cup brown sugar; one-quarter cup of cocoa; one and three-quarters cups hot water.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and cocoa. Add milk, vanilla and melted shortening; mix until smooth. Add nuts. Pour into greased, 8-inch square cake pan. Mix brown sugar and cocoa; sprinkle over batter. Pour hot water over entire batter. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 deg. F., 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot.

Yield, six servings.

WINTER SHORTCAKE

Two cups sifted all-purpose flour OR two and one-quarter cups of sifted pastry flour; one tablespoon sugar, half-teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder; one-third cup shortening; one egg; two-thirds cup of milk.

Mix sift flour, sugar, salt, baking powder. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse bread crumbs. Beat egg, add milk and add to flour, stirring only until blended. Turn out on a slightly floured surface and knead lightly half a minute. Divide into two halves, put out each half to fit an 8-inch layer pan. Brush one round with butter and place second round on top. Bake in a very hot oven, 425 deg. F., for 20 minutes. Spread fruit filling between layers. Serve warm with plain or whipped cream. Yield: six servings.

APPLE CEREAL PUDDING

Two cups of cornflakes, OR one and one-half cups of bran or wheat flakes; two cups sliced, peeled apples; half-cup brown sugar (firmly packed); one teaspoon cinnamon; two tablespoons butter.

Place a layer of cereal flakes in a well-greased casserole, then add a layer of thinly sliced apples. Sprinkle with a mixture of brown sugar and cinnamon and dot with part of the butter. Repeat, finishing with cereal flakes. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 deg. F., for 30 to 40 minutes. Serve warm or cold with cream. Yield: six servings.

IF WORST HAPPENS WHAT THEN ?

Suppose that the evil avalanche of Communism slithers over all of Asia and Europe, as Churchill says it can unless the free nations work the miracle of unity.

Suppose that the free nations created chaos in Europe and Asia by the destruction of industrial productivity from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Arctic to the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean.

Suppose that production was crippled in the Americas by considerable destruction and by lack of world trade.

What would free nations do then?

Would we attempt to occupy and control Europe and Asia? The occupation of part of Europe has crippled us. Occupation in our humanitarian means rescue from starvation and disease and restoration of production.

If two thirds of the population of the world floundered helplessly about in chaotic conditions and the one third in the free nations could not sustain democracy with a sufficient degree of civilization, what would we do then ?

Only the blazing sun of spiritual strength and enormous physical barriers of moral defense can stop an evil avalanche.

The free peoples of the world must stop the avalanche now or spend generations in restoring civilization around the fringes of its destruction.

OLD ENGINES WORKING

At Crofton, Wiltshire, England are the two oldest steam engines still at work. They were installed in about 1802 and 1810 to pump water to the summit level of the Kennet and Avon Canal to feed the twenty-nine locks on the outskirts of Devizes.

Probably the engineer who built the beam type, work at a steam pressure of twenty-four pounds per square inch, and make about ten strokes per minute.

One of them was probably constructed at James Watt's foundry at Soho, Birmingham; and the other probably came from Cornwall, the home of the original engines invented and built by Thomas Newcomen to pump water from the tin mines.

Recently, the Newcomen Society, whose aim is the accumulation and knowledge of the history of engineering, inspected the engines and carried out efficiency trials with modern testing apparatus.

FOSBRAEY RE-TRIAL OPENS AT PICTON

Slain Girl's Father Gives Evidence Tuesday Session

Tells of Family Life Friendship with Pole

Up to Tuesday night the only new witnesses who have been introduced by the Crown, in the second murder trial of James Posbraey, of Napanee, which started at Picton on Monday afternoon, November 6th, were the slain girl's father, Allan Curran, and her friend, Anna Marie Clark, of Napanee. On Tuesday, several witnesses who gave evidence at the first trial, were again called. Their evidence was, for the most part, the same as given at the first trial in Napanee. They included Constable Driscoll, who identified photographs taken following the death of June Posbraey, (the photographs were not shown to the Jury at Picton); Laverne O'Connor, of Napanee, who sold a knife to Posbraey; Hugh Jaynes, at whose home Posbraey lived after his return from England; Lieut. Phil. Gardner, Salvation Army Officer at Napanee; Mr. L. Spencer, of Napanee, who found June Posbraey's body; R. J. Walsh, June's uncle; Edith Robinson, a friend of the dead girl, and Mrs. Lees Hilditch, a neighbour and friend of June Posbraey.

Following the reading of the murder charge by the Prince Edward County Sheriff, Herbert Colliver, Mr. Nourse, on behalf of his client, pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Nourse informed the Judge that he was prepared to make certain admissions, which he hoped would shorten the trial. He said he was admitting that June Posbraey died on the night of November 28th, 1949, at Napanee, as a result of being stabbed, at least four times with a hunting knife purchased by the accused on November 26th at a Napanee Hardware Store. Mr. Nourse asked that all witnesses be excluded from the court room except when giving evidence. The witnesses to be excluded, included Dr. Tennant and Dr. Billings, psychiatrists, who at the first trial were allowed to remain in the court room. Corpl. W.E. Smith and Inspector Kennedy, who were permitted to remain in the court room.

Mr. Justice Treleaven of Toronto is the presiding judge and K.S. Ham, Crown Attorney for the County of Lennox and Addington is conducting the case for the Crown.

Sixty-five jurymen were called to be present. At the opening of court, thirty-six names were drawn and fourteen were challenged.

On the opening day the court room was only about half full and no spectators from Napanee were in the audience.

GIRL'S FATHER GIVES EVIDENCE ON TUESDAY

Mr. Curran said, in his evidence on Tuesday, that after Posbraey was discharged from the Army, Posbraey and his wife lived in part of the Curran home, in Sevelle Napanee. He said that before Posbraey went to England, early last fall, that Posbraey had his June over to the (Curran) had put him out of the house and June moved in with her father and mother, on October 8th. Mr. Curran said that on October 6, the day Posbraey hit June, that Posbraey had called him up at the Iron Works, where Mr. Curran worked. On the way, Posbraey asked Mr. Curran if he had heard that June was going around with the Pole. Curran replied it was not and Posbraey replied that June had committed adultery and that he had hit her. Mr. Curran said he told Posbraey to go home and not act so foolish, and that when he got home from work he would straighten things out.

Asked if Posbraey had said why he was going to England, Mr. Curran said that Posbraey had told him he was going home to see his mother and that June would not go with him.

Questioned as to how long June had known the Pole, Mr. Curran said about a week before Posbraey left for England, when he had been brought to tea, by Posbraey. Mr. Curran said the Pole was never at the Curran rome until he invited him there, about a month after June died, when he asked the Pole why he had been invited to the Posbraey home, and received the answer "I don't know of anything else that was put up to him."

Replying to the question, "did you find occasion to put June out of your house", Mr. Curran said that he had told her if she didn't stay home nights she would have to find another place to live. He said he and his wife were finding it too much of a strain looking after June's little daughter, when June was out in the evenings.

Mr. Curran said he did not know that June and the Pole had spent the week end together in Kingston. He knew June went to Kingston, but thought she had gone to see a girl friend. Previously, he had told June she was not to bring the Pole to his home, at any time, but he knew she saw him "unexpectedly" at a neighbour's home.

Up to October 1st, Mr. Curran said he thought June and Posbraey were living happily together. Asked if he thought Posbraey was a man of intense love,—Mr. Curran said he thought so. While Posbraey was away in England during 1944 to 1946, he and June wrote letters to each other, every day.

Mr. Curran said he thought that Posbraey had brought the Pole to his home so he would have some excuse to leave June.

COUSIN'S EVIDENCE

The Crown's second new witness, on Tuesday, was Anna Marie Clark, cousin of June Posbraey. She had not given evidence at the first trial and when asked by R.E. Nourse, counsel for Posbraey, why she had not offered herself as a witness at the first trial, said: "I didn't want to stick my neck out." She further said that no one had asked her what she knew. She said she kept thinking about it and asked a lawyer his opinion about her information being important.

In her examination by the Crown counsel, K. S. Ham, Miss Clark said she worked in Kingston, but came home on week ends. Her people live a block from the John Curran house. She said she saw Posbraey at the Curran home the day before he left for England. Later, he went to her parents' home to call a taxi. She said he seemed angry at her uncle and aunt. He said he would get even if it had to be a knife. He added that he had been put out by Miss Clark's uncle, John Curran.

Miss Clark also said she saw Posbraey on Sunday afternoon, November 27th, the day before June was killed. He was at a corner, near a bowling alley, and asked her where June was. Miss Clark replied she did not know. He insisted she did know. Later she saw him at approximately 8:30 in the evening, in front of her parents' home. He had been up to the Curran house, and said June was not there. He told Miss Clark he was broke and she gave him money for coffee. When a car drove along, he ran up toward the Clark home and that was the last she saw him.

OTHER WITNESSES

In his evidence, which was much the same as at the first trial, R. J. Walsh, June's uncle, told of loaning June $200 before Posbraey went to England. He said that June had repaid the money before she died. He also repeated evidence concerning seeing June's eyes blackened, and a conversation with Posbraey in which Posbraey said he had been having trouble with his wife and had beat her up.

Mrs. Beatrice Hilditch, again told about conversations she had heard between Posbraey and his wife, following their marital difficulties. She also told of June's visits to her home when Steinbach, the Pole, was there. Steinbach, she said came to her home once or twice a week on her husband's invitation. She said June and Steinbach just happened to meet at her home, when June came to see her. Steinbach had stayed at the Hilditch home over night, occasionally, and over one week end, but June had never stayed overnight at the home at any time when Steinbach was there.

Mr. Nourse questioned Mrs. Hilditch regarding seeing in the witness' room a copy of the evidence that had been taken at the first trial. Mrs. Hilditch said the copy of the evidence had been brought into the witness room the first afternoon of the retrial, by a man who laid it on the table. She was not sure but she thought it was Corpl. Smith who had brought the evidence to the room. She said she had looked at the evidence, but had not tried to remember it.

In her examination by Mr. Nourse, Mrs. Hilditch said, in reply to the question if she though Posbraey loved his wife, that she didn't think he could have, when he tried to palm his wife off on another man.

Farm Forums Discuss Problem of Working Hours

Diversity of Opinion Expressed by Groups

Farm Forum Members in the district, met last Monday to discuss one of the major differences between the Farmer and the Urban Worker, namely, long working hours. The two questions for discussion were:

(a) How can hours of labour be shortened on your farm without reducing income? — and

(b) Should a farmer try to shorten hours of labour on the farm, or should he concentrate on increasing his income?

The Forums were divided in opinion on these questions. The larger number thought that working hours could be shortened by a more convenient arrangement of stables, more automatic feeders and water founders and a restriction on the variety of stock kept. Other forums pointed out, however, that such innovations and methods are costly and are of questionable value, when compared to financial outlay.

Maple Leaf Forum says: Having fewer lines of livestock, etc., would lessen the amount of chores and shorten hours, but would it be wise to concentrate on a single line which might greatly decrease the farm income in a poor year? Convenient arrangement of buildings to save steps and use of labour saving devices also help to shorten hours but such aids as running water are expensive to install. As a result, most farmers must content themselves with gradual improvements. Perhaps, a farmer can get enough ahead so that his son will be able to have the improvements and shorter hours, when he takes over!

Bicknell's Corners wonders if long hours are just a habit with some farmers, but argues that a dairy herd must be milked twelve hours apart. They say that a good, early start will enable most farmers to terminate their day's work in good time.

Switzerville states that shorter hours could only be achieved through more help, which in turn, would require more income or higher prices.

In reply to the second part, the forums were also divided in opinion.

Varty Lake Forum says that a farmer should endeavour to increase his income, regardless of long hours.

Desmond wonders if a shorter working day, resulting in less produce, would serve to increase prices for farm commodities. (Incidentally Desmond Forum insists that a capital way to shorten working hours is to remove electric lighting for barns!) Night work!

Deseronto Road strikes a different note when they ask: "Why should the farmer be compared only to an urban labourer, when he is an independent businessman?

Violet says: A farmer must establish his own working hours, according to his own health and working conditions.

It was pointed out that farmers may work long hours at seasonal activities but from the overall viewpoint their total working hours do not exceed those of his urban counterpart by very much.

Notes:

Miss Joan Walker, Queen's student in Honour English and graduate of a radio course, is our new commentator. Please feel free to send announcements of your Forum activities to her. She will be glad to mention them for you. Her address is: Department of Extension, Queen's University. (Broadcast time is 8:15).

Dr. J. R. Mutchmor of Toronto gave two challenging addresses at the services of worship on Sunday, on the subjects: 'Our Father Who Art in Heaven,' and 'The Bread of Peace.'

In the morning, the speaker placed emphasis on the place God should have in the lives of His children, and in the evening the sermon was based on the idea that peace in the world depends largely upon all men sharing in the abundance which God has given to the world.

Special anthems were rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. R. N. Wightman, with Mrs. B. M. Black at the organ and solos by Mrs. Shirley Jeffs and Mr. A. C. Sinnett of Belleville. Annual Service At Cenotaph Next Sunday

Toronto Band To Provide Music

Remembrance Week-end in Napanee, this year, promises to be more interesting and outstanding than ever before. The North Toronto Salvation Army Band, which visited Napanee last year, will be returning again this year, and will be taking part in the Grand Parade, composed of the Members of the local Branch of The Canadian Legion, Branch 137, Military Units, as well as Life Saving Units under their various leaders. The parade will originate at the Napanee Armouries at 2:30 p.m. and will proceed to the Cenotaph in front of the Court House for the Remembrance Service at 2:45 p.m., which will be under the direction of Rev. N. Hatton.

Napanee is proud of the fine Remembrance Services which have been held in past years and those in charge of arrangements for this year are working and planning to make it larger and better than ever. Napanee and district citizens can help in this regard by turning out in greater numbers than ever before, to show honour and respect to those who paid the supreme sacrifice in the cause of freedom.

The local Branch of the Canadian Legion under the leadership of their President, Earl Loucks, is to be commended on the initiative shown to maintain such a high tradition in our Remembrance Services. This year, the Band for this occasion is being brought to Napanee by the local Corps of The Salvation Army in co-operation with the Canadian Legion Branch No. 137. Mayor Harry Vine and the Town Council, as well as local business establishments, are all supporting the effort this year.

This outstanding Band under the leadership of Senior Major Robert Watt, will be given a public reception at the Town Hall Saturday afternoon, November 11th, at 5:45 p.m., following which they will be entertained at a welcome supper as guests of the Mayor and the Town Council. That same evening the Band will be heard in a Grand Festival of Music in the Prince Charles School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock. Brig. R. W. Gage, Divisional Commander of The Salvation Army Mid-Ontario Division, will preside. There will be special band music which will include solos on the cornet, trombone and euphonium. One outstanding band item will be "Gems from Beethoven", a distinctive brass band arrangement which should thrill music lovers. The versatility of these musicians will be displayed when they lay aside their instruments and charm the listeners with the music of the human voice. Those who heard the Bandsmen sing as a Male Choir last year will well remember the beauty of their singing.

An added attraction this year will be Mrs. Douglas Murray, an accomplished soprano soloist who will be accompanying the Band, and will be featured in vocal numbers on the Saturday night program. Mrs. Murray is well known and loved by servicemen in the Toronto Military Hospitals, where each week for a number of years she has visited the wards bringing cheer to the inmates with her singing.

Lieutenant Phil. Gardner of the local Corps of The Salvation Army is pleased to announce the admission charge to the Saturday night program has been kept to the small sum of Fifty Cents so that this event may be within the reach of all. However, a large turn-out for this program will be necessary to ensure the expenses of bringing this fine Band to Napanee being met. Your usual good co-operation in this regard will be appreciated.

PUBLIC SERVICES, SUNDAY, WITH CHURCH PARADE

On Sunday, November 12th, the Band will be featured in public services at 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m., in the Napanee Town Hall. The Sunday morning service will take the form of a Church Parade for Orangemen of the Lennox and Addington County. The Orangemen will meet at 10:15 at the Napanee Town Hall and will take part in a parade prior to the church service. All County Orangemen please note the time and place of meeting. Just plan to attend. Major Walter Oakley of Toronto, will be the speaker in the morning service and Major Hilliard Moss will be the speaker in the evening service.

Bandsmen's evening, at 8:30 p.m., the Band will present a Fireside Program of Music in Trinity United Church, prior to their departure for Toronto. Rev. Noble Hatton will preside at this final program.

The matter of billeting the Bandsmen is urgent! Those who so kindly billeted Bandsmen last year and will be able to do so again this year, are requested to notify Lieut. Gardner, at 145. Should any others like to billet one or two of the Bandsmen which would include Saturday night lodging and three meals on Sunday, or if anyone is to give either lodging or meals, the Lieut. will welcome hearing from you.

CAR PART THIEVES GIVEN SENTENCES

Howard Wilson, 19, of Odessa, and James McMahon, 18, R.R.1, Napanee, were charged in Magistrate's Court in Napanee, last Thursday, to seven charges of theft and were each sentenced to serve three months in jail by Magistrate Garvin.

The two youths were arrested by Provincial Constable Butcher in Napanee, while in the act of removing parts from a car at a local garage parking lot. After the arrest were made the police recovered a car rug, several tires and wheels, fog light, car radios, switches and a car heater.

In connection with the above cases, Keith Griffith, R.R. 1 Napanee, aged 18, was also sentenced for taking part in the thefts, to pay $5.00 and costs, on each of two charges.

Thefts from cars in Napanee and district have been reported in the past few weeks to the police, who now believe they have broken up the gang responsible.

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR JUNIOR FARMER OFFICERS

Officers of Junior Farmer Clubs and affiliated organizations right across the Province will have the opportunity of learning more about their duties and responsibilities at one of their club programs at the Junior Farmer Leadership Training Schools which will be held during the latter part of this month. In all, thirteen of these one-day Officer Training Schools will be held, so there will be the opportunity for the officers of clubs in every section of Old Ontario to attend.

Commenting on these schools, Junior Farmer Secretary Dick Hilliard points out they are open to all officers of Junior Farmer clubs and affiliated organizations. This means the Schools are for the Presidents, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries and Treasurers of these organizations. Three things will be stressed at the Schools, including the duties of the officers, program planning and the evaluation of programmes. Juniors do not need to be worried about having to listen to a great many lectures and talks. In most cases there will only be one speaker in any one day, and the rest of the time the officers present will "Learn By Doing." This means the bulk of the programme will be presented by demonstration, panel discussion and the workshop method. The actual planning of the program for the schools has been turned over to a committee composed of Jack Cockburn, Eleanor Saracuse, T. R. Hilliard, Miss Florence Eadie and Miss Helen McKercher.

All the Schools will open at 10:30 in the morning and will close at about 4:30.

A School will be held on November 25th at Stirling, for the Counties of Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward, Northumberland and Hastings.

ATTENTION! RETAIL MERCHANTS

There will be a Special Meeting Thursday evening, November 9th, at 7:00 p.m., at Napanee Town Hall, to arrange for the Santa Claus Parade. Your attendance is urgently requested to make this parade a success.

Please attend!

CONCERNS US ALL

The war in Korea concerns us all. It concerns every man, woman and child in Canada, and in other countries, to the same extent. Should the war in Korea extend; should it become involved with the Chinese in adjacent Manchuria, there is no saying how far it will spread. There are those who say, and they are among the best observers of the world scene — that should such an eventuality take place it would be hard to prevent a world conflagration. That means us!

We have come through two world wars within one lifetime. There has been great loss of life, sorrow and suffering, and an economic disruption which affected every person. The situation is tense. Probably, by the time this is read, it will have changed for the better, so quickly does the scene alter.

The problem of dealing with dictators is a difficult one. When Hitler was fulminating in Berlin, most people took him rather lightly. Few thought he really meant what he said. But heeding his threats, the Democracies followed a policy of appeasement. They gave in to him, time and time again. But appeasement was interpreted as a sign of weakness and when Hitler thought the moment propitious, he struck.

In Korea a 'get-tough policy' has been followed. There has been no appeasement, neither in Europe or in Korea. Russia and other Totalitarian States, know well enough that the Democracies are not going to be caught napping, this time. The Democracies intend to be strong, and to show a strong hand to the Totalitarians. Yet, in spite of all this change of attitude, the Dictator-ruled nations have not changed. Neither appeasement, or 'get-tough' policy seems to make any difference — they are bound to fight it out.

There is always the hope, however, that even the Dictator - controlled countries will sit down and count the cost and decide that a third world war is not worth while. That is our hope. Whether that hope will be fulfilled or not will only be determined by future events. In the meantime, with bated breath and anxious hearts, we await the next few days.

STRAWS

Straws, it is said, show the way the wind blows. One such straw was seen floating gently in the breeze on Monday when Brig. J. G. Sprogue, comptroller of the Liquor Board, made an announcement regarding the sale of liquor. The announcement says that beginning on Wednesday, November 13th, all cities in Ontario where there is more than one liquor store will have half its liquor stores closed on Tuesday, and half on Wednesday. Where there are two stores close together, one will be closed on Tuesday and one on Wednesday. In municipalities where there is but one store, it will be closed one day a week.

That is not much of a concession to those who are insistent on a sober province. That is just about the least concession that could possibly be made. The Government, so far, has given no explanation as to the reason for their new regulation. But no doubt it is a bit of a gesture — in the direction of temperance. The situation in Ontario, arising from over-indulgence in intoxicating liquor, has aroused the indignation of many who can, by no means, be called fanatics on the subject. Frankly, the situation is alarming, and calls for much more stringent control than that now operating. Of course, there are powerful interests at work to push the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages, and the money that is heaped up in the public treasury as a result of taxation, is another strong reason why a government hesitates to take very vigorous action. The revenues are fabulous.

But there comes a time when no government, in spite of these incentives, can refuse to listen to public opinion. This change in policy, slight as it is, is without a doubt due to the pressure of public opinion, which reflects a growing alarm over the results of the operation of the Liquor Control Act.

CONSIDER THE BUSINESSMAN

Consider the businessman ! In the small town, such as our own, he is having a hard time, these days — very hard. There are anxieties, tensions, and what not ! He gets down in the morning—not too early: not many customers at that time of day—has a visit with his neighbouring businessman, looks over the paper, and then gets down to business. Before he knows it, it is noon: then for a little ride home, a nice warm dinner or lunch, and may be a wee nap.

In the afternoon, though, he is really busy, except in the summer he can take a few holes of golf, once or twice a week—needs it for exercise—and of course, there is the cottage. No long, lonely, hundred-mile drive such as the city slicker has to take to get in touch with his family; just a bit adjacent, and there he is. Holidays? Every person is entitled to holidays—the law recognizes that, and insists on it — so off for a couple of weeks, over to the States, or to the city, to see the sights..

But soon, that all ends, and the Fall comes in with a bang, and our businessman really gets going—at least for a while. Then comes the hunting season—and the pre-hunting preparation: long discussions over guns, rifles, boots, windbreakers, grub, and what not. Then the strain of sleeping in unusual surroundings; the long treks through the woods, the exacting nerve-racking strain of standing at the ready on the runway, for long hours.

Then there are the post-mortems; the one they saw and nearly got, and so on, and so on. . . .

But the Christmas rush comes along and after that Christmas and Boxing Day, and maybe another little trip or two just to see a hockey game.

It is all so strenuous — while his counterpart in the big city does nothing but sit in an office, all day.

SAVING THE FORESTS

The announcement by Premier Frost, that steps are to be taken to conserve the forests, and to implement the Kennedy Report, will be greeted with enthusiasm and satisfaction, by all sections of the community. Like Topsy, our Government regulations regarding the forsets, have just grown up. The Kennedy survey, was an effort to see what could be done to save our forests and at the same time develop to the full the economic value of these great gifts of nature to our people.

Up until now, little has been done to implement the recommendations of the Commission. Now, the Premier promises action. He explains that the the whole programme cannot be worked out in detail, until the survey of the forests now being made will be available. Then, Mr. Frost declares, it is the intention of the Government to institute the best forestry laws in the world.

That is good news. Our forests have been mined. They have been cut over, and little effort made at reforestation. Consequently, these resources, once thought inexhaustible, have been greatly reduced. And if a change was not made, these vast resources would, one day, be entirely used up. Restrictions on cut is now promised, and regulations enacted which will prevent the shipment of unprocessed pulp from the pulp-producing areas. If, coupled with this, there is a constructive and compulsory plan of reforestation, the resources of our country will be self-perpetuating. That is as it it should be. We canpot, forever, go on exploiting our natural resources and hope that the future will take care of the situation. The future is now. It takes a long time to grow a tree, and while there has been some replenishments of our forests, the regular, organized, compulsory reforestation will insure future generations the benefits we enjoy and, indeed, even greater ones.

There are other advantages that must not be overlooked by a sane policy of reforestation; the main one is the preservation of our land and water. Forests prevent land erosion — one of the greatest menaces to modern man, and now that we depend so much on water for electricity, the maintenance of a good stand of forest, will preserve and conserve our falls and rivers, and lakes. Altogether, the Premier's announcement is encouraging and promising.

Int. Sunday School Lesson, November 12th

FELLOWSHIP WITH OTHER CHRISTIANS

Lesson Text: Acts 11: 11-18; Philippians 2: 1-5

The first group of Christians had a lot of practical problems to face. Who were to be admitted into the fellowship of their little group? That was one of the most pressing problems. Were others besides Jews, to be admitted? That was the question. The church was divided on the issue. When Peter had a dream in which he was told to call nothing unclean, he was sure, as sure could be, that he ought to receive Gentiles into the church. This he did, when Cornelius asked his help. But when Peter went back to headquarters in Jerusalem some of the 'stalwarts' took him to task for admitting Gentiles. Then Peter recounted his experience. He described how the Spirit had decended on certain Gentiles, and argued that God's Spirit was for everybody. He succeeded in winning their approval to his action.

In the next session of the lesson, Paul is writing to the congregation at Philippi. He describes, in a few words, just what Christians should do in relation to others. He speaks of 'the fellowship of the Spirit'. He tells the congregation that they were 'to be of one mind'.

What Paul is here contending for is exactly what Peter urged in Jerusalem. It is the Spirit that matters most of all. To be sure men and women are not all built in the same mould; not even Christians are so built. Indeed, it would be a sad day for Christianity if we were all pressed into the same mould. The diversity of Christian experience is one evidence of its strength and power. The vital matter is that we have a unity of spirit.

It is unfortunate, however, that Christians who see Christianity from different angles, all too often, believe that the points of difference are more important than those on which all are agreed. As a matter of fact, there is much in all our denominational life 'in which all may agree. It is on those we should concentrate. We do not all have to think alike, in order to work together, and to co-operate.

The world in which we live is one of strong tensions. It is a world of disunity; a world of opposing political and religious groups. One of the tragedies of our day, a scandal to our faith is the divided and opposing section of the Christian Church.

The Spirit of Christ alone, will break down these barriers, and establish unity among His followers. Both Paul and Peter had to have a change of heart before they could carry the gospel of God's love to all people. And it may just be that what we need more than anything else is a change of heart. Let the Spirit of Jesus Christ have free course and be glorified in our lives. Then things would drop into their proper place, and life would be seen in its larger and wider aspects.

Of more personal application though, is the way in which we, who are individual church members, may mar the companionship which is the basis of our Christian order. Pride is perhaps an outstanding cause of that — false pride. We have a right to be proud of our church, and of our attainments, but undue emphasis on that is all too often a stumbling block in the way of personal fellowship, as well as in the larger fellowship of the church. How can we expect fellowship between great communions when pride stands in the way. How can we enjoy our fellowship with other Christians, when pride bars the road.

The world awaits a revival in the church. There are evidences it is on the way. But our selfishness, pride and exclusiveness, are barriers. Only Christ, the Spirit of Christ, working in the hearts of men can bring in the Kingdom. Peter found that out, so did Paul — each discovered in his own way that no group or individual has a monopoly on Gods love. Jew, or Greek, Canadian or Chinese; they are all His children; all alike in His eyes. They must be, too, in our eyes, if the world is to be won for Christ.

DORLAND

Dorland, Nov. 4. — Our nice weather has suffered an unpleasant change. In spite of dark, chilly weather the last few days, it was something of a shock to find the ground white with snow this morning. Rain is falling, but has not been able to remove the snow as yet. Some farmers got out early to bring in their cattle as all stock was still on pasture.

A number of Hallowe'en parties for the juniors were staged on Tuesday evening and many weird looking figures were seen. Unfortunately a number, well past juvenile years, still engage in the questionable sport of disturbing gates and other movable property.

Miss D. Hawley celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday very quietly on October 31. Miss Hawley has seldom left her room for some years and since a fall last August, when she suffered a broken leg, she has been confined to her bed.

Mr. Robert Blair of Roblin, conducted the United Church service last Sunday morning. Unfortunately, there was a small congregation to enjoy his interesting sermon.

Mr. O. K. Stewart will be guest speaker at Hawley anniversary service next Sunday evening, Nov. 5th, and the junior choir from here will furnish music at the service.

Duck hunting has been a failure so far, owing to the scarcity of ducks but we understand a number of hunters are planning to go north the coming week, in search of deer.

The pie social which was sponsored by the United Church Sunday school on Friday evening was quite a success. An interesting program was made up of vocal solos by Mrs. A. Denhnim, Bath, accompanied by Mrs. O. K. Stewart, amusing skits and impersonations by Mr. Willis of Queen's College, instrumental solo by Miss Joan Allison. Music by the Junior choir and community singing. An abundance of pie, sandwiches and tea were served at the close of the programme.

A respected life-long resident of the township passed away on Friday in the person of Mr. C. P. Allen, who had reached an advanced age. His wife predeceased him only a few months. The sympathy of the community is extended to his family.

Jute, grown in India, was not introduced as a textile into Europe until about 1828.

MRS. HARRISON TEACHES ART AT CONWAY

The afternoon of Tuesday, October 24 h, was a red letter day for pupils and teachers of Conway School and S.S. No. 1, Adolphustown, as well as for interested parents and Home and School members.

Mrs. Elizab th Harrison, art director of Kingston Schools, taught art to approximately 30 pupils at Conway School. The brief subject of "Preparations for Winter" gave each child freedom in the choice of his or her own theme, from cutting and hauling wood, fall ploughing, picking nuts and apples, to colourful designs. During recess, each child's work was hung, and, when school was called, Mrs. Harrison discussed each picture, and sincerely praised its merits, as well as making suggestions for improvements. The pleasure each child experienced in his afternoon's handwork was very apparent, while the teachers received valuable practical help.

Mr. Allen, on behalf of pupils and teachers, expressed thanks to Mrs. Harrison for her time, interest, and effort.

YOUNG MUSICIANS TO GIVE CONCERT IN NAPANEE

Four more young Canadian musicians will present the programme in the second of the series of concerts being sponsored by the Ontario Department of Education and the Napanee Home and School Association, at the Prince Charles School auditorium on the evening of Friday, November 17th.

The concerts given last season and the concert in October of this year, were greatly enjoyed by large audiences and from the advance notices regarding the artists who will present the programme next week, another musical treat is in store for the people of the Napanee district.

The artists are to be Eva Sylvester pianist, Virginia Leppert, soprano; Walter Prystawski, violinist and Jon S. Vickers, tenor.

Eva Sylvester began her study of piano very early. She is a native of Winnipeg and received her training at the Royal Conservatory of Music. She is a Canadian National Exhibition medallist and has given many recitals in Canada, besides broadcasting and teaching.

Virginia Leppert, the soprano soloist, has been a member of the Bell and Mendelssohn Choirs and has won several scholarships. She is at present a third-year student of the Royal Conservatory of Music and is a member of the solo class of the opera school at the conservatory. She has a full, rich voice, which shows great promise.

The violinist, Walter Prystawski, is of Ukrainian parentage. He began to study violin with Elie Spivak at the age of nine and won the silver medals for highest standing in Ontario in 1943 and 1945. He is a member of the Royal Conservatory Symphony Orchestra, under Dr. Ettore Mazzoleni.

Jon S. Vickers, the tenor soloist, is a native of Saskatchewan. He studied in Winnipeg where he has been a church soloist and soloist in popular light opera production. He won a Royal Conservatory scholarship in 1950 and plans to spend three years in study at the Conservatory, in Toronto.

R. W. Milligan showed The Beaver this week an interesting picture clipped from a 1937 edition of the Whig-Standard, depicting "Wagon Days in Enterprise" about the turn of the century.

The picture, evidently taken on a trading day in the village showed the street crowded with hog wagons drawn by horses. In the picture were many men, who will still be remembered by a few people and whose descendants are residents of the district at the present time.

TRY MOTHERS' FRIEND

Many mothers dose their children with remedies they don't require when they could treat worms with MOTHERS' FRIEND. Little children are cross, fretful, crave for sweets, cough at nights, talk in their sleep, grind teeth, wet the bed, have stomach and bowel disorders. These are symptoms of worms, and one or more of these may indicate worms are present. You can tell by looking at a child whether they have worms or not. But when you use Mothers' Friend as directed you will positively see these pests as they pass out into the excreta. Mothers' Friend is safe, easy and pleasant to take. Also very helpful during teething time. All first crisp illness starts with this seeming remedy. Never wait for a worm remedy ads for Mothers' Friend and getting MOTHERS' FRIEND.

U. E. L. CHAPTER I. O. D. E.

The November meeting of the United Empire Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the home of Mrs. George J. Tustin, Piety Hill, Napanee, when Rev. W. J. Robinson, B.A., Rector of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, was the guest speaker.

Following the opening ceremonies and a short business session, the Regent, Mrs. Albert Lewis, introduced Mr. Robinson, who spoke on Education, comparing the pre-war years and the one we give ourselves, and their background of Christianity. He also advised everyone to beware of the two enemies in our midst, namely, communism and materialistic paganism.

The splendid address was followed by a social hour in Mrs. Clarence Denison, accompanied by Mrs. B. M. Black.

Mrs. Clarence Reid, vice-regent on behalf of the members, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Robinson for his excellent address, and to Mrs. Denison and Mrs. Black for the enjoyable social.

The National Anthem was sung, then a delightful afternoon tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dante Hall, Mrs. P. Vine, Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. C. Reid, Miss Baker, Miss May Stacey, and Mrs. S. Phippen.

SECOND CROP OATS, PEAS, ON REIDVILLE FARM

John H. Wilson, Reidville, reported last week that he had on his farm a field of second crop oats, which was 5½ feet high and fully headed out. Also in his garden he had a second crop of green peas, which were being used on the table.

In Loving Memory

HART — In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Myrtle Amelia Hart who passed away November 8th, 1934.

As we walk through our garden of memories,
And there, midst the blossoms of blue,
We find, in our garden of memories
Forget-me-nots, blooming for you.
Lovingly remembered by
MOTHER and FATHER,
45ap SISTERS and BROTHERS.

DAFOE — In loving memory of my mother, who passed away November 4th, 1943.

We do not need a special day
To bring her to our mind.
For the days we do not think of her
Are very hard to find.
I'll tell the world were ours to give,
We'd give it, yes, and more,
To see her beloved face
Come smiling through the door.
Ever remembered by
Son, CARLTON, and 45a Husband, MELVILLE.

MILLIGAN — In loving remembrance of my dear wife, Laura May Milligan, who passed away one year ago, on November 19th, 1949.

God knew she was suffering—
That the hills were hard to climb
So he closed her weary eyelids
And whispered: 'Peace be Thine.'
Away in the beautiful hills of God
By the valley of rest, so fair.
Some time, some day, we know not when,
I'll meet my loved one, there.
Ever remembered by
45a. Husband, ROSS.

Free Methodist Church To Observe Men And Missions Day

With emphasis upon the theme, 'Men for the Master's Mission,' the local Free Methodist Church, at Napanee, is co-operating with the Laymen's Missionary movement in its twentieth annual observance of Men and Missions Sunday, November 12.

According to a report from Free Methodist headquarters at Winona Lake, Ind., the past year's Men and Missions observance of 802 Free Methodist churches throughout the United States and Canada increased by more than $2,000 the previous year's Men and Missions offering. Operating 19 mission fields in Africa, India, China, Japan, Philippine Islands, Mexico, South America, West Indies, Canada and the United States, the church supports 202 missionaries. In addition, its total world program includes 1396 pastors, evangelists and teachers; 17,000 members; 300 day schools with 10,000 students; 17 Bible training schools with 1700 students; 11 hospitals and dispensaries which treated 124,244 patients during the past year. Dr. Byron S. Lamson, general missionary secretary, states that more recruits are now being placed in the training of native leaders and nationals for the evangelization of the non-Christian world.

The Free Methodist Church reports 20 missionaries under appointment and now waiting to sail for their various stations. Twenty-three accepted candidates are awaiting appointment. At its annual meeting, which ended October 26th, the missionary board authorized special campaigns to complete the buildings of the Osaka Christian College, Osaka, Japan, which were destroyed by bombs during the war. Continuation of the project of the Young People's Missionary Society of the church to complete an addition to the only educational school in the Dominican Republic was also approved by the Board, as well as articles of incorporation for the Free Methodist Church in Paraguay and in Japan.
